CATALOG OF THE

DAVID RUMSEY MAP COLLECTION

www.davidrumsey.com

The catalog is divided into two parts: the Map and Reference Collection and the Online Map Collection.

The Map and Reference Collection comprises full records listed in alphabetical order by author. These records are for the individual published items in the collection, for example atlases, books with maps, multipart map series, as well as for individually published items such as separate maps, charts, and globes. In addition, these records are sorted (in abbreviated form) in five tables: author; date; type; title; and Pub. List No. The listings are not complete for the entire collection and will be added to over time. The blue Pub List No. links indicate that the parts or individual items are online; when clicked the links open up the items in the Luna browser. The Pub List No. supersedes the form of the prior numbers used in earlier versions of this catalog, but the numbers remain the same – for example the prior number 25 is now number 0025.000.

The Online Map Collection contains records for all the maps and various parts of the items listed in the Map Collection that are currently online in the Luna browser. For example, the Map Collection will list an atlas as Pub List No. 2874.000, and the Online Map Collection will list all the individual maps in that atlas as List No. 2874.001 through 2874.022. The blue List No. links open up an individual item in the Luna Browser and the blue Pub List No. links open up that item and all its related parts (for example, a complete atlas or map series that it is part of). There are also five tables that sort the records by author, date, type, title, and List No. The field Date in the Online Map Collection records represents the date an individual map was published; the field Pub Date refers to the date the map and its related parts were published. The two dates are often the same but occasionally differ. This catalog only shows the field Date but sorts records by the field Pub Date for consistency, hence occasionally records may appear out of order if the Pub Date is not the same as the Date.

The catalog is published in three PDF files: the RumseyMapReferenceOnlineMap.PDF which contains both the Map and Reference Collection and the Online Map Collection and all tables; the RumseyMapReference.PDF which contains the Map and Reference Collection and its tables; and the RumseyOnlineMap.PDF which contains the Online Map Collection and its tables. The PDF files for the catalog contain bookmarks to assist navigation through the collections and their various tables and embedded indexes for finding words and phrases.

The Map and Reference Collection has 5,816 records. The Online Map Collection has 28,682 records. Total 34,498 records in the catalog.

ABEL, HENRY J.; YOUNG, JAMES H. 1838

Traveller's & Emigrant's Guide to Wisconsin & Iowa. By Henry I. Abel. Accompanied With A New and Improved Map of those Territories. With The Addition of Parts of Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan.
Wisconsin Territory: Henry J. Abel. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10 Maps: 1 Reference: Sabin 49 (dated 1839); Karrow 6-1645; Streeter 1928 (same map title as this copy); Graff 4.
Consists of "Map of the Settled Part of Wisconsin Territory Compiled From The Latest Authorities by Aug. Mitchell, Philadelphia. Improved and Published by Henry J. Abel of Wis. Ter. Compiled and Engraved 1838 by J.H. Young Philada." and a large fold out sheet of text, "Geographical, Geological and Statistical Chart of Wisconsin & Iowa." The map, 55x44, is an updated (we presume by Abel) edition of the same map that appeared in "Observations On the Wisconsin Territory" by W.R. Smith, 1838. The major map changes are in Iowa (now labeled "Iowa Tery.,") which shows many new counties and cities. The Graff copy has the same map as the Smith book. Graff: "Abel's map and broadside comprise one of the first few works containing reliable information about the northern part of the Old Northwest Territory."

ABERCROMBIE, P. 1945
Greater London Plan 1944. By Patrick Abercrombie ... London, His Majesty's Stationery Office. 1945.
London: His Majesty's Stationery Type: City Atlas Size: 32x25 Maps: 34 Reference: None found.
Note by the author in the introduction states, "There is now a chance-and a similar one may not occur again-of getting the main features of this programme of redistributed population and work carried through rapidly and effectively, thereby reducing overcrowding and locating industry in conjunction." It is noted that the war (WWII) brought three new features to the city planning scene - the destruction of large areas; the evacuation of a large proportion of the population; and the industrial upheaval due to almost universal war production. Most of the maps in full color. Bound with brown linen covers and "Greater London Plan, 1944" on the cover.
Pub List No. 1469.000

ABERCROMBIE, P.; FORSHAW, J. 1943

ADAMS, CHARLES B.; GRAY, ALONZO 1833
Boston: Pendleton's Lithography. Type: Wall Map Size: 72x56 Scale: 1:20,000 Reference: Ristow pp285-289.
Pendleton's Lithography published many Massachusetts town plans starting with Lynn and Saugus in 1829 and continuing to 1836. The plans had been drawn at the request of the State Legislature to facilitate the making of an accurate map of the state, which was eventually published by Borden in 1844. The town plans are some of the earliest published using lithography. This map of Amherst is especially attractive, with a large view of the College and Mount Pleasant Institution. Notable property owners are shown, including Prof. Hitchcock and E. Dickinson (the father of Emily Dickinson). With black top and bottom rollers. Map is without color.

ALCEDO, ANTONIO DE, 1735-1812; ARROWSMITH, AARON; THOMPSON, GEORGE ALEXANDER 1819
Atlas to Thompson's Alcedo; or dictionary of America & West Indies; collated with all the most recent authorities, and composed chiefly from scarce and original documents, for that work, by A. Arrowsmith, Hydrographer to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent. London: Printed by George Smeeton, Great Saint Martin's Lane, Charing Cross. 1819.
London: George Smeeton. Type: Regional Atlas Size: 67x55 Maps: 19 Reference: Cf. P1174 (1816-(1817) ed.); NMM, 292 (1816 ed.); P-Maps p. 112 (1816 ed.)
Atlas of 5 hand col., engraved, folded maps on 19 sheets. Issued to accompany: The Geographical and historical dictionary of America and the West Indies ... an entire translation of the Spanish work ... with large additions and compilations from modern voyages and travels, and from original and authentic information. By G.A. Thompson, Esq. London: Printed for James Carpenter, Old Bond Street ... 1812-1815 (5 vols.; see our 2626). Index to sheets inside front cover. Maps dated 1802-1819. David Rumsey Collection copy: rebound, quarter leather with marbled boards. Cover title (from original?): Atlas to Thompson's America and West Indies, 1819. From Thompson's advertisement: "in order to render these volumes as perfect as possible, the position of every place has been carefully revised, and corrected according to Mr. Arrowsmith's several maps of North America, of the United States, of the West India Islands, of Mexico, and of South America, the last of which has been recently constructed form original materials, which till lately remained inaccessible at Madrid and at Lisbon; whilst, at the same time, all the places not heretofore found in his maps have been inserted from the Dictionary, as it issued sheet by sheet from the press. The above maps of Mr. Arrowsmith...will consequently be ready to be delivered at a somewhat reduced price to the subscribers to this book, about the time of the publication of the last volume, and will form a complete ATLAS to Alcedo, who had no means of improving and illustrating his dictionary by so important a supplement." There are 175 Subscribers listed - perhaps that is the number of atlases issued.

ALEXANDER, W. D.; BROWN, J. F.; COVINGTON, RICHARD; HAWAIIAN GOVERNMENT SURVEY; LYONS, C.J. 1881
Oahu. Hawaiian Islands. Hawaiian Government Survey. W.D. Alexander, Surveyor General. Map By C.J. Lyons. From trigonometrical surveys by W.D. Alexander, C.J. Lyons, J.F. Brown, M.D. Monsarrat and Wm. Webster. Finished map by Richd. Covington. 1881.
N.P.: Hawaiian Government Survey. Type: Separate Map Size: 100x133 Scale: 1:60,000 Reference: See DAB listing of O'Shaughnessy.
Large scale map of Oahu made eighteen years prior to the U.S. annexation in 1899. Shows detailed topography, land ownership and improvements. Written on the verso is the name of M.M. O'Shaughnessy, who, according to DAB, "was actively engaged in designing and constructing the water supply of twenty sugar plantations in Hawaii, 1899-1906, and built three aqueducts, each about ten miles long." Several ms additions on the map indicate interest in the river systems of Oahu and probably pertain to these projects. This is a scarce map of early Hawaiian development. See also O'Shaughnessy's Oahu map of 1899 and his copy of the 1906 Governor's Report. Full color.

Reference: Howes L317; Sabin 40828; WC 13; Wheat 316.

A.T. Andreas' Illustrated Historical Atlas Of The State Of Iowa. 1875. Published By The Andreas Atlas Co. Lakeside Building Chicago, Ills. Engraved & Printed By Chas. Shober & Co. Props. Of Chicago Lithographing Co.
Chicago: Andreas Atlas Co. Type: State Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 139 Reference: P1639.
Edition with views from the 4th Congressional District. Andreas produced nine different editions of this atlas, one for each Congressional District, with extra views from that district. The 8th district had the most extra views (36 pages), the 7th next (30 pages), and then the 4th (26 pages).

Third edition. Shows Colona, Shoshone, Nevada. The maker of this map must have seen copies of Mitchell's 1859 New National Map - this has the same proposed territorial names that Mitchell used that year. This also has a line dividing the northern and southern states in the civil war. According to Phillips Maps, this was also No. 48 in the Atlas Universel for 1862. Map is dissected into 21 sections and mounted on tan linen with the book plate of Andriveau-Goujon. Covers are dark green cloth 23.5x14.5 with "Etats-Unis Et Mexique. Andriveau-Goujon. Rue Du Bac, 2I." stamped in gold on the front with the same embossed gold and green globe as the 1862 issue. The spine is stamped with "Etats-Unis" in gold. Map has full color by state.

Hartford: Andrus & Judd. Type: World Atlas Size: 30x24 Maps: 40 Reference: cf P6072 (C.S. Williams 1832).
Reissue of C.S. Williams 1832 General Atlas. Williams in turn is a reissue of Hunt's Cabinet Atlas of 1830 which was also published by L.A. Key in 1830. An interesting lineage of four different publishers publishing the same maps over three years and two different titles. J.G. Melish's name has been removed from the maps that he made. See note to Hunt edition. Full color maps bound in half-leather paper covered boards with a label on front reading, "A New General Atlas Containing Forty Maps."

ANVILLE, JEAN BAPTISTE BOURGUIGNON D, 1697-1782 1771
(Atlas General).
Paris: J.B.B. D'Anville. Type: World Atlas Size: 46x77 Maps: 45 Reference: cf P571, 572, 599; NMM 200.
Maps dated 1743-71. Most of D'Anville's Atlases were made up for the individual customer, so it appears that no two are alike. Many of the maps are multisheet maps that have here been joined, so the actual map sheet count is about 45. This set is accompanied by a printed list of "Cartes Geographiques de M. D'Anville" with the maps numbered 1-38 in ms, corresponding to the maps in the atlas. This sheet also lists "Ouvrages par ecrit, et qui ont ete imprimes." One of the listed books is dated 1777. D'Anville's maps have a clarity and directness that is very "modern." He read widely, and incorporated the best available geographic knowledge into his work. The English and others copied from his maps extensively. Many of the maps were missing when we acquired this atlas, and have been added subsequently. Maps stored, some bound, in a binding with half leather and cloth ties. "Atlas" printed on the spine.

ANVILLE, JEAN BAPTISTE BOURGUIGNON D, 1697-1782; M'DERMUT, ROBERT (1814)
Atlas to the Ancient Geography by M. D'Anville: Containing Ten Maps ... New-York. Published By R. M'Dermut, No. 222 Pearl-street.
New York: R. M'Dermut. Type: Classical Atlas Size: 30x20 Maps: 10 Reference: P5587.
Engraved by W. Sim , Scoles, W. Hoogland and A. Anderson. The Phillips copy is published by M'Dermut and D.D. Arden. This copy is by M'Dermut only and may be earlier than the Phillips, which is dated 1814. Also, neither Phillips or Tooley mentions Scoles and Hoogland as engravers, only Sim and Anderson. The maps are very well done, copied we presume from the English edition by Laurie (P5588). See Melish's 1815 Ancient Geography for similar but reengraved maps. Bound with peach colored paper with label pasted on the front and entitled as above.

Howes: "Leading early authority on the subject." With ten maps that are the same maps that later appear in the Cabinet Atlas issued by Uriah Hunt in Philadelphia in 1830. John Melish's son, J.G. Melish, made several of these maps, and the Illinois and Missouri map is an earlier state then the issue that appears in the Hunt Atlas. This is the earliest appearance of the younger Melish's maps that we have seen. The second Armroyd edition dropped these maps and added a single map of the U.S. by Henry Tanner, which was one of the first maps of the U.S. to show railroads in operation (Modelski 1). Maps show canals and rivers in color. Bound with paper covered boards with original title label on the spine.

A Map Of The United States of North America Drawn from a number of Critical Researches By A. Arrowsmith, Geographer, Charles Street, Soho Square. London. Published as the Act Directs by A. Arrowsmith, Charles Street, Soho Square. Jany. 1st, 1796. Boundaries Communicated by Geo. Chalmers Esqr. ...
London: A. Arrowsmith. Type: Case Map Size: 123x143 Scale: 1:1,550,000 Reference: Stevens 79(a).
1st edition, 1st issue - "Tennassee Government." Many changes from the later 1808/1811 issue - the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi are drawn very preliminarily and inaccurately, very few roads are shown throughout, there is a long note in the lower left corner about the boundaries of Georgia, parts of Maine and Canada are blank or inaccurately drawn, and Georgia and Tennessee have much less detail. Only the title sheet that shows the Carolinas and Virginia is about the same, except for fewer roads. As geographical knowledge increased about the parts north and west, Arrowsmith filled in this map. Outline color by state. In two sheets, each dissected into 16 sections and backed with linen. Folds into original tan marbled slip case 32x19 with a paste down label reading “North America. Date 1796" in ms, and "Sold by Wm. Allen 32 Dame Strt." printed in black ink.

Chart Of The West Indies And Spanish Dominions In North America. By A. Arrowsmith, 1803. Jones Smith & Co. sc. Beaufort Buildgs. Strand. London Published June 1st 1803 by A. Arrowsmith No. 24 Rathbone Place. To Admiral John Willett Payne, A distinguished Native of the West Indies ... This Chart is respectfully Dedicated by his most obedient Servt. A. Arrowsmith.
London: Aaron Arrowsmith. Type: Chart Map Size: 120x190 Scale: 1:2,700,000 Reference: Stevens & Tree 89 (a); Streeter Texas 1301; P-Maps 1061 (1811 edition); Tooley, MCC 68, #185.
The first edition, including Mexico to the Pacific, and with the dedication to Admiral John Willett Payne. In four sheets. Countries are outlined in color. The 1810 second and later editions only extend to the east coast of Mexico, presumably because Arrowsmith published his large map of Mexico in 1810. In its coverage of Mexico and Central America, this map is the largest scale and most accurate map of those areas published to date, preceding Pike's and Humboldt's maps by several years. It seems odd that Humboldt would criticize Arrowsmith for copying his map of New Spain, when Arrowsmith produced his own map (this West Indies Map) which included substantial portions of Mexico several years before Humboldt's map was issued. There are many differences between this map's rendering of Mexico and the 1810 Map of Mexico - the later map has more and better detail, but the earlier rendition is still impressive. Stevens and Tree only list two editions, 1803 and 1810, but Phillips lists an 1811 (P-Maps) and an 1816 (atlases). There probably were others.

This issue incorporates the Lewis and Clark discoveries (and other discoveries) and remaps the entire continent west of the Mississippi. The changes between this and the last edition (1811) are monumental. This copy is from the collection of Sir Charles Broke (or Brooke, subsequently Vere). Broke was in Lower Canada with his regiment, the 5th (Northumberland) Regiment of Foot, which was at the battle of Plattsburg in 1814. Later, he was with the Army of Occupation in France, receiving the Waterloo medal despite arriving from Canada too late for the battle (From Manasek). Without color. Scale: 1:2,700,000 Reference: Stevens 77b.
Removed from Arrowsmith's Atlas to accompany Thompson's Alcedo. Comparing to the 1811 77(a) first issue, there are changes in the coast line between Buenos Aires and Rio, and on the northeast coast, Maranham. This map is enormous, on six large sheets, measuring over eight feet tall when joined together. Outline color by country. Without top and bottom rollers.

Map of the Countries Round the North Pole By A. Arrowsmith. London. Published 1. Feb. 1818, by A. Arrowsmith, Hydrographer to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, 10 Soho Square. Engraved by Sidney Hall.
London: A. Arrowsmith. Type: Separate Map Size: 64x64
Scale: 1:14,850,000 Reference: Benjamin Vaughan Collection; Verner 34; see Map Collector 32, pp22-25.
On the verso is written "Benj Vaughan, Arctic Pole." This is the first edition of a long run of editions extending down to Stanford's 1875 last issue. Referring to this first edition, Verner says "At that time it was the best available map of the Arctic and showed everything that was known, using the most advanced cartographical techniques." In full color.

ARROWSMITH, AARON 1819
A Map of the United States of North America Drawn from a number of Critical Researches ... Additions to 1819 (Western two sheets only). London, Published by A. Arrowsmith, No. 10 Soho Square Jan 1st 1796.
London: A. Arrowsmith. Type: Case Map Size: 140x72
Scale: 1:1,550,000 Reference: Stevens 79 (h),79(i).
Lacking the two eastern sheets which include the title. This issue is earlier slightly than our complete 1819 edition (Stevens 79 (i)) with less development shown in the area around the junction of the Ohio and Wabash Rivers, which were settling up rapidly at that time (see David Thomas "Travels Through The Western Country"). However, it has the northern and (most of) the southern flaps which place it later than Stevens 79 (h). So it is probably an unrecorded state of the map. Map has light blue silk edging, is dissected into 25 sections, and folds into a new blue cloth folding case 26x17 with "United States A. Arrowsmith 1819" stamped in gilt on the spine.

London: A. Arrowsmith. Type: Case Map Size: 123x143
Scale: 1:1,550,000 Reference: Stevens 79(i).
The last edition, with the "wings" on the Mississippi and the Northwest. Adds Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri Territory. Many changes to the topography as well. An inset of the Florida Peninsula appears. The northern wing shows the Lake of the Woods and the southern wing shows the mouths of the Mississippi in detail. The delineation of the roads indicates that Bradley's Postal Map of the U.S. may have been used as a source. Outline color by state. Map is in four sheets, each dissected into 12 sections. Sheets fold into a new slip case 26x18 with the original tan covers pasted down with a label reading "J. Le Nesuvier (645) United States" in manuscript.

ARROWSMITH, AARON (1820)
London: A. Arrowsmith. Type: Case Map Size: 130x160
Scale: 1:2,500,000 Reference: Streeter Texas 1046, cf 1042 note;Phillips p408.
5th ed."Hydrographer to His Majesty." Dated 1810. Four separate sheets dissected into 16 sheets each, with light blue silk edging and linen backing. Streeter is incorrect in calling this the first edition; it is actually the last. The Adams - Onis Treaty line of 1819 is clearly marked; Arrowsmith styled himself "Hydrographer to His Majesty" in 1820 (Tooley); this edition has a road from Queretaro to Panco Valles which does not appear in W.H.'s additions to 1815 edition, as well as other roads and new towns around Mexico City and two small groups of islands off the California Coast that do not appear on the 1810 edition; this edition appears in the Atlas to Thompson's Alcedo, c.1825 copy, in the Bancroft. The mystery is why Arrowsmith did not add "additions to 1820" on the title, and in fact erased the "additions to 1817" that must have appeared on the plate from the most recent changes made before the 1820 changes, thereby leaving only 1810 on the title. With outline color. The sheets fold with marbled end sheets into a new tan cloth folding case 26x18 with "Mexico A. Arrowsmith 1820" stamped on the spine in gold.

London: A. Constable & Co.; London: Longman & Compy. Type: World Atlas Size: 30x25 Maps: 53 Reference: P730.
Influenced American Atlases of the period. This atlas is the source of Morse's Universal Atlas of 1822 (first edition of this Arrowsmith atlas was 1817) and some of the Lucas 1823 General Atlas maps, and the Finley and Finley/Griggs maps. An important book - a source(with Wilkinson) for American mapmakers. Maps are without color and bound in half leather brown paper covered boards with a label printed with "Arrowsmith's New General Atlas Comprehended in Fifty three Maps From Original Drawings. Price L 1.16. J. Beugo sculp."; the new green leather spine has a black leather label embossed with "Arrowsmith's New General Atlas" in gilt.

ARROWSMITH, AARON; LEWIS, SAMUEL 1804
A New and Elegant General Atlas Comprising All The New Discoveries, To The Present Time. Containing Sixty Three Maps, Drawn by Arrowsmith and Lewis. Published By John Conrad & Co. Philadelphia; M. & J. Conrad & Co. Baltimore; Rapin, Conrad & Co. Washington City; Somervell & Conrad, Petersburg; Bonsal, Conrad & Co, Norfolk. 1804.
Philadelphia: J. Conrad. Type: World Atlas Size: 28x23 Maps: 63 Reference: P702, 3537; P-Maps 1096; Ristow p. 265.
First edition. This atlas was the first collaboration between Aaron Arrowsmith of London and Samuel Lewis of Philadelphia, one of the first such collaborations (and one of the few - only David Burr and John Arrowsmith, and Henry Rogers and Keith Johnston come to mind). The title page says 63 maps in large type (some issues say 65 maps, all issues show 63 maps in the index). This atlas also accompanies the text volumes of the American edition of Pinkerton's Modern Geography published in Philadelphia by Conrad in 1804 (see our #3962). Phillips shows editions of 1804, 1805, 1812, and 1819. Uncolored maps bound into marble paper-covered boards with half leather.

A New and Elegant General Atlas Comprising All The New Discoveries, To The Present Time. Containing Sixty Three Maps, Drawn by Arrowsmith and Lewis. Intended To Accompany The New Improved Edition Of Morse's Geography, but Equally Well Calculated To Be Used With Any Former Edition, With His Gazetteer, Or Any Other Geographical Work. Boston: Published By Thomas & Andrews. Sold At Their Bookstore, No. 45, Newbury-Street, And By The Principal Booksellers In The United States. Oct. 1, 1805.
Boston: Thomas & Andrews. Type: World Atlas Size: 28x23 Maps: 63 Reference: P708; Ristow p. 265.
The second edition, with the additional title text explaining the use of this atlas with Morse's Geography (see our #) and Gazetteer(see our #). Ristow explains the arrangement between Lewis and Morse in 1805 that led to this collaboration. The 1812 and 1819 editions were also published by Morse's publisher, Thomas and Andrews of Boston, to accompany the later Morse Geography and Gazetteer editions. No changes have been noted to the maps in any of the editions, other than the removal of the dark lines delineating lakes and oceans, and the substitution of seven new maps for seven existing (and, one presumes, less important) maps starting in the 1812 edition.

Arrowsmith's Map of the World On A Globular Projection, Exhibiting Particularly The Nautical Researches of Captain James Cook...
Philadelphia: T.L. Plowman. Type: Wall Map Size: 94x180 Reference: Phillips Maps p1096.
Rare U.S. edition of Arrowsmith's Globular World. Says "The whole engraved under the immediate superintendence of, corrected and improved by, Samuel Lewis, Geographer...Plan work by Harrison, Hooker, Seymour & Boyd. The writing by William Harrison." The dedication to Dalrymple that appears on the English edition is not present here, and the U.S. is somewhat redrawn, with Ohio, Indiana, Michigan (with a redrawn peninsula), Illinois, and Mississippi added. Cook's portrait remains, but in a different location with the cartouche completely redrawn. The balance of the map is almost identical to the English ed., with small exceptions such as labeling Bass Strait in New Holland (not on Eng. ed.). Compare to our 1808 English edition.

Boston: Thomas & Andrews. Type: World Atlas Size: 28x23 Maps: 63 Reference: P718.
There are seven new maps not in earlier editions (mostly of South America), and an equal number of the more obscure European maps have been dropped; the remaining maps have not been updated from the 1804 first edition. The oceans are not delineated with dark lines as in the 1804 and 1805 editions. Starting with the 1805 edition, Morse acquired this atlas (originally published in 1804 to accompany the Philadelphia edition of Pinkerton's Geography) for his Geography. Maps without color bound with paper-covered quarter leather boards.

Map of America by A. Arrowsmith. Philadelphia, Published by Kimber and Conrad, and Johnson and Warner. J.H. Seymour, sculp.
Phila: Kimber, Conrad, Johnson & Warner. Type: Wall Map Size: 118x143 Scale: 1:8,000,000 Reference: Walsh p146; S-24634.
Very rare U.S. edition of Arrowsmith's America. The map has been totally reengraved by J.H. Seymour of Philadelphia using the latest Arrowsmith edition, 1811, as the base. Changes include the delineation of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Northwest Territory, Mississippi Territory and the delineation of U.S. claims for the Western and Southern Boundary of the Louisiana Territory. The upper Mississippi River has been redrawn, as has the Michigan Peninsula (fatter), and the Great Lakes. No changes found (yet) in the Western U.S. This map is extremely scarce, with no mention of it in any of the standard map references, including Stevens and Tree. It is only listed in Shaw/Shoemaker. Conrad, the publisher of this map, was related to Arrowsmith through the Arrowsmith and Lewis Atlas. With black top and bottom rollers and brown linen edging. Outline color by country.

London: John Arrowsmith. Type: World Atlas Size: 56x38 Maps: 50 Reference: cfNMM296; not on Verner Atlas list.
3rd edition. 1837 (state 4 Verner) of the British North America map. Most of the maps are dated 1832 and 1834. The maps of Brit. N.A., Upper and Lower Canada, are dated 1837, America is 1835, all others are earlier. This atlas is remarkable for its understated elegance and clarity. It is one of the first truly "modern" atlases of the nineteenth century. All maps have outline color except for the full color geological map of England and Wales. Covers are dark blue half blue leather cloth covered boards with "Arrowsmith's London Atlas. Incorporated Law Society 1832" embossed on the spine in gilt.

The Coasts of Guatimala And Mexico, from Panama To Cape Mendocino: with the Principal Harbours in California. 1839. London, Smith Elder & Co. 1839. John Arrowsmith. (with 6 inset maps).
London: Smith Elder & Co. Type: Separate Map Size: 37x50 Scale: 1:12,000,000 Reference: See Alexander Forbes, History of Upper and Lower California.
A separate copy of the map published in Forbes' History of Upper and Lower California. It is a lithograph, taken from the engraved edition of the map that appears in the first edition of Forbes' book. At first we thought this must be from one of the two reprints done in 1919 and 1939, but it is not. Possibly Smith Elder put out a later edition with this lithographed map but left the date the same on the title page. However, we still think it is more modern than that - we will keep looking for the source. Inset maps are titled: Sketch of Port Bodega. Harbour of San Francisco. Sketch of Puerto de S. Diego. Sketch of Monterrey Harbour. Sketch of St. Barbara Harbour. Sketch of Port S. Gabriel, or S. Pedro. Map has outline color by country.

1st edition. All maps are on a uniform scale a bear a copyright of 1871 or 1872. This was one of the first exclusively railroad atlases, showing minimal topography (in this first edition - later editions add more topographical features) and only showing towns on or next to the railroads lines. We find the maps most interesting and beautiful, although some might find them a bit spare. Maps have full hand painted color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards stamped with the title "Asher & Adams New Statistical and Topographical Atlas Of The United States." in gilt; the same title is blind stamped on the back cover. The spine reads "New Atlas Of The U.S. Asher & Adams New York."

This is dated 1872 on the verso of the title page, but several maps are copyright 1873, so we call this the early 1873 edition. There is no gazetteer added, but the maps collate to the late 1873 edition in number, although many are earlier states than the late 1873 maps. New maps to this edition include maps of Utah, Colorado, Dakota, and Ontario. The Northern California and Nevada map does not have Yosemite drawn in topographically (the late 1873 issue does) and the index does not list the gazetteer. Full hand painted color. (with map) Asher & Adams' New York And Part Of Ontario ...
New York: Asher & Adams. Type: Wall Map Size: 87x122 Scale: Variable Reference: None found.
This is a wall map made up from three maps (U.S., World, New York State) from Asher & Adams' Atlas of the United States plus a typical double sheet business directory usually found in the back of the atlas. Mounted on linen, with a decorative printed border applied, and varnished. This must have been done by the publishers, even though it has a put together look. It is the only Asher & Adams wall map we have seen. The firms listed in the directory are mostly from the Ithaca, New York, area. We presume this was done for patrons in that area and sold to them. We can't imagine that it was successful - this is probably the only kind made - a failed project which resulted in a unique wall map. With black top and bottom sticks; hand painted in full color.

New York: Asher and Adams. Type: National Atlas Size: 46x33 Maps: 41 Reference: P1329, 11032.
Early 1874, dated 1873 on the verso of the title page, but with the maps copyrighted in 1874 and 1873. The maps in this edition are the same as those in the late 1874 edition (our No. 41) except for the United States map which is the same as the 1873 early and mid edition but mysteriously lacks the inset map of Alaska. New maps include: Part of Quebec, Maine and New Brunswick (replaces the map of Maine), two additional maps of Texas (which is covered in three maps), Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, New Mexico, and Arizona. Many of the maps are earlier states (mostly in terms of railroad development) of the late 1874 edition maps. Full color. Atlas is bound in half leather brown cloth covered boards stamped with the title "Asher & Adams New Statistical and Topographical Atlas Of The United States." in gilt; the same title is blind stamped on the back cover. The spine reads "New Atlas Of The U.S."

ASHER & ADAMS 1875
Asher & Adams' New Columbian Railroad Atlas and Pictorial Album of American Industry, Comprising a Series of New Copper Plate Maps... Together With Illustrations and Descriptions of Mercantile and Manufacturing Establishments, Machinery, Works of Art, Mechanism, Trade-Marks, Etc., Etc. Compiled, Written, Drawn and Engraved Under the Supervision Of The Publishers, By Their Own Corps of Editors, Engineers, Topographers, and Artists.
New York: Asher & Adams. Type: National Atlas Size: 62x45 Maps: 42 Reference: P1300.
This is a very unusual and wonderful atlas - it combines the most complete Asher & Adams atlas map set (the same grouping as the late 1874 issue, but updated - see our #41) bound unfolded on edge (this is a huge book) with beautiful illustrations opposite each map of industrial establishments, products, and machinery. It has become very scarce. Its sheer size probably meant that the edition was small in number. Several of the maps are updated and copyrighted 1875; Colorado is substantially changed with the introduction of mountain ranges with "Gold, Silver, Copper and Lead Mineral Belt" overprinted on them. There may have been an 1883 issue of this atlas by George Adams, not listed in Phillips.

ATWOOD, J.M. 1851
Map Of The United States, Canada, Mexico, Central America, and the West India Islands With a Portion of Venezuela & New Granada; Showing the routes overland and by the Isthmus to California and Oregon, Also the new Boundaries of California, Utah, & New Mexico, Compiled from the latest Authorities. Engraved & Published By J.M. Atwood, No. 19 Beekman Street, New York. 1851. D. McLellan, Printr. Spruce St ... Entered ... 1851, by J.M. Atwood ... New York.
New York: J.M. Atwood. Type: Pocket Map Size: 51x60 Scale: 1:12,500,000 Reference: cf Wheat Gold 258.
Shows the Gold Regions in California. Atwood made important maps of the Gold Rush for Colton and Ensign & Thayer in 1849. In this map he publishes his own Gold Rush map, showing the routes to California and Oregon. This map is rare: it is not in Philips, Karrow, Wheat, Streeter, Graff, or nine years of Jolly. Wheat Gold 258 is an 1854 derivative of this map put out by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. This 1851 map is very well done, and possibly the only map that Atwood published under his own name. See our 2878 and 3209 for related maps. Full color. Folded into red embossed cloth covers 14.5x9.5 with title "Map Of The United-States Canada, Mexico, Central America And The West India Islands" stamped in black.

ATWOOD, J.M.; ENSIGN & THAYER 1849
Map Of The United States, With Its Territories, Also Mexico and The West Indies. Published by Ensign & Thayer, 50 Ann St. New York, 1849. Drawn & Engraved by J.M. Atwood, New York. Entered ... 1849 by Ensign & Thayer ... New York. (inset) West Indies.
New York: Ensign & Thayer. Type: Wall Map Size: 89x82 Scale: 1:6,336,000 Reference: Wheat 713 (1851 ed.).
Gold Region shown in yellow. J.M. Atwood drew and engraved this map in a style similar to Colton's Map of the United States of America, the British Provinces...Venezuela, where G.W. Colton is listed as the drawer and J.M. Atwood as the engraver. This is, we believe, the first edition in this format, although the northern portions of the same map appear in the 1847 first edition of the Pictorial Map of the United States. See Thayer, Bridgman & Fanning for the 1854 edition. See our #3508 and #265 for the 1852 and 1855 editions of the Pictorial Map of the United States. An earlier state (probably taken from the 1847 Pictorial Map of the U.S.) of the western portion of this map is used in the Ensign & Thayer Map of the Gold Regions of California - see our #3442. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

ATWOOD, J.M.; ENSIGN & THAYER 1849
Pictorial Map Of The United States. 1849. Published by Ensign & Thayer, 50 Ann Street, New York. Drawn & Engraved by J.M. Atwood, New York. Entered ... 1847 by Phelps, Ensign's & Thayer ... New York.
New York: Ensign & Thayer Type: Wall Map Size: 74x102 Scale: 1:6,336,000
This is earlier than our 1849 Map of the United States (see #264) which uses the same base map. Here, San Francisco is named Yerba Buena (which name appeared only briefly on maps published in 1848-1849), the Gold Region has far fewer towns (no Sacramento City, Sutters City or Fremont), and the Humboldt River is not yet drawn in the Great Basin. The copyright date is still 1847. Wall map surrounded by drawings showing the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the landing of the pilgrims and numerous battles. A small inset map of Mexico and a chart showing the population of the United States are included. The map is in color by state or region. The gold region of California is shown in gold. Mounted on black rollers and backed with linen.

ATWOOD, J.M.; ENSIGN, BRIDGMAN & FANNING 1854
North America And Europe, & The North Atlantic Ocean, showing the lines of communication between the Continents. New York, Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning, 156 William St. Corner Of Ann. 1854. Drawn & Engraved by J.M. Atwood, New York. Title by Sherman & Smith. Etchings by W.S. Barnard. Entered ... 1853, by Thayer, Bridgman & Fanning ... New York.
New York: Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. Type: Wall Map Size: 83x156 Scale: 1:10,000,000 Reference: None found.
The North America map is the same as Atwood's map that he published by himself and that was used bu Thayer, Bridgman & Fanning. This is a very wonderful and decorative map that shows the recent speed records set for transatlantic steamers between the United States and Europe. With black top and bottom sticks; outline color with a full color wash by state or country.

BACHE, A. D.; NICHOLSON, W. L.; UNITED STATES COAST SURVEY 1863
Map Of The State Of Virginia Compiled from the best authorities, at the Coast Survey Office. A.D. Bache, Supdt. July 1863. Compiled by W.L. Nicholson. Lith. by Chas. G. Krebs.
(Washington): U.S. Coast Survey. Type: Pocket Map Size: 58x89 Scale: 1:887,000 Reference: Stephenson 481.6; P-Maps 990.
Printed in colors, this map is probably the first U.S. Government map to show the new State of West Virginia. It is the first issue, published in July, 1863, just after West Virginia became a State on July 1, 1863. A second issue appeared in August, 1863. It was issued in substantially the same form in 1862 (Stephenson 465.45). Two other issues appeared in 1862 taken from this map: Map of Eastern Virginia and Map of Western Virginia. These were all popular maps, and Stephenson quotes the 1862 Coast Survey Annual Report as stating that 5,500 copies of the Map of Eastern Virginia alone were printed. Map is folded into textured brown cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Map Of Virginia. W.S. & A. Martien, Philadelphia" in gilt.

BACHMANN, JOHN (1861)
Panorama of the Seat of War. Birds Eye View Of Kentucky And Tennessee Showing Cairo And Part Of The Southern States. John Bachmann, Publisher, 115 & 117 Nassau St., New York. Entered ... 1861 by John Bachmann ... New York. Drawn from Nature and Lith. by John Bachmann.
New York: John Bachmann. Type: View Size: 55x72 Maps: 1 Reference: Stephenson 23.5.
Stephenson dates 1862 - battle at Ft. Donaldson View shows the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers and the states to the south, primarily Kentucky and Tennessee, but also parts of Missouri and Arkansas. Bachmann did six views of the Confederate States like this one - high altitude views showing topography, cities, battle scenes, ships at sea and on rivers, and roads and railways. They are very rare. This copy and the four others in the set were backed on linen and folded into black leather covers 38x30, each with title and the initials "G.G.W."; the title on the cover of this copy reads "Kentucky & Tennessee & Parts Of Southern States." After checking all the listings in DAB, we think that G.G.W. is George Grover Wright, chief justice of the Iowa Supreme Court from 1855 to 1870, and then U.S. Senator until 1877. His brother, Joseph A. Wright, was Governor of Indiana. The views came out of a house in Northern New England, perhaps from a relative. Full color.

BACHMANN, JOHN; MAGNUS, CHARLES. 1864
New York: Charles Magnus. Type: View Size: 56x72
Scale: 1:554,000 Reference: cf Stephenson 2 (1861);this issue not listed.
2nd edition published with additions, by Magnus. Stevenson lists a second issue by Bachmann (showing smoke over the Manassas battlefield) but not this second edition by Magnus. Many towns and battlefields have been added, especially around Richmond, Petersburg, and Fredericksburg. The lithographic printing is not as good as the Bachmann edition and the color yellow which Bachmann used effectively to show topography is not employed to much advantage here.

BANCROFT & THAYER; HANCOCK, HENRY; HANSEN, GEORGE; ORD, E.O.C. (1875)
Map Of The City Of Los Angeles Showing the Confirmed Limits Surveyed in August 1857 by Henry Hancock U.S. Dep. Sury. Plan de la Ciudad De Los Angeles. Surveyed by E.O.C. Ord, Lt. U.S.A. and Wm. R. Hutton, Assistant, August 29, 1849. Donation Lots Surveyed by H. Hancock in August and April 1853, Geo. Hanson, Asst. Published By Bancroft & Thayer, Real Estate Brokers 21 Spring St. And W.H.J. Brooks Searcher Of Records Los Angeles, Cal. A.L. Bancroft & Co. Lith.
Los Angeles: Bancroft & Thayer and W.H.J. Brooks. Type: Wall Map Size: 72x71 Scale: 1:337,899 Reference: Robinson, Maps of Los Angeles 33 (illustrated) and P. 18; Vogdes p. 219.
This is a composite wall map incorporating the famous 1849 Ord Survey (Robinson's first Los Angeles map) and the Hancock and Hansen survey maps of 1853 and 1859. This is the first appearance of the manuscript Ord Survey as a printed map and is therefore of considerable importance. Bancroft and Thayer were real estate brokers active in the 1870's; Robinson dates the map as circa 1875 (the map is undated) based on their activities and the fact that the map "was a popular wall decoration for real estates offices in the 1870's and '80's." The Ord Survey is in the middle of the map with the Hancock and Hansen surveys surrounding it. The Ord Survey shows the original pueblo buildings, the farms around them, a small group of lots, water courses and hills. In contrast, the later Hancock and Hansen Surveys divide the lands outside the original town center into much larger rectangular lots of equal size, imposing a grid pattern on the earlier meandering lots that is both visually striking and a portent of the phenomenal growth of settlement to come. Separately, we acquired the covers for the pocket map version (without the pocket map) in which someone wrote in a contemporary hand "This cover contained the copy of the 1st map of the City of Los Angeles made in 1849 by Lt. Ord and is now framed and hanging in my office. I paid $5.00 for it." Covers are dark brown cloth 16x11 with "Published By Bancroft & Thayer, Real Estate Brokers, 21 Spring Street, And W.H.J. Brooks, Searcher of Records, Los Angeles, Cal." stamped in gilt.

San Francisco: The Bancroft Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 61x75 Scale: 1:30,000 Reference: cf Phillips Maps p.777.
Very late date for this map. Many changes in the built area of the city, when comparing this to the 1881 and 1873 issues. Concentric circles are added showing distances from the Ferry Building, and many subdivisions have been added in the southern and western parts of the city. This map shows the downtown filled in solid with buildings, and new development pushing outward. The index is unchanged from the 1881 edition. The internal development of Golden Gate Park has been extended all the way to the ocean. With the signature of a real estate agent who appears to have located some lots for his client in red on the map. Map is folded into light blue card board covers 18x11.5 with "Bancroft's Map Of San Francisco. The Bancroft Company Booksellers And Stationers San Francisco, Cal. 25 Cents" printed in black.

BANCROFT, A.L.; KNIGHT, W.H. 1871
Bancroft's New Map Of Central California Compiled by Wm. Henry Knight. San Francisco, A.L. Bancroft & Company. 1871.
San Francisco: A.L. Bancroft & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 43x51 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: None found. The title of the map on the cover calls it "revised and enlarged" which means larger than the 1869 issue of the map (see our #4106) that showed the San Francisco Bay area and the country west to Sacramento, north to southern Lake County and south to Santa Cruz. This 1871 map extends west to Virginia City in Nevada, north to Fort Bragg and south to Santa Cruz, adding Yosemite Valley and the Sierra Nevada gold country, Lake Tahoe, the Central Pacific Railroad completed over Donner Pass, and a large part of the Central Valley. At a scale of 12 miles to one inch, this map is twice the scale of the Bancroft/Knight Map of the Pacific States and the various spin off maps from it, thus showing more detail. Not listed by Vogdes or Wheat or in any references. Full color by county, map is folded into tan and red card board covers 16.5x11 printed with title "Bancroft's New Map Of Central California Revised And Enlarged. San Francisco: A.L. Bancroft & Company, 1871."

BANCROFT, A.L.; KNIGHT, W.H. 1873
Bancroft's Map Of California, Nevada, Utah And Arizona. Published By A.L. Bancroft & Compy. Booksellers & Stationers, San Francisco, Cal. 1873. Entered ... by A.L. Bancroft & Company ... Washington, D.C.
San Francisco: A.L. Bancroft & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 76x84 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: cfWheat 1219. 1st edition was 1864. From Bancroft's Map the of Pacific States which appeared in 1863. Wheat says Bancroft changed the large Pacific States map in 1870, but we believe that the smaller maps such as this continue to be from the original 1863 or 1867 plates, updated to show railroad expansion and topographical changes. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county.

BANCROFT, H.H.; KNIGHT, W.H. 1864
San Francisco: H.H. Bancroft & Company. Type: Pocket Map Size: 77x93 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Wheat 1093.
First edition, first issue of this map. Entered in 1863 and taken from Bancroft's large Map of the Pacific States of 1864, the second edition (first issued in 1863). All of California and Nevada are shown, along with the western parts of Utah and Arizona. A companion map was issued in the same year covering the northern parts of the Pacific States map: Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana. This is the scarcest of the editions of this map. A second issue was published in the same year, with a different border (interlocking leaves as opposed to interlocking Coltonesque metal strips in this copy), with a clean up of various names that were cut off in this first issue along the northern and eastern borders when the plate was extracted from the large map (for instance, "Painted De" for Painted Desert appears at the 35th parallel on the eastern border of Arizona in the first issue and is removed in the second issue) and different labeling of the railroads (see our 4820). To the right of the title the Colton Company name is embossed: G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co. Publishers Of Maps, Atlases, Etc. 172 William Street. N.Y. Map is full color by county and folded into stamped lavender cloth covers 16x10.5 with "Bancroft's Map Of California, Nevada, Utah And Arizona." in gilt.

Bancroft's Map Of The Rocky Mountain States, And The Pacific Coast. Compiled By Wm. H. Knight. Published by H.H. Bancroft & Copany. Booksellers & Stationers, San Francisco Cal. 1866. Entered ... 1865, by H.H. Bancroft & Company ... California.
San Francisco: H.H. Bancroft & Company. Type: Pocket Map Size: 51x46 Scale: 1: 475,200 Reference: Wheat 1132.
This map expands the coverage of the large Pacific States Map to include New Mexico, Colorado, most of Dakota and all of Montana. However, because of its relatively small size, there is much less detail shown. This same map appears in two parts in Clarke's New School Geography (see our copy) also published by Bancroft in 1866. In fact, we believe that the map was made primarily for the school geography (hence the simplification) and secondarily as a separate map. Wheat trashes the map: "we are surprised that Knight should have a hand in so inferior a job...No getting away from it, we must point the finger of shame at Knight for this map." The simplification is understandable for a school map, but showing the Green River entering the Colorado in Arizona is inexcusable at this date (especially for a school atlas!). Curiously, the companion Outline Map of the Pacific States in four sheets which accompanied the Clarke School Geography does show the Green and Colorado correctly. Notwithstanding its faults, the map is quite attractive, and, for some reason, scarce. With an excellent catalog of Bancroft's maps on the inside cover. Full color by county, and folded into stamped light brown cloth covers 16x10 with "Bancroft's Map Of The Rocky Mountain States, And The Pacific Coast." in gold.

Bancroft's Map Of The Pacific States. Compiled By Wm. Henry Knight. Published by H.H. Bancroft & Co. Booksellers and Stationers, San Francisco, Cal. 1867. Entered ... 1867, by H.H. Bancroft & Company ... California.
San Francisco: H.H. Bancroft. Type: Wall Map Size: 152x125 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Wheat 1164.
Highly detailed, important map. 1st edition 1863. This map was the "mother" map for Bancroft's several issues of the pocket map versions of the northern and southern halves of this map, as well as for many later issues of this map. It is wonderfully detailed, full of endless information on the western states, information that is found in few other maps of the same period. It differs from the 1863 edition in not having an inset map of Hawaii and in showing Montana and Idaho. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county, outlined by state.

San Francisco: H.H. Bancroft & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 30x24 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Vogdes p208.
This is an original map, not extracted from one of Bancroft's larger Pacific States maps. Although small in size, it is twice the scale of the larger maps and its detail is very good. On the inside front cover is a good catalogue of Bancroft's maps for sale. See our #5184 for the expanded 1871 edition. Full color by county. Folded into mauve cloth covers 12x7.5 with label reading "Bancroft's Map Of Central California."

Bancroft's Map Of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana And British Columbia. Published By A.L. Bancroft, & Compy. Booksellers & Stationers San Francisco, Cal. 1872. Entered ... 1872 by A.L. Bancroft & Co. ... Washington D.C.
San Francisco: A.L. Bancroft & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x94 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Wheat 1229.

BARBER, B.B.; WILLARD, A. 1835
Map Of The United States Of America With Its Territories & Districts. Including also a part of Upper & Lower Canada And Mexico. Published By B.B. Barber & A. Willard, Hartford, 1835.

Hartford: Barber and Willard. Type: Wall Map Size: 71x108 Scale: 1:4,118,400 Reference: Karrow 1-1486.

Map Of The United States exhibiting the principal Rail Road & Steam boat Routes.
New Haven: J.W. Barber Type: Pocket Map Size: 24x20 Scale: 1:11,000,000 Reference: None found.
Covers 13x8.5 are a tan card board with a printed label with and eagle and shield under which is the same title as above, with the addition of "Revised and Corrected. Published by J.W. Barber, New Haven, Ct." There is no date or maker on the map, although the geography indicates a date of circa 1845. There are tables of distances from New York and New Orleans. Barber also published histories of several northeastern states - see our copies of New York and Connecticut, both with maps of the states. Railroads, canals and steam boat routes are shown in color.

BARKER, LUCY M. (1821)
Lucy M. Barker's Map Of Connecticut.
Manuscript. Type: Manuscript Size: 38x51 Scale: 1:300,000 Reference: From Howard Welsh's collection.
Manuscript map. Dated by Bridgeport (1821 incorporation of city). Howard Welsh has two sheets of notes attempting to date this map by the appearance of the Southwick "notch" of 1805 (and noting that Thompson did not identify the appearance of the notch in 1805 as a map dating device). However, we think that Thompson's approach of the appearance of towns is best here. Who was Lucy Barker? The map is very well done. Edged in golden tan silk, with black top and bottom rollers. Outline color by county.

BARTHOLOMEW, JOHN; PHILIP, GEORGE. (1873)
The Pacific States, The Territories And A Portion Of The North-Western States. By J. Bartholomew, F.R.G.S. George Philip & Son, London & Liverpool. (above the title) (United States, No. II (Western Division).
London: George Philip & Son. Type: Case Map Size: 51x63 Scale: 1:4,900,000 Reference: cf NMM 497 (?).
Map of the Western half of the U.S. This map is very well done; the date is estimated from the California counties shown. The transcontinental railroad is completed and the Northern Pacific is built to the Missouri River. For an English map of this period, it is excellent. It was probably a sheet in the NMM 497 (Philip's Imperial Library Atlas, 51 maps) or a similar George Philip atlas of the 1870's (none found in Phillips Atlases list). The same updated sheet is found in our Philip's Reader's Reference Atlas of the World, 1912. Map is printed in full color by state, dissected into 18 sections and backed with linen. Folds with dark green cloth end sheets 18.5x12 labeled with "Western + Pacific States of NA" in ms.

BARTLETT, JOHN RUSSELL. 1854
Personal Narrative of Explorations and Incidents in Texas, New Mexico, California, Sonar, and Chihuahua, Connected with the United States and Mexican Boundary Commission, During the Years 1850, '51, '52 and '53. By John Russell Bartlett, United States Commissioner During That Period. In Two Volumes, With Map and Illustrations. New York: D. Appleton & Company, 346 & 348 Broadway, and 16 Little Britain, London. M.DCCC.LIV. (on verso) Entered ... 1854, by D. Appleton & Company ... New York.
New York: D. Appleton & Company. Type: Exploration Book Size: 23x15 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes B201; Wheat 798; FC 234; Graph 198.
Uses the Colton small U.S. (see 2360) as a base map to show the west. The map is titled "General Map Showing the Country Explored & Surveyed by the United States & Mexican Boundary Commission..." It is the 1854 Colton map (compare to our earlier wall maps) with many changes in the west. Wheat claims the map shows the early Gadsden line, but our copy does not. However, the copy of this map (same title) that appears in the Annals of San Francisco, 1855, does have the Gadsden line drawn in, so it may be that copies of Bartlett's report published later in 1854 had the map with the line on it. Another difference between the two maps is the appearance of the name D. Mc Lellan, Printer, in the lower left of the earlier issue. This is an important travel narrative of the southwest, covering the three years Bartlett spent on his junket, from Mazatlan to San Francisco. Cowmen: "the best of the period."
Volumes in half leather with "Bartlett's Personal Narrative" embossed on the spines with volume number.

N.P.: F.W. Beers. Type: City Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 21 Reference: P2621; U.S. Atlases L6329 and L3304.
A scarce atlas of Richmond a decade after the end of the Civil War. Wonderful detail on buildings and their owners, parks and public buildings. This copy is undated on the title page, but dated 1876 on the original front cover. A second edition was published in 1877. The index calls for seven views of Richmond that are not present in this copy and appear to never have been bound in, indicating that some copies were issued without the views (a common practice among the Beers). The title page is illustrated with a view of the Custom House and Post Office. Maps have hand painted color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Illustrated Combination Atlas Of Richmond, Va. 1876." decoratively embossed in gilt on the front and back covers.

Felix Belly was the most prominent proponent of a canal through Nicaragua. This book and beautiful map is a promotion for his scheme, which never achieved success during his time, yet was still being promoted well into the twentieth century. The full color map, 64x92, is a stunning example of early chromolithography, and is titled "Carte D'Etude Dressee Par Mr. Thome Gamond Pour Servir A L'Avant-Project Du Canal Interoceanique De Nicaragua..." The inset map is titled "Carte L'Amerique Centrale..." Along the bottom of the main map is a profile of the canal. The book is an inscribed presentation copy from Belly to a "Monsieur Mason." Bound with quarter cloth boards. Title printed on the paper covers.

Gotha: Justus Perthes. Type: Physical Atlas Size: 39x27 Maps: 74 Reference: P217.
The seven parts have individual title pages dated variously 1887, 1891, and 1892, indicating that each was also published separately (see our copy of Atlas der Geologie). This is a new edition, updated by Berghaus' son, with all the maps completely redone, and still, amazingly, hand colored in a style equal to the first edition. There are actually only 74 maps, No. 7/8 are combined in one plate. Atlas is bound in half leather black cloth covered boards with "Berghaus' Physikal. Atlas." stamped in gilt on the front cover and spine.

BERGHAUS, HEINRICH; FLEMMING, CARL; SOHR, KARL 1855
Vollstandiger Hand - Atlas der neueren Erdbeschreibung uber alle Theile der Erde in 82 Blattern herausgegeben von Dr. K. Sohr. Vt. Auflage vermehrt und verbessert durch Dr. Heinrich Berghaus, Professor u. Director der geograph. kunstschule zu Potsdam. Glogau und Leipzig 1855. Druck u. Verlag von C. Flemming. (with) Supplementband, 32 Blattern.
Glogau and Leipzig: C. Flemming. Type: World Atlas Size: 37x47 Maps: 120 Reference: Espenhorst 4.1.1.5.4a and 4.1.1.5.4b; Wheat 745, 748; Day 1457 (Texas); not in Phillips.
This is the most scarce of the mid 19th century German atlases, at least in the United States collections or trade. Espenhorst devotes an entire section of his book to the "Atlasfamilie Sohr-Berghaus" but the LOC has no copies of any issues. Occasionally individual maps show up under the name of Flemming or Berghaus (as in Wheat and Day). One of the most interesting maps in the atlas, found in the 32 map supplement, is a reduced edition of Arrowsmith's Map of Texas of 1841, here probably issued in 1845 or 46, the date the supplement first appeared. Also: Californien, Oregon, Utah und Neu-Mejico; Das Oregon-Gebiet, c. 1846 and based on De Mofras, here tipped in to the atlas; Mexico, Mittel-America, Texas (Wheat 745); Vereinigte Staaten (Wheat 748); Britisches Nord-America (also from Arrowsmith); and a four sheet Vereinigte Staaten von Nordamerika by F. Handtke (not seen by Wheat). It appears that all the maps were lithographed by Flemming, which was unusual for the period - most of the other German atlas of that date were engraved. An additional six maps follow the 32 map supplement, of the areas around European Turkey and Hungary. Maps are hand painted with outline color and bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with an orange paper label reading "Sohr's Hand-Atlas uber alle Theile der Erde." in gold; the new leather spine has "Sohr's Atlas" stamped in gilt.

BERGHAUS, HERMANN 1882
Chart Of The World On Mercator's Projection. Constructed By Hermann Berghaus. Gotha: Justus Perthes. I. Edition 1863, X. Edition 1882. Engraved by H. Eberhardt, E. Kuhn and W. Weiler. (with 32 inset maps).
Gotha: Justus Perthes. Type: Wall MapChart Map Size: 93x152 Scale: 1:15,000,000 Reference: cf P-Maps 1104 .

BERGHAUS, HERMANN; STULPNAGEL, FR. V. 1863
Chart Of The World On Mercators Projection. Constructed By Hermann Berghaus and Fr. v. Stulpnagel.Engraved by Eberhardt and by Will. Weiler. Gotha: Justus Perthes 1863. Printed by C. Hellfarth in Gotha. (with 4 inset maps).
Gotha: Justus Perthes. Type: Chart MapCase Map Size: 90x150 Scale: 1:15,000,000 Reference: P-Maps 1104 (1864 ed.).
Elaborate map showing shipping routes, etc. This wonderful map went through many editions into the 1880's (see our 1882 copy). The confederate states are shown as subtly separate from the rest of the U.S. and a large Montana territory occupies Idaho and Montana, with Idaho in Wyoming! Ocean currents are shown, relief is conveyed in great detail, and thematic inset maps abound. This issue is engraved. Apparently, later issues were lithographed (Hudson). Advertisements for Edward Stanford's maps and atlases appear on the verso, indicating that he distributed the English language version of the map. In full color, dissected into 40 sections mounted on linen. Folds into a new green cloth folding case 24x16 with "Chart Of The World Justus Perthes 1863" stamped in gold on the spine.

BERNARD, S.; POUSSIN, WILLIAM TELL. 1828
Letter From the Postmaster General, Transmitting A report of General Bernard, Of Surveys of Routes For A Post Road From Baltimore to Philadelphia.
Washington: U.S. Type: Gov't Report Book Maps: 1 Reference: Claussen/Friis 7;Mapping of Maryland 24.
One of the earliest government maps in Claussen/Friis. Map is titled: Map of a Reconnaissance Between Baltimore and Philadelphia Exhibiting the several routes of the Mail Road contemplated by the Resolution of Congress approved on the 4th of May 1826. Bernard and Poussin lay out eight routes on the map, describe their advantages and disadvantages in the report, and recommend route number two as the best. Poussin later did his book and atlas on American improvements. The map is exquisitely drawn, probably by Poussin when one compares it to his later atlas.

BERNARD; POUSSIN, WILLIAM TELL 1828
A Report upon the Reconnoissance of a Route, across the Cumberland Mountain, of the National Road Contemplated From Washington To New Orleans, And A Map Of The Country Between Those Two Cities. February 7, 1828. Washington: Printed by Gales & Seaton. 1828. [Doc. No. 125.] 20th Congress, 1st Session. Ho. of Reps. War Dept. (with) Map Of Reconnaissance Exhibiting the country between Washington and New Orleans with the Routes examined in reference to a contemplated National Road between these two cities.
Washington: U.S. Type: Exploration Book Size: 50x67 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:2,090,880 Reference: cf P-Maps 496; not in Claussen & Friis.
The map shows three possible routes plus a fourth route (not shown clearly on the map, for some reason) that is the subject of the written report. In 20th Congress, 1st Session, House Doc. 125. An earlier version of the map, showing three routes, appeared in the first report on this subject in 1826, House Doc. 156, 19th Congress, 1st Session (see p-Maps 496). In that earlier report it is stated that this map was "compiled from Tanner's atlas..." Cover missing.

BEVAN, JOHN. 1857
Jersey City: John Bevan. Type: Wall Map Size: 77x69 Scale: 1:2,400 Reference: Tooley Dictionary; cf Nestler p.106; cf U.S. Atlases L5690.
This is a very lovely town map made circa 1857. We can find no direct record of this map, although Bevan is listed by Tooley as a maker of county maps 1850-70, by Nestler as the author of an 1862 book about Hudson River railroad towns (which Cold Spring is), and in U.S. Atlases as the maker of an atlas of the town of Lansingburgh, N.Y. , in 1872. This map of Cold Spring is very detailed, showing the town dominated by the West Point foundry ("one of the largest establishments of the kind in the country" -French Smith Gazetteer of N.Y. 1860) and the estate of M. Gouverneur, deceased. There is a list of 47 subscribers in the upper right. The Hudson River and the Hudson River Railroad are at the bottom of the map. Maps of small towns in the vicinity of New York City from the 1850's are quite scarce.

be seen at the same Time. Being designed for Schools and Families. By William Bicknell, Jr., Hartford, Me... Second Edition.
Hartford, Maine: William Bicknell, Jr. Type: Wall Map Size: 111x97 Reference: None found.
This is a most unusual teaching wall map and chart that employs three large "Revolving Circle, Questions, and Index" that cover the United States, the Western Hemisphere and the Eastern Hemisphere. The circles rotate behind the chart surface and reveal information through a pie shaped slit in the chart. There is also a great deal of printed information on the rest of the chart that describe different parts of the globe, plus illustrations of a stage coach and a paddle wheel steamboat, and maps of the Western and Eastern Hemisphere. New York: W.H. Bidwell. Type: Wall Map Size: 161x214 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary.
Huge colorful wall map showing the locations by key of fourteen different American and European Missionary stations in China. Bidwell made a series of Missionary maps of the Western Hemisphere, the Eastern Hemisphere, China, North America, India, and Africa. The graphic style is somewhat crude but impressive in its boldness. With three insets maps of Canton, Fuhchau, and Amoy Island. Bidwell maps are scarce, due to their special purpose and large size. Tooley lists Africa (1860), this China (1850), and Asia (1865). Hudson has listed the two hemispherical World maps, 1849.

BIELAWSKI, C.; HOFFMANN, J.D.; POETT, A. 1865
Topographical And Railroad Map of the Central Part of the State of California, and Part of the State Of Nevada. 1865. Compiled from Railroad Surveys, U.S. Public Land Surveys, U.S. Coast Surveys, California State Geological Survey (Prof. J.D. Whitney), and from reliable private Surveys, and Published by C. Bielawski, J.D. Hoffmann & A. Poett, Civil Engineers & Survrs. Britton & Co. Lith: San Francisco. Entered ... 1865 by J.D. Hoffmann & A. Poett ... California.
San Francisco: Britton & Co; Lith. Type: Pocket Map
Size: 73x160 Scale: 1:253,440 Reference: Streeter 2891; Haiman, Polish Pioneers of California, p 57-61.
This scarce map shows a large band of central California from San Francisco Bay to Virginia City, Nevada. The showing of railroads is extensive with a separate table listing the engineers for each road. Topography is delineated in "crayon" style resulting in a very clear rendition of the Coast Range and the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The mining camps are shown in great number and the overall detail is most impressive with a 4 miles to 1 inch scale. The Whitney Survey "Map of Central California" of 1873 is the only map that we know of that is comparable, yet it is eight years later, at a scale of 6 miles to 1 inch, and runs from west to east from San Francisco Bay, thus ending at Mono Lake and missing Lake Tahoe.

This 1865 map runs from southwest to northeast, covering Lake Tahoe and extending to Pyramid Lake in Nevada. We have not seen any map of central California of this period that has the clarity and detail of this map. The map was copyrighted in 1865 by Hoffmann and Poett, about whom not much is known, except that Hoffmann made a "Topographical Map of Lake Tahoe..." in 1874 with Ferdinand Von Leicht (Graff 4497); it is not clear why Bielawski was not also listed on the copyright - perhaps because he was for many years surveyor for the U.S. General Land Office in San Francisco. Haiman states that Bielawski "was considered the most important person in the Land Office, that he personally surveyed and was generally recognized as the best authority on real property titles in the state." This copy is folded into untitled brown cloth covers stamped with a decorative border.

Blanchard's Map Of The North Western States. Showing the Counties, Towns, Railroads, Stations, Steam Boat Landing etc. Compiled From The Most Authentic Sources. Published by Rufus Blanchard, 148

Lake Street, Chicago, Ill. 1866. Lith. Chas. Shober, Chicago. Entered ... 1865, by R. Blanchard ... Illinois.
First edition. Karrow shows a second edition in 1867. With a column of "Explanations," a diagram of townships, and a profile of the Illinois and Michigan canal. Shows an area north to Minnesota, south to Missouri, west to Dakota, and east to Lake Michigan. This is one of Blanchard's most attractive and interesting (especially the detail in early Dakota) lithographic maps. Several of his state pocket maps were taken from it (see our Iowa, #5193, and Minnesota, #4809). Full color, two separate sheets folded into cloth covers 16x11 with "Blanchard's Map Of The North Western States. Showing The Counties Towns & Rail Roads" stamped in gilt.

Blanchard's Map Of Iowa And Nebraska Showing The Counties Towns & Rail Roads. Published by Rufus Blanchard, Chicago. 1867. Lith Chas Shober, Chicago.
Chicago: Rufus Blanchard. Type: Pocket Map Size: 44x55 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: Karrow 8-0772.; Conzen p. 28-29
This is the second edition (1866 was the first) of the first map of Iowa that Blanchard produced by himself (he issued Morse's Map of Iowa in 1856 - see our #2375). The map appears to be taken from a larger wall or pocket map, and is certainly from the same plate as Blanchard's large Map of the North Western States (our #5210). Only eastern Nebraska is shown, including the partially completed Pacific Railroad from Omaha westward. With a paste down slip of population statistics on the inside cover. Full color. Map is folded into dark green cloth covers 12.5x9 with "Guide Map Of Iowa And Eastern Nebraska" in gilt.

Hand-Book Of Minnesota: Describing Its Agricultural, Commercial and Manufacturing Resources, And Other Capabilities Of Producing Wealth ... By Rufus Blanchard. Chicago: Blanchard & Cram, 1867. (with) Blanchard's Map Of Minnesota And Dakota Showing The Counties, Towns & Rail Roads. 1867. Published by Rufus Blanchard Chicago, Ill.
Chicago: Blanchard & Cram. Type: Guide Book Size: 15.5x11; 43x53 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: Conzen p. 27; Karrow 7-0772.

Chicago: Rufus Blanchard. Type: Pocket Map Size: 79x72 Scale: 1:3,801,600 Reference: P-Maps 916; Chicago Mapmakers p.75.
First map of the U.S. engraved in Chicago (Karrow). Printed both sides (eastern half and western half). Inset map of a 1795 map of the western territories, several vignettes, and an inset map of the world. Public land surveys and mineral deposits shown. Scarce. Also published in a larger version without the printing on both sides (see Blanchard catalogue). Blanchard has copied almost exactly (he does say "compiled from government maps" but he should say "copied") the U.S. General Land Office "Map of the Public Land States and Territories" 1867 edition. Some additions are made, i.e. the Black Hills are drawn in and Wyoming is shown as "proposed" but basically it is the same map. Full color. Folded into dark brown stamped cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Cabinet Map of the United States and Territories." in gilt.

Cabinet Map Of The Western States And Territories On A Rectangular Projection Showing The Location Of Gold Silver And Other Minerals The Railroads And Principal Cities...Compiled From Government Maps And Published By Rufus Blanchard. 146 Lake St. Chicago, Ill. 1869. Entered ... 1868, by R. Blanchard ... Ill. Engraved by Jerome T. Gouget, at R. Blanchard's Map Establishment ... (inset) Map Of The World Showing the Great Throughfare Between Europe & Asia Through the United States.
Chicago: Rufus Blanchard. Type: Pocket Map Size: 76x99 Scale: 1:3,801,600 Reference: Karrow 1-1716; Chicago Mapmakers p.75.
Taken from the Cabinet Map of the United States and Territories of 1868, showing the portion of that map west of Ohio, and like it, derived (almost copied) from the U.S. General Land Office Map of the United States of 1868. Several changes in the west: Wyoming is no longer "proposed," the Transcontinental Railroad is completed and many more stations on it are named, Southern Nevada has a new proposed Humboldt and Colorado Railroad and telegraph line, and more railroad development and topography is shown in Northeastern California. Full color. Folded into black cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Cabinet Map of the Western States and Territories." in gilt.

Another format of a much varied map publication by Blanchard. Folded into black cloth covers 15.5x10.5 with "Guide Map Of Chicago And Environs" in gilt. Inside are two full color maps, the larger being Chicago and Environs, the smaller being the Guide Map of Chicago. The larger map is the "mother" map for all of the variations published as Chicago maps by Blanchard and Cram, together and separately. The smaller map is slightly larger than our 1867 edition and has a different group of vignettes (one less and one being the same). And there is inserted a copy of the Citizen's Guide, and glued to it an excellent catalogue of Blanchard's maps for sale.

New York: A. Ranney. Type: Pocket Map Size: 51x74 Scale: 1:7,250,000 Reference: Chicago Mapmakers p23-24.
A late New York imprint of Blanchard's. Blanchard went to Chicago in 1854, so this map (entered in New York by Blanchard in 1854) must have been one of his last before the move. It is a wonderful example of a hand colored wax engraved map - up to date in showing Kansas and Nebraska Territories, and decorative with an eagle cartouche, vignettes of ships and steam engines, and a vine border. Full color. Folded into stamped olive green leather covers 14.5x9 with "Ranney's New Map Of The United States" stamped in bronze.

Blanchard's Guide Map Of Chicago. Published By Rufus Blanchard, 52 La Salle Street, 1862. (On verso) Map Of The Counties Of Cook, Dupage, Will, Kankakee, and parts of Kane & Kendall. Compiled by J.H. Rees. Published by Rufus Blanchard. Chicago. Lith of Ed. Mendel, 170 Lake St. Chicago.
Chicago: Rufus Blanchard. Type: Pocket Map Size: 91x66 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:14,700 Reference: Karrow 4-0374.

Blunt, 154 Water St. Corner of Maiden Lane. 1834. Entered ... 1834 By Edmund & George W. Blunt ... New York. Engraved by W. Hooker. (with) seven inset maps listed in Notes.
New York: E. & G.W. Blunt. Type: Chart Size: 93x125 Scale: 1:8,800,000 Reference: Not in Guthorn; cf P3661.
This chart should be viewed with Blunt's North Atlantic chart of 1832/35 and the two sheet Norie Chart of the Pacific Ocean, 1825/36. The four sheets were used for many whaling trips by an American captain out of New York in the 1840's and 50's and are marked with his ships' tracks and numerous whale sightings. Blunt's charts of the North and South Atlantic are not easily found and Guthorn only mentions some earlier, larger scale coastal charts found in Blunt's 1830 atlas of charts of the North and South Atlantic Oceans (P3661). Inset maps from left to right: 1. Channel through the Abrolhos Banks, 2. Bahia or San Salvador from the Surveys of Comr. Fitzroy, Captn. M.H. Dixon and Baron Rousin, 3. Sketch of the Manoel Luiz Bank By M. le Baron Roussin, 4. Table Bay, 5. Walwich Bay, 6. Angra Pequena, 7. Sketch of the Roadstead Of St. Helena.

Rare Blunt chart of Coast of Alaska and Asia around the Behring Strait. Also shows the Aleutian Islands. Guthorn states that Blunt did few charts of the west coast of the United States and he does not list this one. The line of packed ice in the Polar Sea is shown for August 1827. A track is charted in pencil along the west coast of Asia, through the Bay of Anadir. One presumes this chart was used by Whalers. Entered in 1849 by Blunt. On the blue backed side there is the label of Charles Taber & Co. of New Bedford (Mass.), who claim to have "Charts of all parts of the World visited by Whalemen."

New York: E. & G.W. Blunt. Type: Chart Map Size: 73x335 Scale: 1:900,000 Reference: Guthorn p89-92.
Huge coastal chart covering most of the east coast during the Civil War. Insets of New York Harbor, Absecum Shoals, and Havana. Half of Cuba is shown. Seven sheets attached end to end make up this eleven foot chart. The chart is copyright 1846, indicating a long publishing history. Guthorn details the editions that ran from 1815 to 1860. Some issues were shorter, covering less coast line. Our copy is the longest chart issued. Guthorn does not mention an edition as late as 1863. Charles Copley engraved the original 1846 edition (Guthorn), although his name has been erased from the plate for this edition.

1st edition of guide. Includes two maps. In the introduction of the 26 page guide book, Boardman states that the large White Mountain map was issued "previously" which one assumes was the prior year, since Phillips lists 1858 as the first edition of the map. Some 1858 (see our #5228) and later issues of the map look the same and bear the same date of 1858, but are lithographic transfers done by J.H. Bufford who also did the first edition of the Railroad map (see our 1864 edition of the large map). The quality of the later lithographic issues is not up to the quality of the first engraved or lithographed issues. Phillips lists an 1871 revised edition by H.S. Fifield and lithographed by Bufford. Boardman also states that he drew the map from his own surveys of the area. Several vignettes of local buildings and scenes surround the mountain ranges. Both maps are in black and white, and folded into stamped red cloth covers with "Boardman's White Mountain Guide" in gilt.

New York: Edwin Bolitho, Engineering and Mining Journal. Type: Mining Atlas Size: 14.5x9 Maps: 27 Scale: Variable Reference: None found.
Scarce. 24 of the 27 maps are western mining maps. A miniature mining atlas with many western maps. Not in any of the standard collections or references. There are maps of western states and detailed maps of mining areas showing claims. All of the detailed claim maps (except Dahlonega District in Georgia) appear on the verso of the state maps in Bradstreet's Pocket Atlas of 1882 (see our copy). At the end of the atlas there is a note by the publisher stating that any of the maps can be supplied for any use (We assume that Bradstreet made use of this offer) and that additional maps will be provided in "the forthcoming edition." Was there another, expanded edition? Atlas is bound into burgandy leather covers with "Pocket Mining Atlas." stamped in gilt.

BOUCHETTE, JOSEPH 1815
A Topographical Description Of The Province Of Lower Canada, With Remarks Upon Upper Canada, And On The Relative Connexion Of Both Provinces With The United States of America. By Joseph Bouchette, Esq. ... Embellished By Several Views, Plans Of Harbours, Battles, &c. London: Printed for the Author, and published by W. Faden, Geographer to his Majesty and the Prince Regent, Charing-Cross. 1815.
London: William Faden Type: Geography Book Size: 24x15 Maps: 8 Reference: Sabin 6849; Thomson , Men and Meridians, p 264-269; cf Winearls 50.
Bouchette was Surveyor General of Lower Canada from 1804 to 1841, the year he died. This "Topographical Description..." ranks with Smyth's 1799 book on Upper Canada in importance, and Bouchette's maps that accompany the text (but published separately - see our copies) far exceed Smyth's map in both the quality of the cartography and the size of the production. In the preface, Bouchette states that "The interior of Lower Canada being so little known beyond the limits of the province, a belief that a detailed account of it would not only be useful by shewing its present state, but by bringing it under more general notice, might possibly assist in the development of its vast resources, has led to the construction of a Topographical Map upon a large scale, and to the publication of the following Book to illustrate the same more fully." Thomson calls this work "Bouchette's magnum opus...(a) monumental literary effort." Bouchette does not receive the attention in the references that one would expect, given the high quality of both his writings and his maps. Maps uncolored. Bound in half leather with "Bouchette's Canada" on the spine.

BOUCHETTE, JOSEPH 1832
The British Dominions In North America; Or A Topographical And Statistical Description Of The Provinces Of Lower And Upper Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, The Islands Of Newfoundland, Prince Edward, And Cape Breton ... By Joseph Bouchette, Esq. ... Embellished with Views, Plans of Towns, Harbours, &c. In Two Volumes. London: Published by Longman, Rees, Orme, Brown, Green, and Longman, Paternoster-Row. 1832.

The first edition, second issue (first issue has 1831 on title). This work greatly expands on the author's 1815 Topographical Description of Lower Canada by adding material on Upper Canada and the Maritime Provinces. It was issued with three large maps (published separately by Wyld - see our copies) that draw upon Bouchette's 1815 maps. A third volume, the Topographical Dictionary of the Province of Lower Canada, was published separately in the same year. Bouchette writes clearly and with great authority based on long experience in the field - these works are among the best of the period regarding Canadian geography. In the back of volume one is a listing of the three maps published by Wyld in 1831. Bound in two volumes, both in linen with "British Dominions in North America, Bouchette, 1832" and the volume number on the spine.

Map Of The Provinces Of Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. With A Large Section Of The United States And Exhibiting The Boundary Of The British Dominions in North America. According To The Treaties Of 1842 & 1846. Compiled from the latest and most approved Astronomical observations, Authorities and recent Surveys. By Joseph Bouchette Depy. Survr. Genl. L.C. 1846. Entered ... 1846, by Joseph Bouchette ... Canada. Entered ... 1846 by Joseph Bouchette ... New York. Engraved by Sherman & Smith New York. (with 5 inset maps).
New York: Sherman & Smith. Type: Case Map Size: 118x222 Scale: 1:887,040 Reference: Winearls 152.3; Thomson , Men and Meridians, p 264-269; Farrell, p157-158; TMC 36, p15; P-Maps p196 (1831 edition); NMM479.
First edition. This map is an extensive revision and redrawing on the same scale of Bouchette's 1831 map of Upper and Lower Canada (see our #4436). The map is extended east to include all of Nova Scotia and further north to include Anticosti Island. New inset maps are added of Environs of Montreal, Lake Superior, and the Niagara District, and the other insets of Newfoundland and British North America are thoroughly revised. The changes to the U.S./Canadian boundaries in Oregon (1846) and Maine (1842) are shown, as well as the first three, short Canadian railways (compared to a large number shown underway in the U.S.). In addition, there are many other revisions to the main map, well documented by Winearls. Copyrights are given for Canada and New York. NMM 479 is a folio atlas version of the six sheets of this map issued in 1853. Winearls lists two later editions of the map in 1852 and 1853. To us, the most interesting aspect of this edition is the fact it was engraved and printed in New York by Sherman and Smith, rather than in London by J. & C. Walker and James Wyld as with the 1831 edition. The style is very definitely "New York" - bold and visually striking. This is the second large Canadian map drawn by Canadians that was engraved in America - after the map of the Canadas by David Taylor, 1834 (see our #4691). It is a most beautiful and rare map. Full color by county. Map is dissected into three sheets of 16 sections each. Map has silk edging, and folds with green plain end sheets into a burgundy leather slip case with "Bouchette's Map Of British North America 1846." stamped in gold.

First edition, to accompany the author's "British Dominions in North America." A later enlarged edition was published in New York by Sherman & Smith in 1846 (see our #5071), reprinted with additions in 1852, 1853 (no significant changes)(see NMM 479 for an atlas edition of the map, 1853). Joseph Bouchette Junior carried on his father's work and this map is a worthy successor to the elder Bouchette's 1815 map of Upper and Lower Canada. The scale is almost three times as large and the size of the map is doubled. A list of authorities is given, all Canadian, ending with "several important American Authorities" (which are unnamed). Lands belonging to the Canada Company are shown. There is a great deal of detail in the U.S. portions of the map, and attention is paid to the Maine boundary dispute with a note - but only the British claim line is shown. Outline color by state. Map has green cloth edging and is dissected into 35 sections. Folds with blue paper end sheets into a new gray cloth folding case 28x21.5 with "Upper And Lower Canada J. Bouchette, Jr. 1831" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Compiled from the latest Surveys and Adjusted from the most recent and Approved Astronomical Observations by Joseph Bouchette ... Augst 12th, 1815, by W. Faden ... (with) Plan of the District of Gaspe ... Augst 12th, 1815 ...
London: William Faden. Type: National Atlas Size: 74x45 Maps: 13 Reference: Edition Elysee (Facsimile of Lower Canada map), introduction p1-8; Winearls 50 (Map of Upper and Lower Canada); Farrell, p157-158; cf Sabin 6849; Holmden 581 and 2934; TMC 36, p15; Thomson , Men and Meridians, p 264-269.
This is an atlas of three maps on 13 sheets: the large map of Lower Canada on ten sheets (scale 1:174,240, size 133x307); the map of Upper and Lower Canada on two sheets (scale 1:2,200,000, size 76x123); and the single sheet map of Gaspe (scale 1:506,880, size 40x48). These maps were intended to accompany Bouchette's Topographical Description of Lower Canada (see our copy). The first two maps have outline color. Atlas is bound into half leather marbled paper covered boards. The title in French on the atlas spine "Description Topograph Du Bas Canada" may indicate that this atlas was issued to accompany the 1815 French edition of the book published in London (Sabin 6850). The large ten sheet map is extraordinary - it is over ten feet long when joined and almost five feet tall. It has five views and three large inset maps of Montreal, Quebec, and Three Rivers. The detail and graphic elegance of the large map is the equal (or perhaps the superior) of any of the contemporary maps that we have seen (and none of which are on such a large scale - the only potential candidate would be Eddy's Map of the Country Thirty Miles Round the City of New York). Of course the engraving was done by the Walker firm in London, whose resources were up to the New York and Philadelphia engravers, or better, so a comparison with American produced maps is not entirely fair. Bouchette's work as Surveyor General must have instilled in him an obsession with the accuracy and fineness of detail that one sees in these maps. Not in Phillips.

Issued to accompany the author's "British Dominions..." of 1832. In the preface, referring to this map and the map of Quebec, Bouchette states "In the general frame work of the maps of Lower Canada, which are upon a large and explanatory scale, the author was materially aided by his previous topographical exhibit of that province, published in 1815...but the details are entirely new and compiled, with the greatest care, from numerous original surveys and documents of indubitable authenticity, that have enabled him to lay down every minutia of topography." And on the last page of volume one, the maps are stated to be "hitherto unequaled for local precision." Essentially, this map of Montreal District and the sister map of Quebec are of the same large scale of the 1815 Map of Lower Canada, but actually enlarge the area of coverage (the mother map was already over ten feet long) to a combined length of over fifteen feet, all with massive updating to show the growth of settlement and survey. The Montreal map also emphasizes the Rideau Canal with a large inset map and by adding that portion of Upper Canada through with the canal passes (the text refers to the canal as Canada's equivalent of the Erie Canal). Another remarkable production by Bouchette. Map has outline color and is dissected into 33 sections. Folds with marbled end sheets into a half leather marbled paper covered slip case 35x23.5 with "Montreal" stamped in gilt on the spine.

The Whole Illustrated with Seventy Maps, By Emanuel Bowen, Geographer to His Majesty, Being all New-drawn and Ingraved according to the latest Discoveries and Surveys; Making, of Themselves, a Complete Atlas, For the Use of Gentlemen, Merchants, Mariners, and Others, who delight in History and Geography ... Vol. 1. London: Printed for William Innys, Richard Ware, Aaron Ward, J. and P. Knapton, John Clarke, T. Longman and T. Shewell, Thomas Osborne, Henry Whitridge ... M.DCC.XLVII ... Vol. II ...
London: William Innys [et al.] Type: Geography Book
Size: 43x28 Maps: 69 Reference: cf P614 (1752 edition of A Complete Atlas...); NMM p.356; M&B p 166.
In the title Bowen states that he is "Preserving all that is useful in the Fourth and Last edition of the Complete Geographer, publish'd under the name of Herman Moll, &c." The 70 maps were also published in two other forms: in "A Complete Atlas" of 1752, and as the Maps for the "Complete Collection of Voyages" by John Harris, in 1744-48 (M&B). The text is massive and interesting, and there are several important maps of America: America, West Indies, Mexico, Louisiana, Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania et al, and Newfoundland et al. The map of the World in Hemispheres is lacking in this copy. Both volumes are newly bound in full brown leather covered boards with "Geography. Vol. 1" and "Geography. Vol. 2" embossed on the spine in gilt.

BOWEN, FRANCES 1810
Manuscript. Type: Manuscript Map Size: 30x24 Maps: 37
37 manuscript maps of the world, done by a young lady, Frances Bowen, as part of a geographical exercise. The result is very fine - these are some of the most delicate and well executed children's maps we have seen. The paper is watermarked J. Whatman 1808 and E & P 1804, both English watermarks, hence the assumption of English origin (furthermore the meridian is from London on the World and U.S. maps) although it could be American. There is a double page map of the World, another of the Mediterranean, maps of all the continents and countries of Europe and Asia, and maps of the United States, North America, West Indies, and South America. Rebound with marbled paper boards and quarter leather with "General Atlas, Frances Bowen - 1810" on the spine.

BOWERS, A.B. 1867
Map Of Sonoma County California. Second Edition. Made and Published by A.B. Bowers, In Accordance with an Act of the Legislature, approved 28 March 1863, With Additions and Corrections to September First 1867. E. Fletcher Lith. 308 Front St. S.F. Entered ... 1867, by A.B. Bowers ... Cala. (with 11 inset maps).
N.P.: A.B. Bowers. Type: Wall Map Size: 136x167 Scale: 1:63,360 Reference: Vogdes p.243; Bancroft Library Map Room (1867, 1882 editions)
This is the earliest separate map of Sonoma County listed by Vogdes (he does not list the first edition, but does list an 1882 edition). With eleven inset maps of towns, a table of distances, a view of the rocky coastline, and an advertisement for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The following note appears printed on the map: "...impatience has been manifested on account of the delayed completion of this map. It was started thirteen years ago when the author was penniless and in debt. It has cost him $18,000 cash and five years labor. In the meantime he has paid $21,300 of old liabilities, much of which had ceased to bear a legal value. He has found the cash question a sufficient cause for delay. Those who strive to please the public seldom succeed. In the management of his own business the author has tried to please himself. He hopes the MAP will please all." The map is, in fact, a beautiful production. Full color by township or school district. Without rollers.

BRADFORD & INSKEEP & THOMAS; PINKERTON, JOHN. 1810
Philadelphia: Bradford & Inskeep. Type: Magazine Size: 22x14 Reference: None found.
Advertising insert in the Port Folio Magazine. They propose to Publish Pinkerton's Atlas in about 20 numbers, each containing three maps. The advertisement is dated September 20, 1810. There is no record of this project being completed - Phillips Atlases lists only a Philadelphia edition of 1818 by T. Dobson & Sons and the London edition of 1815. The London edition was originally issued in parts and the advertisement makes a reference to this - "Now publishing in London in quarterly numbers." Probably Bradford and Inskeep had an arrangement to issue similar quarterly numbers in Philadelphia. For an unknown reason (possibly the War of 1812), it was never completed. Some of the parts were issued - see our copies - and there is no reference to them anywhere.

First edition, first state. Has errata slip on verso of advertisement. No map of Texas(as issued). The errata slip ("Note to Subscribers") details errors on various maps and text pages that are corrected in the 1st edition, 2nd state (see our copy). It states that "The owners of this volume will find it a convenience to page it with a pen, to correspond with the numbers in the table of contents. In a few copies of this work, the following errors have escaped corrections...In so extensive a work, with the greatest care, some errors are likely to escape; the publishers will esteem it a favor to have any that are noticed, pointed out to them, that in future editions they may be corrected." We believe this copy is rare, not having seen the errata slip before. All of the errors are present except that the Map of Holland and Belgium does have the Hague on it. A simple test of this 1st edition, 1st state is the map of Massachusetts which has Troy for Fall River near the Rhode Island border. Also, the title page has "plates printed by D. Russell" under the ornamental title. Maps with hand painted outline color. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Bradford's Comprehensive Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

BRADFORD, THOMAS G. (1838)
An Illustrated Atlas, Geographical, Statistical, And Historical, Of The United States And The Adjacent Countries. By T.G. Bradford. Boston: Weeks, Jordan, And Company. New York: Wiley And Putnam. (on verso) Entered ... 1838, by Thomas G. Bradford ... Massachusetts. Cambridge: Stereotyped And Printed By Folsom, Wells, And Thurston, Printers To The University.
Boston: Weeks, Jordan & Co.; New York: Wiley and Putnam. Type: National Atlas Size: 50x41 Maps: 39 Reference: P11028; cf P1381.
1st edition. This is Bradford's best atlas, far superior to the smaller and more crudely drawn Comprehensive Atlas (see our copies). Each map is accompanied by text description. The maps are engraved by G.W. Boynton, except for Mississippi, which is engraved by S. Stiles, Sherman and Smith. Fielding Lucas drew, but did not engrave, the Delaware map. There was also an edition published in Philadelphia, with the same maps. In some copies the Iowa and Wisconsin map is labeled only "Wisconsin." See also our 1842 and 1846 editions, as well as the 1841 General Atlas of the World by S.G. Goodrich, with uses these Bradford maps, without the text. There is a beautifully illustrated, engraved second title page reading "An Illustrated Atlas, Geographical, Statistical and Historical of the United States And The Adjacent Countries, By T.G.

Bradford. Engd. by Jas. Archer." Full hand painted color. Atlas is bound in half leather brown untitled cloth covers; spine is stamped in gold with "Bradford's Illustrated Atlas".

A General Atlas Of The World, With A Separate Map Of Each Of The United States Of America. Edited By S.G. Goodrich. Boston, C.D. Strong. Entered ... 1841 by C.D. Strong ... Massachusetts. B.W. Thayer & Co.'s Lithogy., Boston.
Boston: C.D. Strong. Type: World Atlas Size: 42x35
Maps: 49 Reference: P6092.
With an engraved title page. This is the Bradford 1838 Illustrated Atlas, without the text and with the addition of ten maps: two hemispheres, South America, Atlantic Ocean, Europe (3), Africa, Asia, and Pacific Ocean. Why Bradford's name is dropped is a mystery, although Goodrich in 1842 issued a new edition of the Illustrated Atlas with Bradford that retains the text and adds the same new maps that are added here. However, many of the maps in this 1841 edition are somewhat different from the 1838 and 1842 editions, with the usual changes in counties, etc. With full hand painted color, atlas is bound in half leather black cloth covered boards with "A General Atlas Of The World With A Separate Map Of Each Of The United States" stamped in gilt on the front red leather label.

2nd edition or state of this map, with printed date of 1804 but with estimated date of 1805 based on the naming of Michigan Territory which was formed in 1805 The 1804 first edition (see LOC copy) does not name Michigan. Other changes from the first edition include new public surveys on the Indiana Territory and Ohio border and the addition of a Rapids between Jallot Lake and Great Falls on the Red River. Also of note is the coloring of the Lousiana Territory green all the way to the Pacific coast on the inset map of North America. Other copies we have seen show the Lousiana Territory extending only to the Rocky Mountains - the 1809 and the 1812 editions have a dotted line marking the boundary roughly at the Rocky Mountains. This 1805 edition and the 1804 edition do not have such a line north of the the 42nd parallel.

BRADLEY, ABRAHAM JUNIOR (1812)
Map of the United States, Exhibiting the Post-Roads, the situations, connexions and distances of the Post-Offices, Stage Roads, Counties & Principal Rivers By Abraham Bradley Junr. Entered ... 2nd day of June1804, by Abraham Bradley Junr. of the District of Columbia. (inset) Map Of North America.

4th edition, corrected to 1812, but dated 1804. This map was originally issued in 1804. This copy is dated 1804 but is corrected for political and topographical changes to 1812. It shows Louisiana and Missouri Territory, both of which were established in 1812. There has been extensive redrawing of the Mississippi River from the junction of the Ohio north to the Wyaconda River (probably due to the public surveys in southern Illinois, evidenced by the appearance of Township and Range lines there). Numerous other changes from the 1804 edition have been made throughout the map adding new counties, towns, roads, and changed physical features, primarily in the mid and western portions. So far we have been able to identify 1804, 1806, 1809, and 1812 editions, but it is likely that other editions will be discovered. The dates are estimates based on the political changes on the maps - all editions are dated 1804 on the title. Since it was a postal map and needed to be current as to towns, road and counties, it is probable that the map was updated every few years, until a new plate was made in 1819 by Harrison (Karpinski 59, Karrow 1-1466). The 1796 edition of this map (a different engraving) was changed four times in as many years (Wheat & Brun 127-130). The 1819 edition became the official post office map in 1825, used until 1829 (Ristow). All of the 1804 to 1812 editions were originally engraved by Francis Shallus of Philadelphia. With outline color. This copy in original condition, dissected into 32 sections and mounted on linen, in original quarter leather marbled covers 27x20 with ties (remnants now) and title "Bradley's U. States" stamped in gild on the spine.

BRIDGENS, H.F.; FAGAN, L. 1862
Township Map Of Berks County Pennsylvania from actual Surveys By L. Fagan, Philadelphia 1862. Published By H.F. Bridgens. Thos. S. Wagner's Lith. 38 Hudson St. Philada. Entered ... 1862 by H.F. Bridgens ... Penna.
Philadelphia: H.F. Bridgens. Type: County Atlas Size: 42x43 Maps: 30 Reference: U.S. Atlases L6160; Ristow p. 403.
Fagan published a wall map of Berks County in 1860 (P-Maps 142). Bridgens cut this up and bound it in 1861 as a county atlas ("Map of Berks County..." see U.S. Atlases L6159). The next year he refined the book somewhat, adding borders to the maps, and changed the title page to "Township Map of Berks County..." This second issue should be regarded as the first true county atlas published in the U.S. since the first issue of 1861 was closer to being a dissected map. Ristow calls the 1861 issue the first county atlas. This copy has four views not called for in the copy Ristow saw, but listed in the LOC copy. The small county map is mostly missing in this copy. It is interesting to note that the title page is taken directly from the wall map title and still has the scale of miles below it. Full color. Rebound in new half leather green cloth covers with "Berks County 1862" stamped in gilt.

BRINGHURST, WILLIAM. 1816

Manuscript. Type: Manuscript Map Size: various Maps: 8 Scale: various Reference: None found.
The state maps are dated 1816; the other three maps are undated. The Ontario, Pittsburgh and Zanesville maps are copied from similar maps that appear in Melish's "Geographical Description," most likely the 1820 or 22 edition because of the rounded corners which do not appear in the earlier editions of 1815 and 16. The state maps are copied from Scott's Gazetteer of 1795. The penmanship is very good. All maps in outline color.

BRINK, MCCORMICK & CO. 1874
(Edwardsville), Illinois: Brink, McCormick & Co. Type: County Atlas Size: 45x37 Maps: 27 Reference: U.S. Atlases L4311; Ristow p.418-19.
Brink published 22 county atlases, about half in Illinois and half in Missouri, under the names W.R. Brink & Co., Brink, McCormick & Co., and Brink McDonough & Co. Their title pages often had signed portraits on them - in this case a portrait of Gen. Jesse J. Phillips with an impressive border. Many views and plats are intermixed with biographies and local histories. Brink's views are exceptional in that they often combine the "normal house view" with a birds eye view and a map. Maps in full color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Atlas Map Of Montgomery County Illinois." stamped in gilt.

(BRITISH NORTH AMERICA-U.S. BOUNDARY). (1807)
A Map Of The Frontier Of British North America, And The United States, Describing The Boundary Line as fixed by the Treaty of 1783, which has never been respected by the American Government. Likewise the New Line of Demarcation as now proposed to be established between those States, and the British Provinces intended to secure the Independence of the Indians.
No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 44x73 Scale: 1:7,000,000 Reference: None found.

BROMME, TRAUGOTT 1848
Wegweiser Fur Einwanderer Und Reisende In Den Vereinigten Staaten Von Nord-Amerika Und Den Canada's. Eine Genaue Zusammenstellung aller Eisenbahn-, Post- und Dampfboot-Routen. von Traugott Bromme. Mit einer Karte. Bayreuth. Verlag der Buchner'schen Buchhandlung. 1848.
Bayreuth: Buchner Type: Guide Book Size: 13x19 Maps: 1 Reference: Buck 357; Howes B800; Sabin 8221.
A traveler's guide (similar to Mitchell) with an exceptional map (51x64). The map is titled "Die Vereinigten Staaten Von Nord-America." It is engraved by J.E. Woerl (see Tooley Dictionary) and printed (Litho) by B. Herder. It is beautifully engraved, extending from coast to coast and full of much interesting information. In the west it is largely a copy of Brue's "Mexique" map of 1834 and perhaps Brue's 1833 map of North America (not seen). Yet none of Smith's routes are shown. Wheat does not mention it, but does mention a later Bromme map of 1853, which is of the eastern half of the country with an inset of the west (see our 1855 copy, #4364). Buck traces the beginning of this guide to a larger work by Bromme published in 1840. The map here is pre Fremont, pre Mexican War and seems to show a large Texas Republic, making its date around 1840-42.
The guide book and map are housed in printed paper case. The larger book originally published in 1840 contained travel descriptions as well as a listing of routes. This edition only lists the routes. Bromme published many travel guides with maps in the period of 1835-1865. Sabin provides the most detailed listings.

Philadelphia: John Weik; Stuttgart: Hoffmann'fche Verlagshandlung. Type: Pocket Map Size: 55x67 Scale: !;4,300,000 Reference: cf Wheat 775; Reese 126-31.
In covers stamped "Map of the United States," this map was originally issued with Bromme's 16 page guide and map of the same title published in Stuttgart in 1853. This 1855 issue was published in Philadelphia by John Weik, has his name added to the map title and the map placed in his own covers with an advertisement for his "Unentbehrlich Fur Jedermann!!" The map, other than being very handsome overall, is clearly from another period (probably around 1840 - the Maine northern boundary is pre 1842) with some updates (not enough to satisfy Wheat - "primitive and backward looking") and, most interestingly, a nice inset of "Oregon, California Und Des Mormonen-Staat Deseret." Also includes six other inset maps: New York, Baltimore and Washington, Washington D.C., Philadelphia, Boston, and St. Louis. Rare with the Philadelphia imprint. Although similar to, this is not the same engraving (nor are the insets the same) as Bromme's "Neueste Eisenbahn-Kanal-U. Post-Karte fur Reisende in den Vereinigten Staaten von Nord Amerika..." that was copied almost directly from Smith's map (see our 1864 edition). Outline color by state, folded into brown leather covers 12.5x8 with "Map Of The United States" stamped in gilt.

Hamburg: Buchner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 53x72 Scale: 1:4,300,000 Reference: cf Wheat 744 (1852 edition); Buck 357.; P-Maps 903
Inset of western states: "Karte der Westlichen Staaten und Gebiete." Hopelessly out of date in the west (Ogden's River in Nevada!), this is nonetheless a handsome map, stuffed with details, particularly in Texas. It is close copy (with credit given) of J. Calvin Smith's Map of the United States that accompanies his "Illustrated Handbook, A New Guide for Travelers through the United States..." that was first issued in 1846 (see our 1849 edition). In the upper right corner of the map is "Karte zu Tr. Bromes Handbuch f. Auswanderer" indicating that this map also accompanied Bromme's "Handbuch fur Auswanderer," first issued in 1840, with editions to 1854 (Buck 357). With outline color by state. Map is dissected into 18 sections and mounted on linen. Covers are untitled brown marbeled paper covered boards 19x13.5.

The Finley/Mitchell map issued yet again. Brown and Parsons are better known for their issue of Daggett's Map of Connecticut. This map is in covers similar to Mitchell's; the part of the map covering northern Massachusetts has been eliminated; statistical tables have been inserted on the right side; and the population statistics are quite different in respect to the 1820 census! One can only speculate whether they "licensed" the map from Finley or Mitchell or neither. Full color by county, folded into black leather covers 13.5x8.5 with “Maine N. Hampshire & Vermont." and a decorative border in gilt.

This is a boxed set of six maps: Europe(1821/26), Asia (1822), Africa(1822), North America(1821/26), South America(1821/26), and Oceania(1822). The title is on the box. The maps are beautifully drawn, mounted on linen, each dissected into 18 sections with a label on the verso of each map reading "J. Goujon Marchand de Cartes, Geographiques des Postes Royales. Rue du Bac, No. 6, a Paris..." and the name of the continent ("Europe", "Asie", etc.) in ms. Maps are folded into a greenish gold paper covered box 23x16.5x8 embossed with a decorative floral border and "Cartes Des Cinq Parties Du Monde" on the spine. They may have also appeared in an atlas, but the closest reference is the Phillips 3546, which is a similar boxed set with eight maps, all dated 1826, including these six plus a world map and a map of France. Outline color by country.

3rd edition of 1834 Brue map showing Smith's tracks in the west. Although Picquet says this 1837 edition is augmented from the 1834, we can find no changes between the two. Wheat calls the 1834 edition "one of the foundation stones of western mapping history." Jedidiah Smith's geography in the Great Basin and California is shown, based on a letter of Smith describing his journeys published in the Nouvelles Annales de Voyages, Paris 1828 (Wheat) . Two insets show the environs of Mexico City and Vera Cruz, and the Yucatan. Texas is still shown as a part of Mexico. Under the title Picquet has added his name as publisher; Picquet acquired all Brue's maps from his widow in 1835. There was a second edition in 1835. Wheat does not mention this 3rd edition. With outline color.

A very late edition of this atlas - the British Museum World lists an 1875 edition (see our copy). Adds two maps to the prior editions: A Tableau Cosmographie, and a Map of Algeria. Most of the map plates have not been altered from the early editions, only the political boundaries changed. The American maps are particularly out of date. The Mexico map is unchanged from the 1840 edition, except for boundaries. All the maps are still engraved and hand colored, making this, notwithstanding its atavistic maps, a handsome atlas. Outline color. Covers are brown marbled paper covered boards with a red leather spine embossed with "A. Brue. Atlas De Geographie Ancienne Et Moderne" in gilt.

Nouvelle edition. Shows Texas as Republic. Shows some of the Jedediah Smith information on the N. America and Mexico maps. See Wheat 403 & 404, and 413 & 420. Wheat seems to miss the Picquet Mexico map in his discussion, although he lists it in the cartobibliography. The Mexico atlas map is dated 1840 and is a combination of the J. Arrowsmith British N. America 1837, the larger Brue 1834 Mexico map and the 1833 Brue Map of North America. Phillips shows an 1834 edition and an 1839 edition of the atlas. Both have the Mexico map dated 1825. Bancroft has a Mexico dated 1825 with Picquet's stamp dated 1835 - this map does not have the new Arrowsmith/Smith information. Thus we think this 1840 Mexico is the first to be changed since the original 1825 edition. The Brue Mexico 1834 large map, and U.S. 1836 large map with inset of Oregon both, and especially the Mexico map, have Smith information. Picquet engraved both maps; yet it took him five years or so to put the Smith information on the Mexico map in this atlas. The maps are hand painted with both outline and full color, and bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with a green paper label printed with the title. The leather spine is embossed with "Brue. Atlas De Geographie Ancienne Et Moderne" in gold.

New York: J. Disturnell Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x49 Scale: 1:2,280,960 Reference: Phillips p410.
Scarce map with Drawings by Bruff. According to Tooley, Bruff did: State of Florida, 1846; this map; Tehuantepec maps, 1851; Seat of War in Virginia, 1861. In Phillips p410, this map and another smaller map also published by Disturnell are listed. From the Introduction to his travel diary, it is clear that Bruff drew for the Topographical Engineers and other government departments for over 50 years. Many of his products may not have his name on them - he is quoted in the introduction (page xxx) saying that he drew duplicates of the Fremont maps and plates for both houses of Congress. The four inset maps are titled: Plan of Monterey, Map Showing the Battle Grounds of the 8th and 9th May 1846, Tampico and its Environs, and Chart of the Bay of Vera Cruz. Map is folded into brown cloth covers 15x10 with "Map Of The Seat Of War In Mexico." stamped in gilt.

Paris: J. Carez. Type: National Atlas Size: 55x38 Maps: 53 Reference: P1176.
From the Carey & Lea 1822 and 1823 American Atlas editions. Comparison to Carey and Lea edition of 1822: most of the state maps are similar, except Georgia, Louisiana, New York adds information on Canadian coast of Lake Erie, U.S. map adds Long's information in the west and labels the Great American Desert (in the 1822 edition Carey & Lea used Long's information on Map 35, but only slightly on the U.S. map, as they explain in their note on the U.S. Map); Phillips points out some of the other differences- N. America shows Russian America and a Map of Russian America reflects the treaty of 1825; Mexico is different, Guatemala is added, Guadalupe and Martinique are substituted for the Windward and Leaward Islands Maps, maps of Guyana and Paraguay are added in S. America. In general, some of the United States maps are taken from the 1822 and early 1823 editions (for example, Illinois and Indiana are from the 1822/23) and some are from the later 1823/26 edition (the U.S. and Louisiana, for example). Full color. Covers are new half leather mauve marbled paper covered boards with "Buchon. Atlas Des Deux Ameriques" stamped on the spine in gold.

New York: D.H. Burr. Type: State Atlas Size: 56x45 Maps: 51 Reference: P2206; Nestler p107.
1st edition, second state, actually published in 1832. Howard Welsh rescued this copy which was obviously about to be broken up and disbound. When we acquired it from his collection it was completely disbound; subsequently we had it rebound and restored. The Map of the City and County of New York is dated Second Edition, 1832 ; Haskell 725 lists this as appearing in the 1829 edition of the Atlas. Therefore, we can presume that there are two 1829 editions, the first state with this map dated 1829 (Haskell 721) and the second state which is this copy with the 1832 map (Haskell 725). The Map of New York State is also dated 1832. All other maps are dated 1829. Full hand painted color. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "New York Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

City Of New-York. Published by David H. Burr, 217 Broadway. Entered ... 1832 by David H. Burr ... New York. Engraved & Printed by Illman & Pilbrow, N.Y.
New York: David H. Burr. Type: Pocket Map Size: 44.5x33.5 Scale: None shown Reference: cf Haskell 748 (1838 edition by W.P.Stone, Ithaca).
First edition. A rare and beautiful map. Shows Manhattan Island north to 34th Street, with portions of Brooklyn. Not in Phillips, or any references. Ristow, p. 315, mentions another, smaller map by Burr that was used in Disturnell's New York As It Is (see our copies-Haskell 765). This first edition is not in Haskell, who only lists a later edition of this map republished by Stone in 1838 and a different, larger map of similar title (Haskell 755) published in many editions by Colton and Stiles (1833 and later). This edition is engraved by Illman and Pilbrow who also engraved the maps for Burr's 1836 Universal Atlas. Full color map, folded into brown leather covers 14x9 with "New York City" stamped in gilt.

BURR, DAVID H., 1803-1875 (1835)
A New Universal Atlas; Comprising Separate Maps Of all the Principal Empires, Kingdoms & States Throughout the World: and forming a distinct Atlas Of The United States. Carefully Compiled from the best Authorities Extant by David H. Burr. Published by D.S. Stone, N. York. Printed by Cammeyer & Clark, N.Y.
N. York: D.S. Stone. Type: World Atlas Size: 39x33 Maps: 63 Reference: P771,1379a; Ristow p.106.
The first edition, with no date on the title page and the copyright dates on the maps running from 1831 to 1835. This issue is probably earlier than the LOC copy - the LOC copy has most of the pages numbered, while this copy has only a few pages numbered (and the numbers there are do not always correspond to the index numbers). Ristow states that Burr completed only eight of the 63 maps by 1832 and was then unable to complete the project because of his appointment to the U.S. Post Office as topographer; the atlas was completed by Illman and Pilbrow and issued in 1835. Burr is given credit on the title page, and the entire group of maps is in his "style" so we can assume he played at least a supervisory role in the production of the remaining maps. This copy is all original with half leather brown cloth covered boards and gilt stamped title "The Universal Atlas" on the front board, and tissue between each map. Full color.

London: John Arrowsmith. Type: National Atlas Size: 94x124 (maps); 53x37 (box) Maps: 13 Reference: Phillips 4525,1379a note; Streeter 3859; Wheat 441; Sabin 9438 (with lithographic views).
13 separate sheets dissected & mounted on linen. 12 of the maps are of the states, all on the same scale of 10 miles to 1 inch, with the 13th map of the entire United States from coast to coast, a map that Wheat called "in every respect a towering example especially in the Far West, and it is strange that it should be so rare!" Wheat notes that Burr used Jedediah Smith's original map as a source and was "the nearest thing to Jedediah Smith's map that had been published" at that time. The likely date of this copy is 1842 based on the Maine boundary, the additional counties colored in in Michigan, and the general progression of the railroads; however, there have been no changes in the plate since 1839, only changes in the coloring of counties, railroads and boundary lines to indicate a later date. The 1846 boundary of Oregon and Canada is almost certainly a later addition, because the ink is a darker red than the other reds on the map. This set was published as a stack of 13 mounted and folded sheets, without a title page or binding. The U.S. map places the Owyhee River on the Malheur River - is this a misreading of the Smith material, or a correct reading of Smith's mistake because Fremont had correctly identified both rivers. Most of the examples are dissected in quarters; these are dissected in eighths. This "atlas" is one of the great rarities of American 19th century cartography, with complete sets being almost impossible to find. John Arrowsmith engraved the plates in London, an unusual collaboration at this late a date between an American cartographer and a London engraver. The 13 sheets are folded and nestled into a modern beige canvas covered box 53x37 which opens like a book, with title on the spine reading "The American Atlas. David H. Burr. 1839." Maps have full hand painted color.

Unrecorded 2.5 edition. This is not in any records we can find; all records show 1839 and 1841 edition (2nd and 3rd). There are following differences between this and the 1841 edition: date on title page, dates of 1839 on several of the maps - particularly the lower counties, the division of Genessee County into Genessee and Wyoming(in 1841 ad), the addition of a page of statistics from the 1840 census(in 1841 ed), no color on title page, and quite different coloring in the two editions. We cannot find any changes in the maps themselves. Maps in full hand painted color. Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "New York Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Map of the United States Of North America, By David H. Burr. Geographer to the House of Representatives of the U.S. . Entered ... 12th Jan. 1842, by David H. Burr ... District of Columbia.
London: John Arrowsmith Type: Wall Map Size: 155x154
Scale: 1:1,837,440 Reference: P-Maps 896; Ristow, p.106.
This large four sheet wall map of the United States west to the 100th meridian must have been intended to accompany Burr's 1839 thirteen sheet American Atlas of postal wall maps (see our 0104.000), although there is little record of its publishing other than a listing in Phillips Maps of America, p.896. The American Atlas has a large map of the United States from coast to coast, but it lacks the detail of this wall map, which shows all most all of the postal roads, canals, and railroads that are delineated on the large scale individual state maps of the American Atlas. That detail makes this wall map one of the best large area road maps of the United States as a whole, of the period - more detailed than Tanner's Map of the United States or Mitchell's Reference and Distance Map of the United States. Burr likely published it as an addendum to the American Atlas to give a larger overview of the road system of the entire United States. Ristow (p.106) mentions that Burr published an edition of the American Atlas in 1842, so it is likely that this map was added to the set then. We are presuming that John Arrowsmith was the publisher and printer because of the similarity of style between this wall map and the American Atlas which he published for Burr, but his name does not appear on the map. There is no key or legend, only a scale of miles, and only two classes of roads are shown, primary and secondary, compared to four classes of roads shown on the American Atlas state maps. In the lower right corner is an untitled inset map of North and South America that is a slighly simplified version of part of John Arrowsmith's Map of the World on Mercators Projection, 1844 (see our 4613.002), further evidence of the John Arrowsmith involvement in publishing this wall map.

The date is estimated from the Maine county formations; the only date on the map is the copyright date of 1839. This is a wall map version of the second map of Burr's American Atlas; it usually appears in dissected form, folding on linen. The version of the map in our copy of the American Atlas has fewer Maine counties (Aroostook, Franklin and Piscataquis appear on this 1842 edition and not in the earlier issue), and does not show the railroad completed between Springfield and Pittsfield, Massachusetts (which is present in the 1842 issue).

New York: Ackerman Litho. Type: Separate Map Size: 79x123 Scale: 1:1,850,000 Reference: None found.

BURR, DAVID H., 1803-1875; COLTON, J.H. 1833
United States. By David H. Burr. Published By J.H. Colton & Co. New-York 9 Wall Street. 1833. Engraved by S. Stiles & Co. N. York. Entered ... 1833, by J.H. Colton & Co. ... New York. (with 7 inset maps.)
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 44x53 Scale: 1:6,000,000 Reference: Ristow p 315.
This is the first year of Colton's map publishing business. Ristow says that Colton published his first map in 1833, Burr's map of New York State; this U.S. map must be as early. The graphic style is similar to Burr's Universal Atlas maps, engraved the following year. With six detailed and elegant inset maps showing the environs of Albany, Boston, New York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, and Baltimore & Washington; plus a small inset map of South Part of Florida. Outline color, folded into dark teal leather covers 13.5x8 with "Burr's Map Of The United States Published By J.H. Colton & Co. New York" and a decorative border stamped in gilt.

New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 45x54 Scale: 1:3,300,000 Reference: Streeter Texas

This is the third edition of this scarce and important map of Texas. The first edition was issued in 1833 and the second edition in 1834. Streeter also lists an 1845 edition with the title changed to "The State of Texas." This copy was Streeter's copy with his notes on the inside front cover. The brown cloth covers 13.5x8 have "Burr's Map Of The State of Coha. & Texas Published By J.H. Colton & Co. New York" stamped in gilt. Full color. Streeter refers to this map as "the first large scale map of Texas... to show all of Texas to the Arkansas River" and states that "The Burr map, like the Austin Map, is one of the landmarks of Texas cartography..." The detail on the land grants is the best for its time. The 1833 issue shows a smaller Texas extending west to the 103rd meridian, whereas the 1834 and 1835 issues show a much expanded Texas extending west to about the 106th meridian and north to the Arkansas River. There is an inset map of Galveston Bay that Streeter refers to in his penciled notes on the inside cover as "1st detailed printed chart of Galveston Bay?" Above the inset map is a table of Distances. Yale has an 1835 edition that was issued earlier in the year than this copy - it does not show Milan's Grant in place of Beal's Grant and it does not list the four new towns that appear on our 1835 edition: Columbia, Electa, Mina and Augusta. Taliaferro 247 (illustrated) appears to be the same as Yale's copy.

Two maps in one folder, as issued; brown cloth covers 13.5x8.5 stamped with grape-design has "Burr's Map Of The State Of Ohio Published By J.H. Colton & Co. New York" printed in gilt. The full color Burr Ohio map is engraved and printed by S.Stiles & Co. The uncolored Portsmouth map is lithographed by P. Desobry's, N.Y.C. The first edition of the Ohio map was issued in 1833. Inset of Cincinnati. One of Colton's early maps and one of several he published with Burr. The map of Portsmouth appears in no records but seems similar to several maps issued in 1833 to show the opening of the Ohio & Erie Canal. There is a view on the map of "Proposed Front of One Block" which shows buildings to be erected, so this may be a promotional real estate map, as well.

State of New York by D.H. Burr. Published by J.H. Colton & Co. No. 4 Spruce Street New York. 1840. Entered ... 1836 by J.H. Colton & Co. ... New York. Engraved & Printed by S. Stiles & Co. (with 2 inset maps).
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 33x39 Scale: 1:1,774,080 Reference: None found.
This is a small version of Burr's large New York State map (see our #109), with only two of the larger map's five inset maps - "Niagara River" and "From Albany to Lake Champlain & L. George." Otherwise, it follows the larger map rather closely, with less detail. Entered in 1836, presumably making this a later issue. With several manuscript notations and updating of the railroad lines. Full color, folded into dark green cloth covers 12.5x8 with "Burr's Map Of The State Of New York Published By J.H. Colton & Co. New York" in gilt.

BURR, DAVID H., 1803-1875; HAVEN, J. 1850
The World, on Mercator's Projection: By David H. Burr. Showing the different Routes to California, and distance by each; Routes of different Navigators, Route of the contemplated Pacific R.Road, Distances to China, Europe, &c. Published by J. Haven, 86 State St. Boston; 1850. Entered ... 1850 by John Hansen ... Massachusetts. (with) two inset maps: Map of the Nicaragaua Route and A Map of the Proposed Rail Road from St. Louis To The Bay Of St. Francisco, Compiled from the Maps and Reports of Col. Fremont, by W.L. Dearborn, Civil Engineer.
Boston: J. Haven. Type: Separate Map Size: 53x59 Scale: 1:75,000,000 Reference: Wheat Gold 158.
Appears to be a reissue of earlier Burr map. This map was probably published by Burr c1842 (Wilkes' track prominently displayed, Oregon boundary not settled in original map) and then used by Haven, with added insets of the RR route, and by cutting the map down the middle of Asia to put North America in the center (see dateline joint). California is colored yellow (no mention of gold other than this hint) and the Gila River boundary is drawn in red (on his copy Wheat says that California is shown as part of Mexico). See the James B. Moore map of 1850 for a similar promotion of the U.S. as the new "center" of the Europe/Asia trade, using the proposed transcontinental railroad as the link. In outline color.

New York: J.A.H. Hasbrouck & Co. Type: Exploration Book Size: 24x16 Maps: 1 Reference: Sabin 9666; Wheat 978.
The map, 79x95, is from Johnson's 1857 Map of the Union, and becomes Colton's Map of the United States, Mexico, the West Indies etc. of 1861. The map shows all the interesting changes of 1859: Colona, Nevada, Arizona, Dakota, and an unnamed Idaho. Wheat says, "The map is a most important one for its showing of political subdivisions in the West, and for its tracing of the 'Mail Route,' on the route of the Butterfield Stageline." Its function here is to show the possible routes between the U.S. and Mexico by steamship. NUC lists an edition of 1859 at the Library of Congress. Sabin only lists this 1860 edition. A second edition was published in 1861 with a map of the United States by Julius Bien (see D. Sloan Bulletin Nine). Bound with brown cloth covered boards with title embossed on cover.

Caldwell, Condit, Ohio. 1877. Engraved, Lithographed & Printed By Otto Krebs, Pittsburg, Pa.
Condit, Ohio: J.A. Caldwell. Type: County Atlas Size: 45x38 Maps: 45 Reference: P16776.
Remarkable scenes of oil wells in most views. Oil has clearly taken over in this county - the views are the usual pictures of houses, businesses, and farms, but there are oil wells in the background everywhere. The views are also colored by hand, this being one of only four county atlases that we have seen with colored views (see also Greene County, Pennsylvania, by Caldwell, Warren County, Pennsylvania, by Howden and Odbert, and Beaver County, Pennsylvania by Caldwell). All four atlases were lithographed by Otto Krebs of Pittsburgh, who may have had the facilities for coloring the views. Another connection between the atlases is the listing on the title pages of J.A. Howden as an assistant; he then went on to publish the Warren County Atlas the following year. Pagination irregular. Maps with full color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark teal blue cloth covered boards with "Caldwell's Illustrated, Historical, Combination Atlas Of Clarion Co. Pennsylvania by J.A. Caldwell. 1877." stamped in gilt.

CALDWELL, JOSEPH A. 1877
Map Of The Oil Belt Of Clarion County, Pa. From Actual Surveys By J.A. Caldwell. 1877.
Pittsburgh: Otto Krebs, Lith. Type: Separate Map Size: 75x120 Reference: None found.
While this was published separately from the Clarion County Atlas by Caldwell (see our #2772), it was inserted into many copies loose. The main map is a detailed, large scale map of the middle part of Clarion County from the Allegheny River east to the town of Clarion. There is a smaller scale map of Venango and Butler County, and an extensive list of "Oil Wells of the Clarion County Oil Belt, And On Whose Farm Located" that lists over 700 owners of what must be over 1000 oil wells (although, strangely, the majority of these wells are not located on the map). This copy is folded into the Clarion County Atlas.

Sacramento: State of California. Type: Wall Map Size: 98x205 Scale: 1:126,720 Reference: None found.

CALIFORNIA GEOLOGICAL SURVEY; WHITNEY, J.D. 1869
The Yosemite Guide-Book: A Description of the Yosemite Valley and the Adjacent Region of the Sierra Nevada, and of the Big Trees of California, Illustrated With Maps and Woodcuts. Geological Survey of California. J.D. Whitney, State Geologist. Published by Authority of the Legislature. 1869. (on verso) University Press: Welch, Bigelow, & Co., Cambridge.
Cambridge: University Press. Type: Exploration Book Size: 24x18 Maps: 2 Reference: Currey & Kruska 61; Howes W389; Cowen p699; Graff 4646; Wheat 1194.
First edition, first printing. One of the early and basic Yosemite books, the result of a survey in 1868 under the direction of Whitney, the State Geologist, with Clarence King and James T. Gardner in the surveying party, and Carleton Watkins as photographer. The two maps are: "Map of the Yosemite Valley from Surveys made by order of the Commissioners to manage the Yosemite Valley and Mariposa Big Tree Grove by C. King and J.T. Gardner," and "Map of a portion of the Sierra Nevada adjacent to the Yosemite Valley from surveys made by Chs. F. Hoffmann and J.T. Gardner, 1863-67." These maps are among the most detailed and largest scale maps published of Yosemite during this part of the 19th century, rivaled only by the Wheeler Survey map of Yosemite published in 1883. The predecessor of this book was published in quarto with the title "The Yosemite Book...", with photographs instead of woodcuts, the same two maps, in an edition of 250 (Currey & Kruska 60). Later editions changed the maps (1872) and added two more maps (1874).

The Yosemite Guide-Book: A Description of the Yosemite Valley and the Adjacent Region of the Sierra Nevada, and of the Big Trees of California, Illustrated With Maps and Woodcuts. Geological Survey of California. J.D. Whitney, State Geologist. Published by Authority of the Legislature. 1870. (on verso) University Press: Welch, Bigelow, & Co., Cambridge.

Cambridge: University Press. Type: Exploration Book Size: 25x18 Maps: 1 Reference: Currey & Kruska 61; Howes W389; Cowen p699; Graff 4646; Wheat 1194.
The first edition, second printing, issued in 1870. This copy is unbound with uncut signatures and has only the "Map of the Yosemite Valley..." here in the revised issue, with the Merced River entirely redrawn and various houses and hotels identified, among them "Lamon's Hs. Summer" and "Lamon's Hs. Winter." This map does not have the imprint of Julius Bien, NY that Currey & Kruska mention, but the map is the same as the copies that do have that imprint. The other map, not present, is the "Map of a portion of the Sierra Nevada..." which Currey & Kruska say was not revised is this issue; however, we have separate second and third issues of the map on heavy paper, unfolded (see #4650) and as a wall map (see #4824), with several changes, one of which we believe is the same map that accompanied the 1870 issue of the book.

CALIFORNIA GEOLOGICAL SURVEY; WHITNEY, J.D.; HOFFMANN, CHARLES F. 1873
State Geological Survey Of California. J.D Whitney, State Geologist. Topographical Map Of Central California Together With A Part Of Nevada. C.F. Hoffmann, Principal Topographer, V.Wackenreuder, J.T. Gardner, A. Craven, A.D. Wilson, Field Assistants. 1873 ... Julius Bien, Engr. (Sheets III & IV).
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Case Map Size: 127x64.5 Scale: 1:380,160 Reference: cfWheat 1238,note 43, p332;Vogdes p178.
South 2 sheets of 4; top 2 never issued; thus complete. Dissected into 12 sections. Hoffmann was the principal topographer. Wheat says the Northwest sheet was issued; does not mention the northeast being issued. WH says the two northern sheets were issued with areas left unsurveyed; he doubts that they were ever mounted on linen and colored. So the bottom two in this issue can be considered "complete". Vogdes lists the date as 1872 (and elsewhere as 1873!). We think 1873 is correct. Vogdes says sheet II, northeast sheet, was issued in 1872; he also dates sheet III and IV as 1872, and sheet III as having an 1871 issue (Fitch had a copy of this 1871 sheet III issue on thin paper, folded into covers, Cat. 41). Outline color by county. Folded into a new brown cloth folding case 34x22.5, with "Central California. State Geological Survey Of California. 1873." stamped in gilt on the spine.

(State Engineer's Map of Northern California).
(Sacramento: Office of State Engineer). Type: Separate Map Size: 50x111 (each sheet, or smaller, nine sheets) Maps: 9 Scale: 1:253,440 Reference: Bancroft G4360 1884 .C3.
A nine sheet map showing all of Northern California from the San Francisco Bay area to the Oregon Border. Very detailed with a large scale (1 inch to 4 miles), this shows the waterways, railroads, towns, prominent mountains, township and section lines, and roads. Because of its great water supply detail, it was probably created as part of the irrigation studies of W.H. Hall being done at the same time. In fact, it came from the same group of maps that included Hall's ms maps of Southern California (see our copies). Rare, with only one other copy located at the Bancroft Library. The Bancroft copy has an index sheet which is included here in facsimile.

Beautiful hand drawn map of the Los Angles-San Bernadino Basin. This map has William Hammond Hall's name on the verso ("Wm. H. Hall, State Engineer, Sacramento" and "Los Angeles & San Bernadino Topography"). It appears to be a base map on a scale of two miles to an inch, probably preliminary (several of Hall's notations on the edges indicate corrections needed to the topography) and earlier than the 1888 Report titled "Irrigation in California" that had 15 maps that may have been derived from this map. Hall was a famous engineer who was the first state engineer and was responsible for many of the early state water projects (see California Water Atlas). This map does not have any names drawn in except for a few towns, rivers, or railroads lightly penciled in. All the land divisions and city plats are indicated, with mountains, rivers, railroads, roads, arroyos and shorelines shown. Hall also published four maps of the San Joaquin Valley in 1886 (see WH's copy) separately (see Calfornia Water Atlas p.26).

CAMMEYER, WM. JUNR. 1829
A New Map of the Hudson River, The Post Roads between N. York & Albany, the Northern and Western Canals &c. &c. Published by W. Cammeyer junr. Albany, May, 1829.
Albany: Wm. Cammeyer Junr. Type: Wall Map Size: 122x11 Scale: 1:270,000 Reference: None found.

CAPRON, E.S. 1854
History of California, From Its Discovery to the Present Time ... With A New Map of the Country. By E.S. Capron, Counsellor at Law. Boston: Published by John P. Jewett & Company. Cleveland, Ohio: Jewett, Proctor and Worthington. 1854.
Boston: John P. Jewett & Co. Type: Exploration Book Size: 19x13 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes C127; Cowen 104; Graff 580.
Has Colton California 1854 - 2nd issue of map. Colton's California map was first issued in 1853 (Wheat Gold 238). This is the 1854 second issue (Wheat Gold 254), with many differences from the 1855 issue appearing in the American Atlas - Benecia is the capital, Colton's address is 86 Cedar Street, various cities in the central valley are not shown (Washington), etc. Wheat claims there are no differences between the 1853 and 1854 issues, but there are small differences - see our 1854 notes. Streeter 2734 is this map in pocket form with covers. Wheat Gold 254 is this copy in Capron - so it appeared in two formats. Map is in full color and has a large inset of San Francisco. Bound with cloth covered boards and "California; its History. Capron." on the spine.

CAREY, H.C.; LEA, I. 1822
A Complete Historical, Chronological, And Geographical American Atlas, Being A Guide To The History Of North And South America, And The West Indies ... To The Year 1822. According To The Plan Of Le Sage's Atlas And Intended As A Companion To Lavoisne's Improvement Of That Celebrated Work. Philadelphia: H.C. Carey And I. Lea, Chestnut Street. 1822. (on verso) ... T.H. Palmer, Printer.

Phila: H.C. Carey & I. Lea. Type: National Atlas Size: 46x32 Maps: 49 Reference: P1373a; Howes C133.
1st Edition; Fielding Lucas engraved most of the maps. The 1823 edition was unchanged in most copies, a few have minor map updates, and one (see our copy) has all of the 1827 edition maps while still retaining the 1823 title page and most of the text. The 1827 edition includes much new material, with all the maps and text updated, except for the Washington, D.C., and Michigan maps. A French edition by Buchon was published in 1825, an abridged London edition in 1823 (see our copies), and a German edition by C.F. Weiland in 1824-1828 (P1225, Espenhorst 1.6.3). This was the first American Atlas that was modeled on Le Sage's plan of having explanatory text surrounding the maps. The maps are beautifully drawn and colored. Lucas went on to publish his own General Atlas in 1823, using similar maps but without the text. Rebound into half leather tan paper covered boards with "American Atlas. 1822." stamped in gilt along the spine.

CAREY, H.C.; LEA, I. 1822
The Juvenile Atlas or a Series Of Maps, To Illustrate the Old and New Worlds. Philadelphia. Published By H.C. Carey & I. Lea 1822.
Phila: H.C. Carey & I. Lea. Type: School Atlas Size: 28x23 Maps: 35 Reference: None found.
This was the finest school atlas made by Carey and Lea - it had more than twice the maps of the more modest "Carey's School Atlas" (see our 1825 edition) and has an engraved title page. The extra maps include maps of groups of the American States, and Ancient maps. J.G. Melish made several of the new State maps, as well as the U.S. map which first appears in the 1820 edition of Carey's School Atlas. This copy is lacking three maps - the U.S., Eastern States, and New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Bound in half leather brown paper covered boards with "Atlas" printed on the spine.

With Additions Relative to the New States of South America, &c., &c. Illustrated by Maps, Charts, and Plates. London: Printed for Sherwood, Jones, and Co., Paternoster-Row. MDCCCXXIII. (1823).
London: Sherwood, Jones and Co. Type: National Atlas Size: 24x15 Maps: 10 Reference: Howes c133.
Scarce English abridged edition of Carey and Lea's 1822 American Atlas. The text is the same, but the maps are fewer in number and far less interesting. The map of the United States is almost an exact copy of Melish's U.S. map that accompanies the 1815 edition of his "Travels Through the United States" with the addition of a few new towns and an inset map of Florida. New material relative to South America has been added. The format is small quarto.

CAREY, H.C.; LEA, I. (1826)
A Complete Historical, Chronological, And Geographical American Atlas, Being A Guide To The History Of North And South America, And The West Indies ... To The Year 1822. According To The Plan Of Le Sage's Atlas And Intended As A Companion To Lavoisne's Improvement Of That Celebrated Work. Philadelphia: H.C. Carey And I. Lea, Chestnut Street. 1823. (on verso) ... T.H. Palmer, Printer.
Phila: H.C. Carey & I. Lea. Type: National Atlas Size: 46x32 Maps: 48 Reference: P4464 and cf P1177 (1827 edition).
The title page is dated 1823, but the maps are identical to the 1827 edition, except for the text which is similar to the 1822/23, indicating that this was probably put out in 1826, just before they decided that they had made so many changes in the maps to warrant a new edition and title page and text. The United States map has added all the Long information (Black Hills, etc.) and most of the state maps have new counties, roads and other changes (including more delineation of physical features in neighboring states surrounding the state that is the subject of the map). Some of the text has been updated with dates of 1824, 25 and 26. The editions appear to be 1822 (first), 1823 early (second edition and identical to the first except for Louisiana and North Carolina which are updated and the same as the 1827, and Maine, which is an in between state), 1823/26 (this copy) which has all the 1827 maps and the 1822 and 1823 text (with some 1824-26 dates) and the third edition, 1827, with the same maps as the 1823/26 but with the text all updated with many 1824, 25, and 26 dates. It is possible that there are other states of the 1822 and 1823 editions that have maps with more or less of the changes noted. Bound into half leather tan paper covered boards with "American Atlas" stamped in gilt along the spine; atlas rests in a black leather covered box which opens like a book.

The third and last edition. All the maps are similar to our (1826) edition, except for Louisiana, which adds several parishes and counties: St. Martins, St. Mary, St. Bernard, Jefferson, and the spliting of New Feliciana into East and West Feliciana. The text has been, in some cases, updated further from our (1826) edition, except for the Ohio sheet which has earlier text! The Advertisement to the Third Edition states: "The changes throughout our country are so rapid, that it is almost impossible to keep pace with them; and it will not, therefore, be thought extraordinary, if some errors should be found, although they hope and believe there are very few." Bound into half leather tan paper covered boards with "American Atlas" stamped in gilt along the spine. Full color.

Carey's American Atlas: Containing Twenty Maps And One Chart ... Philadelphia: Engraved For, And Published By, Mathew Carey, No. 118, Market Street. M.DCC.XCV. [Price, Plain, Five Dollars-Coloured, Six Dollars.]
Philadelphia: Mathew Carey. Type: National Atlas Size: 37x24 Maps: 21 Reference: P1172; Walsh p33; NMM 480; Howes C135.

First atlas of America printed in America. First edition. These maps were also published in Carey's American edition of Guthrie's Geography (1795) and most of the maps say "engraved for Carey's American edition of Guthrie's Geography improved." The maps were again used for the 1796 edition of Carey's General Atlas, unchanged except for the Tennessee map, which is titled "Tennassee State" instead of "Tennassee Government" which is the title in both the American Atlas and the Guthrie Atlas -see Wheat and Brun, and has several counties delineated in the eastern part of the state which do not show in the 1795 edition of the map. NMM 480 (American Atlas) has "Tennassee State" indicating that Carey was not consistent. This atlas was the model for John Reid's American Atlas of 1796. This copy's maps have very strong impressions. Rebound quarter leather, marbled paper covered boards.

CAREY, MATHEW 1795
The General Atlas For Carey's Edition Of Guthrie's Geography improved ... Philadelphia: Published By Mathew Carey. May 1, 1795.
Phila: Mathew Carey. Type: World Atlas Size: 39x25 Maps: 44 Reference: P6007.
Accompanies Carey's 2 vol Guthrie, 1794-95. Although the title page calls for it, the large United States map is not present here, nor in any editions we know of (Baskes, LOC, Yale), therefore we conclude that it was not ready until late 1795 and was first included in the 1796 General Atlas (see our copy). The title page of this atlas differs considerably from the 1796 General Atlas title page (which has no mention of Guthrie, nor written explanation of the "small hand pointer," both of which appear here. The maps are in the same order as the 1796 edition, with the Tennessee map the same as the American Atlas Tennessee (Tennessee Government vs Tennessee State in the 1796 edition). The maps all appear to have been folded originally (same as Baskes copy), which probably means they were folded first to be in the text volumes (one way they appeared), but when some buyers wanted the separate atlas, they were unfolded and bound on edge. The overall size of this volume is shorter than the 1796 edition. The owner has written on the title page "Price, with the 2 vols of Guthrie's Geography. 16 Dols = 6 (pounds)." Covers are quarter leather, marbled paper covered boards.

Carey's General Atlas ... Philadelphia: Published By Mathew Carey. May 1, 1796.
Phila: Mathew Carey. Type: World Atlas Size: 43x28 Maps: 45 Reference: P683.
This was the first General Atlas published in the United States. It has the same maps as Carey's Guthrie Atlas, and adds a large map of the United States by Samuel Lewis, which is an imposing and important map, lacking in most copies. The Lewis map of the United States appears here for the first time. Even though the contents page of Carey's Guthrie Atlas calls for a map of the United States, it is not found in any copies that we know of. Karpinski (CXIV) incorrectly says this map appeared in the American Atlas of 1795. These maps are not folded horizontally, as are the 1795 Guthrie maps, and the Map of France has a 1798 engraving credit that does not appear on the Guthrie 1795 issue. This copy also contains a map not belonging to this atlas, glued inside the back cover, entitled "Chart of the Atlantic Ocean" published by Edmund M. Blunt, Newburyport in 1802. Atlas is bound in quarter leather, brown and black patterned paper covered boards.

This edition not in Phillips. This is the last edition of Carey's General Atlas that uses the maps from the 1795 American Atlas and 1795 General Atlas For Guthrie's Geography essentially unchanged, except for imprint date on some of them. Carey produced editions of the General atlas in 1800 (Yale), 1802 and 1804; those editions have maps with the same imprint dates (1794 and 1795) as the first editions, and add four maps: the Plat of the Seven Ranges, Map of Part of the N:W: Territory, St. Domingue, and Countries in which the Apostles traveled. In 1809 Carey reissued the American Atlas with the same set of American maps as the 1802 and 1804 General Atlas, and added a small map of Louisiana from Carey's Pocket Atlas of 1805. Several of the maps (British Possessions, United States, New York, and Virginia) bear 1809 imprints, although it is not obvious that any changes to the geography were made on any of the maps. This group of American maps from the 1809 American Atlas, along with the non American maps from the 1804 General Atlas, make up the 1811 General Atlas. The maps are bound on edge, large folio style, with the title pasted to the inside front cover (the Yale copy is the same). The Plat of the Seven Ranges is the scarce second issue (Wheat/Brun 677, with Carey's Imprint and Barker as engraver) and the large Map of Part of the N:W: Territory (Wheat/Brun 678) is the first (1796) and only issue. The Louisiana map is unusual in having extremely large blank borders. This 1811 General Atlas appears to be the scarcest of the pre 1814 editions of the General Atlas. In 1814 Carey did a major revision of the maps for "Carey's General Atlas, Improved and Enlarged" by making 32 "all new" maps and having the other 26 maps "retouched, and, where necessary, corrected." This atlas is bound in half leather, marbled paper covered boards.

Carey's American Pocket Atlas; Containing Twenty Maps ... With A Brief Description Of Each State And Territory ... Fourth Edition, Greatly Improved And Enlarged. Philadelphia: Published by Mathew Carey, No. 121, Chesnut Street. 1814.
Philadelphia: Mathew Carey Type: National Atlas Size: 18x12 Maps: 23 Reference: P1370; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p231; Walsh p230.
Fourth edition; adds three maps: Mississippi, Louisiana, and Ohio and redraws the Louisiana Territory map to include the Lewis and Clark information and gives it a new title, "Missouri Territory Formerly Louisiana." Maps engraved by W. Barker, S. Lewis, J.H. Seymour, A. Doolittle, and Bower. The title page is incorrect (as issued) in listing twenty maps. Some copies were issued without the Missouri Territory map; Phillips shows an 1813 edition that appears to be the same as the 1814 edition. Rebound in full leather with "Pocket Atlas" on the spine in gold.

CAREY, MATHEW 1814
Carey's General Atlas, Improved And Enlarged; Being A Collection Of Maps Of The World And Quarters, Their Principal Empires, Kingdoms, &c. ... Philadelphia: Published By M. Carey. 1814. T.S. Manning, Printer, N.W. Corner of Sixth & Chestnut Streets.
Philadelphia: Mathew Carey. Type: World Atlas Size: 43x30 Maps: 58 Reference: P722, 1372.
The first atlas made in the United States to employ standard color on the maps; while the Carey 1795 American Atlas and the Carey 1811 General Atlas list color as an option on the title page, we have never seen any copies of a pre 1814 Carey atlas with original color - they may exist, but would be rare - color was first employed as standard in this 1814 edition - all copies that we have seen have been colored. This edition is almost entirely new, with most of the maps reengraved. The 1804 edition before this was essentially the same as the 1795 first edition. The preface is dated March 17th, 1814. This edition should probably be called the second edition even though Carey does not label it as such, because Carey calls the 1818 edition the third edition. The Map of the United States is an updated copy of the U.S. map engraved by Henry Tanner that appeared in the first edition of Melish's Travels In the United States, published in 1812. This issue is late 1814. See our early 1814 for differences. Bound in quarter leather, brown paper covered boards.

CAREY, MATHEW 1814
Carey's General Atlas, Improved And Enlarged; Being A Collection Of Maps Of The World And Quarters, Their Principal Empires, Kingdoms, &c. ... Philadelphia: Published By M. Carey. 1814. T.S. Manning, Printer, N.W. Corner of Sixth & Chestnut Streets.
Philadelphia: M. Carey. Type: World Atlas Size: 43x30 Maps: 58 Reference: P722, 1372.
Early 1814 edition, with no page numbers for the following maps that are numbered in the late 1814 issue: British N. America, Vermont, Connecticut, Georgia, Missouri Territory, West Indies. The Map of China is 51 - should be 52. Several other obvious pagination mistakes between 52 and 57. Ends at 57 - which should be 58. Carey was having trouble getting the page numbers right. There is still an earlier 1814 issue (RB) that lacks page number for an additional group of maps: Maryland, North Carolina, Sweden and Denmark; South Carolina is numbered 38 (should be 19); Turkey is numbered 45 (should be 46); New South Wales is numbered 54 (should be 55). The hand coloring is very different from our other 1814 issue, indicating that Carey had not standardized the coloring process. Outline color. Bound in quarter leather untitled tan paper covered boards.

Carey's School Atlas; Containing the Following Maps ... Philadelphia: M. Carey & Son - Chesnut Street. 1820. (Price One Dollar plain, and 125 cents coloured.)
Phila: M. Carey & Son. Type: School Atlas Size: 23x15 Maps: 14 Reference: Hudson XIV-107.
Very rare. This little school atlas is the beginning of a long run: next comes the Carey and Lea "Juvenile Atlas or a Series of Maps to Illustrate the Old and New Worlds", 1822 (Bill Mayer has only copy we have seen), then Carey & Lea's 1825 edition of this atlas, then the Key edition and the Hunt edition of the "Cabinet Atlas" of 1830 with 28 maps added, then C.S. Williams "A New General Atlas" of 1832 and finally the Andrus and Judd 1833 "New General Atlas." All have the U.S. map engraved by J.G. Melish, son of John Melish (see Ristow, Am. Maps and Mapmakers) and the other thirteen maps that appear first in this 1820 School Atlas. Maps in outline color.

CAREY, MATHEW; GIBSON, JOHN. 1798
(Atlas Minimus: Or, A New Set of Pocket Maps, Of Various Empires, Kingdoms, and States, With Geographical Extracts relative to each. Drawn and Engraved by J. Gibson, From The Best Authorities. A New Edition, Revised, Corrected, and Improved).
Philadelphia: Mathew Carey. Type: World Atlas Size: 14x9 Maps: 41 Reference: Wheat Brun 36,61,715-18,814-37,854-7,897-903,912.
P691, Walsh p52. Map volume only. No title page as issued. This was Carey's "foreign" pocket atlas, a compliment to his American Pocket Atlas first issued two years earlier. Interestingly, he does not use Gibson's North American maps, other than the general North America map, we assume because he had better and more detailed American maps in his own American Pocket Atlas (see preface to our Carey-Gibson Text and Map edition). Engravers are Scott (with the most maps), Barker, Roche, and Shallus. Only the North America and World Maps are changed from the 1758 English edition. "The maps constitute almost five percent of all the American maps published before 1800 listed by Wheat & Brun, the largest single contribution to that bibliography" (Reese). Originally in Welsh collection. Compare to Smith, Morse and Workman School Geographies that also copied the Gibson Atlas Minimus maps, using different engravers. While this may have been accompanied by a text volume, Carey might have issued this as a separate, following the same manner as the London 1758 and 1759 editions (although then you would expect a title page, not present here).

The complete text and maps bound together. The text is taken from the text used in the 1759 London edition. In the preface, Carey states "The Editor having published an Atlas of the United States, intended to accompany this work, has not introduced here any state maps, and therefore refers the reader to the above publication, in which those maps are given on a larger scale than any in this collection." He is referring to the American Pocket Atlas published in 1796. See the map volume entry for further comments.

CAREY, MATHEW; WARNER, BENJAMIN. 1816
A General Atlas, Being A Collection Of Maps Of The World And Quarters, Their Principal Empires, Kingdoms, &c. Containing Fifty Eight Maps And Charts. Philadelphia: Published By M. Carey, And B. Warner. 1816.
Philadelphia: M. Carey and B. Warner. Type: World Atlas Size: 27x21 Maps: 52 Reference: None found.
Notwithstanding the title, the index calls for 52 maps and only 52 are included. An earlier edition was published in 1814 (Yale) by Carey with Johnson and Warner, with the same title page as this 1816 edition and with 58 maps (according to Yale's catalog - not seen by us). An 1818 edition was published with 52 maps in the title and index. Yale's copy of the 1816 edition lists 52 maps in the title and index. So this title may be an uncorrected state. The maps in this atlas result from a collaboration between Carey and Warner, using maps from their prior publications, unchanged: maps 1-4, 30-49, and 52 are from the 1809 edition of Guthrie's Geographical Grammar, Philadelphia, by Johnson and Warner (our #316); maps 5-8 are from the 1812 (late) edition of Brooke's Gazetteer, Philadelphia, Johnson and Warner (our #3807); maps 9-29 are from the 1814 edition of Carey's American Pocket Atlas, Philadelphia, Mathew Carey (our #2276); maps 50 and 51 (Turkey in Asia and Islands of the East Indies) are from an unknown American source and are copies of Wilkinson maps. Carey's maps are of separate states of the United States while Warner's maps cover the general American maps (including 5-8, which are relatively scarce general maps of Eastern States, Middle and Western States, Southern States, and North Western Territories) and maps of the rest of the World. In 1802 and 1810 Carey published Carey's Minor American Atlas (P11022, 11023) which was about the same size as this atlas, with only 19 and 20, respectively, American maps - essentially the American Pocket Atlas with maps bound unfolded and without text. He took this format and enlarged it to a world atlas by using Warner's maps. This was probably published in a small edition and was an attempt to serve the market with a cheaper and smaller version of the folio General Atlas. This atlas is not listed in any of the references; we am aware of only four copies (Baskes, Yale (2), and this one) although there may be others. Scarce.

CARLETON, OSGOOD 1806
A New Map of the United States, of America Including part of Louisiana. Drawn from the latest Authorities. Revised and corrected by Osgood Carleton Esq. Teacher of Mathematics, Boston. Boston, Published and Sold by John Sullivan, Junr. 1806.
Boston: John Sullivan Junr. Type: Wall Map Size: 120x139 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Karrow 1-1398; Ristow pp 68-70.
Osgood Carleton first published a map of the United States in 1791. Another edition appeared in 1797, and then this edition in 1806. This issue is a major redrawing of the 1791 and 1797 maps, and it borrows heavily from Arrowsmith's Map of the United States, 1802 (see our list no. 5699.009, from Thompson's Alcedo Atlas, our 5699.000) especially in the west. But Carleton uses other sources as well, including Bradley's postal map. There was another issue of this map, undated, and updated to some unknown period, perhaps after 1810 or even later (Chris Lane, Philadelphia Print Shop).

(San Francisco: Cartography Associates) Type: Separate Map Size: 107x183 Scale: 1: 1,426,000
In recognition of the 200th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark expedition, David Rumsey and Telemorphic, Inc. created this mosaic of expanding geographic knowledge and development of the American west. Using historical map content from the David Rumsey Collection, the central portion of the 1814 Samuel Lewis map of Clark's original drawing was merged with and surrounded by the General Land Office's first complete land survey, completed in the late 1870s. These were then merged with a map from the 1970 USGS National Atlas. All three were then placed within a mosaic of Landsat satellite imagery from NASA. Moving outwards from the expedition's route shows not only how the country has changed since 1806, but how technology has changed as well. All four components of this mosaic have been georectified so as to geographically match one another. Using a GIS, numerous identifiable landmarks were located on the maps and matched to a common coordinate system. Using these locations as control points, the entire map is then warped and stretched to conform to this coordinate system.

CARVER, JONATHAN 1777
A New Map of North America From the Latest Discoveries. 1778. Engrav'd for Carver's Travels. (In: Gentleman's Magazine, October, 1777. By Sylvanus Urban, Gent. London, Printed for D. Henry, at St. John's Gate).
London: Gentleman's Magazine. Type: Separate Map Size: 32x35 Reference: None found.
An unrecorded issue of Carver's map. Not listed in Jolly's Maps in British Periodicals. The map appears to be bound in with the magazine, not a later addition. The paper the map is printed on is similar to the stock used for the printed pages of the magazine. It is watermarked "Bankers Linen." The map is inserted near an article titled "Some of the Circumstances which inevitably retard the Progress of a Northern Army through the uninhabited Countries of America." It has been suggested to us (JK) that the author of the article is Carver. The map differs from the third edition map in subtle ways, indicating that the plate was reengraved at some point and that this map may be a copy of the first edition (the Lucayos or Bahama lettering is changed - the "L" of Lucayos is almost touching the "s" of Augustine-which is a modern "s" as opposed to an old "f" in the book copy- whereas in the map in the book (first edition reproduced in Fite and Freeman, and the third edition) the "L" is 1/8th of an inch from the "i").

CARY, JOHN, CA. 1754-1835 1808
Cary's New Universal Atlas, Containing Distinct Maps Of All The Principal States and Kingdoms Throughout The World. From The Latest And Best Authorities Extant. London: Printed for J. Cary, Engraver and Map-seller, No. 181, near Norfolk Street, Strand, 1808.
London: John Cary. Type: World Atlas Size: 57x38 Maps: 60 Reference: P714; Fordham "John Cary" p77-82; TMC 43, pp40-47.
The first edition, with a list of subscribers. Fordham lists editions of 1808, 1811 (reissue of 1808, no maps changes other than the 1811 date appearing on some of the maps), 1819 (one third of the maps amended), 1824 (maps unchanged from 1819 except for the date), 1828 (same as 1824, except for date changes, with reissues in 1833, 1836 (Baskes), and 1844). This is a fine atlas, one of the best of its period, and a source for American mapmakers (Tanner directly copied the World and continental maps for his New American Atlas). Fordham: (The maps) "are finely engraved, with full details, showing especially the water-ways and roads, and hill-shading, and are usually coloured. The work is very clear and delicate and of a uniform character throughout." Maps are hand painted in outline color and bound in half leather brown boards with "Cary's Atlas. 1808" stamped in gilt on the new leather spine.

Chart Of The World Upon Mercator's Projection Drawn From The Most Recent Geographical Materials Exhibiting The Whole of The New Discoveries With The Tracks of the principal Navigators Accurately Adjusted From The Most Exact Astronomical Observations. London; Published By John Cary, No. 181 Strand June 1819.
London: John Cary. Type: Case MapChart Map Size: 93x162 Scale: 1:20,000,000 Reference: cf British Museum World p. 626.
A scarce map that is not listed in Fordham's Cary bibliography, nor in the British Museum list - the BM lists shows a later map (1827) with a different title. This is a finely detailed map in the best Cary style. The cartography follows closely his 18 inch globe of 1818 (see our copy) and may have been inspired by it - the scale is the same at the equator. The tracks of the various navigations of the period are shown with great precision. An interesting feature is the repetition of western Europe and Africa on both sides of the map. Full color. Map is dissected into 30 sections and folds into a dark olive green marbled board slip case 29x21 with label reading "World. Sold By C. Smith. Mapseller, 172 Strand, London."

CARY, JOHN, CA. 1754-1835 1822
A New Universal Atlas, Containing Distinct Maps of all the principal Kingdoms and States Throughout the World; Adapted for the use of Schools. (on cover: Cary's School Atlas).
London: G. & J. Cary. Type: School Atlas Size: 23x15 Maps: 29 Reference: Fordham p91 (1813-1818 editions); TMC 43, pp40-47.
3rd edition, 1st with this title. The 1813 and 1818 editions listed by Fordham have "Elementary" in the title instead of "Universal." Otherwise, they appear to have the same group of 29 maps that are in this later edition. This is the only school atlas published by Cary. The maps do not carry engraver or publisher credits. They are very much in the style of English school atlases of the early 18th century, yet have a distinct Cary clarity and elegance.

CARY, JOHN, CA. 1754-1835; CARY, WILLIAM 1818
Cary's New Terrestrial Globe Exhibiting The Tracks and Discoveries made by Captain Cook; Also those of Captain Vancouver on the Northwest Coast of America and M. De La Perouse, On the Coast of Tartary, Together With every other Improvement collected from Various Navigators and Travellers to the present time. London: Made & Sold by J. & W. Cary, Strand, March 1st, 1816. With Corrections and Additions to 1818.
London: J. & W. Cary. Type: Globe Size: 18 inches Scale: 1:27,000,000 Reference: cf Yonge p18; Fordham xxiv; Van Der Krogt Car 7 & 8; Christies 5/92 #384; TMC 43, pp40-47.
Dated March 1st, 1816, With Corrections and Additions to 1818. 2nd edition, 1st edition was either 1816 or 1817 depending on the authority. Uses Arrowsmith for the American Northwest. Cary issued globes in 3.5 inch, 9 inch, 12 inch and 21 inch sizes starting in 1792 (Fordham) and added the 18 inch in 1816/17. During this period he

CASE TIFFANY & COMPANY; FROST, JOHN. 1851
Map of the United States; (in) The Pictorial History of the United States of America...Embellished with Four Hundred Engravings, From Original Drawings by W. Croom.
Boston: Horace Wentworth; Hartford: Case Tiffany & Co. (Map). Type: Separate Map Size: 60x59 Reference: cf Wheat 768 (1852 ed.).
Map probably first published in 1846 with the 1st edition of this book. As Wheat notes for the 1852 edition, this map is out of date in the west, looking back to its first issue in 1846 with no updating, other than political boundaries. See our 1850, 1852, 1853, and 1854 copies by Wentworth and Case Tiffany & Co. All these maps have an oval portrait of Washington under the title and a view of the U.S. Capital building in the Gulf of Mexico. They grow out of an earlier map first published in Hartford in 1826 by Huntington and Willard, and in the 1830's by Thrall.

N.P.: No Publisher. Type: Wall Map Size: 66x76 Scale: 1:7,000,000 Reference: None found.
This wall map is not in any references and lists no publisher or date. It is similar to the Case Tiffany "Map of the United States" of 1853 (see our #4404) but is a different engraving with a large vine border. The Gold Region in California is prominently shown along with routes from the east coast to San Francisco. There is an inset map of South America. Apparently rare and unkown to bibliographers. With black top and bottom rollers, and tan linen edging. Full color by state.

Paris: J. Andriveau-Goujon. Type: Case Map Size: 60x93 (each sheet) Scale: 1:87,800 Reference: Konvitz,4-32,Tooley 44;Skeleton Dec. Map p69.
Later publication of 9 sheets around Paris. Each sheet is dissected into 21 sections and mounted on linen with a label on verso reading "J. Andriveau-Goujon, Geographe-Editeur. Rue du Bac, No. 6, Pres le Pont Royal..." followed by the sheet number and name of area shown. The case is a green paper covered clam shell box 24x15x10.5 stamped in gold with an ornate border and "Cassini. Environs De Paris" on the spine; top, bottom and back are covered with brown marbled paper. Are these original Cassini sheets, or have they been reengraved by Andriveau-Goujon? Sheet No. 1 is dated 1736 vs 1756 for the separate No. 1, yet this 1736 No. 1 is updated with new roads, etc., over the 1756. How late were the Cassini sheets published? Konvitz p59 says Napoleon suppressed publication of the survey until 1815 (when he was deposed) after which it resumed, and that revisions to show administrative changes and improvements to highways were made and that the plates were replaced after 3000 impressions. These maps are new plates and updated to show road and administrative changes, so perhaps they are original. Tooley shows A-G at 6 Rue de Bac in 1832, but Goujon was there earlier. Maps are without color.

St. Louis: Leopold Gast & Brother Lith. Type: Separate Map Size: 70x91 Scale: 1:3,170 Reference: None found.
A promotional plat map for a city that never "got off the ground" (or map). At the top of the plat for the city is a park-like reserve titled "Golden Spring Reserve" and there is a vignette of an Indian sitting next to the Golden Spring. Central Bluffs does not appear on any other maps of the period, except for a very small settlement called "Golden Spring P.O." which shows in the Nebraska State atlas of 1885 - apparently the city never happened and the hapless early lot buyers became Golden Springs. The promotion was probably based on the expectation of a major railroad crossing the Missouri from Iowa and heading west (shown as the Nebraska Central Railroad and the Lyons and Iowa Central Railroad on the inset map) right through the proposed town. This route shows briefly in the late 1850's maps, then disappears, another railroad promotion that did not happen. And so went the city of Central Bluffs. Nearby and closer to the Missouri, a Central City appears briefly on some maps of the period, then also disappears. It may be related to this development. Map is without color.

CHAMPION, J. N. 1816
Amerique Reduite d'apres celle d'Arrowsmith, en 4 flles Pav J.N. Champion, Ingenieuv-Geographe et Soumise aux observations Astronomique De Mr. De Humboldt Avec les nouvelles decouvertes de Clarke et du Major Pike. a Paris Chez Hyacinthe Langlois, Libraire Editeur pour la Geogphic., Rue de Seine ... 1816 ...
Paris: Hyacinthe Langlois. Type: Case Map Size: 63x79 Scale: 1:20,000,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary.
Sources: Arrowsmith, Clarke, Humboldt, & Pike.
Interesting names for some of the sites, such as "Camp de Baroncy" at the headwaters of the Arkansas River. Champion is obscure, his only listing being in Tooley, who calls him an engineer as well as geographer. Not in Wheat. Dissected into 12 sections, mounted on linen and edged in green paper. Folds into a new gray cloth slip case 28x16.5 with "Amerique J.N. Champion 1816" stamped in gold on the spine. With outline color.

CHAPIN, AMANDA (1832)
Africa Drawn By Amanda M. Chapin.
Manuscript. Type: Separate Map Size: 43x55 Scale: 1:18,250,000
A map drawn by Amanda Chapin when she was 19 and lived in Smetport, Pennsylvania. The date of 1832 is not on the map, but is on a piece of paper attached to the frame the map was in. Comparing the map to atlas maps of the period around 1830, the date seems appropriate. It is uncommon to find school maps like these of Africa - most were made of the U.S. From the collection of Albert W. Johnson, former member of the U.S. House of Representatives, 23rd District, Pennsylvania. Map in outline color.

CHAPIN, GARDNER S.; RAND MCNALLY AND COMPANY; SCHUMACHER, ARTHUR H. 1907
Photo - Auto Maps. Photograph of every turn, together with a Topographical Outline of Road Showing Railroad Crossings, Bridges, School Houses and All Landmarks, with Accurate Distances Between. (within) Photo-Auto Maps, New York to Albany and Saratoga Springs. Saratoga Springs to Albany and New York. Press of Walton & Spencer Company, Chicago.
Chicago: The Motor Car Supply Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 23x15 Maps: 9 Reference: Buisseret "Sea Charts to Satellite Images" p270-271; not in Phillips.
On cover: "The Rand McNally Photo-Auto Maps and Guide Book." Rand McNally is not listed on the title page. A very unusual presentation of nine maps showing the route from New York to Albany and Saratoga Springs and return, with photographs showing with printed arrows each turn to make in the road. Eventually, route signs were posted for automobiles, but before that occurred, this book filled a need. The preface shows seven "Divisions" that maps were published for, including Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, and New York City. The photographs in this copy are wonderful and give a real feeling of the environment people traveled through in the first years of the automobile. Buisseret calls the presentation "ingenious" though he notes that not many journeys occurred at night, when these photos would not be very useful. Bound with leather covers. In gold on the front reads the text, "The Rand McNally Photo=Auto Maps and Guide Book. New York to Albany and Saratoga Springs. Saratoga Springs to Albany and New York."

Lipman, Milwaukee, Wis. Entered ... 1865 by S. Chapman ... Wisconsin.
Milwaukee: Silas Chapman. Type: Pocket Map Size: 73x71 Scale: 1:575,000 Reference: Karrow 7-0766.

CHENEY, FLAVIUS 1896
12 Inch Globe Manufactured By The Cheney Globe Co., Mystic, Conn. Copyright, 1896 by Flavius Cheney.
Mystic: Flavius Cheney. Type: Globe Size: 12 inches Scale: 1:41,000,000 Reference: Warner p.53.
An uncommon 12-inch globe with crudely printed gores, colored politically, although the key indicates that it was sometimes colored to show the heights of land and depth of oceans (Warner: "In 1896 Cheney obtained a copyright on a 12-inch terrestrial globe, the colors indicating the height of land and depth of water."). Cheney published a "Globe Manual for Schools" in 1882, with later editions to 1897. The Cheney Globe Company was in business from 1888 to about 1900. This globe is a desk model with a three leg iron stand and horizon ring, total height 20 inches.

Map Of Chicago & North-Western Railway Lines (To) Dakota. (on verso) The Returns All In Better Than Ever This Year's Crop Reports From Along The Line Of The Chicago And North-Western Railway In Central And Southeastern Dakota ... Either Free Farms Or Cheap Farms Can now be had along or near the line of the Railroad ... Chas. N. Trivess, Printer, Chicago.
Chicago: Chas. N. Trivess, Printer. Type: Broadside Size: 58x21 Scale: 1:2,611,000 Reference: None found.
A flamboyantly colored broadside promoting lands for sale along the projected Chicago & North-Western Railway line

CHURCH, A. F. (AMBROSE F.) 1883
Topographical Township Map Of Lunenburg County Nova Scotia From actual Surveys Made, Drawn and Engraved by and under the direction of A.F. Church. Published By A.F. Church & Co. Bedford, Halifax County. Entered ... 24th day of March, A.D. 1864, By Ambrose F. Church, of Halifax, Nova Scotia. Lith. by G.E. Desbarats & Co. Montreal. (inset) Map of Nova Scotia And Adjacent Provinces. (with 5 additional inset maps).
Bedford: A.F. Church & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 134x143 Scale: 1:63,360 Reference: Maps of Canada p. 9-10, 12.
Although Church copyrighted this map in 1864, it was not published until 1883. Church made maps of all the Nova Scotia counties during the 1860's, but publication on many of the maps was delayed until the 1880's for financial reasons. With insets of Lunenburg, Bridgewater, Mahone Bay, Chester Basin, Chester, and Nova Scotia. Shows locations of houses and names of property owners. The style of cartography is minimal, with no decoration or views, yet achieving a spare elegance. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by township.

CHURCHMAN, JOSEPH AND JAMES; MOORE, I.W. 1833
Rudiments of National Knowledge, Presented To The Youth Of The United States, And To Enquiring Foreigners. By A Citizen Of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia: Published by E.L. Carey & A. Hart. ...

1833.(with) The Eagle Map Of The United States Engraved For Rudiments Of National Knowledge.
Philadelphia: E.L. Carey & A. Hart. Type: Geography Book Size: 19x12 Reference: P-Maps, p.887; Sabin 73895.
According to Phillips, Joseph Churchman authored the text and James Churchman (brother?) authored the map. The map, 42x53, is most extraordinary and rare: it shows an eagle superimposed in engraving and color on a map of the United States, with the talons in Florida, the eye in Vermont, and the wings spreading west to the Missouri Territory. It is beautifully done. Pages 244-48 of the text explain the construction of the Eagle map; it is also stated here that the author intended to publish a larger version of the map by subscription. We have found no record of such a map being published. Book covered with blue cloth with "Rudiments of National Knowledge" on spine.

CLINE, J.A. & CO; (WALLING, H.F.). 1878
State Map Of New Hampshire. From the latest official Surveys and Records. Published by J.A. Cline & Co. 27 Warren St. New York, 1878. Julius Bien, Lith N.Y.
New York: Julius Bien; J.A. Cline & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 185x105 Scale: 1: 158,400 Reference: Cobb 343.
Large scale map of the state, using the same maps that appeared in the Atlas of the State of New Hampshire, 1877, also published by Bien, and Comstock and Cline, here assembled as one map. While Walling is credited with supervising the topographical work in the atlas (and not credited on the wall map), the maps have more of the Bien rather than the Walling "look." The special aspect of these maps is the use of contour lines (early thus) with the contours described in the "explanations" section. With black top and bottom rollers, and pink linen edging. Full color by township with counties outlined in red.

COFFIN, CHARLES CARLETON. 1870
Boston: Fields, Osgood & Co. Type: Exploration Book Maps: 1 Reference: Soliday III-332, I-611; Sabin 14170; Eberstadt 111-142.
Has the exceptional "Map of the North West" by Julius Bien. Decker, in Soliday III-332 (1871 edition) says that Coffin was probably paid by Jay Cooke (President of Northern Pacific RR) to make the trip and write the book, which is largely a promotion for the Railroad. The map is unusual and is stated by Coffin to be "the most complete map ever published of the country between the 36th and 55th parallel." He credits the Bureau of Topographical Engineers and Major-General Humphreys and Colonel Woodruffe as providing him with the source materials for the map. The map extends coast to coast and north from the 37th parallel a considerable distance into Canada. The detail is very good, because of its sources. The like source is the Warren/Freyhold large map of 1868 (see our copy) or the smaller version by Freyhold (see Wheat 1204) of 1869. Book bound in purple fabric with title in gold on the cover. Map on the cover shows the railroad lines from Portland to

(The Modern Atlas).
London: H.G. Collins. Type: World Atlas Size: 28x19 Maps: 33 Reference: cf P272.
Lacks title page. The title is from the front cover. Nice map (27a) of the western U.S. engraved by J. Dower. All the other maps are engraved by J. Archer. The index calls for map number 29 (not present here) which was probably Oceania. However, P232 seems to have the same number of maps as this copy. The Mountains and Rivers plate is superb and in an unusual configuration, with the rivers in the middle and the mountains on the left and right. Quarter leather, cloth-covered boards with "The Modern Atlas. 34 maps, 30,000 references" embossed on cover.

COLLOT, GEORGE HENRI VICTOR; TARDIEU, P.F.
A General Map Of The River Ohio, From its source to its mounth (sic): containing the names of the Towns Villages and Farms established at present on its banks: together with its soundings, and courses. Plate the first, Plate the second, Plate the third, Plate the fourth. Grave par Tardieu l'aine.
Paris: Arthus Bertrand. Type: Separate Map Size: 29x48, 29x95, 29x72, 30x94 Maps: 4 Scale: 1:316,800 Reference: P1214; Streeter 1789; Eberstadt 137-132; Buck 48; Sabin 14460; WC 31a:2a; Howes C601; Wheat (Missouri Territory Map) 236; P-Maps p636; Karrow 1-1228.
These four maps show the Ohio River from Pittsburgh to the Mississippi, at a very large scale, and would make a map over ten feet long if joined end to end. They are plates 8-11 in the atlas volume to Collot's "A Journey in North America, Containing A Survey of the Countries Watered by the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, And Other Affluing Rivers..." published in 1826, but engraved and printed in 1805 based on a journey in 1796. The strange delay in publishing is explained best in Wagner Camp. The atlas and two text volumes are superlatively rare (Howes "dd", Eberstadt: "extraordinarily rare") and these maps of the Ohio are the best and most original maps in the atlas: "The beautifully executed map of the Ohio River depicts vividly the wilderness that this country was at the time of his journey" (Wagner Camp). The level of detail is great: individual farms are shown with the owner's names, soundings for the entire river length, towns and villages, swamps, natural curiosities, rapids, and much else. When compared with Zadock Cramer's maps of the river in his "Navigator," the Collot maps are much superior, containing far more information on the river depths and surrounding shores and islands. Thomas Hutchins large map shows the Ohio well, but only at about one fourth the scale of the Collot maps; Andrew Ellicott's two maps of the river, at about one third the Collot scale, leave large stretches to conjecture. As an 1805 printing of a 1796 journey, these maps are without equal in depicting the early settlements on the Ohio. Without color.

COLONEY, FAIRCHILD & CO. 1866
Coloney & Fairchild's Patent Ribbon Maps... Ribbon Map Of The Father Of Waters. Geographical and Scenic Maps upon this plan of all the rivers, rail road routes, stage and coast lines in the country are in preparation.
St. Louis: Gast, Moeller & Co. Lith. Type: Separate Map Size: 7x333 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: cf Karrow 1-0304.
This is the most ambitious Coloney & Fairchild strip or ribbon map: it shows the Mississippi River from its delta to its source at Lake Itaska, a distance of 2600 miles. It is backed on linen and rolls into paper covered spool with a hand crank. This is the revised edition, with much additional material added on river towns by William Bowen, President of the Pilot's Association of St. Louis (this information comes from the promotion for this map printed on the Ribbon Map of New York City). No record of the first issue found, although a copy exists at the Minnesota Historical Society. The river is colored blue against a black and white background. Distances from New Orleans are printed on the river at intervals to the source. Karrow's listing is for a variant: the map printed in five strips on one sheet and folded into the 1866 edition of Edward's Gazetteer of the Mississippi River. Scarce.

COLONEY, FAIRCHILD & CO. 1867
Coloney, Fairchild & Co.'s Patent Ribbon Maps of Railroads, Cities and Rivers. Patented July 9, 1867, through the Western Patent Agency. M. Randolph & co., St. Louis, Mo. ... Ribbon Map Of New York City, Containing a Complete description of all the points of interest, Time-Tables, Car routes, Hotels, &c.
N.P.: Coloney, Fairchild & Co. Type: City Atlas Size: 70x270 Scale: 1:45,936 Reference: None found.
A scarce strip map rolled in a wooden spool-case, one side a map of Broadway (not named) running from Beaver Street to 13th Street, showing all addresses and Businesses, the other side comprised mostly of text - a history of New York, statistics, promotion for Hays City, Kansas, a listing of the principal buildings of New York, advertisements, ferry timetables, horse railroads, stage routes, parks, hotels, etc. The map winds into its case with a side crank. Coloney and Fairchild also made a strip map of the Mississippi River (see our #4995), and another showing Routes from Hays City and Leavenworth Kansas to New York City; both are advertised on this New York City strip map. Not found in any references or collections. Originally included a small (46x19) folding map of the entire city, attached to the front of the strip (not present).

G. Woolworth Colton's New Guide Map Of The United States & Canada, With Railroads, Counties, etc. Drawn, Engraved & Published by G. Woolworth Colton 18 Beekman St. New York, Rufus Blanchard, Chicago, Ill. 1862. Entered ... 1861 by G. Woolworth Colton ... New York. (inset) Western Portion Of The United States. (inset) Plan of The Southern Portion Of Florida.
New York: G.Woolworth Colton; Chicago: Rufus Blanchard. Type: Pocket Map Size: 74x90 Scale: 1:3,168,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1637.
Second edition, with Karrow showing editions of 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1867 and 1871. This is the only map we have seen that has G. Woolworth Colton as the cartographer, publisher, copyright holder, and has ads for "G. Woolworth Colton, Geographer to the late Firm of J.H. Colton & Co..." on the inside cover paste down. Apparently the J.H. Colton firm ceased to exist briefly in 1862 and G. Woolworth Colton decided to start his own business under his own name. This curious lapse in the Colton firm is probably related to their arrangements with A.J. Johnson regarding Johnson's Family Atlas. At some point later in 1862, J.H. Colton decided to resuscitate his firm. Folded into stamped dark green cloth covers 15x10 with "G. Woolworth Colton's New Guide Map Of The United States & Canada With Railroads Counties &c" in gilt. Outline color by state.

Volume I, North and South America, is dated 1855 and volume II, Europe, Asia, etc., is dated 1856, as issued. We have dated this edition 1855 to distinguish it from the later edition of 1856, which has both volumes dated 1856. The maps in 1855 volume I are earlier states then the maps in the American Atlas of 1855, and earlier than 1856 volume I. See the map of Mississippi in all three volumes for a comparison of states (1855 volume I, state 1, 1855 American Atlas, state 2, and 1856 volume I, state 3). Most of the copyright dates are 1855; P6116 generally has earlier copyright dates, although the maps themselves may not have any changes. This set does not have the embossed Colton binding, although the binding appears to be contemporary. The maps in the World and American Atlas are on large paper with decorative borders and no text on the versos. Volumes are bound in quarter leather, brown cloth covered boards stamped in gold with "Colton's Atlas. Vol. I." and "Vol. II." along the spine, respectively.

Colton And Company, No. 172 William, Corner Beekman Street. London: Trubner And Company, No. 12 Paternoster Row. 1856. Entered ... One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-five, by J.H. Colton And Company ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: World Atlas Size: 49x44
Maps: 103 Reference: P816.
Texas map is single page, 2nd state. New Mexico and Utah 2nd state. This large one volume 1856 edition is scarcer than the two volume edition. Initially, Colton's atlas was published by subscription (see our subscribers salesman's book) and in parts, then in a two volume edition with the first volume (North and South America) issued in 1855 and the second volume (Europe, Asia, etc.)in 1856. This atlas was the first world atlas produced by Colton, after many years of issuing pocket maps, wall maps, guides, and maps for books. The atlas was one of the finest and most accurate of the period - it had a long publishing run, continuing for over thirty years (with the title changed to Colton's General Atlas after 1856). In this issue, the Texas map is single page, 2nd state. New Mexico and Utah 2nd state. Bound into quarter leather embossed brown cloth covered boards with "Colton's Atlas Of The World" and an illustration stamped in gold. The same title is stamped on the spine. Full color maps.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: National Atlas Size: 48x43
Maps: 58 Reference: cf p10269; this issue is not in Phillips.
This is a rather scarce edition of this work. By 1857, Colton had abandoned the large two volume World Atlas (of which this Atlas of America is the first volume, although here issued as a separate one volume work) in favor of his new General Atlas which was more compact due to printing on both sides of the page. Bound in quarter leather, embossed brown cloth covered boards stamped with "Colton's Atlas Of America" in gold. The spine reads "Colton's Atlas Of America. North And South America". Maps are hand painted in full color.

New York: J.H. Colton; London: Bacon & Co. Type: National Atlas Size: 45x38 Maps: 56 Reference: P1182,1386.
Reissue of the 1855 Atlas of America. The maps are basically the American maps from the General Atlas. Several of the western maps are different states than our 1865 General Atlas equivalent maps, however they may be similar to the 1864 General Atlas maps, which we do not have (yet). Fisher's descriptions of the Southern States include the dates of secession (as does our 1865 General Atlas). The map of California and the southwestern states appears for the first time - it was previously used in Johnson's Family Atlas, but was dropped in 1864 and given to Colton for his atlas while Johnson had a new map drawn for his atlas. Colton also issued the same map in pocket form in 1864 (see our 2928). Full hand painted color. Bound in half leather dark green cloth covered boards with "Colton's Atlas Of America" stamped in gilt.

The U.S. map is the same as the one that appears in Colton's General Atlas; the three inset maps are copyrighted by J.H. Goldthwait in 1861 - Goldthwait issued a similar map in 1861 (Modelski 42) that this is derived from. Full color by state. Map is folded into dark brown cloth covers 16x10 with "Colton's Railroad Map Of The United States G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co" in gilt.

Colton's Railroad & Commercial Atlas Of The United States, Canada Etc. Map No. 5. Michigan, Wisconsin & Minnesota. Published by G.W. & C.B. Colton. & Co. New York, 1869.
New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x96.5 Scale: 1:1,310,000 Reference: cf Modelski North America 28; cf Modelski 111, 121.
This map is one of several pocket maps that Colton published as a "Railroad & Commercial Atlas of the United States..." These are probably descendants of an earlier series on the same scale that Colton published for H.V. Poor in 1860 - see Modelski North America plate 28 and Modelski 111 and 121. See also our #3940. These must have been among the largest scale regional railroad maps of the period. Full color by county, folded into stamped dark brown cloth covers 16x10 with "G. Woolworth Colton's County & Distance Railroad Map of Michigan, Wisconsin, & Minnesota. Showing every Station &c" in gilt.

New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 14x98 Scale: 1:3,100,000 Reference: None found.
This is a strip map extending from the Mississippi River to San Francisco, following the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads. It is derived from Colton's Map of the States and Territories West of the Mississippi River. It is folded accordion style into dark brown cloth covers 9.5x16.5 with "Colton's Map Of The Pacific Railroad Route From The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean. G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co." stamped in gilt. The cover title is printed along the long dimension of the covers with the binding along the top edge. It is not mentioned in any Colton catalogs of the period and is probably scarce.

Unlisted Colton map, which looks like an English map with Colton's imprint. Colton has applied his standard title for his large U.S. map to a map that we have never seen and is not in any references. It must be an English map for which he acquired publishing rights. It shows the entire U.S., south to Central America, and part of Canada. Another possibility is that it is an Edward Freyhold map - it has similarities to the Railway survey maps, except that its scale is smaller. See the 1866 J.T. Lloyd Map of North America for another reengraving of the same map. Full color by state; dissected into 55 sections. the route of the Union Pacific railroad to the Wyoming border. Although the extension is copyrighted 1865, Karrow does not show it included with the main map until the 1873 edition. On the main map, compared to the 1870 issue, several new counties are named in the western parts of the state, as well as new railroads. Compared to the 1873 edition (see our #5144) just a few counties are added, primarily in Nebraska, Kansas, and Dakota. This map was issued frequently from 1864 to 1881, the latest issue listed in Karrow. The 1874 Colton General Atlas uses the upper half of this map to show the Northwestern States and Territories, while the States and Territories of the southwest are shown on several separate maps. The General Atlases of the period from 1864 to about 1872 use the upper and lower halves of this map to show the western States and Territories. Full color by county. Phillips shows an earlier edition of 1868. This is copyrighted 1873 and dated 1874. It shows the entire U.S. with inset maps of North America and the Western Hemisphere. It is colored by county. This map has a long and varied publishing history: it starts as a portion of Johnson's large wall map titled "Johnson's New Illustrated & Embellished County Map of the Republics of North America" first issued in 1857, continues as the two maps of the Northwest and Southwest U.S. in the Johnson Family Atlas from 1860 to 1864, and then is used for the same two maps in Colton's General Atlas from 1864 into the 1870's. We believe it also appeared in the 1860's and 1870's under several other Colton titles, including his separate pocket maps of the western U.S. and eastern U.S. (see our #2928 and #4811). There is an unused elevation color key of four boxes to the right of the Western Hemisphere inset map that indicated a possible second use of this map as an elevation map of the U.S. (for school maps?). Map is not dissected, folds into half leather dark brown cloth covers 29x20 with "Colton's Map Of The United States" stamped in gilt, and "Published By G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co." blind stamped at the bottom of the front cover.

New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton Type: Wall Map Size: 167x179 Scale: 1: 3,041,280 Reference: None found.
This is a later reissue of the 1859 map of the same title by D. Griffing Johnson (see our # 4012). The view of the Mormon Temple has been replaced by the Eagle and Shield cartouche surrounded by stars with state symbols that was first in the J. Calvin Smith Map of the United States and the Canadas (see our 1845 issue), and the census and distance table have been replaced with a physical map of North America taken from Colton's School Atlas. Otherwise, the map is from the same plate as the 1859 issue, updated with 31 years of political, topographical, and railroad changes. This must be one of the last wall maps issued by the Coltons. With brown top and bottom rollers. With full hand painted color by state.

New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton (312 Broadway). Type: Pocket Map Size: 67x81 Scale: 1:31,680 Reference: None found.
Probably the Colton firm's second to last year of publication. Ristow gives 1892 as the firm's last year, but this map indicates that they were still publishing in 1896. The unusual cover style and address of 312 Broadway is the similar to that of Colton's 1892 "Driving & Wheeling Map of the Country Twenty Five Miles North Of The City Of New York". Outline color by township, with water colored solid blue. The gray cloth covers 16x9 are stamped with "Colton's Road Map Of Staten Island New York. G.W. & C.B. & Co. New York" in black

With red cloth covers 14.5x9 stamped with gilt title reading "Thirty Three Miles Around The City Of New-York." and a small circular map of New York (later editions omit the map on the cover). First issued in 1846, when it was reengraved by Atwood from J.H. Eddy's "Map of the Country Thirty Miles round the City of New York" which was originally issued in 1811 (see our #3472). This is one of Colton's most attractive maps, showing New York and vicinity in circular format surrounded by a vine border with views of City Hall, New York and City Hall, Brooklyn. It was published in many editions for almost fifty years - our latest edition is 1891 (Haskell lists eight editions from 1846 to 1873 only). The early editions were engraved on copper plate (our 1853) and at some point before our 1865 edition the copper plate was transferred to lithographic stone and all subsequent editions were lithographed.

COLTON, G.W.; FISHER, RICHARD SWAINSON 1865
Colton's General Atlas, Containing One Hundred And Eighty Steel Plate Maps And Plans, On One Hundred And Eight Imperial Folio Sheets, Drawn By G. Woolworth Colton. Letter-Press Descriptions, Geographical, Statistical, And Historical, By Richard Swainson Fisher. New York: J.H. Colton, No. 172 William Street. London: Bacon & Co., 48 Paternoster Row. 1865. Entered ... 1863, by J.H. Colton ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x39 Maps: 101 Reference: cfP6148.
Has letter from J.H. Colton to his Pastor tipped in. Phillips shows 1860 and 1864 editions, with none in between. Colton might not have published the General Atlas in this period because of the Family Atlas collaboration with Johnson (just saw an 1862 & 1863 listed in World - Brit Museum, but maybe small editions were run?). That collaboration ended in 1863 (we believe) when Colton's name was dropped from the direct title page credits. Ristow states (p325) that Colton retired in 1864, and the General Atlas thereafter was published by G.W. & C.B. Phillips does not list this 1865 (which has J.H. as publisher) but has 1866 (P6155) published by G.W. & C.B. Colton adds the "Johnson" western states maps in this edition (and may have done this also in 1864), while Johnson drops them in 1864 and replaces them with maps of unknown source. Covers are half leather, dark green cloth covered boards with "Colton's General Atlas With Descriptions." stamped in gilt on the front. Spine reads "Colton's General Atlas. 1865." Back cover blind stamped.

Colton's General Atlas, Containing One Hundred And Seventy Steel Plate Maps And Plans, On One Hundred Imperial Folio Sheets, By G. Woolworth Colton. Accompanied By Descriptions, Geographical, Statistical, And Historical, By Richard S. Fisher, M.D. New York: Johnson And Browning (Successors To J.H. Colton And Company,) No. 172 William Street. 1859. Entered ... One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-nine, by J.H. Colton ... New York ...
New York: Johnson & Browning (Successors to J.H. Colton and Company). Type: World Atlas Size: 45x38 Maps: 96 Reference: not in Phillips;cfP4342.
The title page lists Johnson and Browning as publisher, "Successior to J.H. Colton and Company." All the maps list Johnson and Browning as publisher. This is indication of some level of collaboration bewteen Colton and Johnson on this atlas, which only lasted for one year, with the 1860 editions reverting to Colton as publisher. This was also the first year that Johnson published his Family Atlas, with many of those maps deriving from Colton maps.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x38 Maps: 102 Reference: Not in Phillips.
This is a scarce edition of Colton's General Atlas. It is similar to the 1861 edition, with the important exception that there is a new and final state of the New Mexico and Utah map that was first issued in the 1855 Atlas of America: the title has been changed to "Colton's Territories of New Mexico, Arizona Colorado Nevada And Utah." Arizona is shown in horizontal configeration under New Mexico, and Nevada and Colorado are shown for the first time on a separate Colton map. By the 1864 edition of Colton's American Atlas (see our #2837) this map is replaced by the large double sheet map of these territories and California. Atlas is bound in half leather, brown cloth covered boards stamped in gilt with "Colton's General Atlas With Descriptions." on the front cover, and "Colton's General Atlas. U.S. Navy. J.H. Colton & Co." on the spine.

1st ed., 2nd state. Stokes: "This is one of the most beautiful nineteenth century plans or maps of Manhattan Island, and is full of interesting information, It is perhaps the last example of really artistic map-making, as applied to Manhattan Island." Ristow believes that Burr may have drawn this map based on similarities between it and the Burr New York City map that appeared in Burr's New York State Atlas of 1829. Accompanied by the "Summary History.." Stokes describes his copy of the 1st edition as not listing Madison Square and some other differences between the 1836 and 1841 editions which would lead one to conclude that this copy is slightly later than 1836 (it shows Madison Square which was established in 1837) - apparently an unrecorded 2nd state of the first edition. Streeter's copy of the map is identified as such by the inclusion of his handwriting on the inside cover, and the words "Louis Billon 1849" in ink on the inside front cover and verso of map. The border includes twelve views. As noted in Streeter, "This later issue of lot 3873 differs in the binding and in showing not only the 'Gold Region' near New Helvetia, but also 'El Dorado or Gold Region' along the Feather River. It also has quite an extensive 'Table of Distances' added at the right of the inset." This is the second 1849 edition, which was also produced as a wall map (see our #4312). In this edition Fremont's route is shown along the Humboldt River, and California has been extensively remapped. Map is in full color and folds into the original blind-stamped covers, 16x11, with the title "Colton's Map of the United States Mexico &c." in gilt on the front cover.

With eleven pages of text titled "Particulars of Routes, Distances, Fares, &c., to Accompany Colton's Map of California and the Gold Region. Collected from Official Documents." On the map there is a view of Pyramid Lake over the title, taken from the Fremont Report and inset maps of the Gold Region and South America, showing the route around Cape Horn. Ackerman did the Lithography for this map as well as the Map of California, Oregon, and Texas (see our #98). This is the second state of the map - the first appeared in Fayette Robinson's "California and its Gold Regions" issued earlier in 1849 (see our 5029). Streeter: "This appears to be the first Colton map showing the gold fields." The North American portion of the map is taken from the North American map inset to the huge Smith/Colton "Map of the United States and the Canadas..." first issued in 1844; this inset later became the Johnson Family Atlas North American map of 1860. The map and the view of Pyramid Lake also appears in a Disturnell/Colton map of North America issued in 1854 and earlier (see our 3507). Outline color. Map is folded into dark blue cloth covers 13.5x8.5 with "Colton's Map Of The United States, Mexico &c. Shewing the Gold Region in California" printed in black on a tan paper label.

This map was issued with Fayette Robinson's "California and its Gold Regions" (the book is not present). A later issue of this map appeared in Colton's pocket map titled "Colton's Map of the United States, Mexico & c. Shewing the Gold Region in California" (see our #170). This first issue is distinguished from the second issue by the following differences: On the main map, the second issue has "Printed at Ackerman's rooms 120 Fulton St. N.Y." under the "Entered...." line below the title, the table of distances on the second issue adds "New Orleans to Havana" and "New Orleans (actually the ditto sign) to Vera Cruz" and drops those miles on the lines in the Gulf of Mexico linking those ports; on the inset map of the Gold Region, the second issue has "Quicksilver Mines" below San Jose instead of "Quicksilver" and the second lists three southern rivers not listed in the first - Stanislaus, Towalumnes, and Acumnes; and finally, in the second issue the decorative border of vines is changed in ways too subtle to list here. None of the prior authorites have noted these differences between the two states. Colton also published a version of this first issue on heavier paper, unfolded with wide margins, and without the lines or distances on them linking the ports of New Orleans, Vera Cruz and Havana, in the Gulf of Mexico; this may be the earliest issue.

Entered in 1846, although the earliest edition we know of is the 1848. This is the late 1850 issue, with three inset maps in the lower left and California, Utah and New Mexico shown. No vignettes on this edition. Gold Region in California, inset maps of North and South America, West Indies, Central America, the Isthmus of Panama, and Newfoundland. Title in the lower right as opposed to upper left in the 1854 edition. Differences form the 1854 edition: all the topography along the U.S.-Mexican Boundary is pre Boundary Survey; fewer towns in Gold Region; different insets; says drawn and engraved by Sherman and Smith, indicating that J.C. Smith originally published the map in 1846. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

Outline color by state, folded into dark gray modern cloth covers 15x10 with "Colton's Map Of The United States And The Canadas" in gilt. Issued separately in pocket map form, linen backed (High Ridge #108 in Cat 18), and in the Traveler's and Tourist's Guide Book (and Route Book) Through the United States of America and the Canadas. First edition was 1850 (Howes C623) by Colton; Howes says the guide is descended from J. Calvin Smith's Guide of 1846; the map is slightly larger scale than the Smith and larger in size, and it is clearly related. Another example of the Colton/Smith relationship - this Guide, the Western Guide, and the Large Map of the U.S. and the Canadas. This map is derived from the large wall map of the United States of America (see our #3960). The division between the two plates used to make this portion of the wall map is visible in Tenn. and N. See our #3507 and #170 for related maps. This map shows most of Alaska but not as far north as #3507. It is not clear where this map came from - it was folded to fit into a quarto sized book (not present here), and it may have been in the 1852 issue of the United States Register by John Disturnell, as #3507 was in the 1854 United States Register (see our 1861 U.S. Register by Disturnell with a smaller Colton Map). It has the inset map of the gold regions, and the inset has been updated with many towns, etc. The main map has also been updated in the West, showing Utah, New Mexico, California, reduced Texas, etc. There is no inset map of South America as appears in the 1849 issue, and this map extends much further to the north to include most of Canada and about half of Alaska. All three of these maps were probably derived from Colton's Map of North America that is listed in his catalogues from 1851 to 1855 and is somewhat larger, we assume because of decorative borders. Strangely, that map is not found in any references. Without color.

City & County Map Of New York, Brooklyn, Williamsburgh Jersey City & the adjacent Waters. By J.H. Colton, N.Y. No. 86 Cedar St. 1853. (inset) Vicinity Of New York, Showing the Principal Roads, Rail-Roads & Canals, With distance of Villas From The City. (with 4 additional inset maps).
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Wall Map Size: 70x133
Scale: 1:20,000 Reference: None found.
First published by D.G. Johnson, 1845. A more modest version of Colton's 1836 map of New York, this also has the "View of Nieuw Amsterdam," although it is dated as published in 1656, while the same view is dated 1639 in the earlier map. Five inset maps are included: Vicinity of New York, the Hudson River, James Lyne's Map of New York City, 1728, and, strangely, Philadelphia and Boston. Another one of Johnson's maps reissued by Colton. With black top and bottom rollers. Hand painted color.

Colton's Map Of The United States Of America, The British Provinces, Mexico and the West Indies. Showing the Country from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. Published By J.H. Colton, No. 49 Cedar St. New York 1853. Entered ... December in the year 1853 by Joseph H. Colton ... New York. (inset) Map Of Central America. (inset) The South Eastern Part Of The West Indies. (inset) Map Of Newfoundland.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Wall Map Size: 126x144
Scale: 1:3,801,600 Reference: Ristow p318.
Early '53, no vignettes. This is an intermediate state between the 1850 and late 1853 editions: the western topography is basically the same as the 1850 edition, but the Nebraska Territory is reduced in size with a new Northwest Territory above it. The graphic appearance is closer to the late '53 (Title moved, Central America inset enlarged) but the vignettes have not been put in. Sherman and Smith's name has been removed. The Mexican Boundary does not yet reflect Bartlett's Survey, changes which are partly made in the late '53 edition, and continued into the 1854 edition. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

Colton's New Map Of Indiana. Reduced from his Large Map Exhibiting the Boundaries of Counties, Township Surveys, Location of Cities, Towns, Villages, Post Offices, Canals, Rail Roads & other Internal Improvements. New-York, Published by J.H. Colton. 1853.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 40x31.5
Scale: 1:1,300,000 Reference: Karrow 3-0538; Howes F152a.
Colton's first pocket map of Indiana and one of the first maps issued in his "Travelling Maps" series, which were the precursors of the state atlas map sheets in his 1855 Atlas of America (see our #147). With a table of population in the upper right and a unique vine border, not seen on any other Colton pocket maps. There is a border letter locator key indicating that this is the same map that was used in the 1852 Fisher/Colton "Indiana In Relation to Its Geography, Statistics..." Full color by county, folded into patterned brown cloth covers 12.5x8.5 with "Map Of Indiana J.H. Colton" in gilt.

This is the first issue of this map, which had a long life as the double page atlas map of the United States in Colton's American Atlas, World Atlas and General Atlas. The Gadsden Purchase is not shown. Kansas is not shown and Nebraska is in a very unusual configuration, interlocking on the east with an equally strange shaped Indian Territory - this reflects the unsettled Nebraska and Kansas boundary situation in the year prior to creation of Kansas in 1854. With large vine border, full color, folded into stamped red cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Colton's Map Of The United States Of America." in gilt.

Topographical Map Of The West Indies And The Adjacent Coasts By John Pinkerton, Revised, Corrected and Published by J.H. Colton. No. 86 Cedar St. New York, 1853. Drawn under the direction of Mr. Pinkerton by L. Hebert. Neele sculpt. 352, Strand.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 48x69
Scale: 1:4,750,000 Reference: see Colton Catalogue for 1853.
This is the extraordinary reuse of an actual Pinkerton map plate of 1809 to make a pocket map in 1852. Colton has taken the almost fifty year old Pinkerton copper plate, made some corrections to the topography (see erased lake in Florida) and added modern features such as railroads in Cuba, new settlements, and a list of Geographical Statistics in the upper right. He probably reissued it because the Pinkerton map is beautifully done and most of the basic topography remained correct. Where he got the plate is somewhat of a mystery, although it may have been obtained from successors to the Philadelphia publisher Thomas Dobson who issued the Philadelphia edition of Pinkerton's Modern Atlas in 1818 (see our #4840). Neele and Hebert are still credited below the neat line. Map is folded into stamped brown cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Map Of The West Indies J.H. Colton" in gilt. Full color.

Scale: 1:3,168,000 Reference: Streeter 2734 (this copy); Wheat Gold 254.
The second edition of this map, the first being 1853. Folded into stamped black covers 12.5x8.5 with "Map Of California J.H. Colton" stamped in gilt. The copyright date is 1853. This was Thomas Streeter's copy, with his note on the verso: "This is Wheat 254 who only locates it in Capron's History of California." Although the Capron version is the same map, the Capron's title differs in having the 1854 date directly under the word "California;" in this version, the date is directly under the line showing Colton as publisher with his address. There is also a "Census of California" printed on the verso. This map, updated from time to time, appeared in many editions of Colton's American Atlas, Atlas of the World, and General Atlas. In this earlier form, it was part of Colton's series of "Travelling Maps" that eventually were incorporated into his atlases. The 1853 edition has "Nevada" for Nevada City; the 1854 edition has "Nevada City."

Vignettes; source of Nebraska/Kansas Pocket Map 1854. Also the source of Colton's Map of the United States and the Canadas, that accompanies the Travelers' and Tourists' Guide Book. First edition of this state (with vignettes) was the late 1853 edition; Bancroft has a photocopy of an 1852 edition without the vignettes, with was entered in 1846, indicating many earlier editions (see our 1850 & early '53). Also, the Bancroft has the U.S. label arching across Mexico, indicating pre-Mexican war editions. Source of other maps: Goodwin, F., Map of Calif. 1855 (Streeter 2785); Magnus, Phillips Atlas, U.S. maps, 1856. J.M. Atwood engraved later (post 1868?, says Ristow, p.318) editions of this map. Shows more information from the Boundary Survey Report regarding the U.S. Mexican border and the Gila River, the disputed area along the boundary, and the mouth of the Colorado (all redrawn from the late 1853 ed). With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x51 Scale: 1:3,850,000 Reference: Heaston 1; cf Streeter 3062 (1855 edition); Karrow 12-0357.5; P-Maps 459 and Graff 836 (1857 edition).
First edition, first state. First map to show the new Kansas and Nebraska; also shows the important Gadsden Purchase of the same year. This state precedes all other copies we have seen - it is an early pull from the late 1854, early 1855 Colton Map of the United States of America... wall map plate (see our #2834, indicating it appeared in middle or late 1854 - see our 1855 wall map copy #2278 for the corrected topography), with the title different from the second 1854 state, in that the letters of Nebraska and Kansas have stars in them and are open as opposed to the black letters of the second state. Also, this first state has numerous areas that are "cleaned up" in the second state: the trail that crosses the two forks of the Colorado in southern Utah near the map edge has the word "Route" on it - this is removed in the second state; the vine border is reversed from the first to the second state; Louisiana is written straight across in the first - it curves down in the second; Bucksport and San Augustine are shown in Texas along the map southern edge in the second state and not in the first; Sacket's Well and Laguna in California in the inset map are given dots for their location in the second state but not in the first. There are other changes. Streeter shows a second edition in 1855, Heaston a third edition in1856, but both copyrighted 1855. These have various route changes and place names added when compared to the 1854. A fourth edition appeared in 1857 (see Karrow 12-0361.2 and Graff 836) with the inset of the U.S. changed to Eastern Nebraska and Kansas. Map is full color by state, folded into red cloth covers 15x9 with "Nebraska And Kansas" stamped in gilt, advertisement for Colton on inside front cover.

First edition, second state. See notes to the first edition, first state. This probably appeared in late 1854. In addition to the map changes already noted, this copy has an advertisement for Colton's maps that is different from the first state copy's advertisement - it mentions the coming publication of the National Atlas, the American Atlas, and the Atlas of the World - none of which are mentioned in the earlier state's advertisement. Map is full color by state, folded into brown cloth covers 15x9 with "Nebraska And Kansas" stamped in gilt, advertisement for Colton on inside front cover.

Nebraska And Kansas. Published By J.H. Colton & Co. No. 172 William St. New York. Entered ... 1855 by J.H. Colton ... New York. (inset) Territory acquired from Mexico by the Gadsden Treaty. (untitled inset of U.S., Mexico, Central America).
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x53 Scale: 1:3,850,000 Reference: Heaston 3; Graff 836; Karrow 12-0359.7; Streeter 3062; cf P-Maps 459.
This is the second edition, with the 1855 copyright date and no other date on the map. There are small changes in the main map (El Paso, Texas and Nephi, Utah are added, as well as additional Pacific railroad routes) but the inset map of the Gadsden Purchase and the untitled map of the U.S. are largely the same. Map is full color by state, folded into dark gray cloth covers 15x9 with "Nebraska And Kansas" stamped in gilt, advertisement for Colton on inside front cover.

COLTON, J.H. 1856
Territories Of New Mexico And Utah. Published By J.H. Colton & Co. No 172 St. New York. 1856. Entered ... 1855 by J.H. Colton & Co. ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 31x40 Scale: 1:4,600,000 Reference: cf Wheat 832.
This is the second issue of this map - the first was issued in 1855 in Colton's American Atlas. This version is from the Travelling Maps series, with the date on the map. The illustration of Wheat 832 is not the 1855 issue, as stated, but a later issue (probably 1859) showing "Arizona." Full color, folded into stamped red cloth covers 13x8.5 with "Map Of Utah & New Mexico J.H. Colton" in gilt.

COLTON, J.H. 1857
Colton's Railroad & Township Map, Western States Compiled From The United States Surveys. Published by J.H. Colton and Co. No. 172 William Street, New York. 1857. J.P. Cox Sc.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 90x116 Scale: 1:1,550,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-0866 (1856 edition).

This edition is not listed by Karrow, who shows editions of 1853, 1854 (see our #4985) and 1856. In order to show more of the new Kansas and Nebraska Territories, this edition widens the map and slides it west, eliminating western New York and Pennsylvania; the title is shifted from the lower right to the upper left. Many new counties are shown in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Many new completed and proposed railroads are added. Full color by county, folded into stamped red leather covers 16x10.5 with "Map Of The Western States J.H. Colton" in gilt.

COLTON, J.H. 1857
Nebraska And Kansas. Published By J.H. Colton & Co. No. 172 William St. New York, 1857. (inset) Territory acquired from Mexico by the Gadsden Treaty. (untitled inset eastern Nebraska and Kansas).
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x51 Scale: 1:3,850,000 Reference: Heaston 5; Graff 836; Karrow 12-0361.2.
Fourth edition, with the inset at the lower left of the United States replaced by a taller, large scale inset map of the eastern counties of Nebraska and Kansas. The main map is mostly unchanged, with only a few railroad routes added. The addition of the detailed county map inset was probably due to the "bleeding Kansas" troubles of 1856. Map is full color by state, folded into brown cloth covers 15x9 with "Nebraska And Kansas" stamped in gilt, advertisement for Colton on inside front cover.

Colton's Railroad & Township Map of the State of Ohio. Published By Johnson & Browning, No. 172 William St. New York. 1859. Entered ... 1851 by J.H. Colton ... New York. Drawn by George W. Colton. Engraved by J.M. Atwood, New York.
New York: Johnson & Browning. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x71 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Not in Karrow, cf Karrow 2-1932 (1860 edition).
Many new railroads compared to the 1853 edition. An example of Johnson & Browning publishing the Colton maps in 1859 and 1860. See also our #182, 4506, and 4096 for other Johnson & Browning/Colton pocket maps. Full color. Folded into stamped brown cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Colton's Township Map Of The State Of Ohio Johnson & Browning." in gilt.

COLTON, J.H. 1860
Colton's Mississippi. Published By Johnson & Browning, 172 William St. New York. 1860. Entered ... 1855 by J.H. Colton & Co ... New York.
New York: Johnson & Browning. Type: Pocket Map Size: 39.5x32 Scale: 1:1,552,300 Reference: None found.
Johnson & Browning are listed as publisher on the cover and on the map - it is unusual to see Johnson & Browning on the cover of a Colton Pocket map - it probably only occurred in 1859 and 1860 when Johnson and Browning were briefly listed as publisher of Colton's General Atlas. The map appears identical to the 1860 General Atlas map. See our #4096, 4506, and 4510 for other Johnson & Browning/Colton pocket maps. Full color by county. Folded into red stamped cloth covers 13x8.5 with "Coltons' Map Of Mississippi Johnson & Browning." in gilt.

Colton's New Steel Plate Map Of New England. Published By W.E. And A.A. Baker & Company. 172 William Street, New York. 1860. Manufactured by J.H. Colton ... Engraved at J.H. Colton's Map Establishment by J.P. Cox, F.H. King, I. Devoe, J.H. Goldthwaite. Border by W.S. Barnard. Steel Plates. J.P. Cox, sc. Entered ... 1860 by J.H. Colton ... New York. (inset) The United States Of America. Entered ... 1855, by J.H. Colton ... New York. (inset) Map Of Boston And Adjacent Cities.
New York: W.E. & A.A. Baker. Type: Wall Map Size: 150x151 Scale: 1:560,000 Reference: cf P-Maps 473 (1852,54 related editions).
Large scale map, source of Johnson's Vermont & New Hampshire map. Elaborate border, inset map of the U.S. from the General Atlas U.S. map, inset of Boston, and time and distance tables. The relationship with the Bakers is a mystery - why didn't Colton publish the map if he "manufactured" it? The copyright date is listed as 1860, so this is the first edition of this format. However, Phillips lists an 1852 and 1854 map that is somewhat smaller but probably from the same plates. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by township.

Colton's Railroad & Township Map of the State of Ohio. Published By J.H. Colton, No. 172 William St. New York. 1860. Entered ... 1851 by J.H. Colton ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x71 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Karrow 2-1932.
The 1859 edition was published by Johnson and Browning; this edition returns to J.H. Colton as the publisher, showing that Colton took back his publishing of pocket maps from Johnson (who only seems to have had the business for 1859 and part of 1860) in late 1860. Folded into stamped red cloth covers 14.59 with "Colton's Township Map Of The State Of Ohio J.H. Colton." in gilt. Full color by township.

J.H. Colton's Series of Dissected Maps. North America. South America. Europe. United States. Asia. Africa. In Two Sizes. (On the side of the box: United States). (Title of Map Puzzle: United States of America. Entered ... In the Year 1860 ...).
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Puzzle Size: 28x34 Reference: Williams p. 336.
This Colton puzzle map uses the map of the United States that first appeared in Colton's Cabinet Atlas of 1859, and was later used in Colton's School Atlas of 1864 and American School Quarto Geography of 1865. The puzzle itself is undated, but the map is copyrighted in 1860. Accompanying the puzzle is a separate copy of the map to use as a guide in assembling the puzzle. Mitchell produced a Dissected Map puzzle in 1854 (Williams p. 98) and Colton is undoubtedly competing with that in issuing this series of dissected maps.

Letter to O.M. Hatch, Secretary of State for State of Illinois from J.H. Colton, dated March 30, 1861 from New York.
Manuscript. Type: Letter Size: 25x20 Reference: None found.
Complains of bribery by Robert Pearsal Smith. Colton claims that he has been unable to get from the State of Illinois the statistical information he needs on Illinois counties and towns and that Smith has offered to sell him the same information that Smith obtained from Washington (by "inducements" according to Colton) for an "exorbitant price." Colton refers to himself as the "oldest and most extensive publisher of Geographical and Statistical works in this country."

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 66x48 Scale: 1:780,000 Reference: Stephenson 479.3.
Early map of battle area, copyright 1855. Stephenson is probably wrong in dating this as 1863. We date it as 1861 because it is earlier than the copy we have that is entered in 1862 (which copy Stephenson misdates as entered in 1852). New York: J.H. Colton; London: Sampson Low, Son & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 84x99 Scale: 1:3,041,280 Reference: Stephenson 25.7.
Civil War map - Confederacy green, North red, border states yellow. A pasted down sheet in the bottom margin explains the color coding and gives population statistics for the three regions. There is an ad for "Colton's...Complete Series of War Maps" on the verso of the cover and a pasted down list of Union and Confederate Political and Military leaders on the verso of the map. The map was sold in London by Sampson Low, Son & Co., by arrangement with Colton. All the prices quoted for Colton's maps on the paste down are in pounds. There was great demand in England for maps of the American Civil War, and Colton exploited it by providing his maps to English map sellers. W.H. has an identical copy of this map sold by Crutchly. Stanford also sold this map under his imprint. Full color. Dissected into 32 sections. Folds into dark green cloth covers 23x14.5 with a green paper label reading "Colton's Map Of Thr (sic) The United States Of America And The Canadas."

Colton's Map Of The States And Territories West Of The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean Showing The Overland Routes, Projected Rail Road Lines &c. Published By J.H. Colton, No. 172 William St. New York. 1864. Entered ... 1864, by J.H. Colton ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 69x99 Scale: 1: 3,105,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1720 (1873 edition); Wheat 1099.
First edition. This is the source of Colton's two General Atlas regional maps of the west, beginning with the 1864 atlas edition. This was the first map to show Montana (Wheat). Colton also issued in 1862 (W. Heckrotte copy) "Colton's Map of the Pacific States, California and Oregon...and British Columbia" which is from the same plate, earlier, and goes further north to include much of the Canadian west, but does not go as far east. All these maps derive from "Johnson's New Illustrated & Embellished County Map of the Republics of North America" (see our 1859 edition, #4012) which was first issued in 1856 (We assume this date because our copy says entered in 1856). This shows further that the relationship between Johnson and Colton included Colton using Johnson's maps, as well as Johnson using Colton's maps in Johnson's Family Atlas. Folded into dark green cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Colton's Map Of The States & Territories From The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean. &c., &c. J.H. Colton." in gilt. Full color by county.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x70 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: This edition not in Karrow.
Compared to the 1860 edition, more railroads are added, plus a small population table in the lower left. The inside front cover ad is for G. Woolworth Colton alone, without the more usual C.B. Colton. This indicates that G.W. took over the firm alone for a short period and then brought in his brother. Full color by township. Map is folded into stamped brown cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Colton's Township Map Of The State Of Ohio J.H. Colton." in gilt.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 97x131 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Stephenson 37.6 (1863 edition).
Large and detailed map in two sheets of the Confederacy, taken from the southern portion of the J. Calvin Smith Map of the Untied States and the Canadas, first issued in 1843, here updated to 1864. The copyright date is 1863, but Colton issued the map in 1861 and 1862; Stephenson shows the 1862 edition by Bacon of London (who issued many of Colton's Civil War maps). An inset map of the United States shows the proposed railroad routes to the Pacific Ocean. Tables list information from the U.S. Census of 1860. Map is in full color by county, and folded into beautifully stamped brown cloth covers 21x13 with clover leaf design and title "Colton's Map Of The Southern States, Showing The Counties & Railroads, Cities, Towns, Railroad Stations, &c. Entered ... 1864, By J.H. Colton ... New York. Davies & Kent, Stereotypers and Electrotypers, 183 William St. N.Y.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: National Atlas Size: 25x18 Maps: 25 Reference: P1387; Wheat 1100.
1st edition 1864; see also Quarto Atlas of World. Most Maps are taken from the Map of the Untied States of America Showing the Country from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean (Ristow p.319), probably the 1865 edition. WH has the 1867 edition. Some maps are taken from other unknown sources. The maps were also similar to the Illustrated Cabinet Atlas of 1859. Wheat refers to the Nebraska, Dakota and Montana map as "called the first map of Montana" (in the 1864 edition), but he also says that the Colton pocket map of the Territory West of the Mississippi River of 1864 also shows Montana (see our copy). The Texas map has an interesting error - it puts the New Mexico boundary much too far to the east, coming into the center of the state! Full color maps bound in cloth covered boards with "Colton's Atlas Of The Union" stamped in gilt on the cover.

COLTON, J.H.; CREUZBAUR, ROBERT; DE CORDOVA, JACOB 1856
J. De Cordova's Map Of The State Of Texas Compiled from the records of the General Land Office of the State by Robert Creuzbaur, Revised and Corrected by Charles W. Pressler. Published by J.H. Colton & Co. No. 172 William St. New York 1856. Engraved by J.M. Atwood, New York. Entered ... 1856 by J. De Cordova ... Texas. (with untitled inset of southwestern U.S.).
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 90x83 Scale: 1:1,180,000 Reference: Taliaferro 295 C; Wheat 609 (1849 ed.); Ristow p459; P-Maps 845; Graff 920;Martin 141,155.
First edition of Pressler's revision of De Cordova's map, and first edition published by Colton. Shows Texas east of the 102nd meridian. First issued by De Cordova in 1849, with editions of 1850, 51, 53, 56, 57, 58, and 61 (Ristow and Rosenberg), and a late unlisted edition in 1867 (see our #4801). De Cordova employed Pressler to revise the map in 1855 and then sold the rights to Colton in the same year. The 1849 edition has only two copies located. Eberstadt called the 1849 issue "possibly the finest (Texas map) of the period." Colton changed the inset map from the oval showing all of Texas to the southwestern portion of Colton's U.S. atlas map. J.M. Atwood was the engraver of all editions. With a list of the Land districts, this map was useful for both land promoters and settlers. Colton published a reduced version of the map in his 1856 Atlas of the World. The full color map is folded into stamped dark maroon leather covers 16x10.5 with "J. De Cordova's Texas J.H. Colton & Co. New York." in gilt.

COLTON, J.H.; DISTURNELL, JOHN 1854
Map Of North America From The Latest Authorities Showing the Proposed Railroad Routes from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans. J.H. Colton & Co. New York, 1854, for J. Disturnell. Entered ... 1849, by J.H. Colton ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. for J. Disturnell. Type: Separate Map Size: 63x55 Scale: 14,000,000 Reference: Wheat 801.
Removed from the United States Register by John Disturnell for 1854 (Wheat 801 refers to this as the "Congressional Directory, 1st Session, 33rd Congress"). Wheat missed the fact that this map is taken from the same base map as Colton's 1849 "Map of the United States, The British Provinces...Showing The routes of The U.S. Mail Steam Packets to California..." It has the same inset view of Pyramid Lake, but the inset map of the Gold Regions is omitted as well as the inset of South America. A table is added in the upper right of "Geographical Statistics." And this later map extends northward about 8 inches further than the 1849 map, to include all of Alaska and Canada. Several railroad routes to the west coast are shown, and there is a mysterious circle about six inches in diameter (about 1400 miles in scale) around Chicago, with no explanation given for it. Nebraska is shown in reduced size, but no Kansas. There are many updates to the map in the West, compared to the 1849. Disturnell published the U.S. Directories during the 1840's, 50's, 60's, and 70's, and most of them had one or another of Colton's North America maps. See also our somewhat different 1852 issue (#4715). Full and outline color.

COLTON, J.H.; MATHEWSON, A. J.; MESSINGER, JOHN; PECK, J. M. 1852
New Sectional Map Of the State of Illinois. Compiled From The United States Surveys. Also exhibiting the Internal Improvements, distances between Towns, Villages & Post Offices, the outlines of Prairies, Woodlands, Marshes & the lands donated to the State by the Gen. Govt. for the purpose of Internal Improvements. By J.M. Peck, John Messinger, And A.J. Mathewson. Published by J.H. Colton & Co. New-York. 1852. Engraved by S. Stiles & Co. N. York. Entered ... 1836 by J.H. Colton & Co. ... New York. (inset) Vicinity of Alton & St. Louis. (inset) Vicinity Of Galena, The Lead Region And Part Of Wisconsin And Iowa.
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 103x70 Scale: 1:633,600 Reference: Karrow 4-1539; cf Buck 341; DAB.
n 1835 Peck and Messenger published their first map, a smaller map of "Illinois and part of the Wisconsin Territory." In 1836 they issued a much larger map, published by Colton, that is the ancestor of this 1852 map. Karrow shows issues of 1836, 1838, 1839, 1844, 1846, 1848, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1863, 1866, 1868, and 1869. The 1836 copyright was kept throughout, except for the 1853 issue, when the copyright was changed to 1853. In the unrecorded 1860 and 1867 issues (see our copies), the title adds Colton's name. It is odd that with so many issues of the map, it has become truly scarce. In its time, it was the best map of Illinois by far, and was probably the most popular. It is one of the only maps to show the vast extent of the Prairies by graphic symbol. In addition to the two inset maps, there is an untitled profile of the Michigan Canal. There are columns of texts on the Public Lands, the Land Districts, Canals, and Population. In 1839 Peck issued with Colton the "Traveller's Directory For Illinois," with a slightly smaller map of the state (Karrow 4-1479). Peck was a Baptist Minister who traveled extensively in Illinois and adjoining states as a part of his work, and his keen sense of observation quickly made him an authority on the West. His Guide for Emigrants appeared in 1831, and his Gazetteer of Illinois in 1834. After his death in 1858, Colton continued to publish this map under Peck's name. Full color by county, folded into stamped black leather covers 14.5x9 with "Colton & Co.s. Map Of Illinois Exhibiting The Sections By Peck & Messinger" in gilt.

COLTON, J.H.; NORMAN, B.M.; PERSAC, A. 1858
Norman's Chart Of The Lower Mississippi River By A. Persac. Published by B.M. Norman, New Orleans, La. 1858. Entered ... 1858 by B.M. Norman ... Louisiana. Engraved, Printed & Mounted By J.H. Colton & Co. New York. (At top) From Natchez to New Orleans.
New Orleans: B.M. Norman. Type: Pocket Map Size: 155x73 Scale: 1:130,800 Reference: None found.
Views; shows Plantations by type; very scarce. In full color; lacks original covers. See our reproduction copy issued by Pelican Press, originally in 1931, and printed by Rand McNally - this reproduction greatly alters the original. Ritzlin catalogue: "Persac was a well known surveyor and landscape painter... the map is quite scarce and normally in poor condition because most copies were used by river pilots to locate plantation landings. Few copies are known in contemporary boards. NUC lists only three copies ... however several copies are located in the south, including one which the Louisiana Supreme Court still uses in land ownership cases." Incredible detail, showing the Plantations on both sides of the river. Four engraved views. Engraved by J.H. Colton. Lacking boards, this copy has some tears at the folds with slight loss at some intersections, some light browning in two areas, but is overall a very good copy. Copies at LSU, Historic New Orleans Collection (504-523-4662). See Antiques Magazine, Nov. 1991 for Persac Article. Norman also published "Norman's New Orleans and Environs" with a map of the city, in 1845 (see our copy).

COLTON, J.H.; PLUMB, H.S. 1865
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 79x97 Scale: 1:47,520 Reference: cf Streeter 3923.
First edition, second issue. Many changes from the first edition, first issue: a scale of miles is added to the right of the title, the town of Snapps Stn. is added in the inset map "Plan of Extension of Oil Creek," and many other creeks are named or added, as are roads, owners' names, etc. These changes may have been occasioned by the the publication of Beer's Atlas of the Oil Region of Pennsylvania in 1865 (see our #62) which includes many of the updates that16 appear on this second issue of Colton's map. Folded into patterned light brown cloth covers 16x10 with "Colton's Map Of The Oil District Of Venango Crawford & Warren Counties Pennsylvania. J.H. Colton. New York." in gilt. First edition, first issue. Streeter was unaware of the two issues of this map and we cannot find any other mention of them. Streeter's comments on the map ("This Colton map is almost certainly earlier than the Hunt or the Townsend & Dale maps, both also of 1865, and it is best for giving a general view of the oil region as first opened up and first developed") indicate that he probably had this first issue of 1865 and had not seen the second issue (see our # 4529) which shows more development. Full color by township. Without the original covers.

COLTON, J.H.; SHALL, D.F. 1860
Colton's Railroad & Township Map Of Arkansas Compiled from the U.S. Surveys And Other Authentic Sources. By D.F. Shall. Published By Johnson & Browning, 172 William St. New York. 1860. Entered ... 1854, by J.H. Colton ... New York.
New York: Johnson & Browning. Type: Pocket Map Size: 61x76 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Eberstadt 114:78; not in Phillips.
Although entered in 1854, the earliest copy found was the Eberstadt copy, dated 1859. This was the official state map of Arkansas with the usual signed testaments by officials verifying the map's accuracy, as well as having the state seal printed above the title. The testaments are dated 1845, which may imply much earlier issues, although we can find no record of any earlier than 1859. See also our #182, 4096, and 4510 for other Johnson & Browning/Colton pocket maps.Folded into stamped brown cloth covers 14x9 with "Colton's Township Map Of The State Of Arkansas Johnson & Browning." in gilt. COLTON, J.H.; SMITH, J. CALVIN 1852
Colton's Map Of The United States Of America Including Canada and a large portion of Texas: Showing the Base Meridian and Township Lines of the U.S. Surveys. The lands allotted to the Indian Tribes west of the Mississippi. The Various Internal Improvements &c. Compiled from Surveys of the United States Land Office, and various other authentic sources By J. Calvin Smith. New York, Published by J.H. Colton, 86 Cedar St. 1852. Revised Edition. Steel Plates. Entered ... 1843 by Geo. E. Sherman & J. Calvin Smith ... New York. Engraved and Printed by Sherman & Smith New York. (inset) Map Of North America By J. Calvin Smith. (inset) Southern Florida.
New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Case Map Size: 164x204 Scale: 1:1,500,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1578.
This is the first year that Colton published this map. Iowa is now fully developed with counties, and there is major railroad growth in Indiana and Illinois, among other changes from the 1850 edition. This is probably the late 1852 issue - Karrow 1-1578 is the same map without Colton's name in the title, indicating that Colton took over publishing the map later in the year. Full color by county. Map is dissected into 36 sections, mounted on linen. Folds into marbled end sheets and a new black cloth folding case 36x30 with "Colton's Map Of The United States J. Calvin Smith 1852" stamped in gold on the spine.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Wall Map Size: 164x204 Scale: 1:1,500,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1593.
This is the third year of Colton's publication of this map. Other than adding his name to the title, the map remains the same, except for many changes in the topographical and political information: Washington, Oregon, Utah, New Mexico and California (but not Kansas yet) are shown on the inset map of North America. On the main map Iowa's western counties are filled out, Texas adds many counties in the west, and railroad growth is explosive throughout, all compared to the 1850 edition. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county with states outlined.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10 Maps: 1 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Howes S615.
The map continues to change from earlier issues - counties in Minnesota for the first time, more railroads throughout, and spreading township and range lines. Full color map, 52x66, bound in back and entitled, "Guide Through Ohio, Michigan Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin & Iowa Showing The Township lines of the United States Surveys ... By J. Calvin Smith. 1855." At bottom, "Entered ... 1851, by J.H. Colton ... New York." Bound with brown cloth covered boards with title and two vignettes on the cover.

COLTON, J.H.; SMITH, J. CALVIN. 1856
Colton's Map of the States of New England And New York, With Parts Of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, The Canadas &c. Showing The Railroads, Canals, and Stage Roads With distances from place to place. Drawn by George W. Colton. Engraved by J.M Atwood N.Y. New York Published By J.H. Colton And Co. No. 172 William St. 1856. (with four inset maps). (with map) Guide Through Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin & Iowa Showing The Township lines of the United States Surveys ... by J. Calvin Smith. New York. Published by J.H. Colton. 86 Cedar St. 1853. Engraved by S.Stiles, Sherman & Smith. D. Mc. Lellan, Print. 26 Spruce St. N.Y.

New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 46x61; 52x66 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:2,280,960; 1:2,217,600 Reference: None found.
This is an unusual pairing of two maps normally found separately, here folded into stamped brown cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Township Map of the Western States" stamped in gilt on the front. The map of New England is the scarcer of the two - it has six vignettes in the decorative border, four of which are views of Montreal, Toronto, New York, and Boston, as well as three inset maps of Boston, New York and the railroad route from Washington to New York. The accompanying map of the mid western states was published with Smith's "Western Tourist or Emigrant's Guide" 1853 and separately (see our #2962 and #190). Both maps in full color by county.

Colton's Traveler & Tourist's Guide-Book Through The Western States and Territories ... Compiled by Richard S. Fisher, M.D. ... Accompanied by a Map, Exhibiting the Township lines of the U.S. Surveys ... New York: J.H. Colton and Company, No. 172 William Street. 1857. (on verso) Entered ... J.H. Colton and Company ... New York.
New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10 Maps: 1 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Howes S615.
This edition has the same cover as the "Western Tourist and Emigrant's Guide..." but the title page is different, and the contents are basically the same - Colton issued the two books with different title pages but the same contents and maps - an interesting marketing device. The map adds Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas to the title and is enlarged and extended west to include the settled eastern counties of Nebraska and Kansas and a portion of Dakota. Fisher's name is added to the title page for the first time, as compiler, something he probably was doing since the Colton editions of the early 1850's. The text is expanded to include Nebraska and Kansas. With map in full color, 49x71, entitled, "Guide Through Ohio, Michigan Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska & Kansas, Showing The Township lines of the United States Surveys ... By J. Calvin Smith ... 1857." Bound with brown cloth with title embossed on cover.

In 1898 the G.W. & C.B. Colton firm became Colton, Ohman & Co. and published under that name until about 1901 (Haskell 1562 is his latest listing for the company). After 1901 and until about 1920, Ohman published many maps, principally of the New York City area (see Haskell listings and our #2087), under the firm name of August R. Ohman. This Map of Cuba was published as a newspaper supplement to show the areas of conflict in the Spanish American War. Printed color.

New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 76x101 Scale: 1:633,600 Reference: Ellis 46.
This map may be related to the Monk/Gilpin Colorado of 1865 (see Ellis p. 76, and see our #3509) - Colton republished the Monk/Gilpin in 1866 and that was very likely the base for this map. This is one of the most attractive of the early Colorado maps - Ellis calls it "a very good map and on a large scale." The hachuring used to indicate mountains and drainage is unusual and visually distinctive. Full color by county, folded into dark brown cloth covers 15.5x9.5 with "Topographical Map Of Colorado G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co" in gilt.

COOK, JAMES, 1728-1779 1773
A Map of the Province of South Carolina with all the Rivers, Creeks, Bays, Inletts, Islands, Inland Navigation, Soundings, Time of High Water on the Sea Coast, Roads, Marshes, Ferrys, Bridges, Swamps, Parishes Churches, Towns, Townships; Country Parish District and Provincial Lines. Humbly inscribed to the Hon.ble Lawlins Lownds Esqr. Speaker & the rest of the Members of the Hon.ble the Commons House of Assembly of the Province by their most Obedt. & faithfull Servt Jams Cook. Thos. Bowen, sculpt. 1773. (with 6 inset maps).
(London): No Publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 76x81 Scale: 1:586,080 Reference: Cummings 443 (illustrated plate 67) and p 59; Sellers and Van Ee 1521; J.D. Black, Map Collector 34, p. 10-15; Cumming, British Maps of Colonial America p.47-48; Tooley Dictionary p. 130 (South Carolina map misdated 1770).
The maker of this map, James Cook, surveyor of South Carolina and former marine surveyor, is not to be confused with the Pacific explorer, Captain James Cook. In 1770, James Cook was commissioned by the South Carolina provincial government to make a new survey of the entire province and publish a map, which he completed in 1773. Cummings refers to the map as "the most detailed and accurate printed map of South Carolina, especially for the interior, yet to appear" and further states that "very few copies of this fine map are extant." It provided much of the detail for the later maps by Henry Mouzon and John Stuart. Sellers and Van Ee call it "one of the most important maps in the cartography of the state until the early nineteenth century." It is excessively rare, with only five copies identified in United States institutions, and one in the British Museum. There are two states of this first and only issue, distinguished by the presence in the second state of an additional imprint "Publish'd according to Act of Parliament July 7th. 1773 and Sold by H. Parker in Cornhill" under the neat line. This copy is the first state, with two of the other six copies being first state as well.

There are six inset maps: Beaufort, Camden, Georgetown, Port Royal, Charles Town, and Harbour of Charles Town. The main map is very detailed, showing land owners in profusion. Along the coast are many navigation notes, indicative of Cook's maritime background. This appears to have been Cook's only major map production; his other work is limited to three harbor charts published in 1766 (illustrated by Black): A Draught of Port Royal Harbour (similar to the Port Royal inset map on the South Carolina 1773), A Draught of the Harbour of Halifax, and A Draught of West Florida.

COPLEY, CHARLES; JOSLIN, GILMAN 1869
Improved Globe, Boston. Manufactured by Gilman Joslin, Corrected to 1870. Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1852 by Charles Copley ... New York. (Terrestrial and Celestial Globe pair).
Boston: Gilman Joslin. Type: Globe Size: 16 inches Scale: 1:31,500,000 Reference: Warner 3-102, 2-54, 3-88; Guthorn 11-12 (Copley).
16 inch pair of Terrestrial and Celestial globes. These globes were originally issued by Copley and sold by Blunt in New York in 1852. Joslin revised and reissued them (this pair) in 1869, continuing until the 1890's (Warner). These are both floor stand models and are illustrated in Joslin's catalogue of the early 1870's (see our copy). Franklin Globes also issued the Copley Globes, but they may have been made by Joslin or Nims for Franklin (Warner). "National Park" is shown in the U.S. where Yellowstone Park was created in 1872, but we think this is anticipatory rather than after the fact. The "corrected to 1870" was usually done a year or two before the date (Coffeen). The Copley globes are beautifully executed, have a "modern" look, and are "extremely detailed, even to the point of obscurity" (Warner). Warner further states that "no examples of the Joslin 1869 state of these globes are known." This pair may be the only survivors. Copley won a gold medal in 1852 from the American Institute for the globes (see Transactions of the American Institute 1852, p124-5). Warner lists a Franklin 16 inch Terrestrial (3-88) by Nims that is similar to this. Total height from base to top is 43 inches.

COVENS ET MORTIER; LISLE, GUILLAUME DE, 1675-1726 1742
Atlas Nouveau, Contenant Toutes Les Parties Du Monde, Ou sont exactement Remarquees les Empires, Monarchies, Royaumes, Etats, Republiques, &c. Par Guillaume de l'Isle. Premier Geographe de sa Majeste. A Amsterdam, Chez Jean Covens & Corneille Mortier, sur le Vygendam. (title page only) Socio Ditata Labore ... J. Wandelaar del. et fecit. (bound with) Inleidinge Tot De Geographie ... Door den Heer Sanson d'Abbeville, Ordinaris Geographist des Konings. Te Amsterdam, By Johannes Covens en Cornelis Mortier Boekverkopers op den Vygendam. Met Privilegie der Heeren Staaten van Holland en West-Vriesland.
Amsterdam: Covens & Mortier. Type: World Atlas Size: 55x39 Maps: 107 Reference: cf P596; cf Koeman C&M 6; Tooley, Mapping of America p. 4-11; NMM 227, 228.
This is a later edition of DeLisle's maps, including some maps by Sanson, Jaillot and others, first published by Covens and Mortier in 1730. It is bound with a geography text by Sanson. This issue did not included the abbreviated edition of Popple's map that appears in the P596 copy and the index does not call for it. The maps are beautifully done, following the original DeLisle plates closely. This copy does not have the plan of Carthagene called for in the index, and it does not appear to have been bound in originally (there is a ms line drawn through the index line referring to this map that may have been done at the time of issue). Koeman's C&M 6 is slightly different from our copy: it has 1733 on the title page and 1741 on the index (our copy has 1742 on the index and no date on the title page; also, C&M 6 lists 107 maps on the index - this one lists 108 maps with one crossed out (see above) - that map crossed out was published in 1741 or 42 and probably was not yet ready for inclusion. So our copy was unknown to Koeman or Phillips. Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "DeLisle Atlas" stamped in gilt on the new spine. Maps are hand painted with outline color.

COVENS, JEAN; MORTIER, CORNEILLE; (POPPLE, HENRY). (1737)
Les Principales Forteresses Ports &c. De L'Amerique Septentrionale. I.K.S.
Amsterdam: Covens & Mortier. Type: Separate Map Size: 51x61 Scale: Variable Reference: P3448, vol 9 No. 45; Koeman C & M 7; Cumming & Wallis Introductory Notes to Margary's Popple reprint.
Covens and Mortier published a seven sheet version of Henry Popple's "Map of The British Empire in America" in approximately 1737 (dated by Cumming and Wallis). It appeared in their Atlas Nouveau editions after about 1741. This is sheet six, with the Forts and Harbors. It has sixteen harbor maps, one more than Popple's fifteen harbor maps, adding the island of Curacao. Maps have outline color. The other sheets were the Key Map (almost an exact copy of Popple), fours sheets that reproduce Popple's map at half the size, and a single sheet of four views - Mexico City, New York, Quebec, and Niagara Falls. The Harbor Sheet and the Views sheets are the scarcest.

CRAM, GEORGE FRANKLIN 1868
New Rail Road And Township Map Of Iowa Engraved From Official Draughts of each County. Published By George F. Cram, Dealer In: Maps, Charts, Lithographic Pictures, Steel Engravings, Photographs &c. &c. 134 Lake St. Chicago, Ill. 1868. Entered ... 1868 by George F. Cram ... Illinois. Chas. Shober & Co. Lith. Chicago, Ill.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Pocket Map Size: 60x78 Scale: 1:660,000 Reference: Karrow 8-0782.
1st edition, 1st year of operation for Cram's business. Everything about this map is different from Cram's later productions: it is his first year of operation, at 134 Lake Street, and the style of the cover, the map and the cartouche all have an "early" and unsophisticated look. Charles Shober is listed as Lithographer. Cram also produced the Guide Map to Chicago in 1868 (see our copy). Surviving pre fire maps by Cram are rare. Karrow shows 1869 maps for Missouri, Missouri and Kansas together, and Illinois, (all engraved by Pfeiffer, not Shober), but he shows no 1868 maps other than this Iowa and the Chicago maps. So this may be Cram's first state pocket map. It is copyright 1868. There is a view of a steam engine in the cartouche; this does not appear in later Cram maps. A 10 page index lists principal towns and counties, and gives a brief history of the state. Full color. Map is folded into stamped dark green cloth covers 14x9 with "New Township Map Of Iowa" in gilt.

Cram's Standard American Atlas Of The United States, Compiled from the very latest sources, showing Railroads, Rivers, Counties, Towns, Villages, Post Offices, Population, &c., to date. A Complete Guide For Business Men. Scale, 19 Miles to an Inch. Published By George F. Cram, Proprietor Of The Western Map Depot, 66 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill. 1878.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: National Atlas Size: 56x46 Maps: 37 Scale: 1:1,203,840 Reference: U.S. Atlases L3600 (1880 edition).
The rarest and most attractive of Cram's atlases. The maps are large folio, with hand color, taken from the same plates as Cram's pocket maps of the same date (or vice versa). All maps are on the same scale, 19 miles to one inch. This issue is two years earlier than the earliest (1880) shown in U.S. Atlases. Later editions were 1880, 1881, and 1885 (which may be smaller). In 1875, Cram put out a "New Commercial Atlas of the United States and Territories "(P1275) which probably used the same maps. After 1885, Cram discontinued this atlas and concentrated on the mass produced "Unrivaled Family Atlas" and the "Standard American Railway Atlas." Bound in quarter leather dark teal cloth covered boards with "Cram's Standard American Atlas 1878" stamped in gilt on the front cover and blind stamped on the back.

Cram's New Railroad & Township Map Of California Showing Latest Government Surveys. Published By Geo. F. Cram, 264 Wabash Ave. Chicago, Ill. Copyright Secured. (inset) Lower California.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Pocket Map Size: 56x40 Scale: 1:1,774,000 Reference: Vogdes p.206.
Has an inset of Southern California in place of Nevada. This map is not at all typical for Cram - the mountains are shown is sepia hachures, and the printing is delicate. This is probably Cram's first pocket map of California. A 16 page index and census is bound in, with ads for Cram's maps. Printed color. Folded into black cloth covers 15x10 with "Indexed Railroad And Township Map Of California Published By Geo. F. Cram Chicago." in gilt.

CRAM, GEORGE FRANKLIN 1880
Cram's Railroad & Township Map of California.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Separate Map Reference: cf P1275.
From New Commercial Atlas...U.S. and the Standard American Atlas of the United States;1st edition 1875. This is from a later edition of Cram's first (and best!) atlas. Compared to the atlas map in the 1878 edition (see our copy) there are several railroads extended and more of Oregon and Mexico are shown.

Railroad Map Of Iowa Prepared For The Board Of Railroad Commissioners. By George F. Cram, Map

Publisher, 66 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill. Entered ... 1872, by Geo. F. Cram ... Washington.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Separate Map Size: 71x95 Scale: 1:575,000 Reference: Karrow 8-0827 (with incorrect date).
Special issue of Cram's New Sectional Map of Iowa , for the Railroad Commissioner's Maps and Profiles of Iowa Railroads(?). We have estimated the date based on further railroad and town/county development than our 1878 issue of Cram's New Sectional Map of Iowa. Karrow guesses incorrectly on the date by using the copyright date of 1872. This issue is without color or covers. We suspect that this was issued in the 1881 Commissioners' Report (see Karrow 8-0927). Map is without color.

Cram's Unrivaled Family Atlas of the World.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: World Atlas Size: 36x30 Reference: Not in Phillips.
An unknown (to Phillips) first edition published in 1882 (the first Phillips listing is 1883). Most of the U.S. state maps are entirely different from the 1883 edition maps - the titles are in round ovals and begin with "New Railroad and County Map of..." and they are hand colored as compared with the printed color of the 1883 edition maps. The few state maps without the oval titles are in printed colors as are the world and foreign maps, similar to the 1883 edition maps. Cram probably could not afford to keep the atlas price as inexpensive as he wanted with hand coloring, so he switched to machine color for all the maps the next year. Scarce.

Pennsylvania. Geo. F. Cram, Engraver and Publisher, Chicago. Copyrighted 1882.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Pocket Map Size: 41x56 Scale: 1:925,000
With a separate index of 67 railroads. This map predates, but is in the same form as, the Standard American Atlas maps of 1887 (our earliest issue). The Pennsylvania map in that atlas lists 76 railroads. Folded into black cloth covers 15x10 with "Indexed Railroad And County Map Of Pennsylvania Published By Geo. F. Cram Chicago" in gilt, which is worn off on this copy. Printed color.

CRAM, GEORGE FRANKLIN 1883
Cram's Unrivaled Family Atlas of the World.
Chicago: A.C. Shewey and Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 36x30 Reference: P912.
First edition. This is the first "mass production" world atlas made by Cram. Has a page of ads in back for Cram maps and Atlases. There is a copyright date of 1883 on the title page and an 1883 date on the cover. This run seems to have gone to 1891 (last Phillips date) but then continued in different formats but a similar title, up to 1952.

Cram's Unrivaled Family Atlas of the World.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: World Atlas Size: 36x30 Reference: cf P6223 (10th edition).
The third year of publication, and Cram had already gone through thirteen editions (Phillips lists an 1885 (6222) with no edition given, and another 1885 (6223) with 10th edition, revised to July 1885). This copy says Thirteenth edition, revised to November, 1885. One assumes that Cram put out several editions per year, to keep up with changing railroads, etc.

Railroad And County Map Of Alabama. Engraved for Grant's Business Atlas.
Chicago: George F. Cram. Type: Pocket Map Size: 56x41 Scale: 1: 1,077,000 Reference: None found.
The date is estimated from the exact match of this map to the map in Cram's Standard American Atlas of 1887. Cram also produced these maps for Grant's Business Atlas - here he did not bother to change the title. Catalogue of Cram's two major atlases of the period in the back. In blue paper covers 15x10 with the view of a steam engine and train, and titled "Cram's Township And Rail Road Map Of Alabama. Published By George F. Cram, 262 & 264 Wabash Ave., Chicago." in black. Printed color.

Austin: Robert Creuzbaur; New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 90x83 Scale: 1:1,180,000 Reference: Taliaferro 295 C; Wheat 609 (1849 ed.); Ristow p459; P-Maps 845; Graff 920;Martin 141,155.
This is a very late edition of this map, not listed in any of the standard references. The main map shows much new county development in the western part of the state as well as a redrawing of many of the rivers in the northwestern part and the upper end of the Rio Grande. The inset map has changed from a rectangle to an oval, still showing the Western States from the Colton U.S. map. Colton is not listed as publisher of this edition on the map, but the stamped dark brown cloth covers 16x10 say "J. De Cordova's Texas Published by G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co." in gilt. Full color.

CRUCHLEY, G.; LAURIE, RICHARD HOLMES 1833
Fredonia Or The United States of North America; Including Also Cabotia, Or The Canadian Provinces; The Western Territory To The Pacific Ocean; And the Northern Part of the Mexican States. 14th August, 1830. Additions 1833.
London: G. Cruchley. Type: Case Map Size: 64x97 Scale: 1: 570,000 Reference: cf Wheat 393 (1830 ed.); Streeter 3845, 3846.
The third edition (although we can detect no changes from the first issue of 1830). Has the note in the lower left explaining the origin of the term Fredonia. This map is the only one we have seen that copies almost literally three earlier maps: Lewis and Clark (1814), Long (1822), and Arrowsmith's Mexico (1820). Laurie used the term Fredonia, we may assume, to create a novelty of his map, in the same manner as his "Cabotia" map of 1814. Has the original case with label, and an advertisement for Cruchley's publications on the verso of the map. WH has another edition dated 1834 improved to 1836 (with changes in California based on John Arrowsmith's Map of British North America, 1834), and the second edition of 1832. The western topography is changed to incorporate Arrowsmith's map of 1834 (British North America) and an independent Texas is shown. Editions seen of 1830, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1836, 1849. It appears that the map was updated frequently in order to keep it current. It is an excellent and beautiful map.

CRUCHLEY, G.; LAURIE, RICHARD HOLMES 1849
Fredonia Or The United States of North America; Including Also Cabotia, Or The Canadian Provinces; The Western Territory California, Oregon and the Northern Part of the Mexican States. 1849.
London: R.L. Laurie. Type: Case Map Size: 64x97 Scale: 1: 570,000 Reference: cf Wheat 393;cf Streeter 3845-6.
Late edition; 1st edition 1830. Lacks the note in the lower left corner regarding the origin of the term Fredonia; such note appears in the earlier editions. However, the western geography of this edition is most interesting, as it incorporates Fremont's discoveries. It does not have indications of gold discoveries. Graphically, a very beautiful map. See Spafford's Geography 1809 for further discussion of Fredonia. Cruchley published the 1830, 1832, and 1833 editions (as did Laurie, according to Wheat 393).

CUMMINGS, J. A. (JACOB ABBOT) (1817)
Boston: Cummings and Hilliard. Type: School Atlas Size: 32x26 Maps: 22
Covers are half leather, marbled paper covered boards with no title. A very well printed edition of the same eight modern maps as the "School Atlas" (6th edition) plus thirteen ancient maps and a plan of the Temple of Jerusalem. Maps from Wilkinson, including (we assume) the ancient maps. The plate marks are clearer and the impressions much stronger and the paper better than the school atlas. Was this a school atlas, or sold as a complete adult atlas? He lists it in the catalogue (see rear of Modern Atlas and the text books)as a separate publication from the school books, although his listing has 2 fewer ancient maps.

By Samuel Cummings. Cincinnati: Published by George Conclin. 1838. (on verso) Entered ... 1825, by Samuel Cummings ... Ohio.
Cincinnati: George Conclin. Type: Guide Book Size: 22x15 Maps: 44 Reference: P1322; Howes C946.
Borrowed heavily from Cramer, without credit. 1st edition 1822, last edition under this title 1854, then issued under other titles until 1883. Cramer's last edition was 1824, so this guide was the successor. See Yost for a list of the editions. This is a more sophisticated production than Cramer, with more detailed charts reflecting increased knowledge of the river as it was ever more heavily traveled. Uncolored maps. Paper covered boards with title printed on cover.

Manuscript. Type: Manuscript MapWorld Atlas Size: 49x35 Maps: 80 Reference: Tooley Dictionary; Shirley 588.
A large atlas of outline maps by Dangeau, perhaps some of the earliest examples of outline maps used for teaching geography. This copy was put together by Dangeau. The maps were probably issued separately, and this atlas is one of the few bound copies. A note in French opposite the manuscript title page says that Buache had examples of these maps in his library. Some additions to the book were made by an owner subsequent to Dangeau's death in 1723.

This copy was in the Phillipps Manuscript collection (no. 24790) and was sold by Sotheby's in 1903 and 1919. Of the 80 maps - 36 are 18 sets of two maps each, one a regular map and the other with blanks to be filled in by the student, with the regular maps having flaps on both sides with explanatory text; these maps teach basic notions of geography of the World, Europe, and France. 23 maps present administrative, both civic and ecclesiastical, divisions of France. 21 maps are of the countries which then formed the Holy Roman Empire of Germany, in the same manner as the maps of France. There are also 44 tables illustrating the history and geneology of the French dynasties; four of these tables are beautiful illustrations of coats of arms. The atlas is bound in full dark green leather covered boards with title and ornate border embossed in gold; the spine is stamped with "Geographie De La France Par L'Abbe De Dangeau 74. Cartes, 38 Planches."

38 Maps. Union Atlas, Containing New and Improved Maps Of All The Empires, Kingdoms, & States, In The Known World, Designed as a Companion to the various Gazetteers & books of Geography now in use, The whole clearly Engraved by Artists of Eminence and carefully coloured. Including Maps of the Roman Empire and Ancient Greece. Published Jany. 25th, 1812 by William Darton, 58 Holborn Hill, London.
London: William Darton. Type: World Atlas Size: 41x34 Maps: 38 Reference: P719 (1814 edition).
Dated 1812 on the title page, with one map dated 1813 (England and Wales), the others dated 1811 or 1812. This is a charming atlas with well executed maps that are fairly typical for the period. From the title it seems that this was intended to accompany gazetteers and geographies and thus probably had some use in the schools. Darton also issued puzzle maps (see our #3407). Maps are hand painted in full color. Covers are new green marbled paper covered boards with a green leather spine and black leather label on the front reading "William Darton. Union Atlas 1812" in gilt.

DARTON, WILLIAM; GARDNER, W.R. 1823
New and Improved View of the Comparative Heights of the Principal Mountains and Lengths of the Principal Rivers In The World, The whole Judiciously arranged from the various Authorities Extant. By W.R. Gardner. London: William Darton, 58 Holborn Hill, 10 Mo. 23rd, 1823. W.R. Gardner Sculpt. 367 Strand.
London: William Darton. Type: Case Map Size: 30x38
Scale: 1:60,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary p.236; cf Wolter p.195.
This may be the earliest chart to depict the heights of mountains and the lengths of rivers together in one illustration, with the rivers hanging down over the mountains. Wolter says that Bulla's Tableau Comparatif of 1826 is the earliest of the combined mountain and river type, but he had not seen this chart by Gardner done three years earlier and does not list it. This chart is beautifully done and, while not large in size, it is impressive in its scope. Full color. Map is mounted on linen, dissected into 8 sections with an end sheet label reading "The Most Approved Modern Maps, Plans, And Charts, Of every Description, From The Best Authorities, Constantly on Sale at William Darton's Map, Print, and Chart Warehouse, 58, Holborn Hill, London..." Map folds into a dark green marbled cardboard case with a turquoise paper label printed with the map title (as above); there is a "William Darton's, Map seller" bookplate label on the back of the case.

(Eight maps that accompanied "A New System of Modern Geography" published by Davies in Philadelphia, 1805, the first edition).
Philadelphia: Jacob Johnson. Type: School Atlas Size: 18x11 Maps: 8 Reference: cf Walsh p 99.
Usually these maps were bound into the school book. Somewhere along the line, these were separated and bound in marbled paper covers (we doubt they were issued that way, although it is possible). These maps accompanied the first 1805 edition of Davies' text. Later editions had seven and then six maps. Uncolored.

Separately bound group of eight maps that probably accompanied Davies' 1813 or 1811 (not seen) edition of "A New System of Modern Geography." These maps are similar to the 1805 edition of the same group of eight maps bound separately except for the 1811 date on the world map, and a different coloring of the U.S. map (to show Illinois, Indiana and Michigan). Interestingly, the text edition of 1813 only has six maps (as issued according to Walsh), leaving out the U.S. and Great Britain maps.

DAVIES, BENJAMIN. 1815
A New System of Modern Geography, Or A general Description of the Most Remarkable Countries Throughout The Known World...Illustrated With Eight Maps..
Philadelphia: Johnson & Warner. Type: School Atlas Size: 18x11 Maps: 6 Reference: Walsh p175; Nietz p228.
4th edition, copyright 1804. The first edition was 1805 and had eight maps, Great Britain and the U.S. added to the six maps here. The second edition of 1805 had seven maps, Great Britain added but no U.S. map. The third edition of 1813 had six maps, the same as this fourth edition, even though the title page for both calls for eight maps. Nietz calls Davies one of the "minor geographies," even though it went through five editions from 1805 to 1816. This edition is up to date with the new state of Louisiana and Missouri territory (both 1812).

(DAVIES, CHARLES STUART) 1832
The North-Eastern Boundary of the United States.
Boston: Peirce & Parker. Type: Pamphlet Size: 16x10 Reference: Williamson 2690; Howes D78 (Both listed under Daveis).

DAVIS, F.A. 1876
New Illustrated Atlas Of Lehigh County, Pennsylvania. Compiled & Drawn from Personal Examinations, Surveys & Under the Personal Supervision of F.A. Davis. and Published under the Superintendence of H.L. Kochersperger By The Reading Publishing House, Reading, Pa. A.M. Davis Successor to F.A. Davis & Co. 1876. Copyright 1876, By O.W. Gray & Son, & F.A. Davis & Co. Maps & Atlases Plain and Colored Lithographing Engraving on Wood or Stone ... Historical Works & Charts ...
Reading, Pennsylvania: Reading Publishing House. Type: County Atlas Size: 44x38 Maps: 36 Reference: P2481; Modelski North America 61(South Mountain & Boston Railroad Map).
Views, plats and advertisements are placed in fairly typical fashion (although there are several large folding maps of Allentown) but what distinguishes this atlas is a double page map at the back of the atlas called "Map of The South Mountain and Boston Rail Road & Connections." This map is listed in Modelski; at the time the atlas was published, the railroad was under construction and about to enter and pass through Lehigh County. On page 14 of the atlas is a long description of The South Mountain Railroad, "The most important enterprise now in progress, affecting Lehigh County..." This map appeared in two other county atlases, one by F.W. Beers of Lebanon County, 1875, and the other by A.M. Davis of Westmoreland County, 1876. So the railroad used the county atlases to promote its business. Maps in full color. Bound in half leather black cloth covered boards with a round burgandy cloth label stamped with "New Historical Atlas Of Lehigh County Pennsylvania, Illustrated. Reading Publishing House. 1876" in gilt.

DEGROOT, HENRY; HOLT, WARREN 1863
DeGroot's Map Of Nevada Territory Exhibiting A Portion Of Southern Oregon & Eastern California With County Boundaries, Mining Districts, Railroad Routes, Wagon Roads, Table Of Distances, &c. &c. Published By Warren Holt, 305 Montgomery St. San Francisco, Cal. 1863. Entered ... 1862 by Warren Holt ... California.
San Francisco: Warren Holt. Type: Separate Map Size: 97x78 Scale: 1:776,160 Reference: Wheat 1069; WC 354a (note); Howell Americana #52, 338.
Very scarce detailed map of the early Nevada Territory. Wheat: "DeGroot's 'Nevada' of 1863 is truly an impressive performance...cartographical pioneering of the first order." Wheat believed that the map may have actually been published in 1862 (the date of its copyright) but dated 1863 to be up to date, because it shows the eastern boundary of Nevada at the 116th meridian instead of the 115th which was made the boundary in July of 1862. Much is shown in Nevada, but also in western California, Southern Oregon (the Owyhee is "unexplored") and a small corner of Washington Territory (now Idaho). According to Wheat, DeGroot had extensive first hand knowledge of the entire area and the map displays this with great clarity. What is unusual about this map is its sense of accuracy - it looks like nothing has been put in that the author was not sure of - much like Arrowsmith's maps of the early 1800's. W.H. has the Howell copy with DeGroot's printed Guide to the map mentioned by Wheat and Wagner Camp; probably the only copy of the map existing with the guide, and the only copy of the guide. Map is in full color by county.

The Atlantic Neptune, Published For the use of the Royal Navy of Great Britain, By Joseph F.W. Des Barres Esq. Under the Direction of the Right Honorable, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty...1780 (Series III Reproductions by Barre Press).
Barre, Massachusetts: The Barre Publishing Company. Type: Chart Size: 91x61 Maps: 13 Reference: See Phillips listings for Des Barres Neptune.

DESILVER, CHARLES; RICHARDSON, W. & D. 1861
Richardson's New Map Of The State Of Texas Including Part of Mexico Compiled From Government Surveys And Other Authentic Documents. Published By Charles Desilver No. 714 Chestnut Street Philadelphia. Engraved Expressly For The Texas Almanac. Corrected By H. Wickland. 1861. Entered ... 1861 by Charles Desilver ... Pennsylvania. (inset) Map Showing The Proposed Route Of The Aransas (sic) Railroad (And Its) Connections With The Eastern Roads.
Philadelphia: Charles Desilver. Type: Separate Map Size: 63x83 Scale: 1:2,217,600 Reference: Rosenberg Library 322A, 322B; Day 1012 (1860 edition) and 428; Winkler 1373x; P-Maps 846.
This is an exceptionally attractive map of Texas on the eve of the Civil War. It was issued with Richardson's Texas Almanac of 1861 or possibly the 1862 issue (almanac not present). Railroads completed and in progress are particularly well delineated, and a box of text in the lower left corner (pasted on top of an earlier printing) lists the completed railroads and their proposed extensions as well as one canal, the Galveston Bay and Brazos River. In the lower right is an inset map of the proposed route of the Arkansas Railroad. The topography, coasts and rivers are accurately delineated, with the source being the outstanding Map of Texas and part of Mexico, 1857, issued by the Bureau of Topographical Engineers (see our #5141). Pressler's Map of the State of Texas, 1858, is a secondary source, as is J.H. Young's Map of the State of Texas which was published in Desilver's 1859 (Mitchell's) New Universal Atlas (see our #4557). Richardson's map is a serious production, far more up to date than the Colton, Johnson, or Desilver/Mitchell atlas maps of 1861, and more accurate in west Texas, southern New Mexico and northern Mexico than the Pressler 1858 Texas (although Pressler issued an 1862 revised edition, not seen by us, that may be much improved). The first issue of Richardson's map appeared in the 1859 edition of the Texas Almanac, with the map dated 1859, copyright 1858 (Winkler 1052); again in the 1860 Almanac, with the map dated 1860; and our copy, dated 1861 and presumably appearing in the 1861 Almanac (Rosenberg 322B states that the Almanacs for 1857, and 1862-65 did not contain maps). Two other maps appeared in the Richardson Almanacs: J.H. Young's Map of the State of Texas (from Desilver's atlas) in the 1858 Almanac (Winkler 886 note) and Richardson's New Map of Texas, published by G.W. and C.B. Colton (Day 428 - about the same size as the Colton atlas map of 1867 and possibly related) and issued in the 1867 Almanac. Desilver stopped map publishing around 1861 (this map may have been his last production) so Richardson found a new publisher in the Coltons. This map and its earlier editions are rare, hardly ever found in the Almanacs. Given the map's high quality, it is surprising that it is not listed in Martin and Martin. Full color.

Pennsylvania. Philadelphia Published by Robert DeSilver 1827.
Scale: 1:1,130,000 Reference: None found.
Updated from M. Carey's 1818 edition General Atlas. Many changes from the 1818 edition: new towns and many new roads. Robert DeSilver's name with the date of 1827 is printed below the map. DeSilver did an Atlas in 1822 using the Carey maps (William Mayer has the only copy we have ever seen; it is not mentioned anywhere else), which he acquired, we presume, from Carey when Carey retired in 1822 (Ristow). The six maps listed here we acquired together (Penn, Ohio, Maryland, Conn, Georgia, and Virginia); an additional map of Massachusetts is the same vintage, but folded into pocket map covers; we acquired it separately. All seven maps have the same water mark, the same outline color by county, and all were clearly issued as separates; only Pennsylvania and Virginia have the DeSilver imprint; and only these two and Georgia have substantial updates from the earlier Carey imprints. Perhaps in 1827 he decided to reissue his 1822 Carey maps as Pocket Maps and separate maps.

DESILVER, ROBERT 1828
Desilver's Philadelphia Directory and Stranger's Guide, For 1828. Containing A Plan of the City and Suburbs ... Philadelphia: Published by Robert Deilver (sic), 110 Walnut Treet (sic). James Maxwell, Printer. 1st April, 1828.
Philadelphia: Robert DeSilver. Type: Guide Book Size: 22x15 Maps: 1 Reference: Phillips Philadelphia 190, 191.
The map, entitled, "New Plan of the City of Philadelphia Published by R. De Silver" is typical of the period and not particularly distinguished, though usually lacking in this volume. The directory lists many of the important map sellers and publishers of the period, including Benjamin and Henry Tanner. With this book we had hoped to gain insight (through an advertisement or preface) of the products of Robert DeSilver, but unfortunately his only advertisement is on the back cover and barely legible. Bound with paper covered boards and a new binding with "Philadelphia 1828" in gold on the spine.

Reissue from M. Carey's 1818 edition General Atlas. No changes from the 1818 edition. We assume that Robert DeSilver issued this pocket map, because the paper, coloring, and case are so similar to the maps we know he reissued from the Carey plates. The only difference between this pocket map and the DeSilver pocket map of Massachusetts that we have is the absence of any gold stamped title on the case cover. The covers 12x7 are made of red textured paper.

DESSIOU, J. FOSS; FADEN, WILLIAM, 1750?-1836 1808
A General Chart of the West Indies And Gulf Of Mexico, describing The Gulf and Windward Passages, Coast Of Florida, Louisiana And Mexico, Bay of Honduras and Musquito Shore; likewise the Coast Of The Spanish Main To The Mouths Of The Orinoco. Drawn from the Surveys taken by Mr. Geo. Gauld, and others, the New Spanish Charts, &c. and adjusted from recent Observations, By J. Foss Dessiou, Master of the Royal Navy. Approved by the Chart Committee of the Admiralty. London, Published by W. Faden ... Charing Cross, June 4, 1808. Engraved by J. Tyrer, Chapel St. Pentonville. (inset) Chart Of The Virgin Islands. (inset) Chart Of The Coast Of Biruquete, Panama & Veragua, From Point Solano To Point Burica.
London: William Faden. Type: Case MapChart Map Size: 124x192 Scale: 1:2,100,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary p.160; cf NMM 321, 322.
With two inset charts. This is a highly detailed general chart of the West Indies that is similar in scope and size to Arrowsmith's chart of the same area, but Dessiou's chart gives more detail to the coast lines, harbors, water depths, currents and less detail of the inland areas. We can find no specific reference to this wonderful chart, other than Tooley's Dictionary. Dessiou is listed in the National Maritime Museum Catalog as the author of a London edition of Le Petit Neptune Francais, also published by Faden. Scarce. Map is dissected into 40 sections, and mounted and edged with linen. Outline color. The map has a paste down label on the end sheet reading "Sold by Wm. Faden, Geographer to the King, Charing Cross". Folds into a new blue cloth folding case 32.5x21 with "Chart Of The West Indies J. Foss Dessiou 1808" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Albany: John Ogden Dey. Type: Case Map Size: 82x186 Scale: 1:330,000 Reference: P-Maps 509; cf Streeter 3818
Vance published the upper and western part of this map in 1823 (see Streeter 3818). Dey enlarged it in 1824 and 1825 by adding an eastern portion, taking the state to its eastern boundary with New England, and also adding a lower section that includes a "Geological Profile Extending from the Atlantic to Lake Erie" (which shows the Erie Canal) and four views of the complete Erie Canal. On the main map is a profile of the western and middle sections of the Erie Canal and tables of statistics and geological remarks. The whole production is a celebration of the recently completed Erie Canal. Streeter calls the 1823 issue a "fine large scale colored map." Full color by county. Map has silk edging and is dissected into 36 sections. Folds with marbled paper end sheets, and lies loosely in quarter leather marbled paper covered boards 30x17 with leather ties; "Dey's Improved Map Of N. York" is stamped in gilt on the spine. Scarce.

Nueva York: J. Disturnell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 74x101 Scale: 1:4,561,920 Reference: A la Carte, Martin p205-221; Streeter 254; Wheat 507.
The first Disturnell edition, and the second Martin edition (after the 1828 White Gallaher and White first edition). Wheat calls this edition a "famous" map. This edition is distinguished by the absence of a trail line running directly from San Antonio to Austin, Texas, that appears on the third Martin edition. Compared to our seventh edition (see our # 2541), there are substantially fewer towns, roads, and physical features both in Mexico and the U.S. The two profiles in the Pacific and two inset maps in the Gulf of Mexico of the 1847 edition are not present. The covers and paste down statistics are the same as our 1847 edition. The map was printed from the same plate as the 1828 White Gallaher and White edition, evidenced by the faint copyright notice in the lower right corner under the neat line; Disturnell made many updates to the 1828 edition, and its republication by him was occasioned by the outbreak of the Mexican War. White Gallaher and White copied and slightly enlarged Henry Tanner's 1826 Map of the United States of Mexico (see our #5176). Martin lists twenty three editions of Disturnell's map. A significant difference between the Disturnell map and the earlier editions by White Gallaher and White, and Tanner, is the moving of the boundary line between Alta and Baja California about 70 miles further north toward San Diego, which was then used as the boundary in the treaty to end the Mexican War. Map is full color, folded into red cloth covers 15x10 with "Mexico." stamped in gold.

Mapa de los Estados Unidos De Mejico, Segun lo organizado y definido por las varias actas del Congreso de dicha Republica ... Lo Publican J. Disturnell, 102 Broadway. Nuevo York. 1847. Revised Edition. (inset) Carto De Los Caminos &c. Desde Vera Cruz Y Alvarado A Mejico. (inset) Chart of the Bay of Vera Cruz. (inset) Map Showing The Battle Grounds of the 8th and 9th May 1846.
Nueva York: J. Disturnell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 74x101 Scale: 1:4,561,920 Reference: A la Carte, Martin p205-221; Streeter 255; Wheat 540.
The seventh edition known as the "Treaty Map." This map was "the official cartographic reference consulted in negotiating the peace treaty of February 2, 1848, which terminated the Mexican War..." (Martin). The first of seven issues in 1847, this is easily identifiable by having only two inset maps in the Gulf of Mexico (later issues have four). The twelfth edition was also used as a treaty map. This copy folds into red cloth covers15x10, with "Mexico" stamped in gold, and with "Statistics of the Republic of Mexico" pasted on the inside front cover. Signature of Cornelius S. Van Alstine, U.S. Navy, on verso of map. Streeter refers to this seventh edition as “the most important edition of the Disturnell map." Map is full color.

New York: Charles Scribner. Type: Gazetteer Book Size: 19x13 Maps: 1 Reference: cf Sabin 20325.
Has Colton Map of North America showing Confederacy. Issued from 1850-67 (see Sabin). The Colton map is the Atlas map, but colored specially for Disturnell to show the seceding states (only issue of the map like this that we have seen). It is also more up to date than our 1861 Atlas map in that it shows Colorado, Nevada and Dakota - which the Atlas map only colors (but shows on the U.S. map). Name of J.D. Graham, Lt. Colonel, U.S. Army, Chicago, June 21, 1861, written on front end sheet. Graham was a distinguished member of the topographical engineers and served as Long's assistant on his expedition (see Cape Cod map with Hood)- see DAB listing. The book is not listed in Stephenson or Howes.

DOOLITTLE, A.J.; HOLT, A.J.; RANSOM, LEANDER 1863
New Map Of The State Of California And Nevada Territory Exhibiting the Rivers, Lakes, Bays and Islands, with the principal Towns, Roads, Railroads and Transit Routes to the Silver Mining Districts of Nevada Territory ... Carefully compiled from United States and other Reliable Surveys by Leander Ransom. A.J. Doolittle, 1863. ... Entered ... 1863 by Warren Holt ... California. Lith. by L. Nagel, 529 Clay St. San Francisco.
San Francisco: Warren Holt. Type: Pocket Map Size: 68x54 Scale: 1: 1,520,640 Reference: Wheat 1071 (1863 edition); Streeter 2880; High Ridge 11-120 (identical to this copy).
There are several editions of this map: The first appears in 1862 (Wheat 1046 - "notably rare") under the title of "New Map of the State of California Exhibiting..." and copyrighted in 1861. The Nevada-Utah border in on the 116th meridian. Then in 1863, another issue appears with the same title, but dated 1863 and copyrighted in 1862. A table of distances is added above the title, and the Nevada-Utah boundary is still on the 116th meridian (Wheat 1070). The next issue is still 1863, same title, but the copyright 1863 (Streeter 2880). Then another 1863 issue with the title as above, but with "A" before "New Map..." and Nagel's name dropped (Wheat 1071 - illustrated p. 77). This issue is discussed at length by Wheat and is called "a Nevada map of first importance." There are many additions in Nevada from the prior issues - Wheat delineates them. Our copy is a variant of Wheat 1071 - there is no "A" in the title, Nagel's name is shown, and there are several erasures of town names and one mining district - Agusta Dist (just below the "V" and "A" of Nevada) had been erased as well. The Humboldt River has also been changed. It is not clear if our issue is earlier or later than the Wheat 1071. In stamped red cloth covers 16x11 with an ad for Maps, etc. on the inside cover, Adrien Gensoul's name pasted over Holt's name. Front cover stamped with "Map Of California And Nevada" in gilt. With four pages of routes and distances. This is a superb map, full of interesting and exotic information in Nevada and California.

De Elsevier - Globe Naar De Nieuwste Bronner Bewerkt Onder Toezight Van Dr. G. J. Dozy, Gratis - Premie Het Boek Der Reizen En Ontdekkingen Rotterdam. Uitgevers - Maatschappij "Elsevier."
Rotterdam: Elsevier. Type: Globe Size: 15 inches
Reference: cf Welsh Sale, Sotheby's, lot 368.
Collapsible globe with case. See Map Collector #33, p28-29, an article by van der Krogt on this very globe. This was a "Gratis - Premie" or a gift to accompany the book of journeys and discoveries by Jules Verne, adapted for Dutch readers by Dozy, and published by Elsevier. The wooden case has "De Elsevier Globe" printed on the sides and top. Not in Lanman's "Folding or Collapsible Terrestrial Globes." The title translates "The Elsevier Globe, adapted from the latest sources under supervision of Dr. G.J. Dozy. Presented free with the Book of Expeditions and Discoveries..." This form of globe was inspired by Betts' New Portable Globe (an umbrella type globe) published in London beginning in about 1860 and continuing into the twentieth century (van der Krogt). The similarity between this globe and the Betts globe of the same period is such that one might believe that Betts made this globe under contract with Elsevier (see Dekker and van der Krogt "Globes from the Western World" p127).

DREW, COLUMBUS 1870
Drew's New Map Of The State Of Florida Showing the Progress of the U.S. Surveys, the Completed & Projected Railroads, The Different Railroad Stations And Growing Railroad Towns, The New Towns on the Rivers and interior, and the New Counties, up to the Year 1870. Published by C. Drew, Bookseller & Stationer, Jacksonville, Fla. Copy right secured according to law. Engraved & printed by Julius Bien, N.Y.
Jacksonville: C. Drew. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x65 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Fitzgerald 167 (1874 edition); P-Maps 285 (1874 edition); High Ridge 18 (1877 edition).
This is the earliest issue of this map that we have seen, earlier than any listed in Phillips or Fitzgerald. Compared to our 1876 edition (see #5040) there is far less railroad development shown on the map and the railroads are not listed to the right of the Florida Peninsula, as they are on the 1876 issue. Julius Bien is credited as engraver and printer, which is removed on the 1876 edition. There is no copyright notice. Drew's map is probably the only pocket map of Florida published in Florida in the 19th century. Not much is known about Drew - he is listed on the map as "Bookseller & Stationer" in Jacksonville. Full color by county. Map is folded into stamped dark brown cloth covers 15x9.5 with "Drew's New Map Of Florida" in gilt.

DREW, COLUMBUS 1876
Drew's New Map Of The State Of Florida Showing the Townships by the U.S. Surveys, the Completed & Projected Railroads, The Different Railroad Stations And Growing Railroad Towns, The New Towns on the Rivers and interior, and the New Counties, up to the Year 1876. Published by C. Drew, Bookseller & Stationer, Jacksonville, Fla. Entered ... 1873, by Columbus Drew ... Washington.
Jacksonville: C. Drew. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x65 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Fitzgerald 167 (1874 edition); P-Maps 285 (1874 edition); High Ridge 18 (1877 edition).
The copyright date is 1873; there was an 1874 edition, then this 1876 edition, and an 1877 edition. The first edition was probably 1870 (see our #5190). Fitzgerald lists Julius Bien as the engraver of the 1874 edition - his name is absent from this 1876 edition. A fine, scarce pocket map of Florida published in Jacksonville, Florida, and the only map in the Fitzgerald list and in Phillips Maps published by a Floridian in the 1800's. Several existing and proposed railroads are shown, and the map is generally thick with detail of emerging towns, roads, historic sites, etc. Map is folded into green cloth covers 15x10 with "Drew's Florida" stamped into an illustration of an armored arm stamped in gilt.

DRIOUX, C.J.; LEROY, CHARLES. 1876
Paris: Eugene Belin. Type: School Atlas Size: 34x26 Maps: 20 Reference: Tooley Dict. 172.
Interesting L'Amerique du Nord. Drioux and LeRoy did the better known Atlas Universel et Classique first in 1867 (Phillips 3562) with many editions up to 192- (Phillips 6404), which atlas shared the N. & S. America maps with this edition, but added a U.S. Map, and ancient maps (50 total maps for 1867) and other European maps, and grew to 97 maps in the last edition in Phillips (see our 1886 copy). Atlas is bound in half red leather brown marbled paper covered boards with "Adrien Prat." stamped in gilt on a red leather label. Maps are hand painted in full color.

Paris: Eugene Belin. Type: World Atlas Size: 34x27 Maps: 60 Reference: cf P940a (1887 ed.).
In the tradition of Soulier - an amazing mix of political, physical, and historical maps. This book was also approved for (says on the title page) and used in (see child's drawing on verso's of some maps) schools. The physical maps are very sophisticated, showing economic information as well. Maps are printed and hand painted in full color and bound in quarter leather tan paper covered boards with the title from the title page printed on the front cover. The spine is stamped in gilt with "Drioux Et Ch. Leroy. Atlas Universel Et Classique. Librairie Eug. Belin."

New York: M. Dripps. Type: Pocket Map Size: 46x52.5 Scale: 1:21,600 Reference: cf Haskell 1005 (with additional insets).
Not listed by Haskell, but similar to 1005, on the same scale. Probably one of Dripps' first New York City pocket maps. Haskell lists none that are before 1854, only Dripps' larger wall maps of the city, the first of which was published in 1851. Also similar to Haskell 1010 of 1855 - same scale (1 inch = 1800 feet) and size but with the title changed to "Map of the Cities of New York, Brooklyn & Jersey City". All three of these maps are from the same mother map. Map is folded into black stamped cloth covers 13x9 with "Dripps' Map Of New York." in gilt.

Paris: Arthus Bertrand. Type: Exploration Book Size: 23x15 (two text volumes); 53x35 (atlas) Maps: 14 Scale: 1:5,555,555 Reference: P1457; Wheat 474; Harlow 28, 29; Verner 43; Howes D542 ("c"); Streeter 3323; Graff 1169; Sabin 21144.
Considered to be the best book on California prior to the American occupation. Wheat calls the large map "a landmark...It made these western regions known in European official circles...his highly original map has much to commend it." Wheat neglects to mention the similarities between this map and the John Arrowsmith Map of British North America, 1837 edition. While not a copy of the Arrowsmith, it clearly followed the Arrowsmith map in most areas. The atlas volume contains, in addition to the large map, plans of ports from Acapulco to the Aleutians, including San Diego, Santa Barbara, Monterey, San Francisco, and the mouth of the Columbia. The chart of San Francisco Bay is based on Beechey's chart of 1833, improved by de Mofras' own explorations, particularly in the north bay. This copy belonged to the Prince of Coburg, with a presentation inscription from the author. The large map is hand painted in outline color, all others are without color. Covers of the volumes are half leather dark green cloth covered boards with a crown embossed on the front in gilt. The title "De Mofras. Mexique. Californie. Oregon. 1" is stamped in gilt on the spine of volume one, "... 2" on volume two, and "...Atlas" on the atlas. Rare.

DURY, ANDREW. 1763

London: Dury, Sayer, & Bowles. Type: World Atlas Size: 14x15 Maps: 39 Reference: P634.
Small pocket atlas. Shows results of Treaty of 1763 (Phillips). The map of Canada is double page (a change from the 1761 first edition) and most interesting; it shows New England and the Great Lakes. All of the maps have extra titles above or below the neatline in French. This raises the question of whether Dury copied a French atlas. Thomas Kitchen engraved the majority of the maps with J. Spilsbury and J. Ellis doing the remainder.

Hand col. lithographic map. Counties in full color. Ornamental border. Relief shown by hachures. Shows public land survey system townships. Cover in embossed brown cloth with gold stamping: Topographical map of Colorado. G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co. Advertisement for the company insite cover. An ed. of 1865 published by Jacob Monk with title: Map of the Colorado Territory, shewing the system of parks -- almost identical, but specially colored to emphasize the parks. Some place names not appearing on that 1865 ed. include Fort Collins, Greeley, Valmont, Ore City, Cash Creek, San Luis, Costilla, Conejos; others have been changed: Colorado to Colorado City, Frank's town to Franktown, Costilla Co. to Saguache Co. First ed. published in 1862 by Jacob Monk. Wheat: "the first 'indigenous' (Colorado) map of importance...a truly imposing map, a credit to all who had a hand in it..." Ellis lists the 1862 map under Monk, has the copyright which was issued in 1862 (when he published the first ed.). Streeter mentions that the 1862 edition was the first separate map of Colorado and that it also appeared on a smaller scale (18 miles/inch) as an inset in the huge Pratt and Buell "Map of the Gold Regions in...Colorado Territory" of 1862. See note in Rumsey Collection's copy of the 1865 "parks" ed. for additional information.

EBERT, FREDERICK J.; GILPIN, WILLIAM, 1822-1894; MONK, JACOB 1865
Map Of Colorado Territory, Shewing The System Of Parks. Drawn by Frederick J. Ebert under direction of the Governor Wm. Gilpin. Published by Jacob Monk, Philadelphia, Pa. 1865. Thos. Sinclair's lith. Philada.
Philadelphia: Jacob Monk. Type: Pocket Map Size: 65x87 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Wheat 1118; Ellis 40; Streeter 2164; cf P-Maps 241 (1866 ed.)
2nd edition. Wheat: "the first 'indigenous' (Colorado) map of importance...a truly imposing map, a credit to all who had a hand in it..." Rare. The 1st edition was published in 1862 with a different title (Map of the Colorado Territory, Embracing the Central Gold Region...) and coloring (it does not emphasize the system of parks) but the same topography and political delineation. This 1865 edition colors the parks in deep blue (they look like water) and the continental divide in bright red and yellow. Ellis lists this map under Monk, has the copyright which was issued in 1862 (when he published the first edition). Streeter mentions that the 1862 edition was the first separate map of Colorado and that it also appeared on a smaller scale (18 miles/inch) as an inset in the huge Pratt and Buell "Map of the Gold Regions in...Colorado Territory" of 1862. Wheat mentions and Phillips lists an 1866 issue of the 1862 map, with J.H. Colton as the publisher. To further complicate matters, our copy of the 1865 edition has covers 16x12 with a printed blue label saying "Monk's Map of Colorado Territory" (barely legible) and a paste down advertisement for “J.H. Colton's Geographical Establishment" on the inside front cover. So Colton was distributing the 1865 edition and then took over publishing the map in 1866. Gilpin wrote "The Central Gold Region" in 1860 with six maps, republished in 1873 with additions and titled "Mission of the American People," which had a map showing the system of parks in manner similar to this map.

EDDY, JOHN H. (1811)
Map Of The Country Thirty Miles Round the City of New York. Designed & Drawn by I.H. Eddy of N. York, 1812. To Dewitt Clinton Esqr. Mayor of the City of New York This Map is inscribed by his respectful friend The Author. Published by Prior & Dunning, Map & Chart sellers No. 111 Water Street. Copy Right secured according to Law. Engrd. by P. Maverick, Newark, N. Jersey.
New York: Prior & Dunning, Map & Chart sellers. Type: Case Map Size: 58x58 Scale: 1:190,080 Reference: Haskell 659; Stokes v. 3, p.551; American Monthly Magazine and Critical Review, May 1818, pp12-14 (Eddy's Obituary).

1st edition. Other editions of 1828, 36, 39, 42. Reengraved by Colton in 1846 (see our 1853 edition). Rare. Stokes: "This is one of the most complete, accurate, and beautiful early engraved maps showing New York and its environs." It was engraved by Peter Maverick. Stokes states that J. M. Atwood reengraved this map in 1846 for Colton (although the reengraving changed the map substantially). The 1828 reissue was in guide book form by Hooker and Blunt, Disturnell issued the 1836 and 39 editions (see our 1839 issue), and Goodrich issued the 1842 edition. Stokes dates the map at 1811 because of a reference to its publication in the October, 1811 issue of The American Medical and Philosophical Register. Eddy's name is written "I.H. Eddy" on the map, the "I" probably mistaken by the engraver for the "J." Map has outline color; dissected into 15 sections and mounted on linen. Folds with a gray marbled end sheet into a new gray cloth folding case 21x13 with "Thirty Miles Round New York J. Eddy 1811" stamped in gilt on the spine.

New York: James Eastburn & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 97x110 Scale: 1:650,000 Reference: Ristow p103; Phillips Maps p509.
This map was published after Eddy's death (see biography of Eddy in American Monthly Magazine and Critical Review, May, 1818). Eddy was deaf, and died young at 35, on December 22, 1817. He also published a map of the county 30 miles around New York City (circular) in 1811 (see our copy), and a map of the western part of New York State for the canal commissioners in 1811. An extraordinary map maker about whom little has been known. He planned an American Atlas and a Map of the State of New Jersey, both abandoned after his death (perhaps Tanner's American Atlas was somehow related to Eddy's proposed Atlas). Tanner lists the three New York maps as sources for his New York Map in his American Atlas and has only the highest praise for Eddy. This New York State map is remarkable for its clarity of execution and detail. New York state counties and other states with outline color. Maps is dissected into 16 sheets, and lays in a new burgundy cloth folding case 29x25 with "State Of New York J.H. Eddy 1818" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Walpole: Edward Ruggles. Type: Wall Map Size: 75x47 Scale: 1:445,000 Reference: Cobb 94.
Engraved by O.T. Eddy. View of Bellows Falls under the title. Superb condition. This map is scarcer that the 1814 Carrigain map of New Hampshire. Various turnpike roads are shown, churches, counties and towns. There is a curious note in northern Vermont about the disappearance of Long Pond. Ruggles also did a map of New England and a map of the United States (after Shelton & Kensett). With black top and bottom sticks. Outline color by county.

EITEL, EDWARD E. 1886
Pocket County Atlas of California, Drawn from the Latest Official Sources, By Edward E. Eitel. Showing All Post Offices, Towns, Rail Roads, Stage Lines Carrying U.S. Mail, Also Indicating the Relative Distance From Town To Town, And the Prominent County Wagon Roads In Each County.
San Francisco: No Publisher. Type: State Atlas Size: 11x15 Maps: 56 Reference: None found.
First edition, unrecorded in any collections - only two other copies located (Bancroft Library and the Sutro Library). This is the earliest California state atlas that we have located. It includes a general map of California, four detailed maps of San Francisco, 51 individual county maps, all in black and white lithography, with advertisements for San Francisco businesses on the verso of each page. The maps, though small, are very detailed, showing many settlements and camps. Eitel republished this atlas in 1894, with different maps (showing counties in groups) under the sponsorship of Fireman's Fund (see our 1897 edition, #4599), with reissues in 1897, 1900, and 1909 - the 1909 edition adds Nevada. Blue printed wrappers, "Price 50 Cents."

EITEL, EDWARD E.; FIREMAN'S FUND INSURANCE COMPANY. 1897
County Atlas of California Showing All Towns, Post offices, Railroads, County Roads, Stage Lines Carrying Passengers, Mail and Express, And Distances Between Points.
San Francisco: Fireman's Fund Insurance Company. Type: State Atlas Size: 13x17 Maps: 20 Reference: P3704 (1894 edition).
The maps are in black and white and there are no maps of Nevada Counties, unlike the 1909 issue. The maps, though small, are quite good in showing the stage routes and railroad lines in detail. The first edition in this format was issued in 1894. An 1886 edition was substantially different (see our #5195). Eitel also issued a County Atlas of Oregon and Washington in 1894 (P2438).

ELLICOTT, JOSEPH & B. 1804
Map of Morris's Purchase or West Geneseo In the State of New York. Exhibiting Part of the Lakes Erie and Ontario, the Straights of Niagara, Chautauque Lake and all the principal Waters, the Boundary lines of the several Tracts of Land purchase by the Holland Land Company, William and John Willink and others ... by Joseph & B. Ellicott 1800. To The Holland Land company their General Agents Theophilus Cazenove & Paul Bush Esquires, This Map Is respectfully inscribed by the Authors. 1804.
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 52x67 Scale: 1:336,000 Reference: Streeter 892 (890 for 1800 edition); P-Maps p. 292; Nestler p. 109; Vail 1233.
1st edition was 1800. Vail says this was the "Most important map of the Holland Land Company, published for the promotion of sale of their Western New York lands." Nestler calls it "Probably the most important map of western NY when Buffalo was still known as New Amsterdam, and when land companies were luring settlers to this new frontier." The map is highly detailed, showing every tributary of every tributary of every stream. All the township and range lines are laid down, every town located, all reservations shown and all roads indicated. One has the impression that the ground was expertly surveyed with care and diligence. The Holland land holding comprised well over three million acres, not a modest subdivision! Ellicott was the company's agent at Batavia for many years. Map is without color.

Ireland. New York: Ensign, Bridgman, & Fanning, 156 William St. Entered ... 1847, by H. Phelps ... New York. Lossing & Barritt.
New York: Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. Type: Broadside Size: 79x59 Scale: 1:800,000 Reference: None found.
Broadside map in full color, portraits, historical sketch. Copyright is by H. Phelps, 1847. This may be a later reissue by EB&F, which we would date at 1855 based on finding it with two other EB&F broadsides of 1855. This was probably issued to appeal to the desire of recent immigrants from Ireland for information and images of the home country.

Ornamental Map Of The United States & Mexico. Map Of The United States And Mexico. Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning, Publishers, 156 William St. New York. Entered ... 1855, by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning ... New York.
New York: Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. Type: Broadside Size: 78x56 Scale: 1:13,000,000 Reference: cf Streeter 3892 (1854 edition).
Compare to 1846, '47, and '48 issues. Derived from the 1848 edition by Ensigns and Thayer, this edition uses the same U.S. base map (cerograph) updated to show changes in the western U.S., and changing the map title to "Map of the United States and Mexico" (eliminating "Including Oregon, Texas and the Californias"). Portraits of Lafayette and Franklin flank Washington (replacing Gen. Taylor and Gen. Scott). "Distances in Mexico" is removed from the lower left of the map. The rest of the broadside is unchanged. Seven years after the Mexican War, the patriotic themes of expansion continue in this map. In full color.

ENSIGN, BRIDGMAN & FANNING (1859)
Our Country. Published By Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning 156 William Street, New York. Entered ... by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning, in the year 1855 ... New York. (inset) Map Of Mexico.
New York: Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. Type: Wall Map Size: 63x85 Scale: 1:6,000,000 Reference: None found.
The date is estimated from the political configuration; the copyright date is 1855. A map of the United States is surrounded by vignettes of Agriculture, Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce at the top, and eight scenes at the bottom beginning with Columbus and ending with the Railroad. On the left and right sides are the names of U.S. Presidents and statesmen. The main map is the same base map as that used in the Pictorial Map of the U.S., by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning, 1855. The plate of the map is looking very tired, and this may be its last use. The total effect of map and vignettes is striking and typical of the optimistic promotions of the period. The use of the title "Our Country" is seen in other maps of the late 1850's (see Morse and Gaston, Our Country, Present and Prospective) and reflects the expansionist sentiments toward Mexico and Central America ("Their Country" which we covet). The map is scarce, not found in any references or collections. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state.

Map Of The United States From The Latest Authorities. New York, Published By T. & E.H. Ensign. 36 Ann St. 1847. Entered ... 1845, by T. & E.H. Ensign ... New York. Drawn & Engraved By Wm. S. Barnard, N.Y. (inset) Map Of Texas. (inset) Southern Part Of Florida. (inset) Map Of Oregon.
New York: T. & E.H. Ensign. Type: Wall Map Size: 88x105 Scale: 1:2,851,200 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1550 (1846, listed under Wm. S. Barnard).
The map extends west to the beginning of Texas. There are three inset maps: Texas, Southern Part of Florida, and Oregon. Under the title is a beautiful eagle and globe cartouche, floating on clouds above an America bristling with "improvements," such as steamships, railroads, factories, etc. The ornamental border incorporates statistical information on all the States. The inset map of Texas is very well done, although there is no hint of the Mexican War to come. The copyright date is 1845. Karrow 1-1550 is the same map with no Oregon inset map. WIth full color by county, states outlined in dark pink. Top and bottom rollers are black wood.

Published by Ensign & Thayer, 50 Ann Street New York. And 12 Exchange St., Buffalo. Sowle & Ward, 43 Cornhill, Boston. Rufus Blanchard: Cincinatti.
New York: Ensign, Thayer, & Co.; Cincinnati: Rufus Blanchard; Boston: Sowle & Ward. Type: Separate Map Size: 78x56 Scale: 1:13,000,000 Reference: Wheat Gold 38;Streeter 3872.
Compare to 1846, '47 Ornamental Map by H. Phelps. This copy is the same as the Streeter 3872, but a slight variant of the Wheat Gold 38 (Changes in the Cincinnati, Boston and Buffalo addresses). Wheat suggests that the map is a cerograph or a wood cut - we believe it is a cerograph. This piece celebrates the U.S. victory over Mexico and shows graphically the growth of U.S. territory from coast to coast. Views of the Contemplated Oregon Railroad from New York to the Pacific Coast, Portraits of Generals Taylor and Scott, etc. A table of Distances in Mexico is in the lower right corner of the map. Rufus Blanchard's name appears in the lower left under the Great Temple. There was an edition of 1855 by Ensign, Bridgman and Fanning (see our copy and see Streeter 3892 for 1854, also by EB&F). Full color.

(New York: Ensigns & Thayer). Type: Broadside Size: 60x48 Reference: Wheat Gold 85.
This is the thin paper copy with smaller ornamental border and no publisher credit. Wheat believes it was folded into some copies of Farnham's "Life, Adventures, and Travels in California;" our copies of that book have the Haven map pasted in one (see our #3963)and this map pasted in the other (see our #5001). This copy shows signs of being folded. It was probably sold with the book and separately. The text is the same as the broadside issue but the title is in different type. Scarce.

Map Of The Gold Regions Of California, Showing the Routes via Chagres and Panama, Cape Horn, &c. ... Published by Ensigns & Thayer, 50 Ann Street New-York. (with untitled inset map of North and South America).
New York: Ensigns & Thayer. Type: Broadside Size: 71x52 Scale: 1:6,000,000; 1:40,000,000 (inset) Reference: Wheat Gold 84.
With the wide (1.5 inch) ornamental border and printed on heavy paper. Similar to but an earlier version of the Upper or New California and Oregon portion of the Atwood and Ensigns & Thayer's Map of the United States, 1849. Closer to and derived from their Pictorial Map of the United States of 1847 (see Wheat). Also has a map of North and South America from an unknown source. Under the maps are two blocks of text, one titled "Important Directions to Persons Emigrating to California" and the other titled "Description of California or the new Gold Region." Another version of this map was published on thinner paper and with a 5/16 inch ornamental border (Wheat 85) (see our copy- the title is in different print). The geography of the west is pre-Fremont 1848 unlike the 1849 Map of the United States which incorporates Fremont 1848. This makes us think that the map may be 1848 - there is no date on the map and Wheat estimates the date from sources he does not mention (other than finding the thinner paper copy in a book published in 1849). Full color.

New York: Ensign, Thayer & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 78x56 Scale: 1:13,000,000 Reference: None found.
Same as the 1848 edition, but shows different states in the western U.S. Also eliminates the Table of Distances in Mexico. This map is mounted as a wall map. Blanchard's name is dropped. Date is estimated from the U.S. western states. Map is surrounded by drawings including pictures of Generals Taylor and Scott, a panoramic view from New York to the Pacific Ocean by the "contemplated Oregon railroad," the Great Temple destroyed by Cortez in 1521 and "The Halls of the Montezumas." The Spanish "Vancouver." Atlas volume only, first edition. Sometimes attributed to Dionisio Alcala Galiano. The title of the text volume is "Relacion del Viage Hecho por las Goletas Sutil y Mexicana en al ano 1792 para reconocer el estrecho de Fuca..." The last and very important voyage up the Pacific coast to be undertaken by Spain is detailed in the nine maps and eight plates of the atlas. Galiano and Cayetano Valdes led the expedition, arriving in the northwest at the same time as Vancouver. Although the maps were published four years after the Vancouver maps, Wagner considers them in many respects to be superior, and Humboldt used them in his Essai Politique sur le Royaume de la Nouvelle Espagne. Wagner further states: "The general impression today...is that the English discoveries of Vancouver were published four years before those of the Spaniards. This...is a misapprehension... The principal reason, however, why the nomenclature and geography of Vancouver came to occupy the field was that his maps were extensively copied by the famous English cartographer, Aaron Arrowsmith, and later by the English Admiralty."

EVERETT, HORACE; HOOD, WASHINGTON 1834
Washington: U.S. Type: Exploration Book Maps: 1
Reference: Wheat 405; WC 49; Howes E235; Graff 1274. Sabin 23282. First edition. The "Map of the Western Territory" is by Washington Hood and is noted by Wheat as "a highly credible performance...with considerable accuracy." There is no mention of Hood in the report and his name is not listed on the map, so we presume Wheat had other information that Hood made the map. The map, measuring 43x45, is in outline color by Indian territory. Bound in green linen covered boards with "Everett, Regulating the Indian Department, 1834" on the spine in gold.

FADEN, WILLIAM, 1750?-1836 1777
Geographical Exercises; Calculated To facilitate the Study of Geography, And, By an Expeditious Method, To imprint a Knowledge of the Science on the Minds of Youth. With A Concise Introduction, explaining the Principles of Geography. By William Faden. London: Printed for the Proprietor (Successor to the late Mr. Jefferys, Geographer to the King) at the Corner of St Martin's Lane, Charing-Cross. MDCCLXXVII.
London: William Faden. Type: School Atlas Size: 41x55 Maps: 18 Reference: None (World has 1795 outline map - p711).
Atlas of 9 completed and 9 outline maps. The maps are beautifully executed and quite large. According to Faden in the preface, this was a project begun by Jefferys before his death in 1771 and now completed by Faden. Faden also says that Henry Peacham used outline maps for teaching in the early part of the 17th century, but that they had not been used since then, at least in England (see our copy of Courcillon de Dangeau's teaching atlas of 1693 which used outline maps). There is an introduction which explains basic geographical principals and map drawing. The maps are dated 1773-76. The World Map on Mercator's Projection includes Cook's tracks. Scarce. Not listed in Phillips, NMM, World, Tooley. Faden published an Atlas Minimus for the use of schools in 1798 (Phillips 690), but the format was much smaller and did not use outline maps - it was an atlas with 55 maps. W.H. has a later edition with several maps dated 1783. B. McC. has a copy that a copy that is similar to ours, but Jeffrey's name has been removed from all but the America map, probably indicating a slightly later date than this one. All three copies are dated 1777 on the title page. Maps have outline color. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Faden's Geography For Youth" stamped in gilt on the spine.

FADEN, WILLIAM, 1750?-1836; GERLACH, P.,DEPUTY QUARTER MASTER GENERAL 1780
Plan of the Action at Huberton under Brigadier Genl. Frazier, supported by Major Genl. Reidesel, on the 7th. July 1777. Drawn by P. Gerlach Deputy Quarter Master General. Engraved by Wm. Faden. London Published as the Act directs Feby. 1st 1780, by W. Faden Charing Cross.
London: William Faden. Type: Separate Map Size: 28x35 Scale: 1:7,200 Reference: Nebenzahl Atlas 18, p.99 (illustrated); Nebenzahl 51; P1337, #25.

No place: John Farmer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 53x78 Scale: 1:495,000 Reference: Karpinski 129 D2.; Ristow p275 (1830 ed.).
2nd edition, 1st was 1835. First map engraved by Farmer himself. The last territorial map by Farmer, before statehood in 1837. The boundary with Ohio shows Michigan's claims that were relinquished upon statehood. Another issue of the map appeared in 1836 with "Published by J.H. Colton & Co., New York" in the title, reflecting the copyright transfer that occurred later in the year. A paste down ad for Colton's maps is on the inside back cover. The first issue of this map was in 1826, engraved by Balch & Stiles (Karpinski 100). The full color map is folded into stamped black leather covers 15x9 with "Farmer's Map Of Michigan Exhibiting The Sections" in gilt.

New York: J.H. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 58x83 Scale: 1:515,000 Reference: Karpinski 141., p18-21.
1st issue, later issues to 1855. Farmer sold his map copyrights to Colton in 1835, and this is the first issue of the "new" Farmer map by Colton, also probably one of the first maps of Michigan as a state. It is copyright 1836, but 1837 was the first issue. Colton also issued in 1837 another Farmer map he acquired - "Map of the State of Michigan and Territory of Wisconsin..." which was copyright in 1835 (Karpinski 140). The text on the inside of the front cover refers to Michigan as a Territory, so this map may be transitional from territory to state. The township and range lines are prominent on the map, and the text on the inside front cover tells us how to find our way if "totally lost" using these lines. Full color. Map is folded into stamped red leather covers 14.5x9 with "Farmer's Map Of Michigan Exhibiting The Sections" in gilt.

This edition not listed in Karpinski, who listed 1850 and 1854 editions. With the same three inset maps as the 1837 edition, except that the title of the top inset is changed to "Northern Part of Michigan." Compared to the 1837 edition, the main map is substantially changed, with the township and range surveys now covering the entire map, new railroads, towns, etc. Folded into stamped red leather covers 14.5x9 with "Farmer's Map Of Michigan In Sections" in gilt. Full Color.

FARMER, JOHN. 1853
Map Of The State Of Michigan And the Surrounding Country Exhibiting the Sections and the latest surveys. Compiled From Authentic Sources By John Farmer. Detroit. 1853. 23rd edition. Entered ... 1844 by John Farmer of Detroit. (inset) Plat of the Copper District on L. Superior. Engd. by J. Farmer.
Detroit: John Farmer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 81x56 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Karpinski 155 H5/6, p.20.
The first edition was 1844. Editions were issued almost yearly to 1857, although Karpinski does not record this 1853 issue. The "23rd edition" has "no significance as to actual editions" according to Karpinski. This copy is trimmed close on the western side and has no neat line on that side, which appears to be original(see our (1866) issue which is trimmed in the same manner), although Karpinski's width is two inches more on this side. The amount of detail that Farmer has put in this map is impressive. Farmer made maps of the Michigan area from 1824 to 1835, when he sold his copyrights to Colton. The first edition of this 1853 map represents his reentry into the map field. Karpinski: "In 1844 he brought out an entirely new map of the State of Michigan, which he engraved himself, and which represented a large amount of careful, conscientious work, and passed through many editions." The outline color map is folded into ornately stamped black leather covers 14.5x9 with "Farmer's Map Of Michigan Exhibiting The Sections" in gilt.

New York: J.H Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 68x94 Scale: 1:505,000 Reference: Karpinski 198 N2.
Second edition, first being 1855. This is the same base map as Farmer's "Map of the Surveyed Part of Michigan..." with the title slightly changed. When compared to the 1852 edition of the former title, there are many new towns in the Northern Counties. Full color. Map is folded into stamped burgundy leather covers 14.5x9.5 with title "Farmer's Map Of Michigan In Sections" in gold.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Pocket Map Size: 64x90 Scale: 1:506,880 Reference: cf Karpinski 267 (1868 edition).
This issue is unrecorded in Karpinski, who lists editions of 1868, 1870, 1871, and 1872. The base map is the same as the "Map of the Southern Part of Michigan" with the insets changed to a single inset map showing all of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. There is no copyright date. Many changes from the 1856 issue of the former title. Folded into patterned dark green cloth covers 14.5x9 with "Farmer's Sectional Map Of Michigan. J.H. Colton." stamped in gilt. Full color.

Detroit: John Farmer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 79x57 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Karpinski 155 H12.
The date has been erased on this copy, but the map otherwise corresponds to Karpinski 155 H12, which was issued in 1866. There are many changes from the 1853 edition (see our copy) including new towns, railroads, county boundaries, etc. The western edge of the map is trimmed without neat line in the same manner as the 1853 edition, so we assume this was how it was issued. Full color. Map is folded into textured dark green cloth covers 15x10 with "Farmer's Sectional Map of Michigan For Settlers & Land Dealers With Roads, Rail Roads, Cities Towns &c." stamped in gilt.

FINLEY, ANTHONY 1824
A New General Atlas Comprising a Complete Set of Maps, representing the Grand Divisions Of The Globe, Together with the several Empires, Kingdoms, and States in the World; Compiled from the Best Authorities, and corrected by the Most Recent Discoveries. Philadelphia: Published by Anthony Finley. 1824. (title page only) Written And Engraved By Jos. Perkins.
Phila: Anthony Finley. Type: World Atlas Size: 35x28 Maps: 60 Reference: cf P4314.
The 1st edition, 1st state. A rare early state of Finley's 1st edition. Many differences between this state and the more common second state - the index lists Eastern Hemisphere as no. 1, Rhode Island as no. 12, and Connecticut as no. 11. The North America map does not show James' Peak and some rivers in the north part of Canada. The United States map is much less detailed, and many of the state maps do not include counties, towns, roads, and rivers that appear in the second state. There is also inserted a single page advertisement for Finley's Map of the United States in the rear. The atlas has been rebound with the maps placed on tabs and in some cases reversed from their original positions - which original positions seem unusual, as if the book was put together in a hurry. Covers half leather, marbled paper covered boards with "Atlas Of The World. Bird." stamped in gold on the spine.

A New American Atlas, Designed Principally To Illustrate The Geography Of The United States Of North America; In Which Every Country In Each State And Territory Of The Union Is Accurately Delineated,

As Far As At Present Known: The Whole Compiled From The Latest And Most Authentic Information. Philadelphia: Published By Anthony Finley, At The North-East Corner Of Chestnut And Fourth Streets. 1826.
Phila: Anthony Finley. Type: National Atlas Size: 49x34 Maps: 15 Reference: P1378; Howes F140; NMM 485.
First issue; maps dated 1824-26. This atlas was Finley's attempt to compete with Tanner's American Atlas - the maps are grouped in much the same arrangement as Tanner and the cartography and engraving are equal to Tanner, although the scale and map size are smaller. There are only two issues that we have seen, both dated 1826 on the title page, but with different dates on the maps. Finley continued to publish the maps as pocket maps until 1831 when he sold his map and atlas copyrights to Mitchell, who reissued this American Atlas only once, in 1831 (see our #3884) but continued to issue the pocket maps, with updates, until about 1850. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with red leather label stamped with "Finley's American Atlas" in gilt. Full color.

Astronomical Recreations; Or Sketches of the Relative Positions And Mythological History Of The Constellations ... Illustrated By A Series Of Coloured Plates. Philadelphia: Published By Anthony Finley, N.E. Corner Of Fourth And Chestnut Streets. Clark & Raser, Printers, 33 Carter's Alley. MDCCCXXIV.
Philadelphia: Anthony Finley. Type: Celestial Atlas Size: 30x24 Maps: 19 Reference: None found.
Probably the first U.S. celestial atlas. Issued by Finley in the same year as his first terrestrial atlas, 1824, this was probably intended to accompany it, although it is never listed in Finley's catalogue. The advertisement page states: "The plates have been faithfully reduced from those in the last edition of the magnificent Atlas of Bode, published in Germany a few years since..." There is a second illustrated title page. Bound in half leather gray paper covered boards with yellow paste down label titled "Astronomical Recreations. Pub. by A. Finley Philada. P.E. Hamm Sc." On the spine of the cover is "Atlas Of The Stars." The author has inscribed this copy to his cousin, R.S. M'Cullah (sp.?). Full color.

Map Of The United States Of North America. Compiled from the Latest And Most Authentic Information By David H. Vance. Philadelphia Published by Anthony Finley. Entered ... July 12th, 1825. Engraved by J.H. Young. (inset) Map Of North America Including All The Recent Geographical Discoveries 1825. (inset profile) Comparative Elevation of the Principal Mountains and Hills in the United States.
Philadelphia: Anthony Finley. Type: Case Map Size: 132x156 Scale: 1:2,154,240 Reference: Streeter 3820 (this copy); P-Maps 883.
Scarce map of the United States west to 27 degrees from Washington. Predates Tanner's 1829 Map of the United States. Contemporary with Lay, but a much more ambitious production. With a large inset Map of North America (the same map that appeared in the 1826 Finley American Atlas), a list of the Principal Steamboat Routes, a Statistical Table of the United States, and an illustration showing the Comparative Elevation of the Principal Mountains and Hills in the United States. This map was advertised in the 1824 General Atlas by Anthony Finley.

The country west of the Mississippi is clearly derived from Long's map of 1822. There are curious and indecipherable lines and small white squares (contemporary?) on the upper part of the map. Full color by county, with dark orange silk edging. Map is dissected into 40 sections, folds into marbled end sheets and lies in half leather marbled covers 29.5x22 with "Map Of The U. States. Philadelphia 1825."; the original map and covers lie in maroon cloth folding covers which slip in a slip case 31x23 with a leather label reading "Vance. Map Of U.S. 1825" on the spine.

Map Of The United States Of North America. Compiled from the Latest And Most Authentic Information By David H. Vance. Philadelphia Published by Anthony Finley. Entered according to Act of Congress. Engraved by J.H. Young. 1833. (inset) Map Of North America Including All The Recent Geographical Discoveries. (inset) Comparative Elevation of the Principal Mountains and Hills in the United States. (inset) Topographical View of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.
Philadelphia: Anthony Finley. Type: Wall Map Size: 132x156 Scale: 1:2,300,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1472 (1831 edition).
This 1833 edition is later than any recorded edition (Karrow shows editions of 1825, 1829, and 1831). There are numerous changes from the 1825 edition: the addition of counties in the developing states, changes t o the statistical table to include the census of 1830, new roads, the reduction of Arkansas Territory, and the addition of three canal profiles, two of which replace the steamboat route table and the other placed above the main title. Without rollers. Full color by state or territory.

(FINLEY, ANTHONY); (TANNER, T.R.) (1843)
Maine.
No publisher. Type: Pocket Map Size: 31x23 Scale: 1:2,090,880 Reference: None found.
Probably published by T.R. Tanner. Unusual "piano" border. This is Finley's Maine updated to 1843 (dated is estimated by the Portland to Portsmouth Railroad which first shows on Maine maps in 1843) and surrounded by an extra piano border and with the number 34 in an oval in the border. In R. Fitch's Catalogue 48 a similar map is listed, #4 - Alabama, also a Finley map but with a floral border added and with a number, 49, in an oval in the border in the same style as the Maine map. The mystery is who published these maps, were they in atlases (based on the numbers in the borders), and were they in atlases published in different years (the different borders might indicate that). Our guess is that T.R. Tanner published these maps in New York around 1843-5. We know that Tanner senior republished some of Finley's wall maps (see our Africa) and he may have acquired the rights to the atlas maps as well. Also, the signature of the owner of the Maine map appears on a Map of New Hampshire and Vermont published by T.R. Tanner c. 1843 (they were acquired together) indicating they may have been purchased at Tanner's shop in NYC. To further the mystery, Fitch catalogue 35, #234, is a map of Wisconsin with a different piano border but the same size as the Maine and Alabama mentioned, which Karrow 6-1664 identifies as from Tanner's General Atlas of 1845. We find no listing for this atlas. Only a mention in T.R. Tanner's catalogue of 1845 (in the Travellers' Hand Book For New York & Canada) that he is publishing the Universal Atlas of 1845 - perhaps he put out an edition to compete with Carey and Hart's edition of the Universal Atlas, but decided to change the title to General Atlas for obvious reasons. This may be the source of these mysterious maps. This map is folded into stamped dark blue cloth covers 11x7.5 with "Maine" stamped in gilt. Stamped into the corners of the border on the covers is "Colton & Jenkins" and "Binders N.York". Full color.

FISHER, RICHARD SWAINSON; DINSMORE & CO. 1856
Dinsmore's Complete Map Of The Railroads & Canals In The United States & Canada Carefully Compiled from Authentic Sources by Richard S. Fisher, Editor Of The American Rail Road & Steam Navigator Guide. New-York. Published By Dinsmore & Company, No. 9 Spruce St. Engraved In Relief For Power Press Printing by Schonberg & Co. Acrographers, 75 Nassau Street New York 1856. Entered ... 1856 by Dinsmore & Co. ... New York.
New York: Dinsmore & Company. Type: Pocket Map Size: 64x79 Scale: 1:4,118,400 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1610; cf Modelski 30.
A scarce railroad map of the eastern U.S. with an untitled inset map of North America. The style is a greatly simplified cartography showing railroads and canals. At least two other versions of this map appeared in 1856: one without the inset map (Karrow 1-1609), and one with a different inset map of the City of New York (Modelski 30). Dinsmore published the American Railway Guide in the 1850's which included a smaller railway map (see Modelski 10, 16). Richard Fisher wrote for both Colton and Johnson - Statistical Gazetteer, History of the Civil War, text in the Johnson Family Atlas and Colton's General Atlas, and others. In covers of J.G. Wells, who is also listed as publisher of Karrow 1-1610. Schonberg & Co. are listed as "Acrographers" which is a form of printing we have never seen before. Map is full color by state, and folded into embossed brown cloth covers 16x10 with "New Rail Road Map Of The U. States & Canada J.G. Wells" and a decorative leaf design stamped in gilt.

Map Of The First And Second Anthracite Coal Fields. By Samuel B. Fisher Pottsville, Pennsylvania. 1836. Watson's Lith., Philada. Lithog. by J.F. & C.A. Watson, No. 62 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.
Philadelphia: Watson's Lith. Type: Case Map Size: 116x218 Scale: 1:35,000 Reference: cf Tooley Dictionary (Fisher's 1849 Coal Fields Penn.).
Very large and detailed map of the coal fields around Pottsville, Pennsylvania. This must be one of the earliest maps of this type, and we can find no record of it. Watson's Lithography produced other coal maps during this period, and this is earlier than any that were listed. This is an unusual thematic map showing coal deposits and ownership. Edged in green silk and dissected into 36 sections. Map has marbled end sheets and folds into a new dark teal cloth folding case 39x22 with "Pennsylvania Coal Fields S.B. Fisher 1836" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Cincinnati: E.H. Flint Type: Geography Book Size: 22x14 Maps: 3 Reference: Howes F200; Graff 1353; Sabin 24786; Buck 211.
First edition, and the subscriber's edition, with three outline color maps by Anthony Finley not found in the regular edition, and made especially for this work. The maps are from Finley's American Atlas. They are identical to the atlas maps, except for the coloring (outline) and the addition of "Engraved for Flint's Geography & History of the Western States" under the title. None of the standard references that list this edition mention the maps; hence, a scarce item. Also, this is the only example we know of Finley using his large American Atlas maps in other publisher's books (Davenport's Gazetteer of 1832 used Finley's small North America from the General Atlas). The Maps are Missouri and Territory of Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, and Ohio Indiana & Illinois and part of Michigan Territory. Two volumes. Panckoucke Chevalier De La Legion D'Honneur. Atlas Geographique. Paris, Imprimerie De C.L.F. Panckoucke. MDCCCXXVI. (with) Carte Topographique De L'Egypte ... Par M. Jacotin.
Paris: C.L.F. Panckoucke. Type: National Atlas Size: 73x55 Maps: 51 Reference: Map Collector No. 24, pp2-8; Sotheby's Natural History, Atlas & Travel, December 7, 1993, lot 322.
Atlas volume only. Contains the famous 47 sheet Carte Topographique De L'Egypte of 1808 and the 3 sheet Carte Geographique De L'Egypte of 1817. This copy has larger paper size than usual, and the separate three sheet map of Egypt has the three sheets unjoined.The maps show the course of the Nile from its source to the Mediterranean, in remarkable detail, with all names in French and Arabic. These maps remained the most accurate of the area until the British surveys of 1907. Another, updated edition was printed lithographically in 1882. The publishing history of the atlas is difficult to determine. Godlewska's article in the Map Collector says it was first published as the Atlas de L'Egypte in 1828. This copy's title page says Seconde Edition and was published in 1826. The full set of the Description De L'Egypte contained 21 volumes of text and plates and the Atlas volume. The text volumes appeared earlier, in starting in 1809, but the atlas volume was delayed until 1826/28. Probably, this atlas volume accompanied the second edition of the text (which, according the CBA was published simultaneously with the first edition) but was in fact the first edition of the atlas, as the atlas that accompanied the first edition of the text did not appear until 1828. In any event, both editions of the atlas were published from the same plates (CBA). Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards, with gold stamped title along spine reading "Description De L'Egypte. Atlas Geographique."

FRANCE. DEPOT-GENERAL DE LA MARINE 1828
Neptune Des Cotes Occidentales D'Amerique Sur Le Grand Ocean.
Paris: Depot de la Marine. Type: Chart Atlas Size: 68x52 Maps: 35 Reference: NMM 256.
Vol 7 of Neptune Francois; 25 listed in the index, 35 are present here. From the library of the Duc d'Orleans. This issue must be later than the NMM 256, since it has 10 extra charts dated from 1823 to 1828; the latest date in NMM256 is 1822. The eight Vancouver charts appear to be original issues or restrikes from the original plates; the La Perouse charts are absolutely restrikes on newer paper, with the Mappe Monde updated in Australia to show the coastal discoveries in the south. The progression of engraving style from the La Perouse to the 1828 charts is most interesting. The charts of Mexico and South America are largely copies of the Spanish Marine charts issued in the early 1800's showing the Malaspina Expedition tracks (see W. Heckrotte's copy of the Spanish charts). Bound in full red leather covers with decorative gold border and the same titles as above stamped on the spine.

Topographical & Geological Map Of The Property Belonging To The Brady's Bend Iron Co. Located In Armstrong County Pa. by Theo. Franks Civil Engineer. From Plan drawn by R. Jennings, Brady's Bend. Wm Schuchman, lith. 3d St, Pittsburgh, Pa. (inset) Geological Section From Notes By Prof. Shepherd.
Pittsburgh: Wm. Schuchman lith. Type: Separate Map
Size: 117x109 Scale: 1:3,600 Reference: None found.
This remarkable large map shows in great detail the works of the Brandy's Bend Iron Co. on the Allegheny River northeast of Pittsburgh. The scale is large and the map is subtly colored. All the buildings, tracks, roads and Collieries are delineated. There is a "Geological Section from Notes by Prof. Shepherd" showing the land on which the Iron Company is built. Two vignettes show the imposing buildings. Why this map was made is not clear, certainly not for general consumption, but perhaps for investors or others specifically interested in the Companies facilities. The date is estimated.

Accompanies Montemont's Histoire Universellle Des Voyages... Large Folio atlas. Not in Phillips. 1st page of ancient maps lacking. We can find no record of this atlas, other than the Sabin reference and the Oceanie map in Tooley Aust. Monin and Fremin did a smaller world atlas, offered by Hudson in 1988. These maps are large and impressive. They were published with Montemont's 46 volume History of Voyages, although Sabin calls for an Atlas of 22 maps, whereas this has 38 maps on 36 sheets. Maps are without color and bound in quarter leather brown marbled paper covered boards with "Atlas De L'Histoire Des Voyages" stamped in gold on the spine.

FREMONT, J.C. 1843
A Report of An Exploration of the Country Lying Between The Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains, on the line of the Kansas and Great Platte Rivers. By Lieut. J.C. Fremont, of the Corps of Topographical Engineers. Washington: Printed by order of the United States' Senate. 1843.
Washington: U.S. Type: Exploration Book Size: 24x15 Reference: WC 95; Wheat 464.
His first expedition. Map to the Rocky Mt. only, titled "Map to Illustrate an Exploration of the Country, lying between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains, on the line of the Nebraska or Platte River. By Lieut. J.C. Fremont, of the Corps of Topographical Engineers ... E. Weber & Co. Lith." This map was incorporated into the larger map of his second expedition. The scale of this map is three times larger than the second expedition map, and is, according to Wheat, Preuss' first map. Accompanying Fremont were Charles Preuss and Christopher "Kit" Carson. Report bound into a volume bound in leather and entitled: "Senate Documents. 3d Sess., 27th Cong. 416."

Report of The Exploring Expedition to The Rocky Mountains in the Year 1842, and to Oregon and North California in the Years 1843-'44. (with map) Map Of An Exploring Expedition To The Rocky Mountains in the Year 1842, Oregon & North California In The Years 1843-44. By Brevet Capt. J. C. Fremont Of The Corps Of Topographical Engineers Under the orders of Col. J.J. Abert, Chief Of The Topographical Bureau. Lith. by E. Weber & Co. Baltimore, Md.
Washington: Blair and Rives, Printers. Type: Exploration Book Size: 23x16 Maps: 5 Reference: WC 115:2; Wheat 497; Howes F370.
House Issue; map in case. Lacks the astronomical observations that appear in the first issue by the Senate. The large map of the west is one of the most interesting and beautiful government maps of the 1840's. It filled in many of the gaps in cartographic knowledge of the west. Charles Preuss was the cartographer. Map is without color. Book is bound with full leather with "Executive Documents 2d Sess. 28th Cong." on the spine in gold.

Report Intended To Illustrate A Map Of The Hydrographical Basin of the Upper Mississippi River, Made by I.N. Nicollet ... February 16, 1841. Washington: Blair and Rives, Printers. 1843. (with map) Hydrographical Basin of the Upper Mississippi River From Astronomical and Barometrical Observations Surveys and Information by J.N. Nicollet ... assisted ... by Lieut. J.C. Fremont ... 1843 ... W.J. Stone Sc.
Washington: Blair & Rives. Type: Exploration Book Size: 92x78 (map) Scale: 1:1,200,000 Reference: Bray, p268-270; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p.267-68; Howes N152; WC98; Graff 3022; Sabin 55257.
First edition, first issue. A larger version of the accompanying map was issued in 1842 with scale of 1:600,000 - this version is unknown to us (and anyone else we have met)- Bray states that only 200 copies were printed; the House of Representatives issued this 1843 edition in 1845 with no changes, although Wagner Camp says the map was smaller and Bray states that it was a more faithful representation of the original 1842 map. See Donald Jackson, The Expeditions of John Charles Fremont, for a history of the Nicollet map and all the Fremont maps. Fremont worked extensively with Nicollet on this map and "this was the work which trained Fremont in cartography." (Jackson). This map was the earliest accurate map of the Northern Plains and the Upper Mississippi. G.K. Warren, in his Memoir, stated that this "map was one of the greatest contributions ever made to American geography." Nicollet died in 1843. His map was years ahead of its time, with its regional concept and sound basis in instrument readings and astronomically determined points. Goetzmann: "Had he lived one more decade, Nicollet would undoubtedly have become the official government cartographer of the whole trans-Mississippi West." Rebound in brown fabric covers with "Hydrographical Basin of the Upper Mississippi, I.N. Nicollet, 1843" in gold on the spine.

New York: A.C. Frey & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 94x74 Scale: 1:1,330,560 Reference: Wheat 1184; Streeter 3929; Norris 2341.
Wheat writes several pages about this map, being impressed with its up to date cartography. Williamson's proposed route through the Owyhee to the Idaho mines is shown, as well as much current detail in central Nevada and all of California. The influence of Williamson's 1866 "Map of Parts of California, Nevada, Oregon and Idaho Territory" (both the published and the ms version) is obvious. A wheel shows the "Difference of time between S. Francisco and other important Cities." This may be Louis Nell's first commercial map, before his extensive work for the Wheeler Survey in the 1870's and his Colorado maps of the 1880's. The railroad map shows the Union Pacific completed to Cheyenne and the Central Pacific to the Nevada border. This is both a beautiful map and an excellent depiction of California and Nevada just before the completion of the railroad. Wheat mentions that the towns of the Humboldt valley are sprinkled with names that disappear in a few years with the coming of the railroad. Full color by county.

FREYHOLD, EDWARD; WARREN, GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE, 1830-1882 1858
Map Of The Territory Of The United States From The Mississippi To The Pacific Ocean; Ordered by the Hon. Jeff'n Davis, Secretary Of War To accompany the Reports of the Explorations For A Railroad Route ... Compiled from authorized explorations and other reliable data by Lieut. G.K. Warren, Topl. Engrs. In the Office of Pacific R.R. Surveys, War Dep. under the direction of Bvt. Maj. W.H. Emory, Topl. Engrs. in 1854 and of Capt. A.A. Humphreys, Topl. Engrs. 1854-5-6-7-8. Drawn by E. Freyhold. Engr. on Stone by J. Bien, 60 Fulton St. N.Y.
Washington: U.S. Type: Separate Map Size: 106x116 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: Buttery p7,17,18; Schubert/Koepp p57-8.
2nd 1858 edition, adds Ives Grand Canyon expedition. Also adds information from Warren's third expedition. Schubert says there was an earlier 1858 edition that filled in information in Oregon but did not include the Ives information. Schubert also quotes a letter from Warren stating that this edition was sent to the printer in 1859. Freyhold's name appears on the title for the first time. It is dropped in the next (1867) edition and then reappears in the 1868 edition. Rare - apparently there is only one other copy of this map - in the Millard Fillmore Map Collection in the LOC (see Stephenson article in Map Collector No. 12). This copy came from the Bancroft Library as a duplicate - perhaps they thought it was a duplicate of the 1857 edition. With brown wood side rollers. Map is without color and mounted on linen.

FREYHOLD, EDWARD; WARREN, GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE, 1830-1882; UNITED STATES. ARMY. CORPS OF ENGINEERS 1879
Map Of The Territory Of The United States, West Of The Mississippi River. Prepared by authority Of The Hon. The Secretary Of War in the Office of the Chief Of Engineers under the direction of Brig. General A.A. Humphreys Chief of Engineers and Brevet Maj. Gen. U.S. Army. By Edward Freyhold 1879. (inset) Territory Of Alaska.
Washington: U.S. Type: Case Map Size: 165x257 Scale: 1:2,000,000 Reference: Wheat 1295.
5 original sheets of 6, with the title sheet No. 6 (southeast corner) in facsimile. Each sheet is dissected into 24 sections and backed with linen. Wheat: "a complex map very different in aspect from that of 1868, yet no less beautiful, and employing the new information that had reached the War Department during the 1870's." It is a complete redrawing of the Freyhold/Warren map of 1868, larger in scale, and so dense in information that the itineraries are no longer shown. There is an inset of Alaska in the lower right. This copy belonged to James Douglas, the founder of the Phelps Dodge mining empire in Arizona and for whom Douglas, Arizona, was named. In the same year the Army issued somewhat larger versions of this map on thin paper for field use, one example being the Map of California and Nevada with Parts of Utah & Arizona (see our #3360). Each sheet folds with a marbled end paper into brown cloth covers 21.5x12.5 ; the sheet no. and region shown in each map is written in ms on the inside covers, alongside bookplates reading "Jamais Arriere. Ex Libris James Douglas. History Science Literature Theology ..." The facsimile of sheet 6 folds into new brown cloth covers very similar to the original covers. All six maps reside in a new brown cloth slip case 22.5x13.5 with a black label on spine reading "Territory Of The U.S. West Of The Mississippi River. Edward Freyhold. 1879" in gilt. With outline color by state; water in full color.

FREYHOLD, EDWARD. 1869
Office Of The Chief Of Engineers War Department Military Map of the United States compiled and drawn by E. Freyhold 1869. Engraved & printed by Julius Bien, N.Y. (inset map) Territory Of Alaska.
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Separate Map Size: 72x103 Scale: 1:5,000,000 Reference: Wheat 1204 (listed under Military Districts). Cowell Collection.
A four sheet map of the entire United States, derived from the Warren/Freyhold Map of the Western Territories of 1868. A note under the title states "In the compilation of this map the Authorities designated on the map of the Western Territories as well as others of more recent date have been used." The topography is simplified from the earlier map, the scale reduced, and the transpacific railroad is shown completed. The Military Districts are outlined in red; map is in full color. There was another issue in 1870 (Hudson #8-82, Civil War Maps).

(FREYHOLD, EDWARD); U.S. WAR DEPARTMENT, TOPOGRAPHICAL ENGINEERS. 1877
Map Of The United States. Prepared by authority of The Honorable The Secretary Of War, in the Office of the Chief of Engineers under the direction of Brig. General A.A. Humphreys, Chief of Engineers & Bvt. Maj. Gen'l, U.S. Army. Originally Compiled and drawn by E. Freyhold. (inset) West Indies and Isthmus Of Darien. (inset) Territory Of Alaska.
N.P.: (U.S. Government Printing Office). Type: Case Map Size: 88x130 Scale: 1:5,000,000 Reference: None found.
While this is based on the Freyhold "Military Map of the United States" of 1869, it has been completely redrawn and enlarged, adding much of Mexico and British North America to the original map, as well as an inset map of the West Indies. Topography is no longer shown, but the Military Forts are prominently displayed in red overprinting with flags. In the west there is much new road development. Majority of map is printed in full color in shades of tan; the States are bordered in red and Indian Reservations are identified with shading. Not in Wheat or any standard references. Map is dissected into 16 sections, mounted on linen, and folded into unlabelled brown cloth end sheets 33.5x23.

Froiseth's first map is actually three maps on one sheet, with a portrait of Brigham Young. Moffat lists two editions of this map, one published by the Skandinavisk Post (this copy) and another by Am. Photo-Lithographic Co., N.Y. Both editions have the Am. Photo Lithographic Co. imprint on the map however. Several copies exist unfolded (see WH's two copies) indicating that there may have been a "pile" of unfolded copies discovered recently. This copy comes from a group of three copies owned by a descendent of Froiseth, and included with our copy were several items of Froiseth memorabilia that probably have significance due to the destruction of all of Froiseth's papers soon after his death (Wheat note). Map is folded into burgandy cloth covers 13.5x8.5 with "Maps Of Utah Territory, Great Salt Lake Valley And Salt Lake City, With Portrait And Autograph Of Brigham Young. FULLARTON, A. & CO. (1872)
The Royal Illustrated Atlas, Of Modern Geography With An Introductory Notice By Dr. N. Shaw, Secretary To The Royal Geographical Society &c. A. Fullarton And Co. London And Edinburgh. (title page only) W.B. Scott. W. Holl.
London and Edinburgh: A. Fullarton & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 50x36 Maps: 76 Reference: cf P838 (1862); M&B p182; Tooley Australia 659 (1872); NMM 521.
1st edition 1864; published in 27 parts 1854-62. The date of 1872 is estimated by the Australia map; all the maps are undated and probably date throughout the period 1864 to 1872: the North America map shows Colorado and Russian America while the United States map has no Colorado. The World maps show Alaska. This is the last highly decorative atlas published in England. Even the maps without views or figures are beautifully engraved and colored with a mixture of printed color and hand color. Swanston, Petermann, Bartholomew, Macnab and Johnson engraved the maps. The introduction by Shaw among other things lists important general atlases published over a long period. He lists only one United States atlas, Mitchell's Universal Atlas of 1853! The maps bear a superficial resemblance to Keith Johnston's Royal Atlas. Fullarton frequently gives the sources for his maps - for the United States maps he gives Calvin Smith and Tanner as sources. The atlas is bound in half leather dark green cloth covered boards with "The Royal Illustrated Atlas." stamped in gilt on the cover; the spine reads "Royal Illustrated Atlas" in gold.

GALLATIN, ALBERT 1836
Map of the Indian Tribes of North America about 1600 A.D. along the Atlantic; & about 1800 A.D. westwardly. Published by the Amer: Antiq: Soc: From a drawing by Hon: A. Gallatin. Pendleton's Lithography. (In: Archaeologia Americana. Transactions and Collections of the American Antiquarian Society. Vol II. Cambridge: Printed For The Society, At The University Press. 1836).
Cambridge: The University Press. Type: Separate Map Size: 38x41 Reference: Wheat 417; Howes G30.
With "Synopsis of the Indian Tribes..." The map, in addition to its abundant information regarding the Indian Tribes, shows J. Smith's route of 1827 across the Great Basin, one of the earliest American maps to do so. See the later version of this map published in 1848.

GALLATIN, ALBERT; HALE, HORATIO; SQUIER, E.G. 1848
New York: Bartlett & Welford. Type: Exploration Book Size: Various Maps: 5
The Gallatin map is an updated version of his 1836 "Map of the Indian Tribes of North America." The Great Basin has been redrawn to reflect Fremont's maps, but the route of Jedidiah Smith is still shown, though unlabeled. The Hale map is a copy of the map that appeared in his report contained in the U.S. Exploring Expedition Report (see our copy). The Squier map is original to this volume.

GALVESTON, HOUSTON, & HENDERSON RAILROAD (1857)
Texas Of The United States Of America, Shewing The Galveston, Houston, & Henderson Rail Road. King, Lith. 63 Queen St. New Cannon St. London. (on verso) United States Of America.

London: King, Lith. Type: Separate Map Size: 39x51; 23x36.5 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:2,344,320; 1:11,404,800 Reference: None found.
Hand colored map of Texas showing railroads open, under construction, and the main line of the Galveston, Houston & Henderson railroad in red. On the verso is a map of the U.S. with Texas colored in pink, showing connections of Texas railroads to the U.S. lines. This is probably the first railroad map of Texas. The first railroad map of Texas listed in Modelski is Modelski 551, Map of Texas showing the Sabine and Galveston Bay Railroad, 1859. The earliest in Day is the 1861 Map of the Buffalobayou (Day 135). Although undated, this map is clearly derived from the 1857 Colton atlas map of Texas; and the Galveston, Houston, & Henderson Railroad was raising money in London (where this map was published, probably to accompany a bond prospectus) and Paris in 1857 to finance expansion. Further, the county formation shown on the map is consistent with an 1857 date, and the map of the United States on the verso is taken from The Modern Atlas by H.G. Collins, London, 1855. The railroad development shown on the Texas map would indicate 1857: the Galveston, Houston & Henderson is completed from Galveston to Houston, with a proposed extension to Fredonia, in Rusk County; the Buffalobayou, Brazos, Colorado and Richmond line is completed from Harrisburg to the Brazos River; the Houston and Texas Central is complete from Houston north to Washington; and the Houston Tap railroad is shown (with no name) from Houston over to the Buffalobayou line. No copies of this map were located in Texas institutions (or any other holdings in the U.S.). The Rosenberg Library has a map titled "Texas Etas Unis D'Amerique Trace du Chemin de Fer de Galveston a Houston et Henderson," lithographed in Paris, which probably accompanied the French bond prospectus - and is clearly derived from this London edition. The Galveston, Houston & Henderson was one of the first railroads incorporated in Texas. The extension from Houston north to Fredonia that was to be financed by the bond issue that occasioned this map was never completed, and the railroad fell under the control of the English and French bondholders in 1860. See our #5180 for a copy of the bond issued by the railroad in 1857.

GARCIA CUBAS, ANTONIO, 1832-1912 1858
Mexico: Imprenta de Jose Mariano Fernandez de Lara. Type: National Atlas Size: 55x37 Maps: 31 Reference: P2683; Sabin 26554.
The first great atlas of Mexico, produced by a Mexican and printed in Mexico. Sabin says only 300 copies were printed. The maps are of each province, with each surrounded by text. Phillips lists two later editions of 1886 with somewhat different titles. The only atlas of Mexico listed by Phillips that is earlier than this atlas is Humboldt's Atlas...de la Nouvelle Espagne of 1811. Has two very interesting plates at the end that relate to Aztec writing. Garcia Cubas was 26 when he published this. Strangely, then, the verso of the title page has 1846 as the copyright date (when the author was 14?). Maps hand painted with outline color. Atlas is bound in quarter leather brown marbled paper covered boards with title embossed in gold on the spine reading "Garcia Y Cubas. Atlas Geografico De La Republica Mexicana."

GARDNER, JAMES 1825
Western Hemisphere. Eastern Hemisphere. Projected, Compiled And Drawn, By James Gardner. The Plan Work And Writing Engraved By John Froggett. The Hills By James Palmer. London, Published Sept. 1, 1825, by J. Gardner, Geographer (Agent For The Sale Of The Ordnance Surveys) No. 163 Regent Street. Dublin, Sold By Messrs. Allen & Co. Dame Street. Paris, Goujon, 6, Rue De Bac. Simmoneau, 6, Rue De La Paix. Berlin, S. Schropp & Co. Dresden, E. Arnold ...
London: J. Gardner. Type: Case Map Size: 137x264 Scale: 1:11,000,000 Reference: British Museum World, p 550.
With 48 inch spheres, this may be one of the largest World Maps produced in the early 1800's. Arrowsmith's Map of the World on a Globular Projection had 36 inch spheres and was last published in 1814. Gardner's map is fairly up to date in the American Northwest, less so in the plains area. He probably used Wyld's and Arrowsmith's maps of North America as sources. Not in Phillips or Wheat. British Museum World catalog lists this edition and an 1837 edition. The drawing and engraving of this map is very elegant and spare. In eight sheets, dissected into 6 sections each, and mounted on linen with dark green silk edging. Outline color. Folds into a new gray cloth folding case 36x23 with "Western And Eastern Hemispheres J. Gardner 1825" stamped in gold on the spine.

London: James Gardner. Type: Case Map Size: 63x98 Scale: 1:2,000,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary.
Shows distances in "posts" on the major and minor stage routes. We assume that the routes shown are the same routes used to carry mail (hence "post"). Each station is shown (where they change horses). A "post" is equal to 5 1/3 English miles, although it changes in various countries. Three insets show the routes from Turin to Naples, a Plan of the Rhine River, and the Route of the Samplon. With outline color by country. Map is dissected into 25 sections, mounted on linen, and folded into a dark green leather slip case 22x14 with flap closure and "Central Europe" stamped in gold on the spine.

Atlas Spheroidal Et Universel De Geographie Dresse A L'Aide Des Documents Officiels, Recemment Publies En France Et A L'Etranger Par M.F.A. Garnier Membre De La Societe De Geographie, Etc. Paris, Veuve Jules Renouard, Libraire, Editeur De A. Balbi, Abrege De Geographie; A. Guibert, Dictionnaire De Geographie; Dufour Et Jomard, Le Globe, Etc. Rue De Tournon, 6, Faubourg Saint-Germain. MDCCCLXII.
Paris: Veuve Jules Renouard, Libraire. Type: World Atlas Size: 62x48 Maps: 63 Reference: P836.
This atlas is exceptional for its "spheroidal" maps of the globe, showing the various continents and poles, shaded to give the effect of a sphere floating in space. The remaining maps are also very well executed and colored, mostly by hand, a few in colored litho. In recent years, this atlas has become rare in the trade. This is the only atlas that Garnier produced, according to Phillips. Tooley lists an 1860 edition. Covers are quarter leather marbled paper covered boards with a paper label; the burgundy leather spine is embossed with "F.A. Garnier. Atlas Universel Et Spheroidal De Geographie" in gilt.

San Francisco: A. Gensoul. Type: Pocket Map Size: 33x39 Scale: None shown Reference: Streeter 3918; Norris 2330.
Norris: "Very scarce railroad map of San Francisco." Streeter purchased the Norris copy, which was not in as good condition as this copy. Not in any of the standard references. Red circles emanate from City Hall showing distances at 1/4 mile intervals. Four railroads are identified. The map goes west to Divisadero and south to Alta Street. On the inside front cover is an ad for the Pacific Map Depot, A. Gensoul, 511 Montgomery Street. Various maps, including Mining maps are listed for sale. The front of the dark green cloth covers 9.5x8 have a printed purple label "Railroad Pocket Map Of The City Of San Francisco. Pacific Map Depot. San Francisco, Cal." A later issue was published in 1866 by Gensoul; a similar map was used in various editions of the San Francisco Municipal Reports in the 1860's.

The interest here is the attempt to show numbered highways. The result is most strange, with lots of red arrows pointing in multiple directions, meant to indicate the paths of various numbered routes, but actually quite confusing. Map is in full golden yellow printed color with red outline color by section.

GIBSON, JOHN; BOWEN, EMANUEL 1758
Atlas Minimus or a New Set of Pocket Maps of the Several Empires, Kingdoms and States of the Known World, with Historical Extracts relative to each. Drawn and Engraved by J. Gibson from the Best Authorities, Revis'd, Corrected and Improv'd by Eman: Bowen Geographer to His Majesty.
London: J. Newberry. Type: World Atlas Size: 12x9 Maps: 52 Reference: P621.
First edition. The "Historical Extracts" are short bits of text printed on the maps giving relevant geographical information. A revised edition was published in London in 1792. In 1759, another edition was published adding separate geographical descriptions and correcting some of the maps (see our copy). The Philadelphia 1798 edition by Mathew Carey incorporates the 1859 edition text word for word (excepting the maps of United States which Carey omits in favor of his pocket atlas of the U.S.). Gibson and Bowen made the four sheet map of North America (Stevens 49), and Gibson made the four sheet map of America (Stevens 3).

San Francisco: A. Gensoul, Pacific Map Depot. Type: Pocket Map Size: 89x91 Scale: 1:950,400 Reference: Graff 80; Streeter 511; Wheat 1122.
Wheat: "In Arizona the year 1865 was made notable by the first great map of that Territory, the 'Official Map of the Territory of Arizona...by Richard Gird'...Gird's richly varied map concentrates upon Arizona and adjacent parts of California and Sonora..." Wheat also reprints a portion of Bancroft's description of Gird's life. Streeter lists the Hartley Map of Arizona as circa 1863 and hence earlier that the Gird; Wheat disagrees, listing Hartley as 1865 (as, he claims, the Library of Congress does also), thus making the Gird the more important map: "Except that it is overshadowed by Gird's great map, Hartley's production would receive more attention here." Gird's map is full of interesting detail and is also a beautiful graphic production. Full color by county. Folded into blue patterned cloth covers 16x11 with "Gird's Official Map Of The Territory Of Arizona. A. Gensoul, Publisher." printed in gold on a black paste down label.

Vol 1. San Francisco. (Parts 1-11 complete). Published by The Illustrated Directory Company ... Copyright 1894, By Eli S. Glover. Issued Monthly.
San Francisco: The Illustrated Directory Company (parts 1-3) and The Hicks Judd Company (parts 4-11). Type: City Atlas Size: 26x36 Reference: Rocq 9917; Norris 3460.
Extremely rare, unusual directory made up of drawn illustrations of the building street fronts and business establishments of every building on the blocks of the downtown area of San Francisco. Almost all of these buildings were destroyed by the fire of 1906. Published in 11 parts in 1894 and 1895, this copy is complete. The Rocq listing is for parts 4-11; the Norris copy had nine parts. Norris states that this directory is "Very Scarce and valuable." This copy belonged to noted San Francisco historian Margot Patterson Doss, with her signature and address on the front end paper. The illustrations of the buildings are very well done. A unique directory; most surviving copies have only nine of the eleven parts. Another directory was done for Oakland, California (Rocq 817). Cloth covered boards with "The Illustrated Directory, San Francisco" on cover.

San Francisco: J.H. Carmany Type: Guide Book Size: 23x15 Maps: 1 Reference: Wheat Gold 310 (1858 edition); Bancroft Library.
The uncolored Goddard map (41x33) is the second edition of the reduced map which first appeared in 1858. The railroad lines have been added, as well as many towns and topographical features. The pamphlet this appears in is a general guide to the state and its railroads, and more specifically a guide to Oakland, California. The Oakland map is missing from this copy, as well as several pages of text. The Goddard map (and the pamphlet, we presume) is scarce, this 1871 edition not being recorded. Pamphlet is bound in paper with title on the front cover.

GOODSPEED, J.W.; WATSON, GAYLORD 1871
The Great Fires in Chicago and the West. History and Incidents, Losses and Sufferings, Benevolence of the Nations, Etc., Etc. By A Chicago Clergyman. To which is appended a record of the great conflagrations of the past. Illustrated with Maps and Scenes. Published by J.W. Goodspeed, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and New Orleans. H.S. Goodspeed & Co., 37 Park Row, New York. (on verso) Entered ... 1871, by H.S. Goodspeed ... Washington.

Chicago: J.W. Goodspeed Type: City Atlas Size: 43x26 Maps: 1 Reference: Karrow 4-0458 (map); Eberstadt 110:99; Gardens of Delight 67.
Scarce. Not in any collections, only two listings. The map is "City of Chicago (below the neatline) Chicago As It Is, Showing the Burnt District. N.B. The bright red shows the portion of the City that is burnt." It is copyright 1871 by Gaylord Watson. It is the same inset map that appears in Watson's 1874 New County and Railroad Map of the Western States and Territories. It probably originally appeared in an 1870 or 1871 version of this map without the Burnt District colored. "A Chicago Clergyman" listed as author in the title is probably E.J. Goodspeed, listed by Sabin as a Chicago minister and listed by Karrow as the author of this pamphlet, and perhaps related to the publisher. The text covers the Chicago fire in detail and describes other great urban fires. Bound in paper wrappers with the title printed on the front.

GOODWIN, F.A. (1855)
Map Of California And The Adjacent Country. Compiled by F. Goodwin From the best Authors and actual Observation. Entered ... 1855 by F. Goodwin ... New York. Lith. of Geo. E. Leefe, 223 Fulton St. N.Y. (with 8 page description) A Brief Description of California, From The Time of Its First Occupation by the United States and Subsequent Growth ... Accompanied by a Map of California and adjacent Country.
New York: Geo. E. Leefe. Type: Pocket Map Size: 75x52 Scale: 1:1,800,000 Reference: Streeter 2785; Wheat Gold 281; Cowen p243.
Wheat calls this "rare but otherwise unimportant," due to some misspellings and inaccuracies in the map. Streeter sale illustrates the map and the price realized was the same as the Eddy map of 1853. We find the Wheat inaccuracies minor, with most of them being misspellings. The overall map is impressive. It would be interesting to find the map or maps that were used as sources. Ouline color by state. Folded into dark brown cloth covers 16.5x11 with "Map Of California And Adjacent Country By F. Goodwin" stamped in gilt.

GOUJON, J.; ANDRIVEAU, J. 1836
Tableau Comparatif et Figure de La Hauteur des Principales Montagnes et du Cours des Principaux Fleuves due Monde. Les Fleuves graves par Dumortier. Les Montagnes par A. Hocquart. La Lettre par Arnoul. Paris. Chez J. Goujon & J. Andriveau. Geographes - Editeurs. Rue du Bac, No. 6, Pres le Pont Royal. 1836.
Paris: Goujon, J.; Andriveau, J. Type: Separate Map Size: 56x89
Considered by many to be the artistic and factual high point in the comparative mountains and rivers charts, a convention developed in the 19th century. Beautifully colored with fine graphics and art and closely corresponding statistical tables, it presents an appealing balance. Different mountain ranges in different colors. Extensive annotations on vegetation, volcanic activity, and lichen, no doubt derived from Humboldt. Of course, due to the early date, the geographical data does not reflect many later discoveries, like taller waterfalls in Yosemite or the actual length of the Nile. Shows 7000 meter high hot air balloon flight by Guy-Lussac in 1808. Mounted on heavy linen. Sheet 48 in disbound atlas.

GRAY, ANDREW .B. 1855
Report of the Secretary of the Interior, In Compliance With A resolution of the Senate, of January 22, communicating a report and map of A.B. Gray, relative to the Mexican boundary. Senate. 33d Congress, 2d Session. Ex. Doc. No. 55.
Washington: U.S. Type: Exploration Book Size: 54x125 (map) Maps: 2 Reference: WC 254; Wheat 820; Howes G330.
The report defends Gray's position in his conflict with John Bartlett. The large map is titled "Map of That Portion of the Boundary Between the United States and Mexico, From the Pacific Coast to the Junction of the Gila and Colorado Rivers..." Wheat says the map is "full of interesting details between the 30th and 40th parallels." Smaller map is entitled, "That Part Of Disturnell's Treaty Map in the Vicinity of the Rio Grande and Southern Boundary of New Mexico..." Both maps uncolored and enclosed in a specially made case with "Map Of The U.S. & Mexico Boundary Survey 1855" embossed on the spine.

GRAY, O.W. 1873
Gray's Atlas Of The United States, With General Maps Of The World. Accompanied By Descriptions Geographical, Historical, Scientific and Statistical. By O.W. Gray, Civil And Topographical Engineer, No. 10 North Fifth Street, Philadelphia. Published By Stedman, Brown & Lyon, No. 10 North Fifth Street, Philadelphia. 1873. (on verso) Entered ... 1873, by O.W. Gray ... Washington.
Phila: Stedman, Brown & Lyon. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x39 Maps: 68 Reference: P1390.
First edition. Has same basic set of maps as the National Atlas and the Continental Atlas. Maps taken from Colton and Frank Gray (for example, Colton's single page Texas map from the 1856 World Atlas, updated). It is odd to see the Colton single page state maps from the 1856 edition atlas here reissued and updated almost twenty years later. Has an extra New Railroad and County Map of the States of Oregon, California and Nevada, in addition to the regular California/Nevada Map. There is also a business directory for San Francisco and Chicago. We believe this indicates that this edition was made for the west coast market; other editions used other regional maps, depending on the market. Maps are in full color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark green cloth covered boards stamped with "Gray's Atlas Of The United States And General Maps Of The World With Descriptions." in gilt; the spine reads "Gray's Atlas Of The United States."

Philadelphia: O.W. Gray & Son. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x39 Maps: 86 Reference: P6196, 11037.
First edition was 1875. The maps here are identical to our 1878 Gray's Atlas of the United States, except that this copy has 17 large scale maps of Virginia Cities in the rear with a "Professional directory of patrons. Virginia." The 1878 U.S. Atlas has a large map of New England in the rear and a directory of patrons for Rhode Island and Massachusetts. It is a mystery why Gray used two different titles for essentially the same atlas. The source of the Virginia city maps is interesting - about half state under the title that they are from "Special Surveys" by Jacob and George Chace, Topographical Engineers. The other half do not list the Chaces. There is no record of these maps in Phillips, either as an atlas or separates. Perhaps they were sold as separates or pocket maps. Maps are in full color. Atlas bound in half leather dark green cloth covered boards with "Gray's National Atlas With Descriptions." stamped in gilt. Spine reads "Gray's National Atlas". Blind stamped on back cover same stamp as front.

North America From the most Authentic and Latest Surveys. R. Gray Sculpt. Glasgow, 1811.
This is a copy of the 1804 Wilkinson North America map, here printed on linen. Very Scarce. Wilkinson's map of 1804 has been somewhat simplified to allow for limited detail due to printing on fabric. See our #5156 for the Wilkinson 1804 map (see also our copy of the 1826 reissue of Wilkinson's map which appears to be unchanged from the 1804 issue). With a decorative border of vines and tiny vignettes. John Faupel suggested this was probably made as a "commemorative" piece in a very small issue.

GREEN, JOHN, D. 1757; JEFFERYS, THOMAS 1753
A Chart of North and South America, including the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, with the nearest Coasts of Europe, Africa, and Asia. Publish'd according to Act of Parliament Feb. 19, 1753, by T. Jefferys Geographer to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales at the Corner of St. Martins Lane Charing Cross ...
The first edition of this map, here published as a complete chart of six sheets joined, dissected into 16 sections and folded into Jeffery's original case with a printed label: "Bought of Thomas Jefferys Engraver..." Both map and case are preserved in a new half cloth blue marbled paper book-like case 36x31 with "Green And Jefferys. Chart Of North And South America. 1753." stamped in gilt on a leather label on the spine. This is one of the most important American maps of the period, the first to label Behring's Straits, and the most accurate of the time in establishing more correct placements of the coasts of North and South America and Northeastern Asia. The map is extensively annotated by Green to show the differences of latitude and longitude between his placements on the map and other cartographers, notably Bellin, D'Anville, Brouckner, Popple, and especially DeLisle and Buache in their claims of new discoveries on the American Northwest coast. Jefferys also published Green's "Remarks, In Support of the New Chart of North and South America, in six sheets" which further detail Green's attack on DeLisle's cartography and French claims to the American Northwest. The six sheets of this map are also found bound individually with the text, as in Streeter 3453. Our copy has a printed paste down label in the lower corner of sheet six that explains the color code used to distinguish the different claims of the British, French, etc. Stevens & Tree list several later issues of this chart, including those that appear in Jeffery's American Atlas of 1775. Outline color.

GREENHOW, ROBERT; BURR, DAVID H., 1803-1875 1840

Memoir, Historical and Political, on the Northwest Coast of North America, and the Adjacent Territories...
Washington: Blair & Rives. Type: Exploration Book Maps: 1 Reference: Howes G389; Wheat 447.

GREENLEAF, JEREMIAH 1840
A New Universal Atlas; Comprising Separate Maps Of all the Principal Empires, Kingdoms & States Throughout the World: and forming a distinct Atlas Of The United States. Carefully Compiled from the best Authorities Extant by Jeremiah Greenleaf. a new edition revised and corrected to the present time. 1840. Printed by G.R. French Brattleboro Vt.
Brattleboro: G.R. French. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x32 Maps: 64 Reference: cf P784.
The first issue by Greenleaf, being a reissue of David Burr's 1836 edition of A New Universal Atlas. A new map of Texas is added. There are several changes from the Burr 1836 issue, primarily new railroads and some new counties. With the exception of the map of Illinois, Burr's imprint is removed from all the maps, as well as the copyright notice below the neat line . Full color. Atlas is bound in half leather black paper covered boards with a circular label reading "Jeremiah Greenleaf's Universal Atlas"; the spine has "Atlas" stamped in gold.

Brattleboro: G.R. French. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x32 Maps: 65 Reference: P784.
Reissue of Greenleaf's 1840 Atlas of same title. Changes include new railroads and county formation. A map of Wisconsin and Iowa is added. Adds Geography text in rear. This copy of the Wisconsin and Iowa map is perhaps an early 1842 issue - Fitch in Catalogue 44, # 328, shows an 1842 Wisconsin and Iowa map that is similar to this but has Iowa and Wisconsin written on the map itself, not just in the title as in this map. Full color. Atlas is bound in half leather tan cloth covered boards with a red leather label reading "The Universal Atlas". Spine is stamped with "Atlas" in gold.

GREENLEAF, JEREMIAH 1848
A New Universal Atlas; Comprising Separate Maps Of all the Principal Empires, Kingdoms & States Throughout the World: and forming a distinct Atlas Of The United States. Carefully Compiled from the best Authorities Extant by Jeremiah Greenleaf. a new edition revised and corrected to the present time. 1848.
No place: J. Greenleaf. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x32 Maps: 65 Reference: None found; cf P784.
Rare reissue of 1842 Greenleaf Universal Atlas. Many changes from the 1842 edition: Florida a State, Michigan entirely redrawn, Mexican War results on North American map, Mexico, Texas, Oregon changes to show 1846 boundary with Canada, Missionary stations listed on the Hemispheres, and many new railroads, counties, boundaries, etc. There are more changes between this edition and the 1842, than between the 1842 and Burr's 1836. Not in Karpinski, which is strange because Michigan is totally redrawn, not in Phillips or any other reference. There is also an 1849 edition (property of C.W.) that has similar maps except the Mexico map does not reflect the Mexican War boundary - probably he was running out of maps and this was at the bottom of the stack! Has the same Geography text in the rear, unchanged. The Wisconsin and Iowa map in this copy differs from an 1848 in Fitch Catalogue 48, #314, in having Mandan Dist. instead of Missouri Territory in the Fitch, making this copy probably later (the 1842 has Missouri Territory). Burr's name is no longer on the map of Illinois. Maps are in full color. Bound in half leather, floral patterend blue cloth covered boards with "The Universal Atlas" stamped in gold. Spine reads "Atlas".

Portland: Shirley and Hyde. Type: State Atlas Size: 35x22 Maps: 6 Reference: P1772; Ristow p96; Smith/Greenleaf p71-77.
The third U.S. state atlas, after Mill's North Carolina and Burr's New York State. Contains six maps, one of which is a sheet of Geologic sections, and a sheet of Meteorological Diagrams. The maps are engraved by William Chapin of New York. The atlas accompanied Greenleaf's Survey of the State of Maine and his Map of Maine, all published together in 1829. The first four maps relate to the Northeastern Boundary dispute and are the only maps published in Maine that dealt with the boundary question. The fifth and sixth maps relate to grants, patterns of settlement, population, etc. The final plate gives Meteorological diagrams with information derived from Greenleaf's own observations of climate. In original half leather, marbled paper covered boards with printed title and index label. This copy has notes from Portland Bookseller Francis O'Brien written in 1954 and stating that "This copy is from the noted Maine collection of Janus G. Elder of Lewiston, Maine...See tribute to him in the preface to Williamson's Bibliography of Maine."

GUNN, O.B.; MITCHELL, D.T. 1862
Gunn & Mitchell's New Map Of Kansas And The Gold Mines Embracing all the Public Surveys up to 1862. Compiled from the Original Field Notes by O.B. Gunn & D.T. Mitchell. Lecompton, K. 1862 ... January 1st, 1862. Ward B. Burnett, Surveyor General Kansas and Nebraska. Entered ... 1862 by Gunn & Mitchell ... Kansas. Wm. Schuchman, lith. Pittsburgh, Pa.

Lecompton, Kansas: O.B. Gunn & D.T. Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 67x71 Scale: 1:589,000 Reference: WC 327:2; Karrow 13-0599; Howes G461; Wheat 976 (1859 ed.); Graff 1690 (1859 ed.), 1692 (1864 ed.); Streeter 2017 (1859 ed.).
This is the third reissue of the 1859 Gunn map of Kansas, which was originally issued with a Handbook showing routes to the Mines, etc. The 1859 edition was by Gunn only; Mitchell was added to the 1861 and all subsequent editions (1862, 64, 65, 66, and 67). The 1859 edition is very rare (Howes "d"), and the later editions of the map only are scarce (not in Heaston's list or Phillips). Karrow lists all the editions except the 1867 (see our copy). The map is of eastern Kansas west to the 98th meridian, with an inset of the "Routes from the Missouri River to the Kansas Gold Mines." This inset does not show Colorado, even though it was formed in 1860. There is a list of the Population of Kansas Counties, and a vignette of an Indian. Mitchell issued his own Sectional Map of Kansas in 1859 (Karrow 13-0585). There is an advertisement for Mitchell's Law practice and Land Agency on the inside of the map cover. Border color by county. Covers are a dark brown cloth 16x11 with "Gunn & Mitchell's New Map Of Kansas And The Gold Mines" stamped in gilt.

HAASIS & LUBRECHT 1871
The American Union Railroad Map Of The United States, British Possessions, West Indies, Mexico, And Central America. 1871. Published by Haasis & Lubrecht, 107 Liberty Street, New York. Smith & McDougal, Electrotypers, 82 Beekman Street, New York. (inset) Central America.
New York: Haasis & Lubrecht. Type: Case Map Size: 95x132 Scale: 1: 4,435,000 Reference: Modelski 53 (1872 ed.), 55 (1874 ed.).
This is a reworking of the Lubrecht and Rosa map "The American Continent" of 1864, and the first edition, first issue in a new format. Statistics at the top of the 1864 map are here replaced with a view "From the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean" emphasizing the recently completed transcontinental railroad. Also, an elaborate title and view of a steam engine and train station have replaced the more subdued 1864 title. Population tables of the United States are added to the left and right sides of the map. The map itself has been updated to show political and some topographical changes of the ensuing seven years. Projected railroad lines are shown running everywhere in the west. The coloring is very bright, to match the decidedly optimistic (expansionist) flavor of the map. D.L. Guernsey published editions of 1871 and 1874 in Concord New Hampshire, with no major changes in the map. WH has an 1873 edition by Hassis and Lubrecht that adds text next to the population figures, more railroads, no changes in topography. Issued in a cover with a label in German from Wilhelm Lubrecht in Stuttgart, Germany, indicating it may have been sold to emigrants. Full color. Map has green paper edging, is dissected into 16 sections, and fold into a new gray cloth folding case 35x27 with "American Union Railroad Map Haasis & Lubrecht 1871" stamped in gilt on the spine.

HAASIS & LUBRECHT 1879
Boston: B.B. Russell & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 75x97 Scale: 1:570,240 Reference: P-Maps 686.
This colorful map was originally published by Haasis and Lubrecht in New York for the 1876 Centennial, with this copy reissued in 1879 by B.B. Russell of Boston. With three large views of the Centennial International Exhibition in Philadelphia, above the map. The coloring is very bright, in true Haasis and Lubrecht style. The printing style is electrotype or wax engraving. Folded into tan card covers 17x12 with "Map of Pennsylvania..." and the state seal printed on the front cover.

HAGAMAN AND MARKHAM; PEABODY, M.M. 1837
N.P.: Hagaman & Markham. Type: Separate Map Size: 43x69 Scale: 1:6,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary (Peabody).

HALE, NATHAN (1827)
A Map of the New England States, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island & Connecticut, With the adjacent parts of New York & Lower Canada. Compiled and Published By Nathan Hale, Boston 1826. Engraved by J.V.N. Throop. Entered ... the 14th day of August 1826 by Nathan Hale of Massachusetts. (inset) Northern & Eastern Part Of Maine And Part Of Lower Canada And New Brunswick.
Boston: Nathan Hale. Type: Case Map Size: 116x96 Scale: 1:520,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p472.
Colored by county; engraved by J.V.N. Throop. 1826 on title. Shows the Farmington Canal extended to Northampton, Mass., which is further than the uncolored 1826 edition, so we presume it was updated at least a year later. Later Editions published to 1853. The quality of the engraving is extraordinary. Throop engraved Ohio for Lucas' 1823 General Atlas. Tooley lists an O.H. Throop of New York who engraved for Amos Lay (New York 1832) as well as for Asa Whitney, and a D.S. Throop who also engraved for Lay (U.S. 1832). Map is bordered in green silk , dissected in 24 sections, and folds with marbled end sheets into a blue marbled slip case 26x21.

HALL, S. (SIDNEY) 1830
A New General Atlas, With The Divisions and Boundaries Carefully Coloured; Constructed Entirely From New Drawings, and Engraved by Sidney Hall.

London, Printed For Longman, Rees, Orme, Brown And Green, Paternoster Row, 1830.
London: Longman, Rees, Orme, Brown and Green. Type: World Atlas Size: 63x52 Maps: 53 Reference: P758; Wheat 380, 381, 386; Tooley Australia p92-93.
First edition. Unusual presentation in two large elephant folio volumes with the maps unfolded. Covers are three quarter leather, marbled paper covered boards with "Hall's Atlas Part 1" and "Part 2" respectively, stamped in gilt on the front and spine. Wheat mentions the United States, Mexico and Guatimala, and British North America maps: he declares them up to date, making good use of the Lewis and Clark and Long maps. Interestingly for a British cartographer, Hall shows Maine and Oregon with the most ambitious U.S. claims as to territory. Graphically, these maps are very striking and beautiful; with outline color. Hall did a revised edition in the 1850-57 period (P821). The Australia maps are also mentioned by Tooley (Australia and Antarctica). In 1840 he collaborated with A. & C. Black to produce Black's General Atlas - however, those maps are somewhat smaller and not as impressive as these maps. The maps are dated variously from 1827 to 1830, with the title page dated 1830. This may indicate that the atlas was first issued in parts.

The tile/index page includes a coupon for a supplement showing world changes with a note stating, "No boundaries will change officially until after the conclusion of the war and when peace treaties have been signed. When boundaries have been settled, the publishers of this Atlas will issue a supplement showing all the changes brought about by the war..." The coupon and 10 cents would procure the supplement. The first maps are WWII maps without color. Nice uncolored relief maps at the back. A hardback book with a full color dust jacket with "Hammond's New Combination, Self-Revising World Atlas and Gazetteer including Separate World War Map, 44x32 inches in full color suitable for wall use..."

New York: C.S. Hammond. Type: World Atlas Size: 34x25 Maps: 42 Reference: P7142.
Coupon at the bottom of the first page states, "This new Atlas shows political divisions of Europe and the World as of the date of publication. No boundaries will change officially until after the conclusion of the war and when peace treaties have been signed. When boundaries have been settled, the publishers of this Atlas will issue a supplement showing all changes brought about by the war, to bring this book up to date thereafter." You could get the supplement by sending the coupon and dime to cover postage and handling. A large full-color world map tucked into the front of the atlas is entitled, "Hammond's Comprehensive Map of the World." At the bottom are flags of the different troops. They are meant to be cut out and attached to pins, which can then be used to track the "military movements, battle scenes and military occupied areas." Three uncolored maps at the beginning of the atlas are related to the war. The middle maps of the world are in color. The economic maps at the back are in black and white. Bound with tan linen-covered boards with "Hammond's New Combination, Self-Revising World Atlas and Gazetteer Including Separate World War Map. Garden City Publishing Company, Inc. New York." on the cover in black.

HARDESTY, L.Q; HARDESTY, H.H. 1874
Illustrated Historical Atlas Of Ottawa County, Ohio. From Recent and Actual Surveys and Records, Under The Superintendence Of L.Q. Hardesty, C.E. Chicago, Illinois: Published by H.H. Hardesty. 1874. Printed At The Lakeside Press, Clark And Adams Streets, Chicago.
Chicago: H.H. Hardesty. Type: County Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 21 Reference: P3877.
The only county atlas made by L.Q. Hardesty, although H.H. Hardesty (his brother?) produced many in the style of the Historical Hand Atlas Illustrated - which combined a world atlas and a county atlas (see our copy). L.Q.'s atlas is more conventional, with views and plats, but what makes it unusual is the location of the county - on the shores of Lake Erie and Sandusky Bay. Thus many of the views show the lake, the bay, and steamers, wineries, etc. Full color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards embossed in gold with title "Illustrated Historical Atlas Of Ottawa County Ohio. 1874. H.H. Hardesty".

First edition. Streeter: "This is an interesting early account of travel in eastern Ohio and one of the first separate historical accounts of the state. The large map of Ohio by General Rufus Putnam seems to be the first large map of the state. This is, consequently, one of the important Ohio Books." Interestingly, Smith in "The Mapping of Ohio" does not mention the 1804 Putnam map; he suggests that the much smaller 1804 Arrowsmith/Lewis Ohio was the first map of the state. HAVEN, JOHN. (1846)
Map Of The United States And Mexico, Including Oregon, Texas and the Californias.
No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 45x57 Scale: 1:14,000,000 Reference: Wheat 513;cf Wheat Gold 26;High Ridge 15; Streeter 3871.
Full color map with no name, publisher, date; Wheat says Haven, 1846. This copy was published late in 1846; see our early 1846 copy for a different issue. Streeter 3871 attributes this to Ensign and Thayer due to its similarity to their 1848 Ornamental Map of the U.S. and Mexico (Streeter 3872). Wheat says that this map is the source of Haven's broadside map of 1846 (Wheat 26) and the Journal of Commerce map of 1848 (Wheat 47), which use the top 2/3 and bottom 2/3 respectively, of this map, and therefore Wheat attributes this to Haven. The 1846 date is the latest date in the statistics on the states that flank the map. Wheat mentions that he found a copy in Farnham's Life and Travels in California, and our copy has written on the back in ms "Life and Travels in California," so this may be another place it was used, or what it was originally made for (see our copy of the Farnham with the map). See High Ridge 15 for two issues of the Haven 1846 broadside (Streeter 3865, 3866).

Map Of The United States And Mexico, Including Oregon, Texas And The Californias.
No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 45x57 Scale: 1:14,000,000 Reference: Wheat 513; cf Wheat Gold 26; High Ridge 15; Streeter 3871.
An earlier edition than our other copy - the Oregon boundary is shown at the 49th parallel. See our late 1846 copy for a different issue. Other changes include the title having the same words but arranged differently, the statistical tables having California on the left instead of the right, and the note in Texas says that Mexico claims its boundary as the Nueces River. With outline color.

HAWAII. GOVERNOR 1906
Report of the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii to the Secretary of the Interior. 1906.
Washington: Government Printing Office. Type: State Atlas Size: 23x15 Maps: 9 Reference: See DAB listing of O'Shaughnessy.
With nine maps, most folding and large (Maui is 110x133) showing land uses, topography, ownership, etc. The maps are dated around 1900 and are very interesting and attractive. The text and the maps give a look at the early commercial development of the islands. Several of the maps date from the Hawaiian Government Surveys, headed by W.D. Alexander, the Surveyor General. This survey predated the U.S. take over in 1899. The later maps are by the Hawaii Territory Survey, Walter E. Wall, Surveyor. On the title page is stamped "Private Property of M.M. O'Shaughnessy." He built the Hetch-Hetchy water system for San Francisco as chief city engineer and many other important public works. Earlier in his career, he worked in Hawaii as a consultant to the plantations for various improvements (see DAB).

HAYES, ELI L. 1877
Illustrated Atlas Of The Upper Ohio River And Valley From Pittsburgh, Pa. To Cincinnati, Ohio. From United States official and Special Surveys Compiled &

Drawn For The Publishers By E.L. Hayes, Assisted by E.F. Hayes, C.M. Beresford, Assisted by S.A. Charpiot, F.L. Sanford, J.H. Sherman. Published by Titus, Simmons & Titus, 27 South Sixth Street Phila. 1877. Eng. by Worley & Bracher, 27 So. Sixth St. Phila, Pa. Printed by H.J. Toudy & Co. 623 Commerce St. Phila, Pa. Oldach & Mergenthaler Binders, S.E. Cor. 4th & Cherry Sts. Phila. Entered ... 1877, by Titus Simmons & Titus ... Washington. (title page) A. Ruger, del ...
Philadelphia: Titus, Simmons & Titus. Type: Regional Atlas Size: 42x46 Maps: 67 Reference: P2348, 2442; Rieger 46.
This is perhaps the most extraordinary "county atlas" produced in the 19th century. Although it is a regional atlas in scope, covering both sides of the Ohio River from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, in format it is county atlas with views, maps, and advertising directories of the local towns, cities, residences, and businesses along the river. There are 26 double page maps of the Ohio River, plus an index sheet, that are beautifully drawn and colored, as well as numerous maps of towns and cities on the river. The views frequently show the river and river boat traffic, the inside and outside of factories (an inside view of a glass blowing factory is amazing), and farms and residences. There are large fold out maps of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. When taken all together, the effect is stunning. This atlas has become rare, with few copies surviving the "breaker's" temptation to cut it up. Rieger rates it "of extraordinary importance" and "extremely scarce." Bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Illustrated Atlas Of The Upper Ohio River & Valley. From Pittsburgh Pa. To Cincinnati O. Titus, Simmons & Titus." stamped in gold. Full and outline color.

HAYNES, TILLY (1884)
New Map Of Boston Giving All Points Of Interest ... Geo H. Walker & Co. Lith. 160 Tremont St. Boston. Copyright 1883 by Tilly Haynes. (with map) Bird's Eye View Of Boston Harbor, Engraved Expressly For The United States Hotel Company, Showing Routes Of Nantasket Steamer Co.'s Boats ... Geo H. Walker & Co. Lith. Boston. Copyright 1884 by Tilly Haynes.
Tilly Haynes was the proprietor of the United States Hotel. She drew both maps. The larger map is titled "New Map of Boston Giving All Points of Interest..." The second, somewhat smaller map is "Bird's Eye View of Boston Harbor..." The maps and the brochure accompanying have many ads for the U.S. Hotel, which ties in to the fact that they were drawn by the "Resident Proprietor" of the Hotel. The maps are very well done. This may be one of the few times that a cartographer managed a hotel. Covers are tan card board with the title "New Map of Boston With an Extra New Map of The Harbor. Giving All Points Of Interest Or Attraction In City, Seashore, Or Suburbs. Revised And Corrected For The Season. Price 20 Cents. Geo. H. Ellis, Printer, 141 Franklin St., Boston." printed in gold.

The uncolored "Map of the Central Route," not present in all copies, is included. Wheat notes that Heap's map "was the earliest published map to show the middle Rocky Mountain region." It is earlier (according to Wheat) than Gunnison's preliminary map of 1854 (see our 2938) and notes Gunnison's massacre in Utah. It was used by Senator Benton to promote the central route crossing. 13 plates show various scenes along the route. Rebound cloth covered boards with "Central Route To The Pacific" embossed on the spine.

N.P.: Manuscript. Type: Chart Size: 33x21 Maps: 16
This is a ship's log that begins to record a journey midway from Honolulu to Esquimalt in British Columbia, then down the west coast of the United States and the west coast of South America, around Cape Horn, and back to England. It begins in July, 1884 and ends in November, 1885. 16 beautifully drawn charts record the track of the steam and sail powered ship, showing stops in San Francisco, Mazatlan, San Blas, Valparaiso and Rio de Janeiro and other ports. Many drawings illustrate aspects of the ship and its equipment. The log itself records the weather and daily ship operations. An unusual highly illustrated document.

HENN, WILLIAMS & CO.; DESILVER, CHARLES 1857
A Sectional Map Of Iowa. Compiled from the Official Surveys Of The United States and the Public Records Of The State & Counties And From Personal Reconnoissance. By Henn, Williams & Co. of Fairfield, Iowa. Published By Keen & Lee, Chicago, Illinois. 1857. Printed, Mounted & Colored By Charles Desilver, Publisher No. 251 Market Street, Philadelphia. Engraved by Theodore Leonhardt Under the direction of J.L. Hazzard. Entered ... by Keen & Lee, in the year 1857 ... Illinois ...
Chicago: Keen & Lee. Type: Pocket Map Size: 132x167 Scale: 1:378,000 Reference: Karrow 8-0724.
This must be the largest map of Iowa published in the 1850's. It is massive, and full of detail. It is interesting that it was actually made by Desilver in Philadelphia - perhaps the large size required a return to the "big city" to get the job done right. Henn Williams were dealers in land and bankers, and their output of maps was intended to promote these activities. With a catalogue of Keen & Lee publications on the inside front cover. Full color by county. Map is not dissected and folds into beautiful burgandy leather folding case 14x21 with title "Henn Williams & Co. Sectional Map Of Iowa. Keen & Lee Chicago 1857" stamped in gold on a leather tab which slips through a loop to fasten the case closed. Rare.

HENSHAW, FRANCES A. 1828
Frances H. Henshaw's Book of Penmanship Executed at the Middlebury Female Academy April 29, 1828.
Manuscript. Middlebury, Vermont. Type: Manuscript Map Size: 25x20 Maps: 19 Reference: None found.
Exquisite hand drawn maps of the states. Notwithstanding the title, this is a geography book hand drawn by a very promising student. It includes descriptions of Astronomical Geography, the Ptolemaic, Brahean and Copernican Systems, Comets, Great Circles, Equator, Meridian, Horizon, Colures, Tropics, Polar Circles, Zones, Climates, Latitude and Longitude, a section titled America, and 19 maps of the states with a descriptive page for each. The maps are copied from the 1805 edition of Carey's American Pocket Atlas, except for Ohio, which is from Arrowsmith and Lewis' Atlas, 1812, and Indiana, from an unknown source. The text is copied from Morse's Geography Made Easy, probably 1807, 11th edition, but certainly before the 12th edition (which was changed substantially); the text describing the maps is original. The only mystery is why she used such out of date sources if, in fact, she made this book in 1828. The penmanship is remarkable both in the execution of the maps and text. One of a kind. At the bottom of the title page: "presented to her son T.A. Post - Feb 4th 1872." Emma Willard led the Middlebury Female Academy from 1807-9, see DAB.

HERRITH, PHILURA. 1815

A Map of the British Possessions in North America, including Part of the United States: Compiled from the Latest Surveys. 1815. Philura Herrith.
Manuscript. Type: School Atlas Size: 52x73 Scale: 1:4,435,200
Another school girl's map, very large (two sheet). Probably used Matthew Carey's Map of the British Possessions in North America (1804 ed.) which is smaller than this map but has all the same place names and legends. However, our young cartographer had to figure out the U.S. part of her map by consulting other maps (Carey's does not go that far south) and it is not clear which maps she used - she shows some interesting trails in the states which we can't find on other maps. Overall, an impressive production, somewhat crude in the lettering, but a big effort. Map in outline color.

HEWETT, DANIEL. 1822
The Traveller's Guide Through The United States, And Brief Geographical View Of The World ... Being the Outlines of a Course of Lectures on Geography. By D. Hewett, A.M. New York Published for the Author, at No. 73 Vesey Street, March, 1822. (with map) United States. J.D. Stout. (with folded sheet) General View Of The World. Arranged according to the course of Geographical Lectures by D. Hewett.
New York: D. Hewett. Type: Guide Book Size: 17.5x11; 26x33 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:7,920,000 Reference: Not in Howes, Sabin, Buck, Graff, Streeter, or Eberstadt.
A rare guide that precedes the author's "The American Traveler" by three years (see our #2943). With a large folding map of the United States engraved by J.D. Stout; the same map appears in Picket's "Geographical Grammar" of 1817 (see our copy). This is a somewhat crude version of the more polished guide of 1825. It begins with a short general discussion of geographical principals and then lists the major roads and routes in the U.S. There is also a large fold out chart "General View of The World" which describes the topographical features of the continents. In the "Concluding Remarks" the author states "It is a long time since I had it in view to publish a little thing of this kind...but a roving destiny has since that time carried me to the banks of the St. Lawrence, and the plains of Georgia...In the next Edition corrections and enlargements will be made...so as to render it, if possible, worthy of the attention of this, our Nation of Travellers." Covers are plain gray blue paper 17.5x11 with orange binding.

Many views, several of which have extensive biographical text with them. Higgins, Belden & Co. published five county atlases, all in Indiana. This is one of the most elaborate and attractive county atlases we have seen. Full color. At the end is a full printed color Rand McNally folding map of the United States which has appeared in several county atlases and other atlases and gazetteers of the period (although this may be a very early version since the atlas was published in 1874 and most of the other examples of the map are in books dated 1875). Higgins also worked with F.W. Beers, A. Warner, and D.J. Lake. Bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Illustrated Historical Atlas Of LaPorte County Indiana. 1874." stamped in gilt on the front and blind stamped on the back.

HIGLEY, HORACE A. 1857
Official Map Of The County Of Alameda California Surveyed and compiled by Order of the Board of Supervisors. Horace A. Higley, County Surveyor. April - 1857. Lithy. of Britton & Rey, S.F.
San Francisco: Britton & Rey. Type: Wall Map Size: 56x84 Scale: 1:95,040 Reference: Vogdes p.210.
The first and earliest map of Alameda County listed by Vogdes and the second published county map of a California county, preceded only by San Francisco. The Bancroft Library catalog entry says "This is the oldest known map of Alameda County." Higley made several maps of local ranches and towns prior to making this county map. With brown top and bottom rollers and brown linen edging. With hand painted color by township.

Groningen: J. Oomkens, J. Zoon. Type: National Atlas Size: 40x26 Maps: 10 Reference: P3693.
A scarce small atlas of ten maps published in Holland, but authored by a school teacher from the Dutch Colony in Holland, Michigan. It was most likely sold to Dutch Americans and those in Holland planning to emigrate or who had relatives in America. The date is estimated by Phillips and Koeman. Koeman lists an earlier edition of 1849, with five maps. There is a double page of text at the end of the maps, with lists of distances by steamboat and railroad. The copy listed in Phillips has a cover title, not present here. Maps are hand painted with outline color and bound in quarter leather marbled paper covered boards.

Separately issued from the Hand Book of Arizona. Has inset map "Map of the Southern Pacific Railroad Connecting with the Central Pacific R.R. at Goshen 1877." Derives much from the Mallery and Ward maps of 1876 (for the Army and the private issue - see our copies) without giving them much credit. A wonderful map with abundant detail on mines, railroads, trails, forts, reservations, etc. Streeter's copy was colored (this is not) and issued in covers, apparently without a date on the title (this copy is dated 1878 on the title). Phillips lists an 1877 edition. No copies were bound in the hand book, but some were laid in loose.

Lincoln, Nebraska: State Journal Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 56x99 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: Karrow 12-0581
Karrow shows editions of 1883,1885, and 1887 as well as this issue. This map is similar to the 1880 Map of Nebraska by Herman Smith, also published by the State Journal Company, but the title has been moved to the upper right corner to allow coverage of north eastern Colorado and the Burlington Railroad route to Denver. This map was also issued by the Burlington Railroad in 1886 and 1887 as part of their route promotion (Karrow 12-0574 and 12-0591). Compared to the 1880 map, there is much new development of railroads and the northwestern corner of the state. Full printed color by county, folded into black cloth covers 16x10 titled "New Sectional Map Of Nebraska." in gilt.

HITCHCOCK, CHARLES H. (CHARLES HENRY), 1836-1919; NEW HAMPSHIRE. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY 1878
Atlas Accompanying The Report On The Geology Of New Hampshire. C.H. Hitchcock, State Geologist. 1878. Julius Bien, New York.
New York: Julius Bien Type: Geologic Atlas Size: 88x64 Maps: 17 Reference: Sabin 52833; Cobb 348; P2135; Marcou 229-231.
17 maps and plates as called for in Vol III, p.vii of text. Huge folio atlas with 2 plates of views, 2 facsimiles (Carrigain 1816 and Holland 1784), 1 diagram or Camera view, a 6 sheet Geological Map of the state, a 5 (of 6, as issued) sheet Map of the state's Surface Geology, and a map of the Ammonoosuc Mining District. The upper northwest sheet of the Surface Geology map was not printed because it is entirely of Vermont, except for a tiny part of the lower right corner which was covered by making the uppper northeast sheet about one inch wider in the Surface Geology issue than it is in the Geological (six sheet) issue. The matter is further confused by Sabin calling for 16 plates and Phillips and LeGear calling for 9. Cobb calls for 17 and the most important list, in the text of the report itself, calls for 17. We believe this was the only large folio Geological Atlas made of an eastern state, on the scale of the western survey atlases of Powell, Hayden, Wheeler and King, during the same period. Most maps have printed color although the Ammonoosuc Mining District map is hand painted in full color.

HITCHCOCK, EDWARD 1833
Report on the Geology, Mineralogy, Botany and Zoology of Massachusetts. ... Illustrated by Numerous Wood Cuts and an Atlas of Plates. By Edward Hitchcock ... Amherst: Press of J.S. and C. Adams. 1833.
Amherst: J.S. & C. Adams. Type: Geology Book Size: 25x16 Reference: Marcou 201; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p255.
Accompanied by an Atlas of Plates (our #2787). 1st edition published separately. Hitchcock published a shorter version of his report, with the map, in Silliman's "Journal" in 1832. Marcou gives preference to that map (Marcou 200), although this map is dated 1832 and is almost certainly from the same plate. This is probably the first geological map to cover an entire state (Schwartz). Cloth covered boards with title label on spine.

HITCHCOCK, EDWARD 1841
Final Report on the Geology of Massachusetts ... By Edward Hitchcock, LL.D. (In Two Volumes). Northampton: Published by J.H. Butler. 1841.
Northampton: J.H. Butler Type: Geology Book Size: 45x71 Maps: 2 Reference: Marcou 204.
Has the 4th edition of the Geological Map of Massachusetts. The map shows many changes from the 1st edition of 1832, both in the form of the geological structure and the graphic appearance of the map. On page 707 Hitchcock says "My resurvey of the state has enabled me to make numerous minor alterations and corrections of the former editions...I had cherished the confident expectation, that before my re-examinations were completed, the large Map of the State, now in progress under the superintendence of Mr. Borden, would have been published. But being disappointed in obtaining that as the basis of the Geological Map, I have resorted to the best published Maps of the State...at the best, it can be considered only as an Index to a Geological Map of the State." Hitchcock's Geological Map of the State did finally appear as an inset to Borden's large Map of the State published in 1844. A second map of the state is placed at the end of vol. two and is titled "Map Showing the Strike and Dip of the Strata...In Massachusetts." Books bound in cloth with title and author's name on the spines.

HOFFMANN, CHARLES F. 1866

Topographical Map Showing the Locations of the Sutro Tunnel And The Comstock Lode State Of Nevada, United States Of America. Drawn by Chas. F. Hoffmann, San Francisco, Cal. March 1866. Ferd. Mayer & Co. Lithographers 96 Fulton St. N.Y.
New York: Ferd. Mayer & Co. Lithographers. Type: Separate Map Size: 32x33 Scale: 1:31,680
This map was also issued folded with the pamphlet "The Sutro Tunnel to the Comstock Lode" published in New York, 1866. This copy is unfolded and was probably issued as a separate. The map shows the area from Virginia City to the proposed town of Sutro (not identified as such) at the mouth of the Sutro Tunnel, and the towns of Dayton and American City. This appears to be the first printed map of the Sutro Tunnel. With hand painted color.

HOFFMANN, CHARLES F.; J.T. GARDNER; WHITNEY, J.D.; GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF CALIFORNIA (1869)
Geological Survey Of California, J.D. Whitney, State Geologist. Map of a portion of the Sierra Nevada adjacent to the Yosemite Valley from surveys made by Chs. F. Hoffmann and J.T. Gardner, 1863-1867.
N.P.: No Publisher. Type: Wall Map Size: 52x77 Scale: 1:126,720 Reference: Wheat 1194.
This is a second issue of this map, here mounted as a wall map. This is the same as the first issue that appeared with the Yosemite Guide Book (see our #4212) except that it adds "Hite's Cove" on the Merced River just slightly west of its junction with Devil's Gulch. In the (1870) third issue (our #4650) Hite's Cove is relocated to a point just south of the Merced on the road titled "Road to Hite's Cove" and the erasure of the prior label is apparent. We have dated this second issue (1869) as a best guess. With black top and bottom rollers, and pink linen edging. Map is without color.

HOFFMANN, CHARLES F.; WHITNEY, J.D.; GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF CALIFORNIA 1873
Topographical Map of Central California Together With a Part of Nevada. (Sheets III & IV). State Geological Survey Of California. J.D. Whitney, State Geologist. C.F. Hoffmann, Principal Topographer, V. Wackenreuder, J.T. Gardner, A. Craven, A.D. Wilson, Field Assistants. 1873 ... Julius Bien, Engr.
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Separate Map Size: 65x63 (each sheet) Scale: 1:380,160 Reference: cfWheat 1238,note 43, p332; Vogdes p178.
South 2 sheets of 4; top 2 sheets never issued; thus complete. Two unmounted sheets on heavy paper. Never folded. Hoffmann was the principal topographer. Wheat says the Northwest sheet was issued; does not mention the northeast being issued. WH says the two northern sheets were issued with areas left unsurveyed; he doubts that they were ever mounted on linen and colored. So the bottom two in this issue can be considered "complete". Vogdes lists the date as 1872 (and elsewhere as 1873!). We think 1873 is correct. Vogdes says sheet II, northeast sheet, was issued in 1872; he also dates sheet III and IV as 1872, and sheet III as having an 1871 issue (Fitch had a copy of this 1871 sheet III issue on thin paper, folded into covers, Cat. 41). There is a note on the map reading "The portion of Nevada included between the parallels ... taken from the work of the 40th Parallel Survey in charge of Clarence King, by permission of Genl. A.A. Humphreys, Chief of Engineers." Outline color by county.

HOLMES, J.W. 1863
Map Of Saint Clair County, Illinois. Published by J.W. Holmes, Civil Engineer & Map Publisher, 1863. Field Surveys Conducted by R.S. Hodgen, C.E. & Surveyor. Manufactured by R. Pearsall Smith, 517, 519, 521 Minor St. Phila, Pa. Entered ... 1863 by Joseph W. Holmes ... Illinois. (with 15 inset maps).
Philadelphia: R. Pearsall Smith. Type: Case Map Size: 138x154 Scale: 1:47,520 Reference: P-Maps p.756. County map in case map form - fairly rare, in that most county maps were mounted on rollers. The map was published by Robert Pearsall Smith (the two copies listed in Phillips were published by Sage and by Holmes, in Buffalo) in Philadelphia. St. Clair county is opposite St. Louis, giving it special importance. Full color with 15 inset maps and 13 views, and one advertisement. Dissected into 36 sections. Folds into marbled paper end sheets and lies in a new rust cloth folding case with "Saint Clair County, Illinois J.W. Holmes 1863" stamped in gilt along the spine. Folded with marbled paper backing to 25 x 28 cm.

HOLT, WARREN; GIBBES, C.D. 1873
Map of the States Of California And Nevada. Carefully Compiled from the Latest Authentic Sources. By Chas. Drayton Gibbes, C.E. Comprising Information obtained from the U.S. Coast And Land Surveys ... And Others. Published by Warren Holt. No. 607 Clay Street, San Francisco, Cal. 1873. Entered ... 1873 by Warren Holt ... Washington. S. Blinton Formerly of the U.S. Coast Survey Draughtsman & Lithographer. 148-1/2 S. Fourth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
San Francisco: Warren Holt. Type: Pocket Map Size: 94x78 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Wheat 1240.
First edition, second state. Shows mineral deposits by color. Lineal descendent of the 1869 larger map of California and Nevada by Holt, Gibbes, and others. Also shows 10, 20 and 30 mile railroad grants. This is not the first state of the first edition - that has 11 land districts instead of the 14 found on this copy (see our #5154). The "unexplored" area in the Northeastern corner of California has been removed with much topographical detail changed from the first state. Eureka County is added in Nevada. The change of the Land Districts from eleven to fourteen includes a radical change in boundaries, some names changed, and numbering changed, indicating a major restructuring of the General Land Office administration in 1873. Map is folded into red cloth covers 16x10 with "Holt's Map Of California And Nevada." in gilt.

HOLT, WARREN; GIBBES, C.D. 1881
Map of the States of California And Nevada. Carefully Compiled from the Latest Authentic Sources. California By Julius H. Von Schmidt, Arthur W. Keddie, And C.D. Gibbes, C.E.'s. Nevada By Chas. Drayton Gibbes C.E. Comprising Information obtained from the U.S. Coast And Land Surveys; State Geological Surveys, By Prof. J.D. San Francisco: Warren Holt. Type: Case Map Size: 153x128 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: cf Vogdes p203 (1876 edition); Wheat 1202 (1869 edition).
This edition is not in Vogdes (he lists editions of 1869, 1876, and 1888). The copyright date is 1876, so it is probably similar to that edition. There are many changes, as one would hope (or expect) between this and the 1869 edition, both in graphic composition and topography. The map has been completely reengraved by S.B.Linton (the original engraver) and shows much of the General Land Office surveys. It is so full of detail as to be difficult to read in many areas. Two views are added: the Capital-Nevada, and University-California. The 1888 edition is reengraved completely yet again (WH's copy). This copy belonged to Lewis M. Clement, Chief Engineer of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad. The inside of the case flap closure reads "Lewis M. Clement, Chief Engineer of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad - Office: Safe Deposit Building Room 8 - San Francisco, Cal." in calligraphic manuscript. The map is slightly trimmed at the bottom (affecting only the decorative border) in order to fit into his custom brown cloth case 28x17. Map has outline color, is in two sheets

Nuremberg: Johann Baptist Homann. Type: School Atlas Size: 53x35 Maps: 18 Reference: British Museum World p.379; Bagrow History of Cartography (2nd ed.) p.187.
First (and only?) edition. One of the earliest school atlases to use a system of letters on blank maps that are coded to a separate key list. This method was based on a teaching system formulated by Johann Hubner (1668-1731) and adapted by Homann. Four celestial maps illustrate the systems of Ptolemy, Tycho Brahe, Copernicus, and Descartes. Fourteen keyed maps show the countries and continents of Europe, Asia, Africa and the Americas. California is shown as an island on the Americas map, and listed under islands in the key. Homann published an Atlas Scholasticus in 1732 (P577) which was also a collaboration with Hubner. Scarce. Maps are in full color, and atlas is bound in untitled red marbled paper covered boards with a vellum spine.

HOOKER, WILLIAM 1833
Hooker's New Pocket Plan Of The City Of New York. Compiled & Surveyed by William Hooker, Engraver. New York: Drawn, Engraved, Printed, Published & Sold by W. Hooker ... 1833. Additions to 1833 ... Entered ... 1833, by William Hooker ... New York.
New York: William Hooker. Type: Pocket Map Size: 32x39 Scale: 1: 15,600 Reference: Haskell 765.
Haskell shows editions of 1824, 1826, 1828/29, 1833, 1838, and 1842. Compared to the 1828/29 edition, the listing of churches and public buildings has been expanded and the map shows new development in the northern parts of the city. For some unexplained reason, Hooker has dropped the appellation "Hydrographer" and is now just "Engraver." Map is folded into red leather covers 12x7.5 with "Hooker's Plan of New York" stamped in gilt.

Philadelphia: G.M. Hopkins & Co. Type: County Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 53 Reference: P2160.
A combined state and county atlas. The county maps are similar but smaller than Hopkin's 1860 wall map of New Jersey. The maps of Hudson County are very detailed, showing all the plots and land owners. Hopkins did primarily City and Town atlases, so this county atlas is unusual for him - however, with Hudson County being directly across the river from New York City, it was very urban in character and thus this is almost a city atlas in county form. Full color. Atlas is bound in half leather dark teal cloth covered boards with "Atlas Of The County Of Hudson, And The State Of New Jersey. G.M. Hopkins, 320 Walnut Street, Philada." embossed in gold; the title is also blind stamped on back cover.

HOTAN, 1654-1738 1710
Nanzenbushu bankoku shoka no zu. Rokashi. Hoei 7 (1710)
Wood block print. Hand colored. In Japanese. Shows the world based on Buddhist literature from India and China. This map is based on a Buddhist conceptual view of the world with India at the center, yet it includes contemporary European geographical knowledge -- Europe is shown as a group of islands in the upper left corner and South America is is an island in the ocean south of Japan on the right side. The map has many placenames in Asia not found on European maps of the period. In the center of the map in the Himalayan Mountains is a quadruple helix symbolizing the origins of the four great rivers of the region (the Indus, the Ganges, the Brahmaputra and the Sutlej rivers) emanating from the heads of a horse, a lion, an elephant, and an ox. This is the site of the present day Lake Manasarovar, the highest fresh water lake in the world. "A land bridge connects China to an unnamed continent in the upper right corner ..."--Cortazzi. Relief shown pictorially. Bibliography. Title in Nihon kohan chizu shusei: Nanzenbushu bankoku shoka no zu. Folded in cover 24x19. Has annotations in red ink.

Washington, Pa.: J.A. Howden & A. Odbert. Type: County Atlas Size: 45x39 Maps: 33 Reference: P2498.
The second county atlas with colored views. Howden worked on the first county atlas with colored views, the Atlas of Clarion County of 1877 by Joseph Caldwell. It is interesting to note that the views here are colored in differing numbers of colors and some are not colored at all, indicating that the purchasers of the views were offered different prices depending on the amount of color employed. As with the Clarion County Atlas, many of the views show oil wells, although not as many appear as in the Clarion Atlas. Printed by Otto Krebs of Pittsburgh. Full color. Bound in half leather reddish brown cloth covered boards with "Historical Atlas Of Warren County Pennsylvania. By J.A. Howden & Co. 1878." stamped in gilt.

HOWELL, READING 1792
A Map Of The State Of Pennsylvania. By Reading Howell MDCCXCII. To Thomas Mifflin Governor, The Senate, And House Of Representatives Of The Commonwealth Of Pennsylvania, This Map is respectfully Inscribed by the Author. Published 1 August 1792 for the Author, & Sold by James Phillips, George Yard, Lombard Street, London.
Wheat & Brun: "This is the best map of Pennsylvania to appear in the 18th century, and the first detailed map of the State to show its exact boundaries." This copy is a mixed state, as is usually the case, with the title and dedication in the first state. It is fully colored by county by a contemporary hand. Wheat & Brun list the first four states as 1792, with states V and VI as 1795, state VII as 1798, and state VIII as 1806. Ristow lists later editions of 1816 and 1817 published by Emmor Kimber in Philadelphia. Howell also published a smaller Map of Pennsylvania, reduced from the large map, in 1792, with later issues in 1795 and 1796; Ristow lists editions of 1811 and 1817. Howell's maps were the first maps of the state published after the revolution, and were used until Melish published his map in 1822. Samuel Lewis used Howell's map as the source for his Pennsylvania map in Carey's American Atlas of 1795. Map is dissected into 40 sections and mounted on linen. Folds into its original brown leather slip case 24x17.5 with "Howell's Map" printed on the front in ink, and then into a new dark green cloth folding case 25x18 with “Pennsylvania R. Howell 1792" stamped on the spine in gold.

HOWELL, READING 1811
A Map Of The State Of Pennsylvania By Reading Howell MDCCCXI. Engraved by J. Vallance. To The Governor and Legislature Of The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania this Map is Respectfully inscribed by the Author. Philada. Published by Kimber & Conrad & Johnson & Warner.
Philadelphia: Kimber, Conrad, Johnson & Warner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 55x85 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: cf Wheat & Brun 437; Welsh Sale 477; Ristow p108-110; P-Maps 679, 680.

Wheat and Brun show a 1791 map of different title and smaller size that may have been the precursor of this 1811 map - both are derived from Howell's large map of Pennsylvania, first issued in 1792. This 1811 copy is the first edition in this format, with other editions in 1816 and 1817. Decorative vignettes surround the dedication in the upper right and the title in the lower right. In the lower left corner there is a view of the "Schuylkill permanent Bridge." Colored in outline, backed on thin linen and folded into red half leather marbled covered boards 15x10.

First edition, first state (10 line errata); map and first three leaves (of the Narrative) and last leaf (of the Sermon) in expert facsimile. Remnants of original Ratcliff binding laid on new leather (see Streeter for importance of Ratcliff binding). Contains the first map printed in English America, titled "A Map of New England, Being the first that ever was here cut..." Later in the year, a London edition appeared with a similar map, but with the "White Hills" of the Boston edition map changed to the "Wine Hills." See Wheat and Brun for details of the relationship of these two maps. The text of the "Narrative" is considered a cornerstone authority on the subject, and the sermon is "bibliographically important as being one of the first books printed in Boston" (Streeter).

London: Frederick Warne & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 35x28 Maps: 62 Reference: None found.
Hand colored maps notwithstanding the tile page. Beautiful plates of Rivers and Mountains, and Waterfalls. This atlas is not in any of the standard references. It is somewhat similar in title and cover to some of the smaller school atlases Hughes did for Philips, but all of those were color printed. This is most unusual to be hand colored and to have the larger scale maps. Covers are rusty brown cloth covered boards with "The Modern Atlas. Revised Edition. Complete Index. Sixty-Four Maps. 70,000 References. Rufus Slawter." stamped in gilt, and "New Edition. Twenty Sixth Thousand." and a decorative border stamped in black. The spine reads "The Modern Atlas. 64 Maps."

HUMBOLDT, ALEXANDER VON 1814

Political Essay On The Kingdom Of New Spain ... By Alexander De Humboldt. With Physical Sections And Maps Founded On Astronomical Observations, And Trigonometrical And Barometrical Measurements. Translated From The Original French By John Black. Second Edition. London: Printed For Longman, Hurst, Rees, Orme, and Brown; And H. Colburn. 1814.
London: Longman, Hurst, Rees, Orme, and Brown; and H. Colburn. Type: Geography Book Size: 22x14 Maps: 9 Reference: Howes H786; Sabin 33715; Wheat 273; WC 7a:7 (incorrect as to the maps).
The second London edition in four volumes, with the general map "A Map of New Spain...reduced from the Large Map drawn from astronomical observations at Mexico in the Year 1804, by Alexandre De Humboldt, and comprehending the whole of the information contained in the Original Map, except the heights of the Mountains...Published as the act directs, Octr. 25, 1810..." This is the same map that appears in the first London edition of 1811. Eight other maps and profiles. The translator is somewhat critical of Humboldt's positive acceptance of everything he saw and wrote about. Humboldt's "Geographical Introduction" is most useful in detailing the sources of his maps.

HUNTER, C.M.; PLEASANT HILL LAND ASSOCIATION. (1887)
Philadelphia: C.M. Hunter (map). Type: Pocket Map Size: 60x82 Scale: 1:2,400 Reference: cf P16890 (Hunter's Atlas of Phil).
Map is from Hunter's city atlas adapted to show the lots for sale. A complete record of the purchase of four lots from the Pleasant Hill Land Association by Mr. W.H. Schober in 1887, with a record of installment payments made through 1889, at which time Mr. Schober is given his deed. Schober has marked his lots on the map, as well as another four adjoining lots that were purchased by a friend. This gives some insight into late 19th century urban subdivision methods. The subdivision can be located on J.L. Smith's Driving Map of Philadelphia and Vicinity of 1882, between Linden and Convent Roads on the Delaware River north of the 23rd Ward. Map is folded into dark brown cloth covers 15x10 with "Pleasant Hill Land Association ... " printed in black, and name "W.H. Schober", address "478 N. 5th St.", and number of lots "Four" handwritten in pen on a paste down beige label.

HUNTINGTON, H. & F.J.; WORCESTER, J.E.; ET AL. 1835
Several publishers. Type: School Atlas Size: 30x25 Maps: 50
Someone put this together in the mid 19th century - the binding is from that period. The Huntington maps are from the Malte-Brun School Atlas, the Worcester maps (which are not attributed to Worcester but are his, we think) are from his Modern Atlas -cf P6102, the Fowle and Capon Massachusetts map is from the Common School Geography of c1838, the Plan of Portland, Maine, is by D.G. Johnson, and is removed from the Portland Directory by Samuel Colman, 1831 (see Williamson). The ms maps are very interesting and well drawn, especially those pertaining to Portland. We have never seen a composite school atlas like this.

And all the Country bordering on these Lakes and Rivers. By Thos. Hutchins, Captain in the 60 Regiment of Foot. London, Published according to Act of Parliament Novembr. ye 1st, 1778 by T. Hutchins ... Engrav'd by T. Cheevers.
London: T. Hutchins. Type: Case Map Size: 91x112
Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Streeter 1300; P-Maps 983; Ristow p 38-39; Smith, p 20-27; Brown 51.
This map was published separately and at the same time as Hutchins' "Topographical Description..." and should accompany the book. Streeter calls it "by far the best map of the west printed to that time." It was the first large scale map of the area west of the Allegheny Mountains based on personal observations, although Hutchins gives credit to Lewis Evans' "Map of the Middle Colonies" as the best prior source of information about the area. The map contains extensive printed notes which describe important aspects of the country depicted. This map ranks with the most important American maps issued in the 18th century and is now rare. Hutchins later became the first Geographer of the United States. With outline color. Map is dissected into 32 sections and mounted on linen. Folds into new green cloth folding boards and quarter leather green cloth slip case 24x16 with "Hutchin's New Map Of Western Parts Of Virginia, Etc. 1778" on the spine in gold.

Land sale promotion. Map shows railroad lands in red. Probably made specially by Colton for the railroad - this is not the atlas map (it is larger) and it has the simplicity of a railroad map - it shows the stations along the route which is delineated by a thick black line. The text promotes the wonders of Illinois for farming.

IMLAY, GILBERT 1797
A Topographical Description of the Western Territory of North America ... By Gilbert Imlay ... Illustrated with correct Maps of the Western Territory of North America; of the State of Kentucky, as divided into Counties, from actual Surveys by Elihu Barker; a Map of the Tenasee Government; and a Plan of the Rapids of the Ohio. The Third Edition With Great Additions. London: Printed For J. Debrett, Opposite Burlington House, Piccadilly. 1797.
London: J. Debrett. Type: Exploration Book Size: 21x14
Maps: 4 Reference: Howes G12; Streeter 1525; Buck 43; Graff 2091.
Clark II-41. Third and best edition. Streeter: "The most complete version of this work, in which form it was the most informative compilation on the West at the end of the 18th century." Complete text of Filson's Kentucky, Hutchins on Florida, etc., and much else. The Map of the State of Kentucky, by Elihu Barker is a slight reduction in size from the original by Carey, but not as great a reduction as the edition of the map that appeared in Carey's American Atlas and General Atlas in 1795 (cf Wheat & Brun 641, 642). The London version of the Barker map seems to have the same information as the Philadelphia, but they are very different in engraving style with the Philadelphia copy having an "American" look. Clark is critical of the accuracy of Imlay's letters, which were probably written in Europe after he fled Kentucky and financial problems. See DAB for another critical view of Mr. Imlay.

This is the scarce Senate issue with four maps by "Baron" Egloffstein. Egloffstein used a unique engraving process to achieve a superb rendering of topographical features; he used the same technique in the map is drew for Macomb's Report (see our #2699). Of the maps in Ives's Report Wheat said "The two maps were drawn by F.W. Egloffstein...the first...is one of his best." Rare in this form with the two additional geological maps in color wash. These only appear in the Senate issue. They are the same as the two "normal" maps that appear in the House and Senate issue, but they have colors overlaid to show geological formations. Report bound with blue cloth covered boards with title on spine.

JEFFERYS, THOMAS (1750)
Thomas Jefferys Engraver Geographer to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, at y Corner of St. Martins Lane near Charing Cross Sells great Variety of Prints English and Foreign by the most Celebrated Masters And all Sorts of Maps and Globes. Ant: Walker. Inv: del: et Sculpt. (trade card advertisement).
N.P.: No Publisher. Type: Ephemera Size: 24x17
Reference: Imago Mundi XX, p.29 (illustrated).
A rare advertisement for Jefferys' publications and products. The date is estimated. It is interesting that this does not emphasize the maps as much as the prints, reflecting the fact that he had a large business at this time as a general engraver. Apparently, he published this trade card to "mark his arrival in the Strand" (Harley, Imago Mundi XX), and to announce the opening of his new premises there. Card uncolored.

JEFFERYS, THOMAS 1760
The Natural and Civil History Of The French Dominions In North and South America. Giving a particular Account of the Climate, Soil, Minerals, Animals, Vegetables, Manufactures, Trade, Commerce, And Languages ... Illustrated By Maps and Plans of the principal Places, Collected from the best Authorities, and engraved by T. Jefferys, Geographer to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. Part I. Containing A Description of Canada and Louisiana. London, Printed for Thomas Jefferys at Charing-Cross. MDCCLX.

London: Thomas Jefferys. Type: Geography Book Size: 36x23 Maps: 18 Reference: Howes J83; Streeter 128; Sabin 35964; P-Maps (lists all 18 maps); Stevens and Tree 27(b), 51(a), 66 (b); Clark I:263; Ristow p25-28 (Samuel Holland).
First edition. Issued during the French and Indian War, this work describes and maps many of the French possessions that were to pass to England at the War's conclusion in 1763. The 18 maps are all listed in Phillips and many (New Orleans, Louisburg) are the first maps listed or among the earliest listed for the areas mapped. All of the maps appeared also in Jeffery's General Topography of North America and the West Indies, 1768 (see P1196) and later states of the Nova Scotia map and the North America map appeared in Jeffery's American Atlas of 1775. Part I describes Canada and Louisiana, Part II French possessions in the West Indies. With the additional * leaves 129-138 and paste down errata on p. 80. This was Samuel Holland's copy with his signature on the title page. Holland was the first Surveyor General of the Northern Colonies, appointed in 1764, and one can imagine that this book was very important to him as a source for his early mapping projects. Because we can find no published listing of the maps as a group, we will give a partial title listing here: A Map of Canada, with the North Part of Louisiana; A Plan of the City of Quebec the Capital of Canada; Plan of the Town and Fortifications of Montreal or Villemarie in Canada; A New Map of Nova Scotia and Cape Britain; A Plan of the City and Harbour of Louisburg; An Authentic Plan of the River St. Laurence from Sillery, to the Fall of Montmorenci; North America From the French of Mr. D'Anville Improved with the Back Settlements of Virginia and Course of Ohio; Plan of New Orleans The Capital of Louisiana; The West Indies Exhibiting the English, French, Spanish, Dutch & Danish Settlements; The Island of Hispaniola; An Authentic Plan of the Town and Harbour of Cap Francois; Guadaloupe one of the Caribbee Islands; Plan of the Town of Basse Terre; Martinico, one of the Caribbee Islands; Plan of the Town and Citadel of Fort Royal; Plan of the Town and Fort of Grenada; The Island and Colony of Cayenne; Plan of the Town of Cayenne.

JEFFERYS, THOMAS 1776
The American Atlas: Or, A Geographical Description Of The Whole Continent Of America ... Engraved On Forty-Eight Copper Plates, By The Late Mr. Thomas Jefferys, Geographer to the King, and Others. London, Printed and Sold by R. Sayer and J. Bennett, Map and Print Sellers, No. 53, Fleet-Street. MDCCLXXVI.
London: Sayer and Bennett. Type: National Atlas Size: 57x42 Maps: 22 Reference: NMM 361; cf P1165, 1166.
One of the most important atlases of the American Revolutionary War period. There are 22 maps on 29 sheets. The majority of the important large scale maps of the colonies are here, appearing together for the first time after having been issued as separates by Jefferys in the 1750's and 60's. This copy is the 1st 1776 edition, with the Quebec map, without the Lake Champlain map, as issued. This copy is the same as NMM 361, except the title page says 48 copper plates rather then the 49 on NMM 361, and on the NY/NJ map it is Major Holland rather than Capt. Holland (our NY/NJ map says Major-the 1775 says Capt-our index omits Holland-the reproduction atlas map copy says Major, and Carver is eliminated (why?); probably indicates that this was slightly before the NMM 361, as the 1775 title page is identical to this one (although we have not seen it yet-relying on P1165), except for the date. Summary of editions: 1775 (actually issued in 1776, has Evans Middle Colonies map, P1165); 1776 1st issue (our copy with 48 on TP, Quebec replaces Evans, N.Y- & N.J. is dated 1776, rather than 1775 and adds Pownall corrections and improvements); 1776 2nd issue (NMM 361, 49 on TP); 1777 (1776 on TP, N.Amer changes from Bowen/Gibson to Pownall version with 1777 on map, adds L. Champlain, P1166 - our reproduction copy); 1778 (P3659a, NMM 362, no changes from 1777); 1782 (P1169, no changes except Phillips says this copy has 1783 ed of N.Amer., inserted-later?) Our TP is a transition from 1775 to NMM361; NMM361 anticipates the Lake Champlain map in saying 49 plates. Covers are half leather brown cloth covered boards with "Jeffery's American Atlas. London MDCCLXXVI" stamped in gilt on the spine.

The West-India Atlas: Or, A Compendious Description Of The West - Indies: Illustrated With Forty One Correct Charts And Maps, Taken From Actual Surveys. Together With An Historical Account Of The Several Countries And Islands Which Compose That Part Of The World.
London: Sayer and Bennett. Type: Regional Atlas Size: 55x41 Maps: 40 Reference: cf NMM 360 (1775 edition), 366 (1796 edition); P2701 (1787 edition).
This is a superb atlas of the West Indies and a companion atlas to Jeffery's American Atlas also first issued in 1775. The latest date on the charts in this copy is 1788 (The Cape Verd Islands). There is a beautifully illustrated title page that precedes the main title page, which reads "The West Indian Atlas..." Jefferys died in 1771; Sayer and Bennet acquired his materials in preparation for this atlas, and published the atlas posthumously under his name (as they did with the American Atlas) in 1775. The heart of this atlas and the most detailed part is the sixteen sheet large chart and index sheet of the whole of the West Indies. The rest of the atlas consists of charts of the Atlantic Islands and the British Channel, as well as individual maps and charts of seventeen islands in the West Indies. Twenty seven pages of text gives the sources for the maps and charts, and a historical account of the West Indies. Three of the large chart maps also appeared in the American Atlas. Comparing the two Florida sheets in this atlas to the same sheets in the 1775 American Atlas, numerous changes to the coast lines and other features appear. That would indicate that Sayer updated the charts as the atlas was reissued - Phillips shows issues of 1775, 1781, 1787, 1794, 1796, 1807, and 1818. With the 1794 and later editions, 20 maps are added of various additional islands. Sayer and Bennet also published in 1775 a smaller version of this atlas called "The West India Islands: From Actual Survey and Observations..." that consisted of the same text, a general chart of the Islands, and the same sixteen or seventeen (depending on the edition) charts of the islands that appear in the larger version (P3942). Finally, Jefferys himself published in 1762 "A Description of the Spanish Islands and Settlements on the Coast of the West Indies" which was issued in quarto, with a general chart and 32 maps and plans of harbors and towns (P3941).

1st Edition, 1st issue. Most of the maps come from Colton's 1859 edition of the General Atlas, published by Johnson and Browning, indicating the Johnson connection; some do not come from this atlas, and their sources are: the New England maps (scale 1" = 9 miles) come from Colton's map of New England and then the sub-maps of Vermont and New Hampshire, Mass/Conn/R.I.; the Ohio/Indiana is still a mystery; all the 1" = 24 miles maps (Iowa, Kentucky, etc.) come from Colton's Map of the United States and the Canadas, originally published by J. Calvin Smith in 1843 (see W. Heckrotte's copies and his list of editions); and the Colton General Atlas maps used by Johnson come from Colton's Travellers Series of maps - see our copies of Penn., Indiana. Colton mentions "The National Atlas of the United States, constructed from the Public Surveys...large Folio" as in preparation in his 1855 catalogue; this may be the embryonic Johnson Atlas. Colton used his wall maps "cut up" for pocket maps and Atlases. Johnson's maps of S. America, Europe, Africa, and (in the first edition, first issue, only) China, East Indies etc., all come from D. Griffing Johnson's Map of the World, 1847. These atlas maps are updated (esp. Africa). Colton took over the publication of the World Map in 1849, issued editions to 1868 (Ristow p318). Also, Johnson's N. America map is the inset N. America in Smith's Map of the U.S., the Canadas, etc. This first issue of Johnson's Family Atlas differs from the later 1860 edition in a small N.Y. (from the Colton U.S. map), small Texas, and many of the maps have fewer views or no views or different configurations. Clearly, this was a first attempt that was refined later in the year. Another issue of this same edition was published in Richmond, Virginia, the home town of Browning (I.L.). The California map originates with Johnson's New Illustrated and Embellished County Map of the Republics of North America, 1859 (1859 our copy, 1st ed. 1856), by D.G. and A.J. Johnson. This map becomes Colton's later edition of the Map of the United States illustrated on p. 318 of Ristow, and is used by Colton in his General Atlas starting in 1864 (and dropped by Johnson at that time and replaced with a new map), further showing the strong connection between Colton and Johnson. The text derives from Richard S. Fisher's text used in Colton's Cabinet Atlas of 1859. The Cabinet Atlas text on the various states and territories is deleted. Maps are in full color. Covers are quarter leather very dark green embossed cloth covered boards with "Johnson's New Illustrated Family Atlas With Descriptions." and a large U.S. seal with a bald eagle reading "United States Seal. E. Pluribus Unum." stamped in gold; the same design and title is blind stamped on the back cover. The spine reads "Johnson's Family Atlas. Johnson And Browning."

New York: A.J. Johnson. Type: Ephemera
List of all maps in Johnson Atlases. The broadside explains the process by which maps are bought and sold. They note that there are certain maps that are contained in every atlas (continents, North America and Mexico), all other maps must be purchased separately. Rates depend upon whether or not a past copy is owned. The new census of 1870, hence the estimated date, is also being sold for 64 to 96 cents.

JOHNSON, A.J.; COLTON, J.H. 1860
Johnson's New Illustrated & Embellished County Map Of The Republics Of North America With The Adjacent Islands & Countries, Compiled Drawn & Engraved From U. States Land & Coast Surveys, British Admiralty & other Reliable Sources. Under the Direction of A.J. Johnson. Published by J.H. Colton, 172, William Street, New York, Edition For Johnson & Browning. Richmond VA. 1860. Entered ... 1860 by J.H. Colton ... New York. Map Designed by A.J. Johnson. Engraved by D.G. Johnson, J.H. Goldthwait, W.S. Barnard, Wm. Wright, G. Rae Smith, F.H. King, James Duthie, J.L. White. (inset) Map Of The World on Mercator's Projection ...
Richmond: Johnson & Browning Type: Wall Map Size: 179x167 Scale: 1:3,041,280 Reference: cf Karrow 1-0758 (with different views).
Entered in 1856 and first issued in 1857. With an inset map of the World, and views of the U.S. Capital and state symbols around an eagle, tables of Distances and Statistics from the Census of 1850. Compared to the 1859 edition (our 4012.000) Colona, Jefferson, and Shoshone are added as proposed states in the west, one of the only maps we have seen to show all three. Also, the imprint of Johnson and Browning, Richmond Virginia is very unusual and probably one of the last north south publishing collaborations on the eve of the Civil War. There is Note and list of Authorities which reads in part "The part of this Map, between the Mississippi River and Pacific Ocean, was taken (with the consent of Capt. A.A. Humphreys) principally from a map compiled from the following authorities by Lieut. G.K. Warren, Topl Engrs...In the Office of Pacific Rail Road Surveys, War Department."

The map referred to must be the 1855 edition (see our copy) of Warren's General Map for the Pacific Railroad Reports. The list of Authorities is almost identical to the list on that map. Also, the map details of the west used in Johnson's map follow the 1855 edition in scope. Karrow lists many issues of this map from 1857 to 1861, with the views varying in each issue, and with Colton taking over as publisher in 1860, as in this copy. See our late Colton edition of 1890 (our #5150). With black top and bottom roller. Full color by county or territory in the U.S. and by state in Central America. Edged in dark blue silk.

New York: J.H. Colton. Type: Case Map Size: 139x198 Scale: 1:15,000,000 Reference: Ristow p318.
Colton took over the publishing of this map from Johnson in 1849. This is a later Colton issue. Many updates have been made in North America, the Arctic, Africa, and elsewhere. The journey of a Frenchman around the world in 1854 to 1857 is shown in manuscript with interesting notes on the travel. Two stickers on the outside of the case are French in origin, further indicating that the map was most likely purchased in Paris by the Frenchman at the end of his journey in 1857 - showing that Colton was selling his maps in Europe at that time and that his maps were competitive with European maps - at least our traveler thought so. See our 1847 first edition by Johnson. Full

JOHNSTON, A.K. (1845)
Lithographic Edition. The National Atlas Of Historical, Commercial, And Political Geography, Constructed From The Most Recent And Authentic Sources, By Alexander Keith Johnston, F.R.G.S., Honorary Member Of The Geographical Society Berlin, And Geographer at Edinburgh in Ordinary To Her Majesty. With A Copious Index Carefully Compiled From The Maps. Edinburgh. John Johnstone, And W. & A.K. Johnston. - Glasgow; James Lumsden & Son.
Edinburgh: J. Johnstone & W. & A.K. Johnson; Glasgow: James Lumsden & Son. Type: World Atlas Size: 54x38 Maps: 41 Reference: cfP6108;Tooley Australia 755,1503.
Early lithographed atlas. 1st engraved ed. 1843. This edition is lithographed in two colors, a pale yellow for area and a brownish red for borders. The quality of the impression is somewhat crude. We believe this was a first attempt, not repeated until 1849 (P6108). Dating this is difficult, as it is not in Phillips. Johnson refers to himself as editor of the Physical Atlas on the half title page; Robinson, p66, says there was an early edition of the Physical Atlas in 1845, with the larger edition appearing in 1848. Comparing these maps to the 1850 edition, the only changes are extensions of the railroads in Great Britain, and the change of the California Mountains and rivers on the North America map (reflecting Fremont and the Gold Rush in the 1850 edition.) Tooley in "Australia" dates this both as 1844 and 1849. We think 1845 is correct. Covers are half black leather brown cloth covered boards with "The National Atlas Of General Geography. Lithographed Edition." stamped in gilt on the front, and "The National Atlas" in gilt on the spine.

JOHNSTON, ALEXANDER KEITH, 1804-1871; ROGERS, HENRY DARWIN 1857
Atlas Of The United States Of North America, Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Mexico, Central America, Cuba, And Jamaica. On A Uniform Scale. From The Most Recent State Documents, Marine Surveys, And Unpublished Materials. With Plans Of The Principal Cities And Sea-Ports, And An Introductory Essay On The Physical Geography, Products, And Resources Of North America. By Professor Henry Darwin Rogers, Of Boston, U.S., And A. Keith Johnston, F.R.S.E., F.R.G.S., F.G.S., Geographer To The Queen. London: Edward Stanford, 6, Charing Cross, S.W. [The Authors Reserve The Right Of Translation.] (on verso) Entered at Stationers' Hall, London ... 1857 by H.D. Rogers ... Massachusetts.
London: Edward Stanford. Type: National Atlas Size: 38x26 Maps: 29 Reference: P3670; NMM 486.
Unusual collaboration between a Scot (Johnston), an American (Rogers), and an Englishman (Stanford). The maps are all on a scale of 54.5 miles to one inch, and are very well executed. They are derived from the large Map of The United States, British & Central America, by Rogers and Johnston, 1857. The western U.S. maps show the routes of the proposed Pacific Railroad. Rogers probably wrote the descriptive text. Johnston engraved and drew the maps - these maps are perhaps the best examples of Scottish highly detailed mapmaking applied to the western territories and states, in the pre civil war period. The only other example is Black's Atlas of North America, published in 1856, but not quite as detailed in the western states and territories, although it is just as good and maybe better in the eastern areas (these two atlas had to be competitive, with their issue within one year of each other). In 1873, J. David Williams issued the Jones and Hamilton "People's Pictorial Atlas" which uses most of these maps, updated. Then in 1875 the same maps appear in the Hardesty issue of the Jones and Hamilton "Historical Atlas of the World Illustrated." (see our copies). With full and outline color. Bound in half leather dark red cloth covered boards with "Atlas Of The United States, British & Central America: By Prof. Rogers & A. Keith Johnston".

JOHNSTON, ALEXANDER KEITH, 1804-1871; ROGERS, HENRY DARWIN 1857
Map Of The United States, British & Central America. From State Documents and Unpublished Materials By Professor H.D. Rogers of Boston U.S. and A. Keith Johnston, F.R.S.E. Geographer To The Queen.
Edinburgh: W. & A.K. Johnston. Type: Case Map Size: 143x176 Scale: 1:3,540,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-0764 (1861 edition); High Ridge 13-123 (Geological issue 1859); cf Wheat 933, 934.
First edition. Very large map of North America with nine inset maps of important cities. This map contains and is the basis of all the maps that appear in the Rogers and Johnston Atlas of the United States of North America, published in the same year. It is a stunning map, very detailed in the west; Wheat did not see this map, but did comment on two of the western maps in the Atlas - "This map is...notable for its clarity, though it is equally notable for the amount of information it contains. W and A.K. Johnston, of Edinburgh, were engravers who well understood their art, and their maps are outstanding." The Proposed Pacific Railway routes are shown. This map compares favorably to the large Colton and Mitchell U.S. maps of the same date (which are also on the same scale) and generally it is more accurate. Scarce, with only the later 1861 edition (title slightly changed - "Map of the United States and Mexico, with Canada...") in Karrow. This first edition is not in any references. A later edition, 1859, was issued with geological coloring (HR 13-123). The map case has Stanford's name at the bottom of the spine, indicating that he sold the map (and perhaps printed it as he did the Atlas). See also the 1861 U.S. only edition (#5405) and the full 1869 edition (#5402).

The date is estimated from the county formation (San Benito and Del Norte). This is a remarkable map with twenty vignettes of California scenes and three inset maps showing soil, temperature, and areas. Another inset shows the heights of the Sierra Nevada mountains. All these elements combine to make a beautiful map. Little is know about the maker, Johnstone, except that he drew the Climatic Map of California as well (see our #941). Printed in full color.

Rogers of Boston, Edw. Weller F.R.G.S. and Other Eminent Geographers, Compiled And Editied (sic) By Charles H. Jones Assisted By Theodore F. Hamilton. H.H. Hardesty & Co. Publishers, Lakeside Building, Chicago. 1875. Entered ... 1875 by J. Silliman Higgins ... Washington D.C. (Also an Atlas of Allen County, Ohio).
Chicago: H.H. Hardesty & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 51x38 Maps: 46 Reference: cf P4136.
This is a combination world atlas and county atlas - a combination that Hardesty used again in his several issues of the "Historical Hand Atlas Illustrated" of 1881-83 (see our copies). Compare this 1875 edition to the J. David Williams edition of the Peoples' Pictorial Atlas of 1873 - many of the maps are similar in being reissues of the North American maps used in Rogers and Johnston 1857 Atlas of the United States. The copyright is by J. Silliman Higgins, who also published an 1876 edition of this atlas (P115). T. Ettling who made maps for the Weekly Dispatch Atlas of 1858 and 1862 did many of these maps - they are similar to the Weekly Dispatch maps. Full color; Rand McNally map is in printed color. Bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Historical Atlas Of The World Illustrated" stamped in gold.

New York: J. David Williams. Type: World Atlas Size: 51x37 Maps: 42 Reference: P869.
Maps by Rogers and Johnston, and Weller. This atlas is similar to the Hardesty edition of 1875, but on thinner paper. J. David Williams is sometimes considered to be the author, but Phillips lists this under Jones and Hamilton. The North American maps, with the exception of the New England states and New York and Pennsylvania, are updated reissues of the maps used in Rogers and Johnston 1857 Atlas of the United States, although they are often configured in different groups, indicating that they were copied from the 1869 third edition of the Rogers and Johnston U.S. wall map that is from the same earlier plates, but updated, that the 1857 atlas was made from (see our #5402). Bound in dark green cloth covered boards with "Peoples' Pictorial Atlas." stamped in gold. Full color.

Boston: Gilman Joslin. Type: Globe Size: 6 inches Scale: 1:85,000,000 Reference: Yonge p37-38; cf Warner 100-101.
Joslin's first globe was a six inch model issued in 1839. This 1846 issue is probably the second edition (Yonge lists only the 1839 and this 1846, none in between). In color, with a three legged stand, horizon ring and brass meridian. Globe from bottom of the base to the top of the meridian is 10 inches.

(New Solar Telluric Globe). (with) Joslin's Six Inch Terrestrial Globe, Containing the Latest Discoveries...1854. Drawn and Engraved by W.B. Annin.
Boston: Gilman Joslin. Type: Globe Size: 6 inches Scale: 1:82,500,000 Reference: Warner p.101; see the catalog titled "Joslin's Terrestrial and Celestial Globes."
This is Joslin's six inch globe on a special mount which demonstrates the relative motions of the earth and sun. In 1853 this device won a bronze medal at the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association fair which stated that it was "very simple in construction, and highly useful for illustrating Geography and Astronomy in schools." This copy lacks the metal ring around the globe which is illustrated in Joslin's catalog - it is possible that it was issued without it in some copies. Most of the horizon ring calendar is worn off.

Boston: Gilman Joslin. Type: Globe Size: 6 inches Scale: 1:85,000,000 Reference: cf Yonge p37-38; cf Warner p. 100-101.
Drawn and engraved by W.B. Annin. Very detailed physical features. Annin's name on a globe of this late date is puzzling, since he was active in the period 1815-40, as a maker of globes and (with Smith) as engraver for Cumming's School Geography and Daniel Adam's School Geography (see Ristow p.294, Tooley Dictionary). With a lovely floral iron stand. Total height of the globe and stand is 9.5 inches.

KALAMA 1837
Na Mokupuni O Hawaii Nei. Kulanui Lahainaluna Maui Maraki 9 1837. He 26 mau la ka hana ana. Na Kalama i kakau.
Lahainaluna: (Mission Press). Type: Separate Map Size: 33x48 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Fitzpatrick, Early Mapping of Hawaii, p 107-112; McCorkle, America Emergent 72; P778, 3259, 4087
This is the first separate map of the Hawaiian Islands published in Hawaii. It was engraved and drawn by Kalama, one of the best student engravers at the Lahainaluna Mission School on Maui, who made the larger 1838 Map of the Hawaiian Islands, of which only two copies are known. This 1837 map probably served as a prototype for the 1838 map. It was the most detailed map yet published, showing many place names on the islands unfamiliar to Cook and Vancouver and not appearing on their maps, exceeded in detail only by the enlarged 1838 edition which added more place names. The first map produced by the press at Lahainaluna, under the guidance of Missionary Lorrin Andrews, was a world map in 1834, followed by five school atlas maps in 1836. In 1840 a small school atlas was completed, followed by a larger school atlas in 1840 and again in1842, primarily copied from Olney's School Atlas (see our #2430 for the 1837 Olney and P3259 and P4087 for "He Mau Palapala Aina A Me Na Niele E Pili Ana," the Hawaiian school atlases). This 1837 map is larger than the atlas maps and was issued as a separate. It is known in only three collections (and was unknown to Fitzpatrick) and is rare. Kalama went on to become one of the best surveyors in the islands. Outline color.

KAYSER, G.; WORRET, CHARLES (1863)
Military Map of a part of Eastn. Virginia Department of Maj: Genl: J.A. Dix Comdg 7th Army Corps completed from several Military Reconnaissances & Surveys under the Direction of Capt: Wm. Heine Topt. Engr. U.S. drawn & compiled by Lieut. Ch. Worret & G. Kayser Traced by Lieut. Ch. Worret.
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Case Map Size: 206x176 Scale: 1:40,000 Reference: cf Stephenson 559, 661.
This immense, large scale map at first appears to be manuscript, entirely hand drawn. Dissected into 35 sections and mounted on linen. Upon closer inspection, it proves to be a lithograph of a hand drawn field map, with several large sections filled in or corrected in manuscript and with the waterways colored blue. It is centered on the area around Suffolk, Virginia, extending north and east to Fort Monroe, Hampton Roads and Norfolk, west to Franklin, Zuni and the Blackwater River, and south to about nine miles south of the North Carolina border. It was probably hand drawn and lithographed for immediate field use (note the title says "Traced by Lieut. Ch. Worret") with a very small press run, and corrected and updated as needed. There is a great deal of local information shown: the names of all property owners and their farms and buildings, railroads, rivers and small streams, the large Dismal Swamp, fortifications, roads and paths and distances thereon, "old Rebl. camp," "Rebl camp," "Marmaduke Ellis (Deserter)," "Negroes," and more. A "Note" at the top right corner gives the sources of the map: "Coast lines by U.S. Coast Survey" and then a list of surveys by Maj Wetterall, Maj. Stratton, 1st Lieut. James, 1st Lieut. Ch. Worrett, Lt. Soederquist, and Geo. Kayser, that were used in the construct of this map. Below the Note is the manuscript signature of "Lieut. James Ch Engr. Suffolk" and a manuscript presentation of the map "To Brig. Gen Terry with compliments of 1st Lt. C.H. James Act. Chief Engineer Maj. Gen Pecks Staff." We have dated the map (1863) based on the Soederquist Map of Suffolk & vicinity (Stephenson 661) which Stephenson dates (1863). Soederquist's map is on the same scale as this map, and is most likely a companion map to the Soederquist map of Norfolk & Vicinity that is listed in the "Note" as a source for this map. Interestingly, Suffolk itself, although clearly drawn in, is not labeled on this map, indicating to us that this map was made for the command at Suffolk and probably hung on a wall there. The Union forces occupied Suffolk and surrounding area in 1862 and were attacked by Longstreet's forces in the Spring of 1863. This map was probably made at the Suffolk headquarters in early 1863 in anticipation of the battles that followed. Map lies in a new half leather marbled paper case 40x34 with "Military Map Of A Part Of Eastn. Virginia Department" stamped in gilt on the spine.

First edition, first variant. This was one of the best maps of its period, far superior to the General Land Office maps and most of the other commercial productions. Wheat: "Keeler's large and imposing map... offers something of interest in every part of the West..." Reduced size pocket map edition published in1868. 30 pages of separate notes to accompany the large map were published in 1867 and 1868; cover page reads "Notes To Accompany Keeler's Map of the U.S. Territory, From The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean, Containing Authentic Information Connected With The Territories, And The Different Railroad Routes To The Pacific Ocean. Washington: Government Printing Office. 1867." The Northwestern quarter of this map was reissued and updated in 1868 for G.M. Dodge's Report for the Union Pacific Railroad (see our copy). With a single page of text (taken from Keeler's "Notes") pasted to the inside front cover of the map folder. In this issue, most of the Indian Reservations in the West are colored in but not labeled or outlined. Full color by state. Map is not dissected and folds into brown cloth covers 27x23 with "Keeler's Map Of The U.S. Territories Pacific R.R. Routes Mineral Lands And Indian Reservations. 1867." stamped in gilt.

KEELER, WILLIAM J. 1867
National Map Of The Territory Of The United States From The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean. Made by the authority of the Hon. O.H. Browning Secretary of the Interior. In the Office of the Indian Bureau Chiefly For Government Purposes under the direction of the Hon. N.G. Taylor Commisr. of Indian affairs & Hon. Chas. E. Mix Chief Clerk of the Indian Bureau; Compiled from authorized explorations of Pacific Rail Road Routes, Public Surveys, and other reliable data from the Departments from the Government at Washington, D.C., by W.J. Keeler, Civil Engineer. 1867. N. DuBois Draughtsman. J.F. Gedney, Lithographer, Engraver & Plate Printer, Washington, D.C. Entered ... 1867 by Wm. J. Keeler ... District of Columbia.
Washington: J.F. Gedney. Type: Case Map Size: 121x146 Scale: 1:2,280,960 Reference: Wheat 1170; Graff 2281; Howes K22.
First edition, second variant. This copy is identical to our other 1867 copy except that it shows three more Indian Reservations in Dakota, one more large Reservation in Colorado, and one on the border of California and Oregon. These correspond to the 1868 reduced size version of this map, so we assume that this was hand colored in 1868 and issued then. Also, there are considerable differences in the placement of mineral symbols - for example, this map shows a great deal of silver mining in the northern half of Colorado and the other issue shows none. A separately published thirty page booklet of "Notes" to the map accompanied this copy (see our #4695). Full color by state. Map is not dissected. Folds into brown cloth covers 27x23.5 with "Keeler's Map Of The U.S. Territories Pacific R.R. Routes Mineral Lands And Indian Reservations. 1867." stamped in gilt.

Second edition. Adds printed names and outlines to almost all of the Indian Reservations; adds several forts, including Ft. D.A. Russell at Cheyenne and Camp Winthrop at the Owyhee Mines in southwestern Idaho - and there probably are others; also extends several railroads in the southern and midwestern states - for example, the Mobile and Ohio Railroad in eastern Mississippi; and adds circles around cities that have Land Offices and Surveyor General Offices (the first edition had these in the key but not on the map). Although dated 1867, this was probably issued in 1868, as many of the updates correspond to updates in the 1868 pocket map edition of this map. We cannot find any references to the existence of two editions of this map. With a signed dedication from N.G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs (and listed on the map title) to Hon. R. Conkling, U.S. Senate (Roscoe Conkling was Senator from New York State). There is no paste down of text on the inside front cover. Full color by state. Map is not dissected and folds into brown cloth covers 27x23 with "Keeler's Map Of The U.S. Territories Pacific R.R. Routes Mineral Lands And Indian Reservations. 1867." stamped in gilt.

This is the reduced issue with slightly more coverage in the east and more progressed railroad development. The detail is, of course, less, due to the smaller scale, and the minerals are not colored in. Nonetheless it is still an excellent map of the west in its time, and is far more scarce than the larger issue of 1867. Full color by state, folded into brown cloth covers18x11.5 with "Keeler's Map Of The U.S. Territories, Pacific R.R. Routes, Mineral Lands, And Indian Reservations. 1868." stamped in gilt.

KIRKHAM, H.B. (1848)
Travellers' Guide of the Hudson River. Published by H.B. Kirkham, for the Proprietor, and for sale on all the Steamboats, and at the principal Hotels in the United States. Price One Shilling.
N.P.: H.B. Kirkham. Type: Pocket Map Size: 66x24 Scale: None shown Reference: Nestler p. 110.
A strip map of the Hudson River from New York City to Lake George, with text on either side describing the cities along the route. Canadian publication is presumed because of the price in shillings. The date is also estimated (the latest date in the text is 1845). Rare - Nestler states only one copy seen by him. A printed note states that the verso contains a list of the principal Hotels in the United States - yet the verso is blank. Probably a woodcut map. Folded into red textured paper covers 9x6.5, this copy lacks the front cover.

KIRKWOOD, ROBERT. 1817
Kirkwood's General Atlas ... Constructed from the best Authorities extant. Published as the Act directs by Robt. Kirkwood, Engraver, Edinburgh, John Smith & Son, Booksellers, Glasgow, & Wm. Faden, London. 1817. (title page) R. Kirkwood Script. & Sculpt.
Edinburgh: Robert Kirkwood; Glasgow: John Smith & Son; London: Wm. Faden. Type: World Atlas Size: 33x42 Maps: 45 Reference: None found; not in Phillips.
Rare atlas, also pub. by Wm. Faden & John Smith. Kirkwood engraved some of the maps for Thomson's General Atlas (Edinburgh, 1817), but we can find no record of this atlas in Phillips, Tooley, Jolly (1983-92) or anywhere else - except for a record of a sale in the Map Collector #42. Kirkwood used A. Arrowsmith's maps from Pinkerton's Geography as a base, and enlarged and filled in detail where he could. The result is striking: these maps are more than twice the size of Arrowsmith's and often carry considerably more detail. Outline color. Covers are half leather brown boards with a paste down label reading "Kirkwood's General Atlas. Published as the Act Directs by Kirkwood & Son 19 Parliament Square Edinr., J. Smith & Son Glasgow, Wm. Faden Charing Cross, London & Wm. Allan Dublin 1817"; the spine has a black leather label embossed with "Kirkwood's Atlas" in gilt.

60 maps on 76 sheets; lacks title page, has index. Maps dated 1794-1804. Many of the maps are updated from Kitchin's 36 sheet General Atlas, and the American Atlas. In 1796 and 1800 Laurie and Whittle published their New and Elegant Imperial Sheet Atlas (P6009, 6016), with 50 maps all, we believe on a single sheet, with a different map of the U.S. showing the American Flag above the cartouche. The Universal Atlas was their biggest production, with many of the maps multi sheet. Outline color. Atlas is bound in new quarter leather orange cloth covered boards with a red leather label on the spine stamped with "Atlas. Laurie. Whittle." in gilt.

Stockholm: C. Muller. Type: Separate Map Size: 38x52 Scale: 1:4,120,000 Reference: Karpinski 41; P1375 (atlas).
This is from the atlas volume that accompanies the author's "Bref om de Forenta Staterna, forfattade under en resa till Amerika aren 1818, 1819, 1820" published in Stockholm in 1824. The atlas contains 17 plates, five of which are maps: two large maps of the northern and southern states taken from Melish, and three smaller maps of cities. This map of the northern states is a direct copy of Melish's "Map of the Seat of War in North America" that appeared in Melish's Military and Topographical Atlas of 1813 and 1815, but updated considerably to show improvements to 1824 (Erie Canal as "Stora Canaln," among others). The Statistical table is also updated and expanded from Melish's Table of Population.

KNIGHT, EDWARD H. 1871
Map Of The Country Tributary To The Northern Pacific Railroad. Compiled from English, Canadian, and American official sources and original Surveys by Edward H. Knight. Jan. 1st. 1871. The compilation of English and Canadian charts and Surveys embracing the Northerly region of this Map, was platted in connection with the official U.S. War Department Map (the lower portion) at the Bureau of U.S. Topographical Engineers by the kind permission of Maj. Gen. A.A. Humphreys. (with profile).
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 98x117 Scale: 1:2,800,000 Reference: Modelski 499.
A spectacular map, missed by Wheat. With full and outline color. Shows the route of the proposed Northern Pacific Railroad. Covers the entire U.S. and Canada west of the Mississippi, and south to the 38th parallel. One immediately recognizes the use of the Warren/Freyhold "Map of the Territory of the United States..." of 1868, for the lower portion of this map - it is an exact copy. The upper portion appears to be a copy of some official English and/or Canadian survey map. Isothermal lines, railroad routes, latitudes of major European Cities, Distances to Asia, Coal fields, and notes about usability of the soil and forests are added. A profile shows the "Difference Between The Elevations of the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific Railroads."

KOLLNER, AUGUSTUS; SUNBURY AND ERIE RAILROAD. (1850)
Pennsylvania's Great Highway And Its Tributary Lines. Engraved & printed at A. Kollner's Litho Establisht. cor. of Secd. & Dock Sts. Phila.
Philadelphia: A. Kollner's Litho Establishment. Type: Separate Map Size: 73x120 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Modelski 77.
Modelski dates this map circa 1850 - the map itself is undated. We presume that it was published by Kollner for the Sunbury and Erie Railroad, which is the only railroad labeled in Pennsylvania and presumably the state's "Great Highway" referred to in the title. The entire middle northern U.S. is shown, west to the Mississippi. Tributary railroads in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are shown in detail. Limited topographical features are shown, as is typical for a railroad map. As an example of Kollner's lithographic work, it is quite simple in style and execution, with fairly elaborate hand coloring. Outline color by state. See our #4688 for another, more typical Kollner work.

St. Petersburg: Kayserl. Academie der Wissenschafften Type: National Atlas Size: 53x37 Maps: 37
The first atlas of Russia, published by the Academy of Sciences in St. Petersburg, expanding on the cartographic work done previously by Ivan K. Kirilov. Postnikov: "It brings together all the geographical discoveries of the early 18th century to give a fuller picture of the entire Empire than shown in the so-called Kirilov atlas. The maps were mostly based on instrumental surveys, geographical descriptions and maps compiled by the Petrine geologists and their successors." Normally the atlas includes 20 maps; this copy is special in adding an additional 17 maps and 2 text pages, including plans of St. Petersburg and Moscow (similar to Phillips 4060). Maps have titles in German, Latin; place names in Russian and Latin alphabet. Text of cartouches in Latin. Also issued in French and in Russian with title Atlas Russicus and Atlas Rossiiskoi. Atlas contains, 7 p. text with descriptions of the maps, and explanation of geographical names and symbols used in German, Russian, French and Latin, a general map of the Russian empire, 13 maps of European Russia at a uniform scale of 1:1,470,000 (35 versts to one inch); and 6 maps of Siberia at a uniform scale of 1:3,444,000 (82 versts to one inch). Bound in at end: 19 additional text and maps of Russian territories, plans from the Russo-Turkish war of 1736, engravings of military fortifications, maps of Ladoga Lake, environs of St. Petersburg, Kronstadt and the Gulf of Finland. Maps are colored in outline, with some maps in full color. Bound in reddish brown contemporary Russian binding in full calf with simple tooling. Atlas was printed in September 1745 in St. Petersburg in Russian, Latin, French and German, with engravers listed as Ellinger, Unversagt, Zubov and Rostovtsev.

Pomeroy, Publishers 517, 519 & 521 Minor St. Philadelphia 1860. Entered ... by John E. Gillette in the year 1860 ... Pennsylvania. With 50 inset maps.
Philadelphia: C.K. Stone, A. Pomeroy. Type: Wall Map Size: 162x156 Scale: 1:63,360 Reference: Phillips Phila Maps 428.
The "Trenton" issue, of eight issues. This issue has Philadelphia in the lower left corner and goes north far beyond Trenton (Trenton is in the lower middle of the map). There are many inset maps, including Trenton and Philadelphia. The border is simpler than our "Philadelphia" issue. According to Phillips, there is a second Trenton issue that must cover different areas than this does. Also, there is a Philadelphia and Camden issue. With black top and bottom sticks. Full color.

LAKE, D.J.; BEERS, S.N. 1860
Map Of The Vicinity Of Philadelphia, From actual Surveys by D.J. Lake And S.N. Beers. Assisted by F.W. Beers, L.B. Lake & D.G. Beers. J.E. Gillette & Co. Publishers, 517, 519 & 521 Minor Street, Philadelphia. 1869 (sic, see notes). Entered ... John E. Gillette in the year 1860 ... Pennsylvania. With 16 inset maps.
Philadelphia: Gillette & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 172x165 Scale: 1:63,360 Reference: cf Phillips Phila. Maps 429; Ristow p397.
One issue of 8 issues (Ristow). This issue has inset maps and business directories of Philadelphia, Germantown, Frankford, Bridesburg plus five small towns (all at the top), and Manayunk, Falls of Schuykill, Hestonville, Paschallville, Tacony and Holmesburg at the bottom. Other issues of the map have Philadelphia and Trenton and Philadelphia and Camden in the titles. Lake and Beers may have done eight issues to cover different parts of the local market, much in the manner of Beers' six different issues of his Atlas of New York and Vicinity of 1867-8. The date of 1860 on the map has been changed to 1869 by someone drawing the "9" in place of the "0" which probably had rubbed off - the artist thought incorrectly that the date was 1869 (unless there was an unrecorded later issue and it really was a "9"). Full color map, dissected into 36 sections, and backed and bordered in linen. Folds into blue marbled end sheets 31x28, and is layed into a new green cloth folding case with “Vicinity Of Philadelphia Lake And Beers 1869" stamped in gilt on the spine.

LANCASTER, CYRUS; WILSON, JAMES 1836
Wilson's New American Thirteen Inch Terrestrial Globe, Exhibiting with the Greatest Possible Accuracy, The Positions of the Principal Known Places of the Earth; with the Tracks of Various Circumnavigators, Together with New Discoveries and Political Alterations Down to the present Period: 1836. By Cyrus Lancaster, Albany St. N.Y. S. Wood & Sons Agents N. York.
Albany: Cyrus Lancaster. Type: Globe Size: 13 inches Scale: 1:40,000,000 Reference: Warner p.137; Yonge p.76-77; Dekker/van der Krogt p. 131-33; Kimball p.21.
The second year of production of Wilson's Thirteen Inch Globe by Cyrus Lancaster. Compared to the last Wilson issue of 1834 (see our #4310) we cannot detect any changes in the geography. In fact, both the 1834 and the 1836 are out of date regarding the United States - Arkansas is shown in enlarged pre 1824 form and Northwestern Territory is shown where Michigan Territory should be. But then most of the early American globes did not keep current with the changes to political geography. With a four leg table stand. Total height from base to top is 18 inches.

LANCASTER, CYRUS; WILSON, JAMES 1850
Wilson's New American Thirteen Inch Terrestrial Globe, Exhibiting with the Greatest Possible Accuracy, The Positions of the Principal Known Places of the Earth; with the Tracks of Various Circumnavigators, Together with New Discoveries and Political Alterations Down to the present Period 1850. By Cyrus Lancaster, Albany, N.Y.
Albany: Cyrus Lancaster. Type: Globe Size: 13 inches Scale: 1:40,000,000 Reference: Warner p.137; Yonge p.79; Dekker/van der Krogt p. 131-33; Kimball p.21.
Wilson began making thirteen inch globes in 1821 (see Yonge p.69) and in 1835 Cyrus Lancaster (having assumed leadership of the firm after the death of Wilson's two sons in 1833) brought out a new edition of the thirteen inch globe with the American eagle in the cartouche (Dekker/van der Krogt p. 132). This 1850 edition of the terrestrial globe is not recorded in any of the listings - only an 1850 celestial globe is listed by Kimball. Therefore it is the latest known example of Wilson's terrestrial globe. The plates are clearly tired, the image of the cartouche is weak and some of the mountain ranges are barely visible. But there is much new engraving in North America, showing the new divisions in the west - California, Oregon, Utah, New Mexico, and the new cities - Mormon City, Sacramento, Stockton, Albuquerque, etc. It has been suggested that this is the first showing of Mormon City on a globe. With a four legged table stand and horizon ring; total height from base to top is 18 inches.

Atlas Von Nord-Amerika. Nach den neuesten Materialien ... in 18 Blattern mit erlauterndem Texte herausgegeben von Henry Lange ... Braunschweig, 1854. Verlag von George Westermann.
Braunschweig: George Westermann. Type: National Atlas Size: 27x34 Maps: 18 Reference: P1230; Wheat Gold 264; cf Graff 2851 (Mollhausen Map); Tooley Dictionary p 375.
First edition. The cartography is elegant and understated. The eighteen maps and text comprise a general atlas of North America, with special emphasis on Texas and California. The Texas map shows in colored outline the lands granted to the Adelsverein and has the post road from Indianola to New Braunfels marked in red. The map of Oregon, California, Utah, New Mexico, etc. shows the gold regions in California and has an inset map of San Francisco Bay. There is also a striking separate map of San Francisco Bay titled "Bai San Francisco und Vereinigung des Sacramento mit dem San Joaquin." It has a lovely inset view of San Francisco and shows the routes by river to Sacramento and San Joaquin. Also issued under the title of "Kartenwerk zu dr. Karl Andree's Nord-Amerika," see P1231. Outline color. Bound in patterned paper covered boards with dark blue cloth spine with "Lange Atlas von Nord-amerika" stamped in gold.

Printed by J.H. Colton & Co. N.Y. Copy right transferred to Geo. Thompson & Co. Entered ... 1849 ... Arkansas, by C. Langtree.
Little Rock: C. Langtree. Type: Pocket Map Size: 93x99 Scale: 1:530,000 Reference: None found.
The copyright date is 1848 and probably the first edition was issued then or in 1849. This is the largest scale pre Civil War state map of Arkansas that we have seen, and it is highly detailed in its showing of lands owned by the U.S., the state, private grants, Seminary lands, and Salt Spring lands. It is not listed in any of the standard references. Colton did not list it in his catalog, listing instead the D.F. Shall "Railroad & Township Map of Arkansas" (see our #4506). Map is full color by county, folded into light brown patterned cloth covers 16x10 with title "Langtree's New Sectional Map Of The Sate Of Arkansas Field And Dolley Little Rock" stamped in gilt. LAPHAM, I.A. 1846
Wisconsin, a Sectional Map With the Most Recent Surveys, by I.A. Lapham, 1846. Scale, 10 miles to an inch. Published by P.C. Hale, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. J.H. Bufford & Cos Lithog Boston. Entered ... 1846 by P.C. Hale ... Territory of Wisconsin.
Milwaukee: P.C. Hale. Type: Pocket Map Size: 58x57 Scale: 1:633,600 Reference: Karrow 6-1670; Streeter 3867; Eberstadt 128-565; P-Maps 1076.
First edition, with Karrow showing later editions in 1849, 1850 and 1851. Eberstadt calls this "perhaps the earliest large scale separately printed sectional map of the Territory." Copper and Lead mines are shown in the area around Mineral Point and counties are colored blue in outline. This is probably Lapham's first published state map - the map he used in his 1844 "Geographical and Topographical Description of Wisconsin" is by Morse and Breese (see our #3077). His earliest city map is the 1845 "Map of Milwaukee" engraved by Sherman and Smith (although Karrow attributes to Lapham the 1836 "City of Milwaukee" by William Burt). Backed on thin linen and folded into dark brown leather covers 9x14, with "Wisconsin." stamped in gilt on the front cover.

1st issue was in 1845, issued every year until 1869. This copy is uncolored and folded twice. Usually, this appeared as a pocket map. Lapham also issued, with Colton, a larger map of Milwaukee and with Van Slyck (a printer in Milwaukee) a smaller map of the city in 1854. The first map of Milwaukee listed by Karrow is an 1836 map attributed to Lapham, then the first edition of this map in 1845. Phillips' first listing is a later edition of this map in 1857.

Paris: P.C. Lehuby. Type: World Atlas Size: 52x36 Maps: 50 Reference: P123a,787.
Dated 1841 on Title page, 1842 on all maps. Shows Texas as a republic on North America, U.S. and Mexico maps. Significant changes in mountains, rivers, and coasts in and around Texas on all the maps which show Texas or parts of it. Also changes in Australia and the Arctic. Maps of South America have extensive changes on the coasts and in the interior. Actually, there are impressive changes on almost all of the maps indicating a serious effort to make this atlas "up to date." It appears that these maps are lithographic transfers from the copper plates of the 1833 edition. Engraved by Pierre Tardieu; printed by Kaeppelin. Covers are quarter leather dark green marbled paper covered boards with “Lapie. Atlas Universel De Geographie" stamped on the spine in gilt. Maps are hand painted with outline color.

First edition. Large, four sectioned map in original case; each sheet is dissected into 16 sections). Ten inset maps. Editions to 1850. A large, impressive map, with a unique title indicating Purdy's attempt to create a new name for the region discovered by Cabot, and/or an attempt by Laurie and Whittle to sell more maps (see Fredonia map of 1833). The main organizing feature of the map is the drainage of the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes. The inset maps are very detailed and several notes discuss Cabot's explorations. Tanner mentions this map as a source in his preface to the American Atlas, as does Melish in his Geographical Description of the United States. Stevens and Tree list editions of 1814, 1821, and 1821/25; Winearls adds editions of 1828 (May), 1828 (June), 1838, and 1850. With outline color. Folds into original marbled cardboard slip case 21x16.5 with a label reading "Cabotia. Jo Gratz" in ms, and "Sold by Wm. Allen, 32 Dame Strt." printed in ink.

A New Edition, Enlarged With Eleven New Historical, And Twenty-Five Geographical Maps; The Whole Forming A Complete System Of History And Geography. By C. Gros, of the University of Paris, and J. Aspin ... London: Printed And Published By J. Barfield, Wardour-Street, Printer To His Royal Highness The Prince Regent. 1814. Price Six Guineas, Half Bound.
London: J. Barfield. Type: World Atlas Size: 47x32 Maps: 25 Reference: cf P3315.
The first edition was published in London in 1807, with historical charts and no maps. This edition adds maps of the various parts of the world. Another edition appeared in 1817 (not recorded in Phillips or the British Museum) which was probably much the same as this 1814 issue and Carey includes the preface from that edition in his first American edition of 1820. Carey used the 1817 edition as the basis for his edition. The binding is half leather marbled paper covered boards with a leather label embossed in gold with the title "Lavoisne's Genealogical Historical Chronological & Geographical Atlas." The spine is labeled "Lavoisne's Atlas."

LAY, AMOS 1812
Map Of The Northern Part of the State Of New York. Compiled from actual Survey By Amos Lay 1812. Entered ... 16th day of July 1812 by Amos Lay ... New-York.
New York: Amos Lay. Type: Case Map Size: 76x126 Scale: 1:443,529 Reference: Ristow p99,103;P-Maps p508.
2nd Lay map of N.Y. State; 1st was in 1801. In 1817 Lay extended the State map south to include New York City. This map extends only to the Pennsylvania border. Lay's 1801 map covers only the most northern parts of the state. For some reason, his 3 editions of the state map expand coverage from north to south ending with complete coverage in the 3rd edition. Phillips states that this map was engraved by Samuel Maverick in Newark, New Jersey, although nothing on our copy indicates this. Shows the Proposed Canal from Rome to the west, and shows Indian Reservations in yellow. Much information on land surveys and development, Military tracts, and evolving towns. Signature of Franklin Bache on inside cover. Bache was the great grandson of Benjamin Franklin, brother of A.D. Bache (head of the Coast Survey), and a noted teacher and scientist. Bache was in the War of 1812, and it is possible that this map was acquired for use therein, as it shows many of the areas of the conflict. Dissected into 40 sections and mounted on linen. Outline color by county. Map folds into original marbled card covers 22x14, and into a new tan cloth folding case 23x15 with "Northern Part Of New York Amos Lay 1812" stamped in gold on the spine.

LAY, AMOS 1817
Map of the State of New York with part of the States Of Pennsylvania, New Jersey &c. Compiled Corrected and Published from the most recent Authorities and accurate Surveys by Amos Lay 1817. Entered ... 12th day of May 1817 by Amos Lay ... New-York.
New York: Amos Lay. Type: Case Map Size: 127x127 Scale: 1:443,529 Reference: Ristow p 99; cfPhillips Maps p509 (1820 edition).
The first edition to cover the entire state. Ristow shows editions of 1817, 1822, 1823, 1824, and 1826. This edition not in Phillips. This adds a southern sheet to the 1812 map which only extended to the Pennsylvania border (see our copy). Compared to Eddy's map of the state issued in 1818, Lay's map is on a larger scale and, although not as graphically elegant, it has more information regarding township lines and lots and improvements (especially the surveyed Erie Canal). With outline color by county. Map is dissected into 40 sections and mounted on linen. Folds into a new blue cloth folding case 27x18 with "New York State Amos Lay 1817" stamped on the spine in gold.

LAY, AMOS 1828
Lay's Map of the United States Compiled from the Latest and best Authorities and Actual Surveys By Amos Lay Geographer and Map Publisher New York May, 1828. Engraved by O.H. & D.L. Throop & W. Chapin, New York. Entered ... May 8th 1827, By Amos Lay ... New York. O.H. Throop, del. (inset) Florida.
New York: Amos Lay. Type: Wall Map Size: 130x151 Scale: 1: 1,900,800 Reference: Streeter Texas 1094 (1827 edition);Karrow 1-1464 (1827 edition); Ristow p.99.
This is a large map of the U.S. west to 24 degrees west of Washington, D.C. Entered in 1827, this being the second edition. With an inset map of Florida and a Statistical Table of the United States. Has a large and detailed eagle cartouche. The same size and scope as the Vance/Finley 1825 and Tanner 1829 U.S. maps. Karrow shows editions of 1827, 1830, 1833 (London Imprint), 1834, and 1836. "Austin's Settlement" is shown in Texas (in the wrong location) - this may be one of the first appearances of this colony on a general map of the United States (it also appears on the 1827 Lay U.S.). Streeter Texas details six editions, adding the 1832 edition to the Karrow list (but omitting this 1828 edition). This is the only large wall map of the U.S. that Streeter lists (until the Tanner 1836 U.S.) as having a significant showing of Texas: "This large 'general' map, which is exasperatingly awkward to use, especially in making comparisons, is entered as it shows Texas as far west as the Lavaca River on the large scale of about 30 miles to the inch." Starting with the 1833 edition, the map says "designed and engraved by Thos. Starling, London." Ristow mentions an 1819 edition with the Starling credit, but we can find no record of it. The 1827 edition shows H.M. Bowen as printer - this is not on the 1828 edition. The 1828 edition is not recorded. With black top and bottom rollers and blue cloth edging. Outline color by state.

LAY, AMOS 1832
Lay's Map of the United States. Compiled from the Latest and best Authorities and Actual Surveys By Amos Lay, Geographer and Map Publisher New York 1832. Engraved by O.H. & D.L. Throop & Wm. Chapin, New York. O.H. Throop, del. Entered ... May 8th 1827 By Amos Lay ... New York. (inset) Florida.
New York: Amos Lay. Type: Wall Map Size: 130x151 Scale: 1: 1,900,800 Reference: Streeter Texas 1094B; Karrow 1-14678(1833 edition); Ristow p.99.
Changes from the 1828 edition include: the Michigan Peninsula has been completely redrawn (probably following Tanner's 1832 Map of the United States, our #4406), the Statistical Tables have been filled in for 1830, and Texas is extensively altered adding much of the information from the Steven Austin Map of Texas of 1830, although incorrectly placing Galveston at the mouth of the Trinity River. Lay's showing of Texas in this edition, while not correct in every respect, is the best detailed depiction of Texas on any large map of the United States until Tanner's 1836 edition of his Map of the United States. With black top and bottom rollers, and light yellow cloth edging. Map is unvarnished and has blue outline color by state.

LELAND, H. (1853)
Manuscript. Type: Manuscript Map Size: 21x16 Scale: 1:2,138,400 Reference: Appletons' Cyclopedia.
Very well executed uncolored map with small vignettes. Leland is probably the Henry Leland mentioned in Appletons' as an artist, although his dates are listed as 1850-1877. The map is dated as 1853 because of the watermark date on the paper. However, the map could have been drawn later. In any event, the name of Henry Leland goes back to the Henry Leland who settled in Massachusetts in 1653 - this H. Leland who made the map is probably from that family.

LESTER, WILLIAM JR. 1833
(New York): Thomas Robinson. Type: Pocket Map Size: 72x47 Scale: 1:19,800 Reference: Thompson 89.
Engraved & Printed by S.Stiles, New York. Beautifully engraved map, elegant in every respect, and unusual for a map of a town that was not a major city. We can find nothing about Lester; we assume Robinson is related to D.F. Robinson of Hartford and Robinson & Pratt of New York, both of whom published Olney's Geographies in the 1830's (Thompson is the source of New York as Robinson's address - it is not on the map). Folded into brown leather stamped covers 14x9 with "Map Of Norwich" in gilt.

LESTER, WILLIAM JUN. 1833
Map of New London and Windham Counties In Conn. from Actual Survey.
New Haven: Daggett & Ely. Type: Wall Map Size: 89x70 Scale: 1:105,000 Reference: Thompson 88.
One of the first county wall maps of a New England state. Nothing is known about William Lester and this and the Norwich map may be the only maps he made. There are eight inset maps of towns in the counties and a large inset "Geological Map of Windham & New London Counties From the surveys of Lt. W.W. Mather, U.S.M.A. 1832." A small red paste on label says "Colored And Put Up by C.S. Williams, N. Haven, Conn." One of the insets shows the projected Boston, Norwich & New London Rail Road - the earliest charting of a Connecticut railroad (Thompson). The map is exceedingly well done, with the drawing and the engraving of the highest quality for the period. It is rare - the only reference found was in Thompson's listing.

No. 146 of 150 impressions taken in 1979 from the original copper plate in the possession of the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia. Printed by Peter Lister on French all-rag BFK Rives paper. The descriptive sheet that goes with the map says that 160 numbered impressions were made, with 150 being offered to collectors and institutions. Our sheet says "146/150," not "146/160" as you would expect if 160 were made. Close comparison of this copy with the original revealed no changes to the plate.

LEWIS, SAMUEL 1816
A New and correct Map of The United States Of North America; Exhibiting The Counties, Towns, Roads &c. in each State. Carefully compiled from Surveys and the most Authentic Documents, By Samuel Lewis. W. & S. Harrison sculpt. Philadelphia, Published by Emmor Kimber 1816. Copy Right secured according to Law.
Philadelphia: Emmor Kimber. Type: Wall Map Size: 172x187 Scale: 1:1,350,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1423; Ristow p266; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p235; cf Karpinski 39 (1816, 1819 editions).
This is the first complete edition of this map, the largest wall map of the United States produced by Americans at that time (although Karrow 1-1418 lists an almost complete 1815 edition). Differences from the 1818 edition include Illinois and Indiana shown as Territories, a large Mississippi with no Alabama, and no Arkansas Territory. Also, there are far fewer roads shown, and fewer settlements laid down, especially in Canada. See our #432 for a proposal for publishing this map. With black top and bottom rollers and dark green linen edging. Outline color by state or territory.

LEWIS, SAMUEL 1817
A Correct Map of the United States, With The West Indies, from the best Authorities by Samuel Lewis 1817. 2nd Edition. Containing the Seat of War &c.

Published by T.L. Plowman, Philadelphia, 1813. Entered ... 22nd Mar.
Philadelphia: T.L. Plowman. Type: Case Map Size: 99x95 Scale: 1:4,850,000 Reference: Ristow p266 (1820 ed.); cf Karrow 1-1452 (1820 ed.); cf Amer. Phil. Soc. 563 (1811 and 1813 ed.).
The U.S. portion of the map is identical to Maclure's 1809 base map. This map seems to have a long history. It first appears as the Maclure base in 1809 (indicating that it must have been published as a Political map at that time, but we can find no record of it), then it shows up in Amer. Phil. Soc. 563 as the same map but dated 1811, then a second copy in the same holding dated 1813 and having "2nd edition, Containing the Seat of War &c." - both copies by T.L. Plowman of Philadelphia. This is a portion of the map here - it has the same notations, including the 1813 date, but three sections have been added, including Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, the West Indies, Central America and part of South America. And it has a new title (as above) and is dated 1817 - the title is a paste on slip which presumably covers the earlier title - A Map of the United States of America (as on Maclure). Ristow and Karrow then list an 1820 edition of this same map. The title mentioning the Seat of War indicates that the map had use during the War of 1812. After Plowman's name is "entered according to act of Congress 22nd Mar." With outline color by state and cloth edging. Dissected into 24 sections and folding into half leather marbled paper covered boards 27x17 with ties.

LEWIS, SAMUEL 1818
A New and Correct Map of the United States of North America; Exhibiting the Counties, Towns, Roads &c. in Each State. Carefully Compiled from Surveys and the Most Authentic Documents, by Samuel Lewis. W. & S. Harrison, sculpt. Philadelphia, Published by Kimber & Sharpless for Emmor Kimber 1818.
Philadelphia: Kimber & Sharpless for Emmor Kimber. Type: Wall Map Size: 172x187 Scale: 1:1,350,000 Reference: cf Karrow 1-1441 (1819 edition); Ristow p266; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p235; cf Karpinski 39 (1816, 1819 editions).
This is the second, unrecorded edition. The first complete edition was 1816, and the third edition, 1819. Ristow notes an incomplete issue (only the title sheet) of 1815. The 1818 and 1819 editions add an inset map of east Florida. This 1818 edition has a printed notation on the U.S. Mexican boundary: "Boundary between the U. States and the Spanish Provinces agreeable to the Treaty of 1819." This indicates that the map was published late in 1818 or early in 1819, either in anticipation of the February, 1819 signing of the treaty, or just after it. This is a huge map, almost six feet square, full of detail on roads, large and small towns, and areas that were "settling up." Like other large U.S. maps (other than the Melish) of the period (Shelton & Kensett, Varle, Bradley, Arrowsmith, Tardieu), this map extends west to just beyond the Mississippi River. It ranks as the largest in size and scale and is certainly the most detailed. And it is rare, with this 1818 copy being perhaps unique. It must have drawn much of its road information from the Bradley postal map of 1804/12. It is similar to the Arrowsmith 1819 in the northwestern areas, but closer to the Tardieu 1818 in the Michigan Peninsula area. It is not clear to us whether Lewis borrowed from Arrowsmith and Tardieu or vice versa, probably it worked both ways. For an enthusiastic contemporary evaluation of the first edition, see our 1815 copy of the advertisement for this map ("It is, we believe, much the largest specimen of geographical design ever produced in the United States...we do not think it equaled by any large map of European workmanship we have ever examined"). Lewis also made a smaller wall map of the U.S. titled "Traveler's Guide: A New and Correct Map of the United States..." in 1819, and another smaller still in 1817 titled “A Correct Map of the United States with the West Indies..." (see our copies).

LEWIS, SAMUEL 1819
The Travellers Guide. A New and Correct Map of The United States, including great portions of Missouri Territory, Upper & Lower Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, The Floridas, Spanish Provinces &c. Collected and compiled from the most Undoubted Authorities By Samuel Lewis, Geographer and Draftsman 1819. Published, Printed and Coloured by Henry Charles, Philada. Copy Right secured according to Law.
Phila.: Henry Charles. Type: Wall Map Size: 76x104 Scale: 1:4,100,000 Reference: Ristow p266;cf Phil-Maps p880(Kimber ed.).
Highly detailed, goes west to 110th meridian. Streeter 3804, 3803. Probably influenced by Melish, nonetheless this is an outstanding map, with much of interest in the Missouri Territory. There is a small vignette of a "Traveler" placed over the title, indicating that this was a map to be used as a travel guide. Shows the new Alabama Territory, an interesting configuration of Illinois around Lake Michigan, and strange east west running mountain ranges leading to the Rockies. Lewis and Clark information is incorporated in the upper Missouri River area. The northern boundary with Canada is strange: it follows the 47.5 parallel and the Upper Missouri River. Outline color.
