Lloyd's Official Map Of The State Of Virginia From actual surveys by order of the Executive 1828 & 1859. Corrected and Revised by J.T. Lloyd to 1862, from Surveys made by Capt. W. Angelo Powell, of the U.S. Topographical Engineers of Gen. Rosencrans' Staff. Price 25cts. ... J.T. Lloyd, Publisher, 164 Broadway, New York ... Entered ... 1861 by J.T. Lloyd ... New York.
New York: J.T. Lloyd. Type: Pocket Map Size: 76x120 Scale: 1: 650,000 Reference: Stephenson 465.
First issued in 1861, then 1862, and last issued in 1863. Taken from Boye's map of 1828 and extensively revised. Another issue of 1862 has a strange note regarding the Burnett House (a hotel) in Cincinnati. This is the only map used to plan campaigns in Virginia by Gen. McClellan. The brown cloth covers 19x13 (with tie remnants) are titled in gold "Lloyd's $100,000 Topographical Map of Virginia. Used by the War Department." A promotional broadside was put out early in 1861 announcing the first issue of this map and calling it "the only real good map ever made in America" (see our copy with "Lloyd's Map of the Southern States" - Newspaper format). Full color by county. Map is mounted on linen and undissected.

LISLE, GUILLAUME DE, 1675-1726 (1731)
(Atlas de Geographie).
(Paris: Guillaume DeLisle, Quai de l'Horloge) Type: World Atlas Size: 54x40 Maps: 94 Reference: cf P533, 535; Tooley, Mapping of America p.1-28.; Martin & Martin, 14 & 19; Wheat 99; Cumming 170.
Without title page, as issued. This is a relatively early edition of DeLisle's untitled atlas, published in Paris, with most of the maps having the "Quai de l'Horloge" imprint. All of the important maps of the Americas are present: Hemisphere Occidental, 1st issue 1724; Carte d'Amerique, 1st issue, 2nd state 1722; L'Amerique Septentrionale, 2nd issue 1700-1708 ; L'Amerique Meridionale, 3rd issue 1700-1708; Carte du Canada, 2nd issue 1703-1708; Carte de la Louisiane, 1st issue, 2nd state with New Orleans 1718; Carte du Mexique et de la Floride, 2nd issue 1703-1708; Carte de l'Isle de Saint Dominque, 1st issue 1725; Carte des Antilles, 1st issue 1717; Carte de la Terre Ferme du Peru, du Brazil, 2nd issue 1703-1708; and Carte du Paraguay du Chili, 2nd issue 1703-1708. Only two of the ninety four maps were issued after De l'Isle's death in 1826: "Carte du... Senegal... Ouvrage Posthume... Par... La Veuve Delisle 1826" and "Alexandri Magni Imperium...Opus Posthumum...1731." Early Paris editions (ie before Buache became publisher in 1732) of DeLisle's atlas with the full 94 maps are scarce - the LOC has none. DeLisle is important as the first "scientific" cartographer who incorporated the most current information on exploration and topography into his maps. His maps of America contain many innovations: discarding the fallacy of California as an island, first naming of Texas, first correct delineation of the Mississippi Valley, and first correct longitudes of America. Lloyd Brown states that DeLisle "undertook a complete reform of a system of geography that had been in force since the second century, and by the time he was twenty five he had very nearly accomplished his purpose."

This is the latest edition that we have seen of an atlas that started in 1826 and was very up to date for its time, but now is woefully out of date regarding the Americas and the other emerging parts of the world. The publishers do add some good, current, railroad maps of the British Isles, to cover the needs of their immediate clients. The date is estimated from the U.S. and Mexican boundary. Maps are hand painted with outline color. Covers are half leather dark grayish green cloth covered boards with "Lizars' General Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Published By H.H. Lloyd & Co. 21 John St. New York. 1866. Entered ... 1866 by H.H. Lloyd ... New York. (with 3 inset profiles).
New York: H.H. Lloyd & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 94x79; 83x85 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:3,358,080 Reference: P-Maps p.914; Wheat 1125 (1865 edition of the U.S. Terr. & Pac. States).
Interesting combination of two separately published maps in one pocket map folder. When opened side by side they form a complete map of the U.S. on the same scale, a western half and an eastern half. The western map is of greater interest - Wheat calls the 1865 edition "a worthwhile map, and a good deal more enlightening than the 1865 production of the General Land Office, 'Map of the Public Land States and Territories.'" Wheat mentions that the 1865 edition does not show Boise City - the 1866 edition does, which probably means there were other updates made for this edition. The copyright date on this map is 1862, but we can find no record of that edition, only the 1865 edition. Wheat and Phillips list Bourquin as the lithographer, but his name is removed on this edition. The influence of Bancroft's Map of the Pacific States is strong. In the west this is a very impressive map, and in the east there is the normal overabundance of detail typical of Lloyd's work. An interesting and useful feature of both the east and west maps is the inclusion in many counties of their date of organization (first time we have seen this). Both maps are folded into dark brown cloth covers with "H.H. Lloyd & Co.'s New County Map Of The United States." stamped in gold. Outline color by state.

Lloyd's usual disclaimer about the "other Lloyd." An intense map of the region around New York - intensely colored and dense with information. On the verso is a more "normal" looking city map, but with a catchy title - "the Great Metropolis." Catalogue of Lloyd's maps appears on the main map and on the verso of the front cover. Folded into dark brown cloth covers 16x10.5 with "H.H. Lloyd's New-York And Forty Miles Around It Streets Rail Roads &c." stamped in gold.

Washington.
Concord, New Hampshire: D.L. Guernsey. Type: World Atlas Size: 41x33 Maps: 22 Reference: cf P864 (1872 edition).
1872 was the first edition, although Lloyd's maps from this atlas, in different configurations, appear in the 1871 Warner and Beers Atlas of the State of Illinois, the 1872 Warner, Higgins and Beers Atlas of Whiteside Co. and the State of Illinois, the 1872 Walling and Gray Atlas of the State of Ohio, and the 1873 Martenet, Walling and Gray Atlas of the State of Maryland and the District of Columbia (see our copies). We am sure that the maps also appear in numerous other county and state atlas by these and perhaps other publishers. Lloyd provided his maps to publishers to use in their atlases of counties and states, to give them an extra U.S. atlas at the back of their books. The maps are mostly on the same scale, indicating that they derive from a large wall map (see P11038). The configuration of the maps in the Handy Atlas is quite different from the other issues - especially unusual is the California and Nevada Map which has Arizona added at the bottom, turned ninety degrees. And in the Handy atlas, Lloyd adds maps of the rest of North America and the world. Full color. Bound into brown cloth covered boards with "Handy Atlas" stamped in gilt.

Unusual collaboration between H.H. Lloyd and Schonberg & Co. The map shows the U.S. west to about half of Colorado Territory. Two inset maps show Southern Florida, and California, Oregon and the other Western Territories. Battlefields of the Civil War are indicated. The printing is somewhat crude lithography, with the western parts shown in a curious, distorted projection. This was probably rushed into printing to meet the demand for war maps. Full color by county. Map is bordered with linen, dissected into 24 sections, and folds down to 25x23 with brown paper end sheets; missing case.

1st edition, 1st issue. Descended from Cramer's Navigator. The maps are similar to Cramer's but the text is entirely different, primarily dealing with the history of steam powered river navigation and dwelling at great length on the "disasters" of boats exploding and burning. Yost mentions Lloyd's book as one of many later river guides that did not credit Cramer as their source. A brief passage describes the 1811 earthquake along the New Madrid fault. The map of the Mississippi River is uncolored. The map on the verso of the United States is in full color. A paste down section, covering the area previously showing southern Florida, now explains the colored sections of the map. The pink areas represent the rebellious states. The green "represents all the Southern Territory that we hold from the South, after Four Years' War up to October 4, 1864...". The territory lost since the removal of Gen. McClellan and the issuing of the Emancipation Proclamation is outlined in yellow. The American Bastiles are highlighted in blue. The edition issued as a wall map (see our #4472) has color by county. Mapline 28 gives an excellent history of this map and the Bowens' role in making it. It was probably the most detailed map of the Mississippi in the 1860's. Stephenson illustrates the map of the lower Mississippi on page 51. Full color.

At the eastern border with Tennessee is a printed note next to a railroad line: "Military Rail Road propos: by the President in his last message to connect Danville, Ky with Knoxville, Ten." This has the usual idiosyncratic Lloyd ads, testimonials from Military authorities, and disparagements of competitor H.H. Lloyd. This is the same as our other copy except that the extensive coal fields in Eastern and Western Kentucky have been manuscript colored in gray wash, carefully delineated. David Owen published maps showing the Kentucky coal fields in 1852 and 1853 and they may have been the source of the information. The Kentucky coal fields were considered a strategic asset by the North in the Civil War. Coal mining in these areas began in earnest in the 1870's with the expansion of the railroads. Scale: 1:506,880 Reference: Stephenson 389.8.
Entered in 1862. This was a companion map to Lloyd's Official Map of the State of Kentucky (our #4786) and issued from the same plate. If fact, almost all of Kentucky is shown on this map. Stephenson shows an edition of 1862, so this is the second edition. This copy backed with linen, as issued ("with linen backs for Army Officers $1.50"). The 1862 edition had battle sites underlined in red. Full color. Map is not dissected. Folds into pattered dark brown cloth covered boards 18.5x12 with ties.

Two sided wall map in classic Lloyd manner. Printed below the title are testimonials in favor of the map by various civil war generals, the usual mention of "another Lloyd" selling poor imitations, a catalogue of Lloyd's maps, and the price of this map in San Francisco "$3 in gold." This map is very well drawn and highly detailed, a superb production. The Proposed Pacific Railway is shown, Wyoming is shown (early) and several not so subtle ads are listed for various products. This copy seems to have been trimmed to the neat line on the left and right edges. See the 1871 Colton Map of the United States for another reengraving of the same source map. With black top and bottom sticks. Full color by state on front; backside is unvarnished with full color by county.

Philadelphia: E. Lloyd. Type: Separate Map Size: 26x440 Scale: 1:316,800 Reference: cf Stephenson 28, 41 (1862 and 1863 editions); cf Mapline 28.
First published in 1862, this is an unrecorded late edition in unusual form: it is a long strip map with the original five sections joined together end to end to make a map over 14 feet long. On the verso is printed text of "Lloyd's Guide To The Manufactures of America" which is basically a series of advertisements for firms from Philadelphia to New York. Because the map has been cut into strips, the text cannot be easily followed. This raises a question as to whether the map was issued by the publisher in strip form or cut later and joined. We think the publisher issued this in strip form, rolled, and didn't worry about the text. We can find no changes from the 1863 edition, other than the text of the title and the ads for Lloyd's maps under the title, and of course, the presence of text ads on the verso.

John Lothian was an Edinburgh geographer and publisher who issued atlases of Scotland and its counties from 1825 to 1835, and a General Atlas in 1834 (R. Baskes). Tooley and British Museum list and 1846 edition of this atlas, probably the first. This 1848 second edition is a late production for Lothian, engraved in the style of SDUK, but lithographed, with considerably less detail. On first glance the maps appear to be derived or copied lithographically from other maps of the period, but no engraver credit is given and we can not find any source maps. The mountains and rivers plate is unusual - it is a schematic representation that is decidedly "modern" in style. The atlas is bound in half leather mauve cloth covered boards with "The People's Atlas 1848" stamped in gilt. Outline color.

New York: Charles Lubrecht Type: World Atlas Size: 37x30 Maps: 77 Reference: P927; cf Karrow 1-1654,1655,1661; Modelski 53.
Similar to Tunnison, but better. Scarce. Tooley Dictionary gives a date of 1855 for this atlas - probably incorrect. Lubrecht published a Railroad map of the United States by Rudolph Rosa in 1864 and 1865, in English and German editions, which was also published in Stuttgart by Lubrecht & Co. (indicating a family connection to a German Publishing house). We think these atlas maps were taken from the large wall map, except for the New England states, which have a larger scale, indicating that they were taken from another wall map. Lubrecht also did a map of New York City (High Ridge 21). Haasis & Lubrecht published "The American Union Railroad Map of the United States..." in 1872 (Modelski 53) which may also be the origin of these maps. See our copy of the Lubrecht 1864 "The American Continent." Maps in full color. Bound in brown linen covered boards with the title and a picture of the globe on the cover (now faded).

1st edition. 2nd edition was1865, another edition in 1869 (Karrow 1-1683). German edition published in 1864. (Karrow 1-1655). Inset of Central America, text on top of map describing British American Possessions, Time Tables, and U.S. Census for 1860. We can find no earlier edition of this map, so the "Revised Edition" is puzzling. Lubrecht lists three foreign publishers for this map: Bacon in London, Volkmar in Leipsic, and Lubrecht & Co. in Stuttgart. An edition in German is described in Karrow. Later, this map became the more elaborate 1871 "American Union Railroad Map of the United States..." by Hassis & Lubrecht, also published by D.L. Gurnsey (see our copy, WH's copy, and Heaston Cat. 19 for a reproduction). The Proposed transcontinental railroad is shown going south of Salt Lake City, Wyoming is still part of Dakota, and a Proposed Southern Pacific Railroad runs from Fort Smith to Sacramento. Full color by state. Map is dissected into 24 sections and mounted on linen. Folded into black paper covered boards 24.5x21 with "The American Continent" stamped in gilt.

LUCAS, FIELDING JR. (1815)
A New and Elegant General Atlas Containing Maps of each of the United States. Baltimore. Printed and Published By Fielding Lucas Junr. 138 Market Street Copyright Secured. G. Fairman.
Baltimore: Fielding Lucas. Type: World Atlas Size: 37x30 Maps: 23 Reference: cf P3542 (54 maps); U.S. Atlases L3583 (31 maps); Walsh 203 (54 maps); Foster.
Rare variant edition without state maps. According to Foster (Amer. Ant. Soc. Lucas Biography) the first edition of this atlas was 1814 (where is the copy? - it may be the LeGear U.S. Atlases L3583, 31 maps, perhaps erroneously dated 183-) and had 31 maps, including all the state maps, all maps engraved by Tanner. The next edition is dated 1816 by Ristow (LOC P3542) because the Virginia map is dated 1816 (none of the editions bear dates on the title page). It has 54 maps, Lucas having added maps of foreign countries by Harrison. Finally, there is an 1817 edition, which adds two maps by Lucas, and shows Alabama (1817 est.) on the U.S. map. Our copy is undated, but the U.S. map has a large Mississippi with no Alabama, hence probably dated 1816 or earlier. Of the 23 maps, North and South America are present, U.S., Canada, Two Hemispheres, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the balance are countries of Europe. Several of the foreign maps that appear in the 1816 edition are omitted - probably because they were not engraved yet. Thus we would date this (1815). The Prospectus (which is largely lifted from Wilkinson's General Atlas of (1806) - see our #1201) follows the title page, but there is no index (the same prospectus appears in the 1816 edition). The maps are largely copied from Oddy's Atlas, except the state maps, which were original. These maps are the same maps that appear in the 1823 General Atlas, with Tanner's and Harrison's names removed (competition with Tanner's American Atlas of 1823?) and the title blocks redesigned. This variant edition may have been rushed out to supply the need for an atlas with mostly foreign maps, but still having general maps of the U.S. That the atlas was issued is this form (with no maps removed) can been ascertained by the offsetting of the maps on the versos, indicating no removal. Maps in full color. Covers are half leather, marbled paper covered boards with "Atlas" printed on the spine in gilt.

LUCAS, FIELDING JR. (1822)
A General Atlas, Of All The Known Countries In The World. Baltimore: Published by Fielding Lucas, Junr. No. 138, Market Street ...
Baltimore: Fielding Lucas. Type: World Atlas Size: 36x30 Maps: 67 Reference: Foster, p. 190; Sabin sub 42611; Karpinski 94.
This is a very unusual Lucas atlas - according to Foster, only two copies are known. The engraved title page shows a globe and books on a table, with pages open listing Lucas' products: "Drawing Materials of every kind, Paper of all sizes, Mathematical Instruments, Globes, Maps, and Atlases of every description suitable for Colleges and Schools constantly for sale by the Publisher." It has 31 of the Tanner and Harrison engraved maps of the continents and foreign countries that appeared in the (1815) and (1816) "New And Elegant General Atlas" (only Netherlands bears Lucas' imprint, engraved by Young & Delleker, and is basically the same as the map that appears in the 1823 "General Atlas Containing Distinct Maps..."). Of the remaining 36 maps, 8 are of South America and the West Indies and are unchanged in the 1823 atlas; the other 28 maps are in many cases early states of the new U.S. maps that appear in the 1823 atlas and replace the Tanner engraved U.S. maps of 1815 and 1816 atlases. They all have Lucas' imprint and show various engravers, Welch, Young & Delker, Cone & Freeman, Kneass, and Hufty. Compared to the early 1823 atlas (our #4584), 16 of the 28 U.S. maps are earlier issues, with only one being a later issue - New Hampshire shows Merrimack County (1823) which does not appear on the early 1823 atlas map (this was probably drawn in anticipation of creation). Of particular note are: Louisiana, a double page map engraved by Harrison and "Reduced from W. Darby's Four Sheet Map" which is dated 1817 as does not show Alabama or Arkansas Territory; and a map of "North Western and Michigan Territories" which is the same base map as the 1823 "Michigan Ter." but shows a much smaller Michigan in a configuration that Paullin dates as 1819 with a large North Western Territory extending to the west. Karpinski 94 incorrectly dates this map as "certainly as late as 1824" while mentioning that Phillips dates it 1819 (?). We cannot find the Phillips entry, but we believe this map is 1819, and therefore the first printed separate map of Michigan - a title that Karpinski gives to the Carey and Lea 1822 "Michigan Territory," (Karpinski 92). Our analysis of the map issues (using dates of county formation) leads us to date this atlas (1822). Foster incorrectly dates this atlas as "early in the 1830's" Clearly he did not do a careful comparison of the map states which he calls "nearly all reprints of the 1823 book." When comparing this atlas to the 1822 Carey and Lea "American Atlas" (for which Lucas made half of the maps), 6 maps are earlier states and 4 maps are later states, which the balance being similar states. Other evidence pointing to a pre 1823 issue is the inclusion of the same "Prospectus" that appears in the 1815 and 1816 atlas and was dropped in the 1823 edition. This is a transitional atlas edition which was finalized in the 1823 atlas; the 16 early map issues are the earliest issues of Lucas's 1823 atlas maps; and it must have been issued in small numbers because it is not in any of the standard references other than a brief mention in Sabin. Covers are half leather, gray paper covered boards with "Atlas" printed in gilt along the spine. Extremely rare.

A General Atlas Containing Distinct Maps Of all the Known Countries in the World, Constructed from the Latest Authority. Written and Engraved by Jos. Perkins, Philadelphia. Baltimore: Published by Fielding Lucas, Jun. No. 138, Market Street. Baltimore. Entered ... by F. Lucas Jr. of the State of Maryland June 3, 1823.
Baltimore: Fielding Lucas Jr. Type: World Atlas Size: 39x32 Maps: 100 Reference: P742.
The first edition, first state (see our first edition, second state for comparison) of Lucas' best general atlas and the finest general atlas produced in the U.S. at that time (In asserting this we omit the Tanner and Finley American Atlases of 1823 and 1826 respectively because they were not general atlases - cartographically they may have been superior to the Lucas, but not as broad in coverage). The quality of the engraving (most of the U.S. maps were engraved by B.T. Welch, others by Young & Delker, J.V.N. Throop, Cone & Freeman, and Kneass) is superb, the detail is very fine, and the coloring is delicate and elegant. While the same Lucas drawn base maps were used in this atlas and the 1822 American Atlas by Carey and Lea (and thereby created strained relations between him and Carey and Lea), the maps in this Lucas Atlas are far superior in quality - Welch reengraved many of the maps for Lucas that Young & Delker had engraved for Carey and Lea. It is interesting to note that the Carey and Lea maps are usually earlier states of the Lucas maps. The Atlantic Islands and the West Indies Island Maps are mostly copied from Thomson's General Atlas of 1817 (see our copy) as is the Mountains and Rivers plate (reduced). Many maps are derived from the earlier Lucas Atlas of 1815-17 which copied the Oddy Atlas maps for the non U.S. state maps. Some copies have solid color. Maps of Mexico, Canada, and N. America (updated by Lucas in the arctic), are copied from Arrowsmith's General Atlas of 1823 (first ed. was 1817). The classical maps derive from Melish's Atlas of Ancient Geography of 1815. Half leather with marbled paper covered boards, thick outline color, title on spine - "Lucas's Cabinet Atlas."

LUCAS, FIELDING JR. (1824)
A General Atlas Containing Distinct Maps Of all the Known Countries in the World, Constructed from the Latest Authority. Written and Engraved by Jos. Perkins, Philadelphia. Baltimore: Published by Fielding Lucas, Jun. No. 138, Market Street. Baltimore. Entered ... by F. Lucas Jr. of the State of Maryland June 3, 1823.
Baltimore: Fielding Lucas Jr. Type: World Atlas Size: 39x31 Maps: 100 Reference: P742.
First edition, second state. This is the second state of the 1823 edition, probably issued in 1824 or 25 based on Arkansas in reduced form on the U.S. map. There are changes both graphic and topographic to eight maps when compared to the 1823 first state: U.S. map has reduced Arkansas, enlarged Michigan (Michigan spelled "Michegan"), New Hampshire map adds a scale of miles, Rhode Island map adds latitude and longitude lines as does Connecticut, New York adds a profile of the Champaign Canal, and Orlean County is shown, Virginia adds Pocahontas County, South Carolina's title has a cloud border (as opposed to a decorative line border on the first state), and Tennessee adds Dyer, Gibson, Obion, Tipton, Weably, Hardeman, McNarry and Haywood counties and their respective county seats. Full tooled red morocco, thick outline color, title on spine - "Lucas's Cabinet Atlas."

We believe this is Lucas' largest separate map of Baltimore. Papenfuse illustrates editions of 1822, 1836 and 1841. This 1852 issue may be the last (Ristow). It is interesting to note that the copyright has been renewed to 1852, indicating that Lucas was still active as a map publisher. Full color. Map is dissected into 18 sections, edged in green silk, and mounted on linen. Folds with marbled end sheets into a new mint green cloth folding case 19.5x13 with "Baltimore F. Lucas 1852" stamped in gold on the spine.

LYON, LUCIUS, 1800-1851 (1835)
(Michigan and Indiana Border Survey 1828-1835. Manuscript Survey Maps and Notes).
N.P.: Manuscript. Type: Manuscript Map Size: 33x41 Maps: 7 Reference: Biographical Directory of the American Congress p. 1246; Boundaries of the U.S., p. 115; Campbell, Political History of Michigan, pp. 399, 469; Karpinski pp. 25, 432, 470, 472; cf Claussen & Friis 13; Stewart, Public Land Surveys. pp. 76-118.
This group of seven maps and accompanying detailed notes on the "Interior Quarter Section Corners" was compiled by Lucius Lyon, who began as a field surveyor in Michigan in the late 1820's when he made these surveys, became one of the first Senators from Michigan in 1837, and served as Surveyor General for Michigan from 1845 to 1850. Lucius Lyon signed and dated one of the maps in 1829. The maps and sheet notes are sewn together with original sheep skin covers and rolled into a surveyor's copper canister. The maps show the first two tiers of townships (T. 7-8 S., R. 19-22 W., Michigan Meridian) on the Michigan and Indiana border, running east from Lake Michigan for about 19 miles. It is probable that these surveys were carried out in part to further define the Michigan Indiana border in preparation for Michigan's entry into the Union as a State in 1837. They are also of great interest as examples of the documents and methods of the field surveyors in the early years of the General Land Office.

MACLURE, WILLIAM 1809
Observations on the Geology of the United States, explanatory of a Geological Map. By William Maclure. Read January 20th, 1809. (In) Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, Held at Philadelphia, for promoting Useful Knowledge. Volume VI. Published by C. and A. Conrad and Co. Philadelphia. ... Jane Aitken, Printer. 1809.
Phila: C.& A. Conrad. Type: Geology Book Size: 28x23 Maps: 1 Reference: Marcou 25; Merrill p217; White-Article.
1st edition of the first geological map of U.S. A portion of a map of the U.S. by Samuel Lewis is used to make this map. The full sheet of paper was put on a larger plate and pulled, leaving the upper and right side without borders, as issued. Uncut and untrimmed, the map appears here with Maclure's original essay on the geology of the U.S. In 1817 Maclure published an expanded versus of his essay, using the small Melish Map of the U.S. as a base. Maclure was dissatisfied with the Lewis map because of its rendering of the mountains, and an errata slip is attached to the back of p 423 explaining this (and stating that originally it was intended to use a reduction of the Bradley U.S. map). See Marcou 1858 for more discussion of the Lewis map. Maclure did a Paris printing of the article and Map (using a map by Volney as a base) in 1811, in French. The Lewis map is most likely the Map of the U.S. published in the 2nd edition of Carey's American Atlas, 1809 (P-Maps p 876,Walsh). Maclure's map and essay are very rare. There is an inscription on the title page to "Mons. F.A. Michaux-Paris, from his friend..." Map bound into the back of paper covered boards with the title handwritten on the spine.
Map in full color by geologic structure.

Observations on the Geology of the United States of America; with Some Remarks on the Effect Produced on the Nature and Fertility of Soils, By the Decomposition of the Different Classes of Rocks; And An Application to the Fertility of Every State in the Union, In Reference to the Accompanying Geological Map. With Two Plates. By William Maclure. ... Philadelphia: Printed for the Author, By Abraham Small, No. 112, Chesnut Street, and sold by him and J. Melish. 1817.
Philadelphia: Abraham Small. Type: Geology Book Size: 21x13 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes M161; White 1817A.
Geological Map by John Melish, with the map on thin paper. Maclure's paper was also published by the American Philosophical Society in 1818, with the map on thicker map (see our copy, #3954). Later runs of this edition (1817) have the map on a different Melish base map, showing all of Florida (White 1817B) (see our copy, #4070) and some few use the Volney 1811 map as a base (White 1817C - the rarest of the three states). This is often referred to as the first Geological map of the United States but it is not - see our copy of Maclure's 1809 paper and map (#2749), the true first Geological map of the U.S. Bookplate of James Douglas. Bound with half leather. "Geology on the United States. Maclure." on spine.

MACLURE, WILLIAM 1828
Observations on the Geology of the United States of America; With Some Remarks on the Effect Produced on the Nature and Fertility of Soils, By the Decomposition of the Different Classes of Rocks; And An Application to the Fertility of Every State in the Union, In Reference to the Accompanying Geological Map. With Two Plates. By William Maclure. ... Philadelphia: Printed for the Author, by Abraham Small ... 1817. (with) Essay On The Formation of Rocks, Or An Inquiry Into the Probable Origin of Their Present Form and Structure. By William Maclure. ... Philadelphia, Printed by John Wilbank ... 1838.
Philadelphia: Abraham Small. Type: Geology Book Size: 22x13 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes M161; White 1817B; Sabin 43552 and 43551 (Essay).
The title page is dated 1817 and the text is unchanged from the 1817 edition, but the Melish base map is changed from the 1817 edition Melish map to one that shows all of Florida and Missouri and Arkansas (with Arkansas in an 1828 formation). The map is the second state (White 1817B), although it is really an entirely different map. It is similar to the Map of The United States that appears in Melish's Traveler's Guide of 1822 and in Carey and Lea's American Atlas, but it has been reengraved, and the title is changed to United States of North America. It is colored geologically, but there is no color key. The same map appears in the Jackson Wreath of 1829, but in an earlier state. Bound in at the back is the "Essay..." mentioned above. This copy belonged to Francis P. Farquhar, noted California historian. Bound in brown cloth covers with "Geology" printed in gold on the spine.

MADISON, REV. JAMES. 1807
A Map Of Virginia Formed from Actual Surveys, and the Latest as well as most accurate observations, By James Madison, D.D. President of Wm. & Mary College. Drawn by Wm. Davis. Copy Right Secured. Richmond Published 4th March 1807 By the Proprietors. To The General Assembly Of Virginia, This Map is Respectfully Inscribed, by their Fellow Citizens, James Madison, William Prentis, William Davis, Proprietors. Engraved by Fred. Bossler, Richmd. (inset map) Ohio. (4 sheets of 6; 2 editions).
Richmond: Frederick Bossler. Type: Separate Map Size: 114x175 Maps: 7 Scale: 1:443,530 Reference: Ristow p121.
Lacks top & bottom middle sheets. An incomplete copy, with the missing two center sheets supplied in facsimile (from the Clements Library copies of the 1807 issue). Seven sheets in all: the 1807 and 1818 issues of the left top (the "Ohio" sheet) and bottom, and the right bottom, and the 1818 sheet of the right top (view of Richmond - which is colored). These sheets were acquired by a collector along with seven other copies of the view sheet, over fifty copies of the Ohio (top left) sheet, and an unknown number of the bottom left and right sheets. No copies of the center sheets were found with this group. Madison was first cousin of President Madison, was President of William and Mary College and organized the production of this map. William Davis drafted the map and William Prentis supervised the surveying and compiling. A second issue was redrafted by Davis in 1818, after Madison's death. It served as the most authoritative map of Virginia until 1827 (when the Wood/Boye map was published), and was the first comprehensive road map of the state.

Magnus' edition of Philip's Commercial Atlas of the World. The Maps were from Philip, who took them from Johnston's National Atlas, and from Thomson's General Atlas, 1817 - amazing to see the Thomson maps transferred to lithography forty years later! The Maps of the western and eastern U.S. are very interesting - they are a copy of Colton's Map of the United States of America, The British Provinces...probably from the 1855 edition (Magnus shows the Gadsden Line, our 1854 Colton does not) - not in Wheat. Bound in half leather brown cloth covered boards stamped with "Magnus's Commercial Atlas Of The World" in gilt on the front cover and spine. Maps have outline color.

Unusual reduced contemporary photocopy of a manuscript map. Photographic copying was a quicker way for the government to get map copies into the field, instead of having a lithographed copy made (see Stephenson p. 5-6). These photo maps are between lithographed and manuscript maps in character, and very scarce. Mounted on linen with ms label with the title, "Map of Part of the North Bank of the Rappahannock River... December 1862." This map and fifty other maps were the collection of Edwin T. Cowell and came from the estate of one of his descendants who died in Massachusetts. Cowell was a Sergeant in the Signal Corps at the Headquarters of Maj. Gen. W.S. Rosecrans, Army of the Cumberland. These maps cover the campaigns of the Army of the Cumberland, as well as other campaigns. Cowell probably put the maps together toward the end of the war and up to 1869 (the latest date on any of the maps).

MANNING, SAMUEL. 1845
Map Of The United States With Part Of The Province Of Canada. Published by Saml. Manning, Akron Ohio 1845. Engraved By S. Manning, J.G. Darby & Edwd. Yeager. (inset) Map Of The Missouri & Oregon Territories. (inset) South Part of Florida ...
Akron, Ohio: S. Manning. Type: Wall Map Size: 146x159 Scale: 1:1,800,000 Reference: Ristow p. 272; Karrow 1-1528.
Samuel Manning was the brother in law of Lewis Robinson, and set up a map publishing business with him and his brother Levi Manning in Akron, Ohio, in 1836. By 1845 it appears that Samuel Manning was issuing his own maps, including this title. The first issue of this map was put out by the firm of Manning and Darby in Akron in 1843. There is a vignette of the U.S. Capital building under the title, and portraits of ten U.S. Presidents in the decorative border. The inset map of Missouri and Oregon Territories is quite large and shows most of California and the Great Basin, with pre Fremont topography. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county.

MARTIN DE MOUSSY, V. (VICTOR), 1810-1869 1873
Description Geographique Et Statistique De La Confederation Argentine Par V. Martin De Moussy ... Deuxieme Edition Atlas. Paris Librairie De Firmin Didot Freres, Fils Et Cie. Imprimeurs De L'Institut, Rue Jacob, 56. 1873. Imprimerie Adolphe Laine, Rue Des Saints-Peres, 19.
Paris: Firmin Didot Freres. Type: National Atlas Size: 48x34 Maps: 29 Reference: P2731.
Phillips notes that this atlas accompanied three volumes of text of the same title, also published in 1873. Phillips does not note this second edition of the same date as the first, adding one map. Martin de Moussy was unable to finish the atlas because of illness and it was completed by L. Bouvet. This was the first atlas of Argentina. A beautifully engraved title page precedes the full title page and reads "Atlas De La Confederation Argentine. Bachelier Lith. Gve. Sanier, del. Imp. Lemercier & Cie. Paris." Most of the maps are without color; a few are hand painted in full color. Atlas is bound in quarter leather black cloth covered boards with "Atlas De La Confederation Argentine" stamped in gold on the front; spine is embossed with title "M. De Moussy. Description De La Confederation Argentine. Atlas."

MARTIN, JOSEPH; MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1835
A New and Comprehensive Gazetteer of Virginia, and the District of Columbia ... By Joseph Martin. To Which is added a History of Virginia ... Charlottesville: Published by Joseph Martin. Moseley & Tompkins, Printers. 1835. (on verso) Entered ... 1835, by Joseph Martin ... Virginia.
Charlottesville: Joseph Martin Type: Gazetteer Book Size: 23x14 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes M340; Sabin 44894.
1st edition, full color map by J.H. Young, Mitchell pub. This is the only example we have yet seen of Mitchell supplying a map for a publication that was not his own. The map of Virginia used here is exactly the same as Mitchell's Tourist's Pocket Map of the State of Virginia (see our 1835 copy), except that "Engraved for the Gazetteer" is substituted for "The Tourist's Pocket Map" in the title. The text is more of a geography than a gazetteer because instead of being an alphabetical listing of towns, etc., it is a description of the different regions of the state. A history of Virginia follows this. Book bound in full leather with "Gazetteer of Virginia, R.E. Manson" on the spine in gold.

The Illustrated Atlas, And Modern History Of The World Geographical, Political, Commercial & Statistical, Edited By R. Montgomery Martin, Esq. ... The Maps Drawn & Engraved By J. Rapkin. H. Warren. J. Rogers. J. & F. Tallis, London & New York.
New York: J. & F. Tallis. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x29 Maps: 82 Reference: P804.
Maps by J. Rapkin. The edition without the town plans. Date estimated. This copy has a few pages of the Index/Gazetteer, as issued, almost as a sample of the later edition with the complete gazetteer. Earlier editions have a second title page dated 1851, a view of the Great Pavilion opposite the ornamental title page, and an index sheet titled "Directions to Binder - arrangement of maps" (Huntington Library copy). Maps are hand colored with outline color, and bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Illustrated Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

MARZOLLA, BENEDETTO (1856)
(Atlante Geografico).
Naples: (B. Marzolla). Type: World Atlas Size: 51x39 Maps: 49 Reference: Valerio, V. Atlanti Napoletani (1806-1860); Valerio, V. Società Uomini e Istituzioni cartografiche nel Mezzogiorno d'Italia; Benedetto Marzolla Disegnatore e Cartografo Brindisino, Atti del Convegno Settimana della Cartografia, Liceo Classico B. Marzolla Brindisi, 5-10 maggio 1997; Tooley Dictionary p.423; Wheat, C.I. Maps of the Calif. gold region, 191; Wheat, C.I. Mapping the transmississippi West, 714, 673.
This is a very attractive and scarce atlas by a cartographer from Naples. Not in Phillips or British Museum. Marzolla prints extensive notes with his maps, listing his cartographic sources and giving political and statistical information on the areas covered. No title page (probably issued that way) and with a manuscript list of contents. The map of "Nuova California" is based on the Hypolite Ferry map of 1850 and is discussed by Wheat. The maps are dated from 1840 to 1856. Outline color. The covers are brown paper covered boards with a leather spine embossed with "Marzolla. Atlante Geografico" in gilt.

With printed paper covers on which appears "Farm and Fireside Library, April 1894, Number 110, Published Monthly by Mast, Crowell & Kirkpatrick." This is the bare bones version of an atlas that was published under various titles in the last decade of the 19th century (see our copies). Unlike the other issues, this version has no color printing - probably to make it inexpensive enough for subscribers. The result is, surprisingly, quite striking, graphically.

A puzzle map of New York State, made of wood pieces, one for each county, with larger border pieces, all housed in a wooden box with printed paper covers. Each county piece is covered with printed paper giving the name of the county, the county seat, and a number. Williams lists this puzzle as the earliest known children's puzzle made in the United States. The box has many printed testimonials from prominent educators such as Emma Willard and the president of Union College, and from Governor Hamilton Fish. McCleary and Pierce patented their method of die cutting map puzzles in 1849 (Williams). On the inside cover of the box is a printed Table of Explanations, &c. giving distances, geographical statistics, and the course of rivers, canals and railroads through the numbered puzzle pieces.

Phila: John Melish. Type: National Atlas Size: 22x14 Maps: 8 Reference: P1346; Sabin47432; Streeter 81; Ristow p180.
1st edition. 5 large folding maps, 3 small maps. This, the first edition, was published during the war, and thus has the feeling of events unfolding with an uncertain outcome. The second edition was published in 1815 after the conclusion of the war, and has different text, and is more of a history. Henry Tanner engraved the five Large maps that Melish drew, and J. Vallance engraved the three small maps. We believe this is the first book Melish published with the idea that it was an "Atlas."

MELISH, JOHN 1816
Map of the United States with the contiguous British & Spanish Possessions Compiled from the latest & best Authorities By John Melish. Engraved by J. Vallance & H.S. Tanner. Entered ... 6th day of June 1816. Published by John Melish Philadelphia. (inset) West Indies.
Philadelphia: John Melish. Type: Case Map Size: 89x145
Scale: 1: 3,801,600 Reference: Martin/Ristow 24; Streeter 3798.
With insets of the West Indies and a Statistical Table. This map has the distinction of being the first large scale detailed map made in the U.S. that showed the entire country from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This copy is an early state of the first edition -this is Martin's third state of the first edition and Ristow's fourth state (Ristow discovered a town and trail added in Ohio - Adelphi - making for a sub state of Martin's third state). The first state was an incomplete proof copy, making this the second/third state of the completed copy. The differences between this and the first complete state are small: Mansfield, Wooster, and Adelphi (and a trail from Adelphi to Athens and Chillicothe) added in Ohio, and "Vevay or" added before "Swiss Vineyards" in southeastern Indiana. Martin and Ristow identify seven states of the 1816 edition. Melish published new editions in 1818 (five states), 1819 (two states), 1820 (eight states), 1822 (two states), and 1823 (one state) for a total of twenty five different issues. Notwithstanding the many issues, the map has become extremely rare. A book accompanied the map (though issued separately) titled "A Geographical Description of the United States..." (see our #2424). Outline color by state or territory. This copy is dissected into 40 sections, backed with linen, and edged in brown cloth. It folds with marbled end sheets into new blue cloth folding boards and slip case 24.5x16.5 with leather label on spine reading "Melish. Map Of The United States. 1816" in gold.

Philadelphia: John Melish. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10
Maps: 5 Reference: Howes M494.
Third edition, second with the folding map of the United States. The map of the U.S. is the base for the map used by Maclure in his "Observations on the Geology of the United States." The first edition of this guide was issued in 1814 and had no folding map; the 1822 and 1825 editions drop the map used in this 1816 edition and use a slightly smaller (but same scale) version of the U.S. map used in Lavoisne and Carey & Lea's American Atlas. This copy in original wallet style red leather folder.

Melish's Universal School Atlas...Improved to 1818.
Phila: John Melish. Type: School Atlas Size: 28x24 Maps: 8 Reference: Walsh p188 (1816 ed.); Ristow p188.
Accompanies Melish's School Geography, 1818 ed. First edition 1816 ("Published 1816. Improved to 1818" appears on the title page). These maps derive from the New Juvenile Atlas of 1814, with the addition of a Map of the World in hemispheres but not including the maps of England, Scotland and Ireland. This copy is lacking half of the Europe map. This atlas is rare in either edition, not being in Phillips, Karpinski, Sabin, Howes, Buck, or Nietz. The 1816 edition appears in Shaw & Shoemaker, #38223. Melish's School Geography was published first in 1818, so the first edition of the School Atlas was published before the textbook.

Map of Illinois Constructed from the Surveys in the General Land Office and other Documents By John Melish. Saml. Harrison, sct. Entered according to Act of Congress the 16th day of April 1818. Philadelphia. Published by John Melish. Improved to 1820.
Philadelphia: John Melish Type: Separate Map Size: 67x49 Scale: 1:950,400 Reference: Ristow 166-168; Karrow 1409, 1411; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p239 (Plate 146).
Melish, in his first edition of "A Geographical Description of the United States," (1816) wrote of his plans to publish a series of sheet maps on a uniform scale that would form an atlas of the United States. He reiterated this plan in the 2nd and 3rd editions of the "Geographical Description" and expanded upon it in "A Geographical Description of the World" in 1818. According to Ristow, this plan to publish the maps at the same scale was "a new and revolutionary idea that facilitated size comparisons." Indiana was the first to be published in 1817. Tennessee was published in 1817. The Illinois map followed in 1818, with an "improved" edition in 1819. No mention is made in any sources of this map, "improved to 1820." Alabama was completed in 1818, Mississippi in 1819, and Louisiana in 1820. Only these six maps were completed before Melish died in 1822. A copy of the 1818 Illinois map is held at the Library of Congress. The 1819 map is held at the Newberry Library and the National Archives. No copy of the 1820 edition has been mentioned in the references. The map is in outline color by county with township and survey lines shown.

MELISH, JOHN 1822
A Geographical Description of the United States, With the Contiguous Countries, Including Mexico and the West Indies, Intended as an Accompaniment to Melish's Map of These Countries. By John Melish. A New Edition, Greatly Improved. Philadelphia: Published by the Author. 1822. (on verso) ...on the twenty-second day of July ... 1822, John Melish ... hath deposited ... a book ... Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia: John Melish. Type: Geography Book Size: 22x15 Maps: 12 Reference: Howes M490, Sabin 47431.
Howes calls this a "new edition." Adds maps of St. Louis, Columbia River Outlet, and National Road. This edition is almost triple the size of earlier editions with many extra maps of interest. Melish died while making this edition and this is detailed in a folded "Notice to Subscribers: This (delay) has retarded the publication till the present time, notwithstanding every exertion was made, on the part of the author, to complete the work. These exertions not only exhausted his resources, but impaired his health; and probably caused the sickness which terminated in his death." All maps uncolored. With half leather covers and "Melish's United States" on label affixed to spine.

Map of Pennsylvania. Constructed from the County Surveys authorized by the State and other original Documents by John Melish. Engraved by B. Tanner. Entered ... 7th day of June 1822, by John Melish ... Pennsylvania. (title engravng) Drawn by F. Kearny. Engraved by B. Tanner.
Philadelphia: John Melish. Type: Wall Map Size: 128x188 Scale: 1:316,800 Reference: Phillips Maps p680, Ristow 110-115.
First edition. Compared with the 1826 edition, there are many changes. The 1826 edition adds the delineation of topography adjoining the river systems, roads in almost every county, numerous changes in the emerging coal regions in the east central part of the state, more mountains and plateaus drawn in, and B. Tanner's name as publisher below the neat line in the lower right. With black top and bottom rollers. Outline color by county.

MELISH, JOHN 1823
Map of the United States with the contiguous British & Spanish Possessions Compiled from the latest & best Authorities By John Melish. Engraved by J. Vallance & H.S. Tanner. Entered ... 16th day of June 1820. Published by James Finlayson Agent Philada. Successor to John Melish, Improved to 1823. (inset) West Indies.
Philadelphia: James Finlayson. Type: Case Map Size: 109x143 Scale: 1: 3,801,600 Reference: Martin/Ristow 24; Streeter 3812.
The last edition of Melish's map of the United States, first published in 1816, and the 25th state identified by Martin/Ristow. This edition has the three additional sheets at the bottom of the map (added in the second state of the 1822 edition) that expand the coverage of Mexico and the West Indies. Compared to the first 1816 edition, there are many changes in the Great Plains area of the U.S. (that first appeared in the 1822 edition) based on Long's Map of 1822 (although Melish does not mention Long in his preface to the Geographical Description edition of 1822). Ristow (A la Carte) says there are no changes between between the 1823 edition and the second state of the 1822 edition, other than the change in publisher and date. Outline color by state or territory. The map is dissected into 50 sections, backed with linen, and edged in white silk. It folds into a new dark blue cloth folding case 25x17 with black ties; the spine is embossed with "Map Of The United States. John Melish. 1823" in gold.

Philadelphia: James Finlayson. Type: Case Map Size: 64x71 Scale: 1: 3,801,600 Reference: Martin/Ristow 24; Streeter 3812.
This is an unusual survivor - in about 1854 someone cut out the Northwestern one third of John Melish's large Map of the United States (1823 edition) and updated it to show the states, territories and proposed territories of that period, notably Kansas and Nebraska but no Gadsden Purchase, and Shoshone and Dakota (which are usually seen on circa 1858-59 maps). The new boundaries are hand colored with white past down labels for names of states and territories. It might have been used as a school map in the west - we found it in a small town in the California gold country. This portion is dissected into 15 sections mounted on linen with silk edging, and folds down to 23x15.

A General Collection Of Maps, Charts, Views, &c. ... Philadelphia. 1824.
Philadelphia: No publisher. Type: World Atlas Size: 48x31 Maps: 27 Reference: P6053.

Unusual collection of maps by various makers. The Melish maps are from the second edition of the Military and Topographical Atlas, but not including the two general maps of the northern and southern states and the coast. Also present are Melish's map of the U.S. to accompany Maclure's Geology, several maps of foreign countries by Carey maps of the West Indies by Lucas, and many maps by unknown makers, including one of Ross' arctic discoveries. "The map of the Country Belonging to the Cherokee and Creek Indians From the Original Drawing in the War Department" by Melish is a later edition and title than the one appearing in the Military and Topographical Atlas (see P1347 to compare). May have been published by A.T. Goodrich who acquired much of Melish's material after his death, or Robert Desilver who acquired the Carey maps. Atlas is bound in half leather, brown paper covered boards, with "Atlas" stamped in gilt on spine.

Map Of Pennsylvania, Constructed from the County Surveys authorized by the State; and other original Documents by John Melish. Engraved by B. Tanner. Corrected and Improved to 1826. Entered ... 7th day of June 1822, by John Melish ... Pennsylvania. Published by B. Tanner, Engraver, No. 74 South Eighth Street Philadelphia ... (illustration) Drawn by F. Kearny. Engraved by B. Tanner.
Philadelphia: B. Tanner. Type: Case Map Size: 128x188 Scale: 1:330,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p680, Ristow 110-115.
This is called Melish's greatest work (Ristow). 1st edition 1822. Melish died in 1822; editions were published in 1824, 1826, and 1832 by the state (which explains B. Tanner listing as publisher instead of Melish). Morris did a revised edition in 1849 (see our copy). Melish spent more than six years on this monumental project, which he hoped would serve as a model for other state map. The map was sponsored by the state and based on individual county surveys. Map has outline color by county, blue cloth edging, and is dissected into 40 sections. Folds into marbled end sheets which slips into a half leather marbled cover 35x21 with "Pennsylvania" stamped in gilt on the spine.

New York: A.T. Goodrich. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10 Maps: 8 Reference: Howes M495; Sabin 55565; Clark III-216.
All maps uncolored and engraved by J.M. Atwood. This book is attributed by Howes to Melish, as a later edition of the Traveler's Manuel by Melish, 1831 (although Melish died in 1822). The maps are in the style of Melish's maps that appear in his "Travels" and "Geographical Description" but they have been completely reengraved by Atwood. Various issues of this book have 8 maps (this copy), 9 maps, 11 maps and 12 maps. All have the 8 folding maps in the Melish style, but some add additional larger maps at the end of the book. Cloth covered boards with title embossed on spine.

(MELISH, JOHN) (1807)
(Untitled Atlas of 12 Outline and Keyed Maps).
(Philadelphia: John Melish). Type: School Atlas Size: 22x14 Maps: 12 Reference: None found.
12 beautifully engraved outline maps with no title, engraver, or date. The first map is a generic landform map, then follow maps of the World, North America, United States, South America, Europe, England, Scotland, Ireland, Asia, Africa, and Pennsylvania. The maps are labeled A through M, with J lacking, perhaps as issued (there is no sign of a map missing). The fact that Pennsylvania is the only state map present, to us it indicates a Philadelphia publisher. Melish and Carey are the likely ones, but it could have been Scott, or? In any event, the quality of the maps matches anything made in London at that time. With paper covered boards and quarter leather.

MEYER, JOSEPH, 1796-1856 (1860)
Grosser Hand - Atlas Uber Alle Theile Der Erde In 170 Karten. Herausgegeben von J. Meyer. Hildburghausen Verlag des Bibliographischen Instituts.
Hildburghausen: Bibliographischen Instituts. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x50 Maps: 168 Reference: Espenhorst 3.3.1; Wheat Gold 222 (California, Oregon and Utah Map)and 242(North America); not in Phillips.
This is Meyer's grandest production, a real tour de force that has fifty maps of the Americas including thirty three maps that are derived from the Tanner/Mitchell Universal Atlas maps of the various U.S. States and Territories, Canada, and South America and are dated from 1844 to 1854 (with most dated 1844 or 1845). Many of the maps in this atlas have Philadelphia as a place of publication (along with several other cities) indicating that there may have been an arrangement with Tanner and/or Mitchell to copy the maps. The U.S. maps dated 1844-46 all appear to derive from a late 1830's edition of Tanner's Universal Atlas. Those dated from 1850-54 derive from the Mitchell and Thomas Cowperthwait issues of the Universal Atlas from 1850-54. Espenhorst lists a separate atlas (3.3.3) published in 1860 with these U.S. maps only, titled "Grosse und vollstandiger Auswanderungs-Atlas fur Nordamerika." The Iowa, Wisconsin, and Texas maps are not copied from the Universal Atlas, but all the others are almost exact copies and it is strange that no credit is given to Tanner or Mitchell. Notwithstanding that, the copies are beautifully done and in some cases (the California map adds an inset of San Francisco Bay not on the Mitchell version) superior to the American originals. Wheat misses the Tanner/Mitchell derivation in the two maps he cites. The other maps in the atlas are all superbly engraved and the city maps have exquisite views - all combining to make this the finest German atlas of the mid 19th century. Full and outline hand painted color. Maps are bound in half leather marbled boards with "Meyer's Grosser Hand-Atlas Aller Theile Der Erde." stamped on the spine in gilt. Scarce.

The attribution to Joseph Meyer is from Tooley's Dictionary and Espenhorst. Phillips only lists this by the title. 1st edition was 1866 (Phillips). Ravenstein engraved or updated most of the maps. MEYER, JOSEPH. (1854)
(Hildburghausen: Bibliographischen Instituts). Type: World Atlas Size: 27x33 Maps: 135 Reference: Espenhorst 3.1.2.1.; not in Phillips.
Although this lacks a title page and index, it is a collection of maps that closely corresponds to Meyer's Zeittungs und Groschen Atlas. The maps are dated from 1832 to 1854, with the largest number dated between 1849 and 1852. There are six detailed maps of groups of the United States, including an interesting "Californien, Texas und die Territorien New Mexico u. Utah" of 1852 that shows the gold region in California and has a Texas truncated by an enlarged New Mexico. The bound order of the maps is puzzling, seeming to skip around from country to country with no obvious logic - however, there is a manuscript index listing all the maps and the pages are also numbered in ms. The maps are of the highest Meyer quality and, although small, packed with information. Outline color. Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with a paper label reading "Schwartz" in ms.

MILLS, ROBERT 1825
Atlas Of The State Of South Carolina, Made Under The Authority Of The Legislature; Prefaced With A Geographical, Statistical And Historical Map Of The State. By Robert Mills, Of South Carolina, P.A. ... Published by F. Lucas Jr. Baltimore for Mills' Atlas.
Phila/Baltimore: Tanner/Lucas. Type: State Atlas Size: 57x38 Maps: 29 Reference: P2570; Sabin 49113; Ristow pp207-219.
1st edition. 28 District maps, 1 State map. The District maps are derived from surveys done for John Wilson's 1822 Map of South Carolina, also engraved by Tanner. Mills' Atlas is the first State Atlas; it was reissued with slight revisions in 1838. This copy has the signature of Thomas Carr of Georgetown, one of the original subscribers who are listed in the accompanying volume of Statistics of South Carolina, published in 1826. Carr's residence is shown on the map of Georgetown District (which map shows the most signs of use) as well as some ms notations probably by Carr showing new roads, churches, etc. Tanner engraved the District maps and Lucas engraved the State map on the title page. The District maps are very detailed showing land owners, taverns, Churches, mills, roads and some distances along the roads, swamps, mountains - all in the finest Tanner style of engraving. Several of the maps are large - Charleston District is 89x86 cm. Compared to David Burr's Atlas of New York State 1829, Mills' maps are far more detailed. State map has full color; other maps without color. Bound in half leather gray paper covered boards with "Mills Atlas S. Carolin(a)" stamped in gold on the spine.

MITCHELL, JOHN 1756
Amerique Septentrionale avec les Routes, Distances en miles, Limites et Etablissements Francois et Anglais. Par le Docteur Mitchel, Traduit de l'Anglois. A Paris, Par le Rouge Ingr. Geographe du Roy rue des Grands Augustins 1756.
Paris: Le Rouge. Type: Case Map Size: 133x192 Scale: 1:2,000,000 Reference: Stephenson(A la Carte)p109.
1st French edition, 8 sheets. Very interesting French reengraving of Mitchell's map, emphasizing their territorial claims at the expense of the British claims; in particular they add an area of "contestations" between French claims and the English Claims which is the territory west of the Appalachians. Later editions of this map appear in Le Rouge's Atlas Ameriquain Septentrionale (map edition of 1783), published in 1792. Outline color. Sheets rest in a new green cloth covered folding case with a black label on the spine stamped with "John Mitchell Amerique Septentrionale 1756" in gilt.

MITCHELL, JOHN 1757
A Map of the British and French Dominions in North America with the Roads, Distances, Limits and Extent of the Settlements.
London: John Mitchell. Type: Case Map Size: 135x193 Reference: Stevens 54(c), Stephenson (A la Carte)p109.
2nd edition, with text in ocean. In two large panels (each with four sheets) each dissected into 36 sections and mounted on linen. Although dated 1755, it was published in 1757, according to the British Museum. Uncolored, as issued. In the sixth line of the first column of the text this issue is referred to as the Second Edition. One of the most important maps in American history, it went through five editions (see Stevens). We believe this second edition is scarcer than the other editions as it appears less often on the market. Compare to the first French edition of 1856 (our copy) regarding the conflicting claims of the British and French to American territory.

MITCHELL, JOHN; RAYNAL, G.T.; ZATTA, ANTONIO 1778
Storia Dell' America Settentrionale Del Signor Abate Raynal Continuata fino al present, con Carte Geografiche rappresentanti il Teatro della Guerra Civile tra la Gran Bretagna, e le Colonie Unite. A SS. EE. Li Signori Rifoormatori Dello Studio Di Padova. In Venezia, Dalle Stampe Di Antonio Zatta Con Licenza De Superiori, E Privilegio. M. DCC. LXXVIII.
Venezia: Antonio Zatta. Type: Geography Book Size: 41x27 Maps: 15 Reference: Sabin 68109; Stephenson "A la Carte" p. 113; cf P 650, 651.
In addition to a two volume Italian translation of Raynal's History of North America, this book contains the first edition of Zatta's twelve sheet version of Mitchell's Map of North America, plus three other maps: Il Canada, Le Isole di Terra Nuova e Capo Breton, and La Baja D' Hudson. All of these maps appeared also in Zatta's Atlante Novissimo published from 1779-1785. A second edition of the Zatta/Mitchell maps was published in 1791 (see P651). Zatta's version of Mitchell is not an exact or complete copy: the Zatta maps do not cover the far western portions of Mitchell's map, many geographical changes are introduced, and Bermuda is depicted as well as Jamaica., neither of which are shown by Mitchell. A separate map covers Newfoundland and Cape Breton, on the same scale. Maps are hand painted with outline color. Covers are quarter leather light brown marbled paper covered boards with "Raynal. Storia Dell' America Settentrionale. 1778" stamped in gilt on the new leather spine.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1831
A New American Atlas, Designed Principally To Illustrate The Geography Of The United States Of North America; In Which Every Country In Each State And Territory Of The Union Is Accurately Delineated, As Far As At Present Known: The Whole Compiled From The Latest And Most Authentic Information. Philadelphia: Published By Samuel Augustus Mitchell. 1831.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: National Atlas Size: 47x32 Maps: 15 Reference: American Atlases L3584; P11026 and L3585 (Pocket edition).
Mitchell's first atlas, published in the first year of Mitchell's map publishing career. Mitchell purchased the plates for this atlas from Anthony Finley, who used them previously in his 1826 edition of his own atlas of the same title, "New American Atlas" (see our # 0278, 0279). Mitchell reissued the atlas with Mitchell's imprint on all the maps, with updating on the maps, and with new borders for the maps. This form of the atlas (folio) is most rare, with no copy in the Library of Congress and only two copies located by LeGear in her "American Atlases" bibliography. Dealers note only one copy for sale or at auction in the last decade. The maps included in the atlas were produced by Mitchell primarily as pocket maps and this explains the rarity of the folio atlas. Maps in full hand painted color. Atlas bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with red leather label stamped with "American Atlas" in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1831
Map Of Massachusetts Connecticut And Rhode Island Constructed From the Latest Authorities. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell Philadelphia. 1831. J.H. Young Sc.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 43x54.5 Scale: 1:700,000 Reference: None found.
This is the first year of Mitchell map publications and is taken from Mitchell's reissue of Finley's 1826 American Atlas (see our #3884). Mitchell also issued a pocket map version of the entire American Atlas (see P11026). Full color, folded into brown leather covers 15x8.5 printed with "Massachusetts Connecticut & Rhode-Island" and a decorative border in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1831
Map Of Pennsylvania New Jersey And Delaware Constructed from the Latest Authorities. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell, Philadelphia. Engraved by J.H. Young.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 42x54 Scale: 1:1,203,840 Reference: None found.
Although no date appears, we assume this is 1831 because of the appearance of the map and the style of the covers (plain brown leather with gold title was only used in 1831 by Mitchell). The same map appears in the 1831 Mitchell edition of the American Atlas, but there it has the date of 1831 under the title. Full color. Folded into brown leather covers 15x8.5 with "Pennsylvania New-Jersey & Delaware" and border in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1831
Map Of The United States Constructed From the Latest Authorities. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell Philadelphia. 1831. The Publisher is indebted to the politeness of Major S.H. Long for the use of his documents in the construction of that portion of this Map west of the Mississippi river.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 43.5x54.5 Scale: 1:7,200,000 Reference: None found.
This is the same map as the map that appears in Mitchell's 1831 reissue of Finley's 1826 American Atlas. It is dated 1831 under the title - changes from the 1826 Finley issue include the appearance of Chicago, reduction of Arkansas, and the elimination of "Territory" in the title of Michigan. W. Heckrotte has a copy without the 1831 date under the title and with Mitchell's name in slightly different print. It is probably an earlier state. Full color map folded into brown leather covers 15.5x9 with "U. States" and a decorative border in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1832
Map Of Pennsylvania New Jersey And Delaware Compiled From the Latest Authorities. Philadelphia Published by S. Augustus Mitchell. 1832. (inset) Vicinity Of Pittsburgh. (inset) Lehigh And Schuylkill. Coal Regions. (inset) Vicinity Of Philadelphia. (inset) Vicinity Of Lancaster.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 43x55 Scale: 1:1,203,840 Reference: None found.
This is a thoroughly revised second edition of the 1831 edition of this map: three inset maps of the vicinities of Philadelphia, Lancaster, and Pittsburgh are added along with a map of the Lehigh and Schuylkill Coal Regions, the title is reset with the word "compiled" replacing "constructed," and many new roads, towns, and distances are added. The inside front cover has a Census of 1830 listing for all three states. Map is full color, folded into red leather covers 13.5x8 with "Pennsylvania New Jersey & Delaware" and a border stamped in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS 1834
Map Of Florida according to the Latest Authorities. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell Philadelphia. 1834. The West Indies from the Best Authorities. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell Philadelphia. 1834.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 29.5x24; 24x41.5 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:3,250,000; 1:9,000,000 Reference: None found.
From the Finley 1826 plate. As in the Finley, this is really two maps, one of Florida, the other the West Indies, plus a separate comparative chart titled "Comparative Elevation of the Principal Mountains Cities &c. in North & South America". The Florida counties have been updated from the Finley 1826, as well as many topographical features in Florida, Georgia and Alabama (although no changes were noted from the 1831 Mitchell issue). Mitchell has also substituted his borders for Finley's. the full color map is folded into black leather covers 13.5x8 with "Florida & West-Indies" and border in gilt.

From the Finley 1826 American Atlas, reissued by Mitchell in 1831. Adds steamboat routes and stage routes. As Mitchell issued improved editions of Finley's American Atlas maps, the borders became more elaborate, as is the case here, and the map covers added a more decorative design; covers are black leather 13.5x8.5 with "Mitchell's Map Of Louisiana Alabama & Mississippi" in gilt. Full color. This copy shows many new counties in all three states, roads, etc. when compared with the 1831 edition.

1st edition. This guide is scarcer than Mitchell's Traveller's Guide. The outline color map is very similar to the Traveller's Guide Map - it is probably from the same plate, but covers slightly more area, has eight inset maps (the Traveller's map drops the Hartford /New Haven inset and adds two - Niagara Falls and New Orleans) instead of nine, and has a table of distances below the title. The 84 page text in this guide is a descriptive listing of Canals, Railroads, etc.; the Traveller's Guide text functions as a route book and was certainly more generally useful and had many more editions. There was only one other edition of this Compendium, in 1838 (see our #521). The map was issued separately in 1839 (see our #4950) and a printing on silk was issued in 1835 (see our #4544). Book is bound into black leather covers with "Mitchell's Compendium Of Canals & Railroads" and a decorative border stamped in gilt. Four page catalogue of Mitchell's maps.

The only Mitchell map printed on silk (Threads of History 84 says linen, but our copy is printed on silk). The map is taken from Mitchell's 1835 Compendium of The Internal Improvements of The United States without any changes. Inset maps show the environs of: Niagara Falls, Baltimore and Washington, Charleston, Hartford and New Haven, Albany, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia. Map is without color. This copy has been cleaned and mounted on paper and linen with some small losses.

Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 45x56 Scale: 1: 2,217,600 Reference: Karrow 9-0778 (1835 edition).
Derived from the Finley 1826 American Atlas map and issued originally by Mitchell in 1831, this edition has many changes topographically and a new border. The western part of the old Arkansas Territory is now called "Indian Territory Attached to Arkansas." There are many new counties in Missouri and Arkansas, and a table of Steam Boat Routes appear in the lower right corner of the map. The detail in the surrounding states is now filled in. Full color, folded into red leather covers 13.5x8 with "Mitchell's Map Of Missouri & Arkansas" and a decorative border in gilt.

(with folding sheet) A Concise View of the Number, Resources, and Industry of the American People, in the Year 1840 ... Entered ... 1842, by S. Augustus Mitchell ... Pennsylvania. (with 32 inset maps).
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x86, 65x88 Scale: 1:3,400,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1533.
1st edition. This is the pocket map form of a map that was usually issued as a wall map. Two folding sheets, one with the U.S. map and the other with the 32 cities maps forming a border around tables of statistics from the 1840 census. The graphic look of this map we find strange for a map drawn by J.H. Young, although the engraver was J.H. Brightly and that may account for the difference from the usual Young style. Full color by state. The two sheets fold into brown leather covers 18.5x11.5 with a brass clasp, with title "Mitchell's National Map of the United States. 8-1/2 South 7th Street, Philadelphia. Price One Dollar & Fifty Cents" embossed on the front cover in gilt; the back cover is embossed with an eagle and a banner running across clouds reading "E. Pluribus Unum" over the globe labeled "United States" in gilt.

With 46 page "Accompaniment to Mitchell's New Map Of Texas, Oregon, and California With The Regions Adjoining;" the full color map is folded into stamped black leather covers 13.5x8 with "Texas, Oregon And California" in gilt. This was one of Mitchell's most popular and important pocket maps. Later editions were published in 1849, 1851, and 1852, as pocket maps and as insets to the large Reference and Distance Map of the United States. It was also issued separately as a wall map. This issue has Texas colored green; some copies have Texas colored brown (has the green changed over time?). The text has a catalogue for Mitchell's publications. Mitchell first issued this map as an inset to his Reference and Distance Map of the United States in the 1846 edition (see our copy).

Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Guide Book Size: 13.5x8; 62x85 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:3,300,000 (map) Reference: None found.
This is a scarce combination of the map portion only (without the separate sheet of city maps) of Mitchell's National Map and a reworking of the text portion of Mitchell's Traveller's Guide giving the routes of travel in 52 pages plus an 8 page catalogue of Mitchell's products. Unlike all other map issues we have seen, this map title does not include "Together with Maps of the Vicinities Of Thirty-Two of the Principal Cities and Towns in the Union" and thus is a unique issue of the map. Full color. The book is bound into dark green stamped covers with "Mitchell's National Map And Route Map" in gilt, and is closed with a brass clasp. On the National Map, the four insets are titled "Map Of The North-Eastern Boundary Of The United States", "Map Of the Southern Part Of Florida", "Map Of The State Of Texas", and "Map Of Oregon Territory."

Philadelphia: Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x37 Maps: 73 Reference: P800.
Early 1850 edition. The Map of California shows the gold region in yellow, and has the basin and range topography in Nevada, including the Humboldt River, added (although in a manner different from the late 1850 and subsequent additions - they probably drew the topographical changes in quickly, and then corrected them in later editions). This is the first atlas edition published by Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co., although most of the maps still bear the Mitchell imprint. Full color. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas" stamped in gilt on label.

Philadelphia: Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x37 Maps: 77 Reference: P800.
This is a very unusual mid 1850 edition - it has two maps each of the United States double page map, the Texas map, and the California, Oregon & New Mexico map. The first U.S. map is the same as our late 1850 edition and the second U.S. is a unique issue with "Deseret" for Utah. The two Texas maps are from the early and late 1850 issues - the content is the same, but one has the C.S. Williams imprint, the other Thomas, Cowperthwait. The California maps are from the early and late 1850 editions. It is not clear why two issues of these maps were included, but there is no doubt that they were originally bound in, not added later. The remainder of the atlas is similar to our early 1850 edition. Five other maps have been pasted in by an owner: Smith's Topographical Map of Virginia and Maryland (circa 1861), Root, Anthony & Co.'s Map of the Seat of War in Italy, Mandeville's Carte En Relief Du Theatre De La Guerre En Italie, and two Harper's Weekly maps of the Seat of War in Europe. Maps are in full color. Covers are half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas" stamped in gilt on the front cover label.

A New Map of The States Of Texas & California, The Territories Of Oregon, New Mexico, Utah and the Regions adjacent. Compiled from the most recent authorities. Philadelphia: Published by S. Augustus Mitchell. 1852. Entered ... 1850, by Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. ... Pennsylvania. (on verso) A New Map of Texas Oregon And California With The Regions Adjoining. Compiled from the most recent authorities. Philadelphia, Published by S. Augustus Mitchell, N.E. Corner Of Market & Seventh Streets. 1846. Entered ... 1845, by H.N. Burroughs ... Pennsylvania.
Phila: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Wall Map Size: 63x59; 61x56 Maps: 2 Scale: 1:6,652,800 (same for both) Reference: cf Wheat 726.
Later wall map version of the 1846 "New Map," with the 1846 map on verso. Both sides have the decorative borders not found on the pocket map issues. The western topography and political delineation has been completely redrawn in California, Utah, New Mexico and Texas, when compared to the 1846 1st edition. This map says entered in 1850, but we can find no record of an 1850 issue, only an 1851. However, the atlas map in the 1852 Universal Atlas follows this larger 1852 map (it is taken from the same plate) and it was in 1850 that Thomas Cowperthwait took over the atlas publication from Mitchell, and probably this map as well. So there may be an 1850 issue. Not seen by Wheat - Wheat 726 is the 1851 issue of this map as it appears as an inset (with an inset within it of the Gold Regions) in Mitchell's 1851 Reference and Distance Map of the U.S. (W.H. has a separate Pocket Map issue of this 1851 map without the Gold Region inset; the 1852 issue has towns added in the Gold Region that do not appear on the 1851 edition). The map still has the original table of "Emigrant Route from Missouri to Oregon" with distances. During restoration, when the linen was removed from the back of this map, we discovered the 1846 first edition printed on the verso. Apparently the printer reused some of the 1846 edition unbacked wall maps as stock for the 1852 wall map edition. The linen backing conveniently hid the old map.

Early 1855 edition. The Arkansas map has steamboat routes across the top. The Texas map is undated. New Jersey is dated 1854. See the late 1855 edition - further evidence that Mitchell updated the atlas at least twice a year. This copy belonged to Judah Chase (with his name gold stamped on the cover) who was a noted Blue Hill, Maine, Sea Captain and owner of the Brig Thomas M. Lyon. This ship sailed from Havre, France, at the end of March, 1836, and sank in a heavy gale off the Island of Jersey - but the crew was saved. The fine condition of this atlas suggests that it remained in Captain Judah's library and never went to sea. Maps are in full color. Bound in half leather dark green cloth covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas. Judah Chase." stamped in gold on the front label.

Philadelphia: Charles DeSilver. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x37 Maps: 73 Reference: P4336.
1st Desilver edition, early 1856 (see late 1856). Many changes from the late 1856 edition all indicating that the transition from the Cowperthwait, DeSilver and Butler 1855 edition has not proceeded as far as the late 1856 edition has: no maps of the Baltic and Crimea; the Nebraska map is unnumbered, lacks the DeSilver border and has instead a typical Mitchell border uncolored and is entered in 1850 by Thomas Cowperthwait instead of by DeSilver in 1856 as is the later map; the New York State map is published by Thomas Cowperthwait instead of DeSilver; and the Missouri, Wisconsin and Iowa maps have less political detail in the adjoining states. Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas" stamped in gilt on front label. Full color.

A New Universal Atlas Containing Maps of the various Empires, Kingdoms, States and Republics Of The World. With a special map of each of the United States, Plans of Cities &c. Comprehended in seventy five sheets and forming a series of One Hundred And Twenty Nine Maps, Plans And Sections ... Philadelphia, Charles Desilver, No. 253 Market Street. 1856. Entered ... 1850 by Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. ... Pennsylvania. (title page by) J. Wissler delr. Chromolith. of P.S. Duval & Co. Phila.
Philadelphia: Charles DeSilver. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x3 Maps: 75 Reference: P4336.
1st Desilver edition, late 1856 (see early 1856) A transitional edition from the Thomas, Cowperthwait style to the DeSilver style. 1st issue of the Nebraska, Kansas, New Mexico map (and the only map to have the DeSilver border and coloring); title page and index pages are still chromolithographs; only the western map show changes from the 1854 and 1855 editions. Most of the maps are still copyright 1850 by Thomas, Cowperthwait. Has the two maps of the Baltic and the Crimea, which appear in the 1857 DeSilver. The Minnesota map shows a "Proposed Dakota Territory." Comparing the California and Minnesota maps to Fitch's run in Cat. 41 and 39, we am impressed with how many variants that are to these maps - they typically changed several times a year in the western mapping. Full color maps. Bound in half leather, marbled paper covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas" stamped in gold on front label.

Has Late Calif map showing proposed "Arazonia." Also has a new map of Nebraska, Kansas, etc. which is taken from the east half of the original Mitchell map of Texas, Oregon and California. Which observation has made us realize that all the California and western maps in the Mitchell Universal Atlas series started from the Texas, Oregon, California map of 1846 (the first California map appeared in the 1847 Atlas). The last issue of this atlas by DeSilver was 1858, with an 1859 issue by Cushing and Bailey. Full color. Early 1857. Drawn and Engraved by W.Williams. Competition for Monk. Differences from the 1856 edition: The whole upper Missouri River area including the Rocky Mountains has been redrawn, probably because of the maps of Gov. Stevens in the Pac. RR Surveys; also, the data on counties is longer, and additional information is added on states; one of the views of a ship has been moved down the coast of Central America; there are new counties scattered around, particularly in Kansas and Nebraska (on the eastern edge). Minnesota Territory is divided by a line (see later 1857 edition).

Desilver issued an earlier 1858 edition which differs from this edition only in the North and South Carolina maps - Cushings and Bailey used the new North and South Carolina Maps by J. Hazzard that also appear in their 1859 edition. Otherwise, the atlases are so similar that we presume that Desilver printed and colored the maps and sent them to Cushings an Bailey who put their own imprint on the title page. As far as we can determine, Cushings and Bailey issued the only 1859 edition and they are the only one listed by Phillips for that year. Full color. The scarce last edition listed in Phillips of Mitchell's New Universal Atlas (although we have seen a copy of a title page of the same atlas dated 1862, published by Charles Desilver). The maps still bear the copyright and imprint of Charles Desilver, but his address on most of the maps is changed from 251 Market Street to 714 Chestnut Street. Several of the maps have changes from the 1858 edition: New Jersey has new railroads, Washington D.C. has the column of References redone, North Carolina and South Carolina have been completely redrawn by J.L. Hazard, Mississippi had new railroads, Minnesota is a throwback to the 1857 edition with "Minnesota Territory" as the title, and there are subtle changes in many other maps indicating that even at this late date there was an attempt to keep the atlas current. This edition marks the end of the New Universal Atlas run, which started twenty three years earlier with the Tanner first edition of 1836. Bound in half leather red cloth covered boards with "Mitchell's Universal Atlas" and an elaborate border stamped in gold on the front and "Universal Atlas. Mitchell." on spine. Maps in full color.

Phila: S.A. Mitchell Jr. Type: World Atlas Size: 40x33 Maps: 57 Reference: cfP3563 (early 1868).
Mint condition. Changes from the early 1868 include sixty three maps on the title page with a copyright date of 1868 on the title page; New York City is now a two page map; the Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Dacotah map shows Wyoming instead of "attached to Dacotah" that appears in the early 1868 (and is numbered 51 and shows the Union Pacific completed to Cheyenne Pass only - the 1869 version is numbered 52 and the Union Pacific is completed all the way across the map). And the railroads are extended on several maps. The index page is changed, renumbering the maps and changing some titles - but actually only one map is changed significantly in format - the New York City map. Atlas is bound in embossed half leather dark purple cloth covered boards with "Mitchell's New General Atlas" stamped in gilt. Maps are in full color.

This copy has a unique cover which has "Mitchell's Atlas of the World" on it, in the style of the 1876-1880 covers that said "Mitchell's New General Atlas." We don't think this appears in any other years. Our 1886 atlas has the same title on the cover, but in the style of the covers from 1880-1890. The map of the Original Thirteen Colonies by John Mitchell is absent in this edition.; the maps of Milwaukee, the Roman Empire, and the double map of Palestine and the Routes of the Israelites are also not included. Full hand painted color in all maps except the railroad map of the United States with red printed color.

Reissue and updating of Mitchell's General Atlas. Not in Phillips. This is a complete reissue of Mitchell's last General Atlas. Phillips shows as the last Mitchell issue an 1893 edition of Mitchell published by A.R. Keller of Philadelphia (see our copy). Wanamaker makes no reference to Mitchell but the maps are from the same plates, updated to show new counties, railroads, etc. This is probably the true "last Mitchell." Most, but not all of the maps are copyright 1894 by an unknown A.L. Smith (see the Mitchell Atlas of 1894, Baskes #2215, 1894 New Family Atlas, published by Hilton Hughes, New York, maps copyrighted by A.L. Smith). Full color. MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS; CALLAN, JAMES 1839
A New Map Of Arkansas Compiled From The Latest Information by James Callan, Civil Engineer, Washington City. Philadelphia. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell. 1839. Sold By Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. No. 253 Market Street. Entered ... 1836 by S. Augustus Mitchell ... Pennsylvania. Engraved by J.H. Young.
Philadelphia: S. Augustus Mitchell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 32.5x37 Scale: 1:1,488,960 Reference: Tooley Dict.(Callan); Eberstadt 104:16.
1st edition 1836, copyright 1836; this is likely the third edition. Scarce, not in Phillips. This map is not listed in any collections; it an early and important map of Arkansas, first published the year (1836) that Arkansas became a state. James Callan compiled the map but little else is known about him. The map shows Land Districts and offices, Military Bounty Lands and Military Townships "unfit for cultivation," Steam Boat Routes, and much other political and physical detail. In the southwest corner of the state the boundary line is west of the final boundary and a line even further west is listed as "Proposed Boundary of Arkansas." See Heaston Catalogue 11 #16 for a copy of the 1837 edition described as "one of the few early Arkansas pocket maps." Full color, folded into beautiful stamped burgundy leather covers 12.5x7.5 with "Mitchell's Map Of Arkansas" in gilt.

Philadelphia 1849 Published by Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Entered ... 1848, by Thomas, Cowperthwait, & Co. ... Pennsylvania. (with 5 inset maps).
Philadelphia: Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 15x9; 55x73 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:3,674,900 (map) Reference: Karrow 1-1565; Howes M690; (not in Wheat); Buck 284.
This is a major revision of the guide with an entirely new map by Ira S. Drake (about whom we find nothing) with five inset maps entitled - "Vicinity Of Niagara Falls", "Map Of The Copper Mine Region", "Map of the Gold and Quicksilver district of California", "Map of the Maritime and Overland Routes to California", and "Map Of New England Or Eastern States". The map emphasis on the California gold rush is clear, although the 128 pages of expanded text do not yet list routes to the gold fields, while they do add routes west from St. Louis and Independence. The main map is larger than the earlier Mitchell/Young maps, but shows roughly the same area on a somewhat larger scale. An "Advertisement" (actually a preface) dated Nov. 1, 1848, states: "The following work is similar in design to 'Mitchell's Traveller's Guide,' first published about twelve years ago, and which has been so extremely patronized, that it may be safely asserted no book of the kind ever printed in this country has met with so wide a circulation." Covers are black stamped leather with "Mitchell's New Traveller's Guide Through The United States" and a beautiful illustration of a steam boat and train stamped in gilt. Map is outline color. Catalogue of Thomas, Cowperthwait School Books included in the text.

Although the map is date 1849, it has been updated from the 1849 map in the 1849 edition of the guide: Sacramento and Benicia appear on the small inset map of the California gold region and many railroads have been extended on the main map. Text is unchanged. Outline color. Covers are black stamped leather with "Mitchell's New Traveller's Guide Through The United States" and a beautiful illustration of a steam boat and train stamped in gilt.

The text is not changed from the 1850 edition, nor are any major changes noted on the map from the 1851 edition map (even though this map is dated 1854). The catalogue of Thomas, Cowperthwait is enlarged from the 1850 edition, with an excellent description of the Mitchell New Universal Atlas: "The results of the latest geographical and nautical discoveries are to be found on the Maps, including those of the most recent date by Wilkes, Nicollet, and Fremont." Outline color. Bound in black stamped leather covers with "Mitchell's New Traveller's Guide Through The United States" and a beautiful illustration of a steam boat and train stamped in gilt.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS; TANNER, HENRY S.; BOURQUIN, FREDERICK (1848)
A New Universal Atlas Containing Maps of the various Empires, Kingdoms, States and Republics Of The World. With a special map of each of the United States, Plans of Cities &c. Comprehended in seventy sheets and forming a series of One Hundred And Seventeen Maps, Plans And Sections ... Philadelphia, Published By S. Augustus Mitchell, N.E. corner of Market & 7th Streets. Entered ... 1844, by Carey & Hart ... Pennsylvania. (title page by) J. Knight Sc. Barralet del. Humphreys sc.
Philadelphia: S.A. Mitchell. Type: World Atlas Size: 54x41 Maps: 73 Reference: Ristow p. 311 (award actually received in 1848)
This is a unique copy of the Mitchell/Tanner Universal Atlas. Frederick Bourquin and his employer, Peter Duval, received a Third Premium Award from the Franklin Institute in November, 1848, for their achievement in transferring the Universal Atlas from copper plates to lithographic stones. The catalog of the exhibition lists it as "No. 52. Universal Atlas in folio, a most beautiful specimen of the art of transferring and lithographic printing, from the press of P.S. Duval, Philadelphia, transferred by Bourquin." This copy of the atlas was their submission to the Franklin Institute to be considered for the award. It is made up of sheets from the atlas, all uncolored, all oversized, and all taken from various editions of the atlas from 1846 to 1848 (one map is dated 1849, but we believe it was issued in late 1848). It appears that these sheets were offprints that remained in the lithographer's shop and that the atlas was made up from them. Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with leather label on the front reading "Atlas Transferred From Copper To And Printed From Stone By Frederick Bourquin." The atlas stayed with the Franklin Institute, each page having the Institute's stamp on it, and was eventually sold by the Institute in the mid twentieth century. There are several erasures of dates that are earlier than 1848 (perhaps an attempt to make the book seem up to date) and several erasures of Tanner's name (on the title page) to conform to the fact that in 1848 this was known as Mitchell's atlas. The map borders vary between the "Mitchell" and the "Tanner" borders. And the paper thickness and quality varies as well. These sheets may have been some of the first "pulls" of each map in the various 1846-48 editions. This is a fascinating compilation and throws light on the transition in printing from copper plate to lithographic stone.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS; THOMAS, COWPERTHWAIT & CO. 1846
Geographical Description Of The State Of Texas; Also, Of That Part Of The West Coast Of North America,

(with) Map Of That Part Of The West Coast Of North America Comprising Oregon And Upper California. (with) Map Of The State Of Texas With Portions Of The Adjoining Regions.
Philadelphia: Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 14x9; 26x20 (map); 26x20 (map) Maps: 2 Scale: 1:10,137,600; 1:6,462,720 Reference: Streeter 3325; Howes M688 (not in Cowan, Graff, Eberstadt, Decker, Sabin, Wheat, Wagner Camp).
A rare guide and map (actually two maps on one sheet) that is a "cousin" of Mitchell's "Accompaniment to Mitchell's New Map of Texas, Oregon and California with The Regions Adjoining" also issued in 1846. Although Howes lists this under Mitchell, Mitchell's name is not on any part of the guide or map; Streeter lists it under Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co., the publisher. There are 62 pages of text and several woodcut illustrations. The two full color maps are titled "Map of That Part of the West Coast of North America Comprising Oregon and Upper California" (26x20) and "Map of the State of Texas With Portions of the Adjoining Regions" (26x20) both printed on one sheet. These maps are earlier states of similar maps with slightly different titles that appear in Mitchell's School Atlas of 1846, maps #13 and #15. The School Atlas was published by Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. and the maps in it were copyrighted by Mitchell (this may be the reason Howes lists this "Geographical Description..." under Mitchell). The stamped leather covers 13.5x8 to both of these guides are the same with the exception that they are red in this copy. So we presume that Thomas, Cowperthwait issued this to compete with Mitchell's guide, yet somehow had Mitchell's cooperation in using the maps and the covers (assuming that Mitchell had some control over these). The two maps are impressive taken together and although smaller than Mitchell's "New Map of Texas, Oregon and California" they are very elegant. This guide is much rarer that Mitchell's guide and sold for two and one half times more at the Streeter sale.

MITCHELL, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS; YOUNG, JAMES H. 1831
Map Of The United States By J.H. Young. Published by S. Augustus Mitchell. Entered ... Pennsylvania, October 10th, 1831 by S. Augustus Mitchell. Engraved by J.H. Young, D. Haines & F. Dankworth. (inset) A Map Of North America Including All The Recent Geographical Discoveries. (with 10 additional inset maps).
Phila: S.A. Mitchell. Type: Case Map Size: 114x90 Scale: 1:2,914,560 Reference: Karrow 1-1473; Ristow p309.
1st edition, 1st wall map issued by Mitchell. This edition does not have the counties delineated and numbered. Ristow mistakenly says all editions have the townships (he means counties) numbered, but this one, the first, does not, thereby eliminating the index of counties and thus showing more of the western territory. This map predates the Traveler's Guide by 1 year, and thus is Mitchell's first "original" production, as opposed to the Finley material he reissued as the American Atlas and Pocket Maps. The case for the map has a leather label saying "Traveler's Map of the United States." Copyright date is October 10, 1831. There is no other date on the map. Ristow thinks the map was issued in early 1832, but it is not in Phillips until 1834 edition (which probably has the counties indicated by number and the 1831 copyright), so Ristow may not have seen this edition, but rather the 1834. The map is hand painted in bright full color by state (insets by county), dissected in 24 sections with green paper end sheets, mounted on linen and edged in pink silk. The covers 24x20 are half red leather marbled paper covered boards with ties and a leather label embossed with "Traveller's Map Of The United States" in gilt.

First edition, here in the form of a case map, in exceptionally fine condition, with the original marbled end sheets and half leather marbled covers 31x24.5 with gold stamped leather label saying "Mitchell's Map Of The United States." It is difficult to find any changes between this and the 1835 edition, although there probably are some. Ristow states that there was an issue of this map in 1834 without the word "Mitchell" in the title (see our copy #4843), and he does not mention this word appearing in the title until the 1835 issue. He also notes an 1834 issue of essentially the same map but with the title changed to "A New Map of the United States" (Karrow 1-1484 and our #4396). Insets show the United States, south part of Florida, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, north part of Maine, Rochester, Niagara Falls, Albany, Baltimore and Washington, Cincinnati, Charleston and New Orleans. Full bright color by state with green cloth edging. Dissected into 36 sections.

Many changes from the 1834 (1st) edition (see our copy). From the title it appears that Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. had, by 1839, taken over the selling of Mitchell's pocket maps and guides (see our other copies for 1839). At this time Mitchell was issuing his first edition of the School Geography and Atlas. The Universal Atlas was still six years away, however he may have decided to focus on school books, large maps, and important pocket maps and leave the standards to TC & Co. Philadelphia. Published by Charles Desilver ... Entered ... 1856, by Charles Desilver ... Pennsylvania (with 2 inset maps). (with map) Mitchell's New Traveller's Guide Through The United States ... Drawn and Engraved by I.S. Drake & J.L. Hazzard. Philadelphia 1856. Published by Charles Desilver ... Entered ... 1856 by Charles Desilver... Pennsylvania (with 5 inset maps).
Philadelphia: Charles Desilver. Type: Guide Book Size: 15x9; 42x68 (map); 55.5x72.5 (map) Maps: 2 Scale: 1:8,750,000 (map); 1:3,801,600 (map) Reference: Buck 284; Howes M690; cf Wheat Gold 108.
The contents calls for only one map but a second new map is added of the entire U.S., from the Mitchell Universal Atlas plate. The Drake1856 map adds J.L. Hazzard to the title and compared to the 1855 issue shows several new proposed railroads, particularly in the area west of the Missouri River (possibly the proposed Pacific Railroad routes). The Mitchell/Young U.S. map is slightly different from the same map in the 1856 Universal Atlas, in its showing of the Pacific Railroad routes. Bound in dark green leather covers with "Mitchell's New Traveler's Guide Through The United States" and a beautiful illustration stamped in gilt. The two insets in the first map are titled "Gold Region Of California" and "District Of Columbia". Both maps in outline color.

U.S. Map by Drake/Hazard shows many new railroads compared to the 1856 edition. The Mitchell/Young U.S. map adds Dakota, Arizona, and many new railroad routes. This was the last year of Desilver publishing Mitchell's guide (although Buck claims to have seen an 1864 (?) issue). Enlarged catalogue of Desilver publications (which mention no map or atlas publications, indicating that Desilver was phasing out the map business, just as Mitchell's son was starting the New General Atlas edition). Bound into blue cloth covers with "Mitchell's New Traveller's Guide Through The United States" and a beautiful illustration stamped in gilt (which is changed from the 1856 edition). Outline color in both maps.

MOLL, HERMAN, D. 1732 1736
Atlas minor: or a new and curious set of sixty-two maps, in which are shewn all the empires, kingdoms, countries, states, in all the known parts of the earth; with their bounds, divisions, chief cities & towns, the whole composed & laid down agreable to modern history. By Herman Moll, Geographer. 3rd ed. London, Printed for Thos. Bowles in St. Pauls Church Yard & John Bowles at the Black Horse in Cornhill.
London: Thos. Bowles and John Bowles Type: World Atlas Size: 25x20 Maps: 62 Reference: Phillips, 585; Tooley. Dictionary of mapmakers, p. 444; Tooley. Maps and map-makers, p. 55; Tyacke. London map-sellers, 1600-1720, pp. 122-123.
Contains 62 hand col. double-page engraved maps (10 folding). Contemporary ink inscription on front blank endpaper. Newer full polished calf with original gilt-lettered red leather label. A few minor repairs. The Atlas Minor was first published in 1729 and reprinted in 1732. This ed. has new engraved title-page with index and revised maps. The maps in the third ed. are similar to those of the 2nd, except that a number of the American maps contain added place names. Like most of Moll's works, the majority of the maps are undated, although the maps of Great Tartary (no. 32) and "The West Part of Barbary" (no.

41) are dated 1732. The deciding factor which makes this copy the 3rd. ed. is map no. 13 (Germany) which carries the added legend, "Lorrain was ceded to France a.d. 1736 ..." Includes 29 maps of Europe, 10 of Asia, 5 of Africa and 18 of the Americas, including the double-hemisphere world map (no. 1) and the map of America (no. 45) that show California as an island. The Rumsey Collection copy includes 17 extra inserted, uncolored, undated maps (13 folding, 2 manuscript), 7 of which deal with the West Coast of Africa, and 2 of which are manuscript maps of the harbors at Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, the mouth of the Amazon River and Straits of Magellan, all with captions and place names in French; 3 others are of Upper and Lower Canada. The 17 maps appear to have been taken from several later 18th century sources, and were probably extracted from Kitchen's Pocket Atlas, Child's Universal Traveller, the English ed. of Du Halde's Description of China, and other works. A folded world map shows George Anson's track on his voyage of circumnavigation in 1740-1744, and is probably from one of the numerous eds. of his Voyage. Includes folded descriptions from John Howell Books and the Argonaut Book Shop.

Philadelphia: Jacob Monk. Type: Pocket Map Size: 116x111 Scale: 1: 2,600,000 Reference: Kapp "Central America" 258 (under Hoen).
This large and decorative map by Monk reflects the interest in Central America in the mid 50's (see Palmer, Wyld, Disturnell, and others) but adds the U.S. coast line from Florida to Texas, which is missing in most of the other maps of Central America. With a large inset map of the World, statistics on the Yucatan, boundary notes on Costa Rica, Historical Notes on Belize and the Mosquito Coast, and the usual abundance of Monk's decorative sailing ships. The inside cover lists this map, Monk's New American Map, and Monk's Railroad and Telegraph Map - which we have never heard of before (although Karrow does list an 1856 edition: 1-1612). Full color map, folded into stamped brown cloth covers 16x11 titled "Monk's New Map Of Central America Cuba, Florida &c."

(MONTANA) RAILROAD COMMISSION; RAND MCNALLY AND COMPANY. 1908
Railroad Commission Map Of Montana 1908. Commissioners: B.T. Stanton, Nathan Godfrey, E.A. Morley, H.K. Howry, Secretary. Rand, McNally & Co. Engravers, Chicago. Copyright, 1908, by Rand McNally & Co.
Chicago: Rand McNally & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 98x131 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: None found.
Shows eight railroads keyed by color, with an index of counties and towns below the map. Limited topography is shown (the main mountain ridges) making this primarily a railroad map. But the extent of the railroad system developed in a mere thirty years is impressive. See similar maps of Oklahoma and New Mexico done in the same period (4294 and 4236). State boundary is printed with yellow color. Map is dissected into 45 sections and mounted on linen. Folds into red cloth covers 22x16 with "Railroad Commission Map Of Montana" stamped in gold on the front.

MOORE, JAMES B. 1850
Chart Prepared By James B. Moore, To Accompany His Memorial To Congress Respecting the subject of Steam Communication with China, Japan &c. 1850. Engr. on Stone by H. Gollmer, Cin. (with) Harbour of San Francisco California.
Cincinnati: H. Gollmer. Type: Separate Map Size: 78x98 Scale: 1:43,000,000 Reference: cf Sabin 50404.
Large uncolored map of the world published separately to accompany the "Memorial of James B. Moore and Company, asking the aid of the Government in the establishment of a regular Line of Mail Steamers from California to China and the East Indies" published in 1849, listed by Sabin without a map. The map shows over thirty routes by steamer from Europe and the United States to the far east, emphasizing the advantage of routes to Asia from the west coast of the U.S. connected to the east coast and Europe via the (yet to come) transcontinental railroad. There is a large attractive vignette of a steamer, two tables listing distances from various ports, and an excellent inset map of the "Harbour of San Francisco California." This map is similar to, but more detailed than, the Burr/Haven map of "The World on Mercator's Projection..." of 1850. Not found in any references (other than the Sabin listing of the Memorial without map) and presumably rare.

MORISON, R.; HERON, ROBERT. 1796
A New and Complete System of Universal Geography: Containing a Full Survey of the Natural and Civil State of the Terraqueous Globe: Exhibiting All the Latest and Most Authentic Information Concerning Europe, Asia, Africa, and America ... with an Ample Apparatus of Tables, Maps, &c. ...and a Philosophical View of Universal History; the last Article Written by Robert Heron. In Two Volumes. Edinburgh: Printed for R. Morison and Son, Booksellers, Perth. 1796.
Edinburgh: R. Morison and Son . Type: Geography Book Size: 22x14 Maps: 26 Scale: Variable Reference: Hudson XIV-27.
Two volumes in two parts each, bound separately in full leather with "Universal Geography" and volume number (1-4) on spine. A mixture of Morse (the section on America) and Guthrie (the rest of the work). In the introduction, Morison says "In the Work here offered to the Public, we have been obliged to follow the example of our predecessors. It is a Compilation in which we have freely and largely borrowed from prior and from contemporary writers; but without committing any depredations on the literary property of others." It is Morse and Guthrie almost word for word. What is different is the addition of a section by Robert Heron on "Universal History" and a 200+ page section on New Discoveries that is much larger than either the Morse or Guthrie discovery sections. The U.S. maps are copies from Stockdale's Morse - or, taken from the 1795 edition of Morse's American Geography that Morison put out. The other maps are different from Guthrie, in interesting ways. Has a chart of distances between U.S. cities in the front of vol 4. This Geography has not been seen by most of the people we have shown it to; perhaps it is rare.

New York: D. Appleton & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 44x37 Maps: 66 Reference: P817.
This is Charles Morse's only folio atlas. He uses many of the Morse and Breese cerographic maps, but hand colors them. Morse was no relation to the Jedidiah and Sidney Morse family, although he "traded" on the name. Morse also collaborated with Colby on the tiny Diamond Atlas. There is a second illustrated title page reading "Morse's General Atlas. Compiled From The Latest And Best European And American Authorities. Published by D. Appleton ... New-York. Herrick, Del. Roberts, Sc." Full color. Bound into quarter leather brown cloth covered boards, stamped with "Morse's General Atlas Of The World" in gilt; spine reads "Morse's General Atlas."

(MORSE, CHARLES); RANNEY, A. (1856)
Morse's Railroad And Township Map Of Vermont And New Hampshire. Published By A. Ranney, 195 Broadway, New York. Entered ... 1856, by Adolphus Ranney, ... New York.
New York: A. Ranney. Type: Pocket Map Size: 71x51 Scale: 1:475,200 Reference: P-Maps 974; Cobb (Vermont) 301.
Although nothing on the map says it, this is most certainly a cerographic production by Morse, similar to his other large state maps (Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa - see our copies). The Cobb listing calls for historical descriptions around the border which are not present here, indicating another issue in the same year. With a past down slip of J. Watts DePeyster and (probably) his ms notes on the map verso about the upper sources of the Androscoggin River. Full color map is folded into brown cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Morse's Map Of V.T. & N.H." in gilt.

The American Geography; or, A View of the Present Situation of the United States of America ... Illustrated with two Sheet Maps-One of the Southern, the other of the Northern States, neatly and elegantly engraved, and more correct than any that have hitherto been published ... By Jedidiah Morse. Elizabeth Town: Printed by Shepard Kollock, for the Author. M,DCC,LXXXIX.
Elizabeth Town: Shepard Kollock. Type: Geography Book Size: 21x12 Maps: 2 Reference: Howes M840; Felcone 147, Sabin 50924.
The first American Geography. Revised from the school text "Geography Made Easy", published in 1784. Governor William Livingston of New Jersey contributed to the text, and Morse in return dedicated the book to him (Felcone). The two maps were engraved by Amos Doolittle who compiled the map of the northern states, while Joseph Purcell compiled the southern states map. Includes the errata leaf and the tipped in leaf of corrections at the end. Bound in full leather with "Morse's Geography" in gilt on spine.

Andrews. MDCCXC.
Boston: Isaiah Thomas and Ebenezer T. Andrews. Type: School Atlas Size: 18x11 Maps: 7 Reference: Wheat & Brun; Walsh p20.
U.S. map torn, lacking half; other maps are from Gibson Atlas Minimus. The U.S. map is original, engraved by Doolittle of New Haven. Doolittle also engraved all the Gibson maps used in this edition. Compare this Geography to Smith's and Workman's, which also use the Gibson maps, except for the U.S. map. The first edition was published in 1784, but that edition only has a map of the World (from Gibson) and a map of the U.S (which is the first U.S. map published by Morse). Many of the maps published here are first states in Wheat & Brun. The U.S. map is the third state of the first map of the U.S. by Morse (Wheat & Brun 116), the first state being published in the first edition of Geography Made Easy, 1784, (Wheat & Brun 112). Bound in full leather.

MORSE, JEDIDIAH; MORSE, SIDNEY E. 1822
A New Universal Atlas of the World; Comprising, In Twenty Maps, Carefully Prepared From The Latest Information, And Neatly Engraved, The World, It's Several Grand Divisions, and Principal Subdivisions.

By Jedidiah Morse, D.D. And Sidney E. Morse, A.M. New-Haven: Published By Howe & Spalding. 1822.
New Haven: Howe & Spalding. Type: World Atlas Size: 28x23 Maps: 20 Reference: P306.
First edition. Late 1822 issue - U.S. map has New Caladonia. Accompanies New System of Modern Geography. The maps are taken from Arrowsmith's General Atlas, except the United States Map. Intended to accompany the New System of Modern Geography published in the same year. The U.S. map is unusual, with curious numbers on it that we can't identify. They probably relate to a key, but the accompanying text book does not have such a key. The numbers are not on the U.S. map in the earlier 1822 issue. Maps in outline color and bound with marble covered boards.

(Letter from Sidney E. Morse to his parents dated November 14, 1821.)
Manuscript. Type: Letter Size: 33x20 Reference: None.
Letter includes information about a loan taken out by Sidney on behalf of his father, his newly gained ability to chew tobacco, the acquisition of a pair of boots from an unknown source, a discussion about the purchasing of plates from Andrews. He lists the plates in two columns: "The first contains those which might possibly be of some service with a few alterations...the second list is of those which we certainly do not want." He also talks about the current sales, reputation and further production of the School Geography and the Gazetteer.

Issued in three parts, this is the first part with original paper covers (covers are printed on pink paper, unlike our complete three parts issue which has the first part with yellow paper covers), with detailed explanation of the publishing plan to issue the atlas in parts, and an explanation of the Cerographic Process. This was issued as a supplement to the New York Observer. This first part contains maps of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware, Virginia, Ohio, and Iowa. The Maine map in this edition is very different from the 1845 edition because it does not show the boundaries of the treaty of 1842; the separate map of Iowa, showing the early formation of eastern counties, is not present in the later edition which has only the map of Iowa and Wisconsin. Maps are without color. Four extra maps are added in the back: Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

(second illustrated title page) Morse's Cerographic Maps. Plan Of Publication ... Each number will contain four coloured Maps ... If practicable, from two to three numbers will be issued every month ... The first ten numbers will form a comprehensive and elegant North American Atlas for the Library, the Counting House, and the School room ... New-York. Harper And Brothers, 82 Cliff Street. 1845 ... Price 25 Cts.
New York: Harper and Brothers. Type: National Atlas Size: 49x40 Maps: 36 Reference: P1228.
The nine original parts of four colored maps each, in illustrated printed wrappers, of Morse's North American Atlas. Each part is dated 1845, so we assume they were all issued in that year, one or two a month. The "Plan of Publication" on the front wrapper of each part calls for ten numbers, but only nine were issued. The wraps are decorated with a palm tree, fir tree, bear, giraffe, and four seals for each of the continents. The cheap price of the product is stressed: "Each number will contain four coloured Maps, the price of which will be twenty five cents, being about one fourth the cost of copper plate Maps of similar size." After publication of the parts, Morse also issued the complete atlas bound (see our #2301). This nine part issue is to be distinguished from the earlier three part issue of 32 uncolored maps as supplements to the New York Observer (see our #4180). This copy with the signature and ms index of Robert Rantoul of Beverly, Massachusetts, noted lawyer and reformer. Printed full color. This copy is folded into green cloth covered boards which slips into a quarter leather green cloth covered folio box titled "Morse's North American Atlas - 9 Original Parts - New York, 1845" in gold along the spine.

[Entered ... 1841, by Sidney E. Morse and Samuel Breese ... New-York.] ...; Supplement To The New-York Observer. The Cerographic Atlas Of The United States ... 1843; Supplement To The New-York Observer. The Cerographic Atlas Of The United States No. 3 ... 1845. (As issued in three parts with wraps).
New York: Sidney E. Morse & Co. Type: National Atlas Size: 47x37 Maps: 32 Reference: P1383; Woodward, All American Map p16-23, 129-138; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p265; Ristow p154; Wheat 468-470, 485-487, 498.
The first Cerographic Atlas of the United States. Issued in three parts (although Woodward states that it cannot be determined how many parts were issued, our copy indicates three parts), this set includes the first part with original yellow paper covers with detailed explanation of the publishing plan to issue the atlas in parts, and an explanation of the Cerographic Process, and the other two parts with printed covers. The maps are printed on both sides of a sheet and are uncolored. This was issued as a supplement to the New York Observer in 1842, 1843, and 1845. In 1845 it was republished as Morse's North American Atlas, with some changes to the maps and the addition of color. All the covers have a copyright date of 1841. When complete, this edition has 32 maps, four less than the 1845 edition, but including a map of Oregon and a map of Iowa not found in the 1845 edition. The Maine map in this edition is very different from the 1845 edition because it does not show the boundaries of the treaty of 1842; the separate map of Iowa, showing the early formation of eastern counties, is not present in the later edition which has only the map of Iowa and Wisconsin. The Oregon map is derived from Wilkes' Map of the Oregon Territory (almost a copy, actually). This atlas is seldom found in the original three parts. According to Ristow, the Map of Connecticut orginally appeared in the June 29, 1839 issue of the New York Observer, as an example of the Cerographic process, along with Morse's announcement that additional maps would be published to form an atlas.

New York: Wm. M. Franklin. Type: Exploration Book Size: 20x13 Maps: 1 Reference: Wheat 1126; Howes M885; Sabin 51274.

Mullan/Freyhold map, titled "General Map of the North Pacific States and Territories Belonging to the United States and of British Columbia ... Exhibiting Mail Routes, Gold Mines ... Drawn by Edward Freyhold, T.E." Strange Owyhee depiction - shows Kearney River and the Jordan Creek flowing into the Owyhee and a road from "Star City" on the Humboldt (which is actually in Buena Vista Valley south of the Humboldt!) going north through the Owyhee to Boise. Map is very incorrect regarding northern Nevada and Southeastern Oregon. Further study needed. Explore the relationship to Williamson's map of 1866. Kearney River comes from the Dixon map of 1860, but Dixon puts the Kearney where Freyhold puts the Jordan. Much detail on the Owyhee Mines in the addenda. Bound with brown linen covered boards with title on the spine.

Elizabeth, New Jersey: J. Morrison Murray. Type: Wall Map Size: 98x145 Scale: 1:3,168,000

Murray was a small publisher who undoubtedly got his maps from others - in this case, Tunison. The western states on this wall map are from the same plates (although slightly reduced) as the same maps in Tunison's Peerless Universal Atlas of 1885. The eastern states are from a different source than the Tunison atlas, but still probably from another larger scale Tunison wall map of the eastern U.S. The verso of this wall map has wonderful pictures, maps of the other continents, two large hemispheres, and charts. This is a very colorful production, dense with county, railroad, and topographical information. It is similar and perhaps derived from the Watson map of the same year (see our #4793). Full color by county.

This is another wonderful map by the National Publishing Company. This firm and the Scarborough Map Company (We think they may have been related in some way because their map products are similar in style.) made some of the most colorful and attractive maps at the turn of the century. The theme here is national expansion from the Spanish American War. With brown top and bottom rollers. Outline printed color by state; full color by country on inset maps.

Hartford: Roderick Nevers. Type: Pocket Map Size: 57x70 Scale: 1:335,000 Reference: Thompson 136; cf Thompson 129 (1851).
1st edition was 1851, a reissue of Damerum's 1815 map (see our copy). The sixteen stars that surround the eagle in the cartouche stand for the sixteen states in the union when Damerum's plate was engraved by Peter Maverick in 1815, which plate has been reengraved to produce this map. Stebbins in 1859 produced a map that follows this plate closely (Thompson 180). Many changes have been made to the original plate to bring it up to date, particularly the delineation of railroads. We think the copper plate has also been transferred to lithographic stone, although it is hard to tell; it certainly would be strange to have a copper plate map produced at this late date. Map is full color, folded into dark brown cloth covers 15x10, and stamped with "Connecticut Including Eastern New York And New Jersey." in gilt.

NEW ORLEANS SANITARY COMMISSION; BARTON, E.H. 1854
Report of the Sanitary Commission of New Orleans on the Epidemic Yellow Fever of 1853; Published by Authority of the City Council of New Orleans.
New Orleans: Printed at the Picayune Office. Type: Survey Book Size: 35x48 (map) Maps: 1 Reference: cf Schwartz & Ehrenberg p.298 (Barton's other studies).
Has "Sanitary Map of the City of New Orleans.." by E.H. Barton. The map by Barton shows the location of the Yellow Fever Cases (30,000 people died in 1853 of a population of 150,000) and their relationship to unsanitary conditions - swamps, slaughter houses, cemeteries, fever nests, etc. This may be one of the earliest U.S. maps to show the relationship of diseases to physical urban conditions. See Viele's study of New York sanitary conditions in 1868. Robinson (Early Thematic Mapping) does not mention any American medical maps, but does cite several English maps of the 1830-1855 period that showed the incidence of cholera and other diseases in major cities.

NEW YORK 1790
(Deed From the State of New York, signed by Governor George Clinton, Granting 600 Acres of land to Thomas Garrison in the township of Cincinnatus, Montgomery County).
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Ephemera Size: 30x47
Reference: Ristow p 76.
An early deed with the large (9cm diameter) seal of the state attached. The State granted lands in what was designated as the Military Tract to Revolutionary War veterans. The tract comprised twenty five townships of 60,000 acres each, each consisting of 100 lots of 600 acres. Grantees received one lot. Thomas Garrison was granted lot 80 of Township 25, Cincinnatus, by this deed. In 1793, Simeon DeWitt produced a map of the Military Tract, one of his first surveys. The Military Tract was one of the first uses of Township surveys built on square lots of uniform size. Eventually, the U.S. Land Office used a 660 acre unit (1 mile square) as the building block for its surveys in Ohio and westward.

NEWPORT, CALIFORNIA 1868
California Map Showing San Francisco, Newport. Rail Road Connections With The Adjacent Country. (with: A Deed for lot 37 in Block 392 in the City of Newport to William H. Carr, of Mount Vernon, Kennebec County, State of Maine).
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Separate Map Size: 22x36 Maps: 1 Scale: 1:405,504 Reference: None found.
Evidence of a land promotion that collapsed. The City of Newport is shown prominently on the map attached to the deed, as large as San Francisco, and connected by three railroads to other cities. Newport never got off the ground. The 1878 Solano County Atlas shows only a tiny hamlet called Collinsville where Newport should be (the deed says that Newport was "formerly" called Collinsville - but obviously Collinsville it remained when the speculative fever abated). On page 13 of the Solano Atlas is the following: "Many of the older settlers remember New Port and the enterprise of its proprietor in the disposition of town lots, and perhaps some of the people of the east have occasion to remember it also. Town lots were sold by agents in the east covering all the tide land in the vicinity." On the map is a descriptive paragraph pumping up Newport, saying that "a town situated like Newport...cannot fail of making its mark, and holding rank among the great cities of our country." It is not clear why the development scheme failed, but the likely reason is a change in the location of the railroads that left Newport isolated. The promoters were betting that the railroad to the Bay Area from the east would end at Newport and then connect by ferry to New York. Unfortunately the railroad was run to Vallejo with the crossing made there. Newport appears on the Frey/Nell Map of California and Nevada, 1868; Ransom & Doolittle's California and Nevada, 1868; Holt/Gibbes California and Nevada 1869 (and the smaller issues of 1873 and 1875); and the California Geological Survey's Map of the Region Adjacent to San Francisco Bay, 1873 (shows Newport and Collinsville next to each other). Interestingly, it never appears on the Bancroft Pacific States map and its spin off maps, but does appear on Bancroft's Map of Central California of 1869. The General Land Office maps of 1876 and 1879 do not show Newport, indicating its demise.

London: Thomas Ostell. Type: World Atlas Size: 29x23 Maps: 30 Reference: Tooley Dict. (lists 1810, 1818 & 1819 ed.); British Museum "World" p390.
1st edition, maps by J.C. Russell. An earlier edition than any listed by Tooley. Phillips has no listing for Ostell. J.C. Russell is the son of the John Russell who did the American Atlas of 1795 and the early Guthrie maps. J.C. Russell also published a General Atlas in 1832 (see our copy). The maps here are very well engraved, showing a neatness and delicacy. They have a strong resemblance to Patteson's Atlas of 1804. A former owner's has written on the front end paper "Maps taken out to Sicily August 1806 With 1st Batt. 1st Guards." The maps are hand painted with outline color and bound in half leather tan marbled paper covered boards.

PACIFIC RAILROAD SURVEY; WARREN, GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE, 1830-1882 1855
Reports of Explorations and Surveys, To Ascertain the Most Practicable and Economical Route for a Railroad From the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean. Made Under the Direction of the Secretary of War, In 1853-4, According to Acts of Congress of March 3, 1853, May 31, 1854, and August 5, 1854. Washington: A.O.P. Nicholson, Printer. 1855. (House of Representatives, 33d Congress, 2d Session. Ex. Doc. No. 91.)
Wash: A.O.P. Nicholson I-XI; T. Ford XII. Type: Exploration Book Size: 31x25 Reference: WC 262.
This Quarto issue of the report is the House issue, except for volume XI which is the Senate issue. W. Heckrotte has an unusual copy of the Warren U.S. map found in this report. It is dissected on linen and is an earlier version of the map published with the Quarto report. It has 40 authorities vs. 42 in the quarto issue map, shorter note to left of authorities, lots of plate differences, especially: nothing in Owyhee area, differences in N.M., Calif., etc. Looks like someone asked for the map before it was finished -see the Lack of ocean lines in the top half south of Gray's Harbor. Extra sets of vol. IX maps in case. In 13 volumes. Bound in full leather with "Explorations and Surveys for a Railroad to the Pacific Ocean" and the volume number on the spine in gold.

PACIFIC RAILROAD SURVEY. 1854
Copies of all Reports ... to ascertain the most practicable and economical route for a railroad from the Mississippi river to the Pacific Ocean. [Senate.] 33d Congress, 1st Session. Ex. Doc. No. 29. February 6, 1854.

Washington: U.S. Type: Exploration Book Size: 23x14 Maps: 3 Reference: Soliday III-782; cf Wheat 861, 842 notes.
33rd/1st, SED 29. Scarce 1st report of RR Survey. Soliday: "One of the scarcest of all the early railroad reports." Other than Soliday, we find no mention of this important report in any of the standard references. The three maps are very preliminary and most interesting. Wheat mentions the maps obliquely in a note to Wheat 861, p208 vol 4, by saying that the Bancroft Library has copies of the "St. Paul to Fort Union", and the "Crossing of the Shayen River"; the "Sketch of Capt Gunnison's Route" is mentioned in a note to Wheat 842, p202 vol 4, as also being in the Bancroft. This report appeared before the Octavo and the Quarto editions of 1854 and 1855. These are probably the first maps published by the survey and the Gunnison map is probably the only map published under his name before Beckwith took over his route. Cover missing.

Gaskell's New And Complete Family Atlas of the World.
Boston: G.V. Jones. Type: World Atlas Size: 35x30 Reference: cf P6235.
This may be the first edition, although the copyright date is 1886. The maps are by Cram, with Gaskell's Atlas of the World printed in the titles. The rest of the atlas is pure Cram. There is a very interesting note on the verso of the title page: "To the Purchaser of This Volume. This Atlas is sold Exclusively by Subscription. In no case will it be sold through the bookstores, and it can be obtained by booksellers only by collusion with or through a dishonest agent. As a safeguard, we have numbered each book consecutively as issued from our binders... The trade is warned against selling this work, as by a late decision (July 3, 1886) of the United States Court it is held 'that selling surreptitiously obtained copies of a subscription book is piracy.' The publishers of this work will defend their interests and rights, and prosecute all infringements of same." This copy is numbered 29241.

PALMER, WILLIAM. J. 1869
Map Of The Route Of The Southern Continental R.R. With Connections From Kansas City Mo. Ft. Smith Ark. And Shreveport La. Giving a general View of the Recent Surveys of the Kansas Pacific Railway Co, across the Continent Made in 1867 & 1968 under the direction of Gen. Wm. J. Palmer. On the routes of the 32nd and 35th Parallels. J.F Gedney Lith, Washington, D.C.
Washington: J.F. Gedney Lith. Type: Separate Map Size: 76x95 Scale: 1:3,800,000 Reference: Wheat 1206; cf Howes P54 (Report of Surveys...).
Removed from Palmer's 1869 "Report of Surveys...for a route extending the Kansas Pacific Railway to the Pacific Ocean." Palmer used an exact copy Keeler's 1868 reduced scale edition of his National Map of the United States without credit in this first issue although Palmer's map adds much material along the line of the proposed southern continental route, especially in the Grand Canyon; in fact, this map is best known as the first map to use the name "Grand Canyon" of the Colorado. The Kansas Pacific had dreams of extending their line to California, as shown on this map, but it never happened. The map shows the routes of the Northern Pacific, the Union and Central Pacific, and the Southern Route. Ms color red and blue lines have been drawn on the various routes, adding an additional route from Centreville, Nevada, to Portland, Oregon (probably following Dodge's proposals - see his report). The main Kansas Pacific line has at least sixteen proposed branches! There is a later issue of this map that credits Keeler as a source (see our copy).

The Kansas and Nebraska Handbook For 1857-8. With A New and Accurate Map.
Boston: John P. Jewett and Company. Type: Geography Book Size: 32x37 (map) Maps: 1 Reference: Howes P85.
Has Colton Nebraska and Kanzas map 1857. Parker also did descriptions of Iowa and Minnesota (see our copies). The Map adds "For John P. Jewett & Co., Boston, Mass." to the regular title, and the border is changed. Otherwise the map is the same as the 1857 atlas map, other than some subtle route differences (in Iowa for example). The text is the usual advice to emigrants and settlers on how best to get by.

Boston: John P. Jewett and Company. Type: Geography Book Size: 32x38 (map) Maps: 1 Reference: Howes P85; Graff 3189.
With the Colton Minnesota map with "corrections furnished by N.H. Parker." The Colton map is dated 1857. The "corrections" referred to above must have been minor because a comparison of the 1856 Colton Atlas map and this map show only a few added railroads around Minneapolis and St. Paul. The 1857 Atlas map is more up to date than this one because it shows Dakota in the western part of Minnesota. Perhaps Colton was assuaging Parker's ego (and doing what he had to do to sell his maps!). 1st edition, with the usual information for settlers.

Scale: 1:23,343 Reference: Karrow 9-1560 (1842 edition); Ristow p. 295-6 (1835 map).
Second edition. In covers with printed paper label "Map of the City of St. Louis, 1844." Engraved map, with three vignettes, two of buildings and one of a steamboat on the Mississippi River. Table of population statistics and a key to the important buildings located on the map. Color coded by ward. A beautiful map, exquisitely colored, and scarce. Rene Paul, the city surveyor, first issued this map in 1842. In 1835 Paul did a larger map of St. Louis separately and for Eugene Charles Dupre's Atlas of the City and County of St. Louis (illustrated in Ristow p.296, Karrow 9-1553-4). This earlier map was lithographed by Lehman & Duval. Folded into dark brown cloth covers 13x8 with "Map Of The City Of St. Louis, 1844" printed in black on yellow paste down label.

PAYNE, JOHN; (DESILVER, ROBERT?). (1831)
(Untitled Pocket Atlas of Four Maps). (with) Map of Rhode-Island. Published In 1826. W. Barker sculp. Philada. (with) Map of Connecticut, Published In 1826. A. Anderson, Del. (with) State Of New Jersey. Engraved for New Encyclopedia Published by J. Low, New York. W. Barker sculp. Philada. (with) The State of South Carolina from the best Authorities 1831. Engraved for New Encyclopedia ... (map cut off below this point).
N.P.: No Publisher. Type: Pocket Map Size: 19x22 (maps)
Maps: 4 Scale: Variable Reference: Thompson 75 (Connecticut map).
An untitled pocket atlas containing four maps (probably had five originally - Georgia is listed on the cover and not present). The four maps are titled: Map of Rhode Island Published in 1826; Map of Connecticut Published in 1826; State of New Jersey (no date); and The State of South Carolina from the best Authorities 1831. The maps show no changes from the 1800 issues by Payne, other than the dates on the dated maps, and the water (engraved more darkly) on the Rhode Island map. Several of the maps say Engraved for New Encyclopedia published by J. Low, New York. The authorship of Robert Desilver is a guess - the maps have the look of his "effort to freshen old wares" (Thompson) that is seen in his reissue of the Carey maps in 1828. The Connecticut map is full color by county, the other three are outline color by county. All four are folded into blue card board covers 10x7 with remnants of paste down labels reading "Rhode" and "Georgia."

PAZ SOLDAN, MARIANO FELIPE, 1821-1886 1865
Atlas Geografico Del Peru, Publicado A Expensas Del Gobierno Peruano, Siendo Presidente El Libertador Gran Mariscal Ramon Castilla, Por Mariano Felipe Paz Soldan ... Paris, Libreria De Augusto Durand, Calle De Gres-Sorbonne, 7. 1865. Paris. - Imprenta De Ad. Laine Y J. Havard, Calle Des Saints-Peres, No. 19.
Paris: Libreria De Augusto Durand. Type: National Atlas
Size: 54x43 Maps: 45 Reference: Sabin 59325; cf P2769 (Paris: Fermin Didot Hermanos), P5150 (A. Durand, French Edition); TMC 67, pp 14-18, M. Layland; NMM 487.
The first Atlas of Peru, with wonderful maps, plans, thematic maps, views and statistical information. The atlas exudes the optimism of the period. In addition to the forty five maps and plans, there are twenty three views and scenes, including a very large fold out panorama of Paz Soldan's home city of Arequipa. This issue's title page is the same as Sabin's; the title of the copy listed in Phillips does not have the dedication to Castilla and has Fermin Didot Hermanos as the publisher - which is also the case with the copy owned and described by Michael Layman in TM C. Apparently there were two Spanish issues made in the same year in Paris; Durand also published a Paris edition in French in 1865. The contents of our copy and Layland's copy appear to be identical, so perhaps only the title pages were different. Nine of the Department maps in our copy are hand colored, with the rest uncolored (normally the Department maps are uncolored). Paz Soldan published a large six sheet Mapa del Peru in 1864 (see TMC). Atlas is bound in half leather brown marbled paper covered boards with "Paz Soldan. Atlas Geografico Del Peru" stamped in gold on the spine.

Pictorial Map Of The United States Of America, The British Provinces, Mexico, the West Indies and Central America with part of New Grenada and Venezuela. New York Published By Phelps & Watson No. 18 Beekman Street, 1860. Entered ... 1860 by Phelps & Watson ... New York. Map drawn by Geo. W. Colton. Engraved by John M. Atwood. Border Desigd. & Engd. by W.S. Barnard. New York. (inset) A Map Of The Atlantic Ocean Showing The American & European Ports and the Routes Of The Ocean Steamers. (inset) The Isthmus Of Panama Showing the Routes Of Travel Between Chagres & Panama.
New York: Phelps & Watson. Type: Wall Map Size: 85x107 Scale: 1:6,336,000 Reference: None found.
Reissue of Colton's map. Phelps & Watson add the word "Pictorial" to the title, otherwise this is exactly Colton's map first published in 1848. We must assume that Colton licensed the map to them. Updates the western states to show changes in Washington, Dakota, Arizona, but no Nevada or Colorado. The physical geography is also much changed from the 1851 edition (see our copy). Bancroft Library has a copy of the Colton base map dated 1859, with the same geography, published by Colton & Thayer; Thayer appears in partnership with Ensign, and with Bridgman & Fanning as a New York publisher in this period. With black top and bottom sticks. Full color by state.

PHELPS, HUMPHREY 1832
Map of the United States. Published By H. Phelps, New-York. 1832. Entered ... 20th day of March 1832 by Humphrey Phelps ... New York. Engraved by Wm. Chapin N. York.

New York: Humphrey Phelps. Type: Pocket Map Size: 39.5x50 Scale: 1:7,220,000 Reference: None found.
Engraved by William Chapin, New York. Has a portrait of George Washington next to the title. A scarce map engraved by the same (We presume) William Chapin of New York who published the National Map of the United States in 1835 (see Karrow) and the Ornamental Map of the United States (see our copy) in the 1840's. This map is similar to Finley's and Melish's maps, but subtly different. Outline color by state, folded into red textured card board covers with "U. States" stamped in gold.

Map Of The United States. Published by H. Phelps. New York. 1833. Lettering Engraved by William Hooker, New York. Pubd. by H. Phelps, N.Y. & R. & J. O'Hara, Troy, N.Y. Entered ... 4th day of July 1832, by Humphrey Phelps ... New York. (inset) The World. (inset) Comparative Elevation of the Principal Mountains in the U. States.
New York: H. Phelps; Troy, N.Y.: R. & J. O'Hara. Type: Wall Map Size: 54x73 Scale: 1: 6,336,000 Reference: Wheat 400.
With an engraving of George Washington under the title, "Northeast View of the Capital at Washington," The World in hemispheres, and a chart of elevations of principal mountains in the United States. This is derived from the Huntington & Willard/Thrall map with the same title and an engraving of George Washington, but with a different view of the capital and different inset maps. Phelps' map does not have the distance table in the Great Basin that appears in the earlier map. Phelps' map is also more detailed and accurate (for the time) because it is a close copy of Tanner's Map of North America. Phelps' notes are most interesting: (In Oregon) "This vast Territory from its fertile soil, salubrious climate, and local situation is destined to become the Garden of America." And (in the Plains) "This extensive Territory is one vast Wilderness consisting of Plains and Prairies and except few Roving Tribes of Indians, the Wild Horse & Buffalo remain Lordly Possessors of its unbroken Solitude." There are other notes, discussed by Wheat. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory. Very scarce.

Ornamental Map Of The United States & Mexico. 1846. Phelps' Ornamental Map Of The United States And Mexico. Entered ... 1846, by Humphrey Phelps ... New York. Published by H. Phelps No. 144 Fulton Street, near Broadway, New York. Barritt, Sc.
New York: H. Phelps. Type: Separate Map Size: 71x53 Scale: 1:12,000,000 Reference: cfWheat Gold 36;cf Streeter 3866-71-72-92.
1st edition, earlier than Wheat, Streeter, P-Maps. Issued during the Mexican War, with patriotic emphasis on U.S. absorption of Mexican Territory, and the recently negotiated boundaries of Oregon. Wonderful graphic depiction of Manifest Destiny. Shows route of the Great Oregon Railroad, with its potential in the far east trade. Major changes in the 1848 edition, by Ensign and Thayer. With full and outline color.

PHELPS, HUMPHREY 1847
Ornamental Map Of The United States & Mexico. 1847. Phelps' Ornamental Map Of The United States And Mexico. Entered ... 1846, by Humphrey Phelps ... New York. Published by Phelps, Ensigns & Thayer, 36 Ann Street, New York. Barritt, Sc.
New York: H. Phelps. Type: Separate Map Size: 71x53 Scale: 1:12,000,000 Reference: cfWheat Gold 36;cf Streeter 3866-71-72-92.
2nd edition, later than Wheat. Wheat's copy of the 1847 edition is essentially the same as the 1846 edition; this copy is later in the year because it adds many towns in Mexico (probably to reflect battles, etc.) and it adds two tables, of population and distances in Mexico, which are placed in the ocean below North America. Full color.

Huntington, Hartford. 1832. (on verso) District of Vermont ... twenty-first day of July, Anno Domini, 1832, Almira H. L. Phelps ... hath deposited ... a book ...
Brattleboro: Geo. H. Peck. Type: Geologic Atlas Size: 18x11 Maps: 1 Reference: DAB.
Probably the first school geological map of the U.S. Has a "Geological Map of the United States" as a frontis. foldout. This may be the first map and school geology published in the U.S. Phelps was Emma Willard's sister and the author of many school texts. This is referred to as "Revised and Enlarged" because Phelps took over and completed the text from an unnamed author who passed away before completing it. Not in Nietz or Marcou. Scarce. Phelps promoted the teaching of science to young women. She led the Patapsco Female Institute in Baltimore, which was the southern equivalent of her sister's Troy Female Seminary.

Boards covered in green paper with "The Child's Geology. Published by Peck, Steen & Co. Brattleboro' ... Carter, Hendee & Co., Boston ... F.J. Huntington, Hartford. 1832" on the cover with a drawing of the rocking stone in Cornwall.

PHILIP, GEORGE. 1853
Philips' Imperial General Atlas: Comprising Forty-Two Maps, Constructed From The Best Authorities, And Including The Latest Discoveries; Accompanied By A Valuable Consulting Index, By J.H. Johnson, Edinburgh. Liverpool: Published By George Philip and Son. London: William Allan, Aldine Chambers, Paternoster Row. Dublin: William Robertson. Edinburgh: John Menzies. Glasgow: R. Griffin And Co. 1853.
Liverpool: George Philip and Son. Type: World Atlas Size: 56x36 Maps: 42 Reference: P6127 (1856 edition); BM World p.403-407.
This is one of the earliest example of Philip's atlases - the earliest listed by Tooley and Phillips is the 1856 edition of this Imperial Atlas; the British Museum World lists an 1852 Philips' Popular Atlas of the World with 42 maps and Philips' General Atlas of 1853 with 74 maps. In 1856 Philips also published the Commercial Atlas of the World (not in Phillips, see Tooley 965) with these same maps (some updated) and others added, totaling 74 maps. The maps used in all these atlases are copied from the plates of Thomson's New General Atlas, originally issued in 1817, and from A.K. Johnston's National Atlas. There is a most unusual and attractive "Plan of the Lengths of the Principal Rivers Throughout The World" that is original to this atlas. Charles Magnus issued an edition of the Commercial Atlas in New York, 1856, with extra American maps (see our copy). The maps are hand painted in full color. Covers are half leather dark green cloth covered boards with "Philips' Imperial Atlas Of The World" stamped on the front and "Philips' Imperial Atlas" on the new leather spine in gilt.

London: George Philip & Son, Ltd. The London Geographical Institute; Liverpool: Philip, Son & Nephew, Ltd. Type: World Atlas Size: 54x37 Maps: 52 Reference: cf P6498 (1922 ed.).
Large folio atlas, first issued in 1856 (Imperial Atlas). The maps are very well done, originally by Bartholomew, but his name is now removed. These maps rival Johnston's and Stanford's maps for detail and accuracy, perhaps surpassing them. The issues of this atlas produced in the period 1856 to 1900 are very scarce, at least in America - perhaps they were issued in small numbers. A comparison of the Pacific States map with a separate copy issued in 1873 indicates that the same plate was used, but updated extensively.
Maps are printed with a mixture of full and outline color, and bound in half leather green cloth covered boards with "The Reader's Reference Atlas Of The World" stamped in gilt on the front and the new leather spine.

Cadell Jun. And W.

Davies, Strand; And T.N. Longman And O. Rees, Paternoster-Row. 1802.
London: Cadell and Davies. Type: Geography Book Size: 29x24 Maps: 44 Reference: Sabin 62959.
Has Arrowsmith maps used in Arrowsmith/Lewis. Conrad edition of 1804 (see Sabin and P3537) becomes the basis of the Arrowsmith and Lewis Atlas of the same year; the Conrad edition apparently has the full complement of maps of the states (unlike this and the other London editions which only have the general maps of America and the U.S.). Excellent catalogue of other maps published and sold by Pinkerton. In two volumes bound in leather with "Pinkerton's Geography" stamped in gilt on spine.

Pinkerton's School Atlas: Containing The Following Maps...
London: T. Cadell and W. Davies, Strand; and Longman, Hurst, Rees, and Orme, Paternoster-Row. Type: School Atlas Size: 22x16 Maps: 21 Reference: None found.
Maps are dated either 1803 or 1809. All are double page. Scarce school atlas by Pinkerton. The maps bear similarities to the maps in Pinkerton's 1802 Modern Geography, but they have been reengraved by Neele. There are page numbers in the upper right corners of the maps above the neat line that probably relate to their use in a text, perhaps a school text or another Pinkerton geography or his book of travels. The highest number is 590 - Sabin lists an abridged edition of the Modern Geography published in 1806 with 678 pages - this could be the volume these maps were taken from. Not in Phillips. The Outline Maps appearing in the Pinkerton/Williams Juvenile Atlas are probably companions to these maps.

Number I. Containing Maps Of France, the West Indies, and Japan, Of A New Modern Atlas. By John Pinkerton. American Edition. Philadelphia: Published By Bradford & Inskeep, No. 4. South Third-Street, And Moses Thomas, No. 52, Chesnut-Street. And Inskeep & Bradford, New York. James Maxwell, printer. 1813.

Number II. Containing Maps Of Scandinavia, Germany north of the Mayn, and Southern Italy, Of A New Modern Atlas. By John Pinkerton. American Edition ...
Philadelphia: Bradford & Inskeep; Moses Thomas. Type: World Atlas Size: 61x47 Maps: 9 Reference: None found. cf P733 (1818 Philadelphia Edition by Dobson).
An unrecorded and not completed American edition of Pinkerton's Modern Atlas, published by Bradford and Inskeep of Philadelphia. This is two parts, 1 & 2, of the atlas, in original blue paper wrappers printed with the above titles; both parts are protected in a new dark blue cloth covered case with "New Modern Atlas - Numbers 1 And 2 - John Pinkerton - Philadelphia, 1813" stamped in gilt on the front cover leather label and the spine. Maps are hand painted in full color. In part 2 there are also maps of North America, Chile, and Southern Africa. On the back cover of the first part is a Prospectus which explains that the work will be published in “about twenty numbers, each containing three maps, and will be executed in a style similar and in every respect equal to the English edition." The nine maps, when compared to the English edition, are identical except for the publisher credit below the neat line, to Bradford and Inskeep. It is probable that Bradford and Inskeep had the maps sent over from London (where they were also being issued in parts) as the parts were completed, and then they added their own covers. The War of 1812 most likely aborted this collaboration by making further map shipments impossible; parts 1 and 2 were the only ones published (possibly a part 3 for which we lack the covers and which contained the three extra maps mentioned). In 1818, Thomas Dobson of Philadelphia published an American edition of Pinkerton's Modern Atlas. He used the Prospectus and the nine maps published here with the nine maps retaining the Bradford and Inskeep Publishing credit below the neat line. These are the only maps with the Bradford and Inskeep credit in the Dobson edition, so we concluded that only nine were published in the incomplete edition. All the other maps in the 1818 edition (see our copy) have Dobson's imprint below the neat line. See the announcement by Bradford and Inskeep of this 1813 edition in the Port Folio Magazine of 1810.

Pinkerton's School Atlas: Containing The Following Maps...
London: T. Cadell and W. Davies, Strand; and Longman, Hurst, Rees, Orme and Brown, Paternoster-Row. Type: School Atlas Size: 22x16 Maps: 29 Reference: None found.
A later edition of the 1809 atlas of the same title. The maps are dated mostly 1815 or 1816, with a few dated 1809. All the maps have been updated from the 1809 edition and most have been completely reengraved. The North American maps show the Lewis and Clark discoveries in surprising detail for a school atlas. Of the eight new maps, two are of America: British Possessions in North America and United States of North America.

A Modern Atlas, From The Latest And Best Authorities, Exhibiting The Various Divisions Of The World, With Its Chief Empires, Kingdoms And States; In Sixty Maps, Carefully Reduced From The Largest And Most Authentic Sources. Directed And Superintended By John Pinkerton, Author Of Modern Geography, &c. &c. Philadelphia: Published By Thomas Dobson & Son, At The Stone House, No. 41, South Second Street. William Fry, Printer. 1818.
Philadelphia: Thomas Dobson & Son. Type: World Atlas Size: 57x44 Maps: 61 Reference: P733; American Philosophical Society Catalog 1683.
This is the only American edition of this atlas, a continuation of an effort that began in 1810 with the publishing of a few parts of this atlas by Bradford and Inskeep of Philadelphia, but probably interrupted by the War of 1812 (see our #3656 and #3088). Most of the maps have Dobson's imprint, but nine have the Bradford and Inskeep imprint from the first attempt. The maps are unchanged from the 1815 London edition, except for the Philadelphia imprint below the neat line. American Philosophical Society 1683 describes a copy of this atlas: "Presented by Thomas Astley, 5 April 1816- 17 July 1818. As the maps were pulled, Astley presented copies which were bound into the present volume." Full and outline color. Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards.

London: T. Underwood; Edinburgh: P. Hill. Type: World Atlas Size: 49x34 Maps: 44 Reference: P137; cf Wheat 311, 319.
An elegantly engraved atlas (many of the maps are engraved by Neele, who also engraved for Pinkerton). It has, alas, only one map of North America, which is an interesting mix of Pinkerton (1812) and Thompson (1814), and shows some of the preliminary Lewis and Clark information. Maps are without color, bound in new half leather tan marbled paper covered boards with "Playfair General Atlas. 1814" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Tennessee: Office U.S. Engineers Type: Case Map Size: 120x45 Scale: 1:253,440 Reference: None found.
A rare field map produced about the time Sherman was to begin what is known as the Atlanta Campaign. Stephenson quotes Thomas B. Thorne in his History of the Army of the Cumberland (1875): "The army was so far from Washington that it had to have a complete map establishment of its own. Accordingly, the office of the chief topographical engineer contained a printing press, two lithographic presses, one photographic establishment, arrangements for map-mounting, and a full corps of draughtsmen and assistants...The process however, was expensive, and did not permit the printing of a large number of copies; therefore these maps were only issued to the chief commanders." The map includes two handwritten notes. [Nashville] is added after the issuing statement, and [Mar-Apr] is added after 1864. The map is without color and in 16 sections mounted on linen. It folds into a marbled case measuring 23x17 with a label affixed reading "Map of East Tennessee, North of Loudon."

A wall map version of the Popple map with all the twenty sheets joined together, original full color. This is state three of the map, with engraved page numbers on the sheets and Seale's name deleted as publisher on sheet 20. Seeing all the sheets joined together in one large map, one is impressed with the graphic elegance and huge scope of the work, aspects that are harder to appreciate in the atlas version where only the index sheet gives a hint of the complete map. Map is without rollers.

1st edition, 1st state. King George II copy. Howes P481; Sabin 64140; Schwartz & Ehrenberg 151; Winsor V, p82. The first state of the large map and the index map (see Cumming & Wallis for Margary reprint and Cumming 216) in that the pages are unnumbered, no credits below the neat line on sheet 17 or the title sheet, and Toms & Seale on Sheet 20. The binding is full red morocco with gold tooling at the edges and the coat of arms of King George II in gold on the front and back covers; the spine is stamped with "Popple's Atlas" in gilt. This copy was sold to the family we acquired it from by Francis Edwards in 1929/30 - a copy of Edward's 1929 catalogue entry is tipped into the front of the book. Tooley, Mapping America p 316, says "A copy (of the Popple Map) bound in red morocco for George II sold in 1930..." Lacks the contents sheets and the half sheet #4 (provided in expert facsimile). The index map is in full color while the map sheets are uncolored. The first large scale map of America and the most accurate at the time. Covens and Mortier published a six sheet edition in 1740 (Lowery). Lowery, Howes and Phillips incorrectly list Seale as "Searle." Howes mentions a later edition by Jefferys, but we can find no record of it.

Full color on the twenty sheet map. This edition was sold by Stephen Austin Bookseller and Thomas Willdey in London. Compare this later edition with our first edition 1733 map, 2874.000. Atlas provided for scanning by The Old Print Shop and Barry L. Ruderman. Popple's 20 sheet Map of the British Empire in America is without question one of the two most important large format maps of North America published in the 18th Century. Along with John Mitchell's Map of the British & French Dominions in North America . . . (1755), the map was a profound statement of England's designs for dominance of the North American continent, at a time when colonial conntrol of North America was by no means certain.Popple's map is the first large scale printed map to show the thirteen colonies. The maps is nearly 8 feet square, when joined. The map shows the extent of the British, French, and Spanish colonial possessions. The information on the map was based on Popple's work at the Board of Trade and Plantations in London. Popple's map was widely copied by other cartographers and remained the standard map of North America for several decades. The map was issued both as a wall map and as an Atlas, with the present example including advertising for the various formats in the lower margin of sheet 17, including pricing of the various formats.

Washington: U.S. Type: Regional Atlas Size: 41x66
Maps: 7 Scale: 1:633,600 Reference: cfWheat 523.
Series of 7 maps, removed from Rockwell's report. This is the second issue of these maps and differs significantly from the first issue which was published separately in 1846 (the first issue is reproduced in Wheat and Jackson). Weber is not identified as the lithographer on the title, and the engraving and type setting is different on all seven maps, and some of the descriptive information is different. The size is slightly smaller. Also, the third sheet is mislabeled the sixth, and the sixth is mislabeled the third. Maps are loose and without color. See Rockwell's report.

PUNNETT BROTHERS (1897)
Map Of Alaska. Compiled And Published By Punnett Brothers, 625 Mission St. S.F. Cal. Copyrighted. (inset) Map Of Klondyke Mining District.
San Francisco: Punnett Brothers. Type: Wall Map Size: 60x78 Scale: 1:3,484,800 Reference: None found.
Scarce Alaska map (not in Streeter or other references) showing the Gold Fields and the routes to them. The estimated publication date is derived from the appearance of an advertisement for this map in the 1897 Punnett Brothers Map of California (our #5014). The Bancroft Library has a copy which they date as circa 1899 and they note that it was originally issued as a pocket map with title on cover: "Pocket map of Alaska and adjacent British territory, showing the newly discovered gold fields and routes leading to them..." Water printed and state outline in blue color. With brown top and bottom rollers.

PUTNAM, GEORGE PALMER. 1845
American Facts. Notes and Statistics Relative To The Government, Resources...Of The United States Of America...With Portraits And A Map.
London: Wiley and Putnam. Type: Geography Book Size: 21x13 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes P658; Sabin 66795.
The author is, we presume, the Putnam of Wiley and Putnam, publishers. There is a wonderful section on American publishing and a humorous introduction. The large fold out map is "United States of America" by James Wyld. It is a simplified map showing no public improvements, only basic political and topographical information - nonetheless it is quite attractive. Texas is in large configuration, some Fremont information is shown, and Oregon extends northward into Canada. There is an inset map of "Great Britain on the Same Scale." The plates for this edition (four in this copy) are the subject of two addenda slips and we think that three of them were made by lithography (a fact that the publisher apologizes for - we think the results are very good).

By Edward Quin, M.A. ... The Maps Engraved By Sidney Hall. Printed For R.B. Seeley And W. Burnside; And Sold By L.B. Seeley & Sons, Fleet Street, London. MDCCCXXX.
London: Seeley and Burnside. Type: Historical Atlas Size: 42x34 Maps: 21 Reference: cfP4139.
1st edition. The unique maps show progressively receding cloud borders to indicate the expansion of geographical knowledge over time. This atlas may have influenced Emma Willard's "Atlas to Accompany a System of Universal History" - 1835. Willard's Atlas uses the "cloud" maps in a very similar way. See our copy of Willard. Full color. Atlas is bound in half red leather marbled paper covered boards with a label printed with "An Historical Atlas, Containing Maps of the World At Twenty-One Different Periods. With a General View of Universal History, By Edward Quin, M.A. Price L3 (pounds): 10s. Half-Bound." The spine has a red leather label embossed in gilt with "Quin's Historical Atlas."

QUIN, EDWARD 1835
An Historical Atlas; In a series of Maps Of the world as known at different periods; Constructed upon an uniform scale & coloured according to the political changes of each period: Accompanied by a narrative Of the leading events exhibited in the Maps: Forming together A General view of universal history, From the creation to A.D. 1828. By Edward Quin, M.A.
Manuscript Copy by an unknown person. Type: Manuscript Map Size: 40x35 Maps: 21 Reference: cf P4139.
Complete copy of maps and text in manuscript of Quin's Historical Atlas (see our printed editions). Paper is watermarked J. Whatman, Turkey Mill 1835 and SE & Co. 1833, and Smith & A...(cut off). Date estimated from the watermark of 1835. Because of the watermark, this could not have been Quin's original manuscript for the atlas. The maps are very well done, especially the clouds which seem to be done by a different hand than the drawing on the maps. The text is copied is still another hand, very neatly. This all took certainly a very long time - somebody liked this book very much, probably could not afford to buy it, and so copied it in order to own it. Unless this was a school exercise...doubtful, though, much too long for a school child. The last map appears to not be finished in that the names of the major countries are left out, perhaps our scribe got fatigue in the finish. Atlas is hand colored and bound in new quarter leather gray cloth covered boards with "Manuscript Historical Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Rand, McNally & Co.'s New Geological Map Of Colorado. Copyright, 1879, by Rand, McNally & Co.
Chicago: Rand McNally & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 62x83 Scale: 1:760,320 Reference: cf Ellis 82 (1880 edition); cf P-Maps p.242.
This is a very unusual map for Rand McNally to issue - geological maps were not common in their catalog and this may be the only one they published. It was probably the interest in mining that motivated publication and the inclusion of "Mineralogical References" in the map key. The main source for the geological formations was Hayden's General Geological Map of Colorado that appeared in his 1877 Atlas of Colorado. But Rand McNally's map has much more detail on towns and railroads than Hayden and is a much superior map in that respect. Ellis 82 is the 1880 edition, which was also issued without geological coloring as "Rand McNally & Co.'s New Sectional Map of Colorado." This map is in printed full color, folded into dark blue cloth covers 16.5x10 titled "Rand, McNally & Co's Geological And Mineralogical Maps Of Colorado." in gold.

New Map Of The Union Pacific Railway The Short, Quick and Safe Line To all Points West. (Across the top of map: Union Pacific Railway And Connections And Operated Lines). Rand, McNally & Co., Map Publishers and Engravers, Chicago.
Chicago: Rand McNally & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 93x139 Scale: 1:4,000,000 Reference: Modelski 595.
Shows the entire U.S. with a border of scenic illustrations along the route. The word "West" in the title is pasted on, indicating that "East" is printed underneath - either could be used depending on where the map was sold. This is a beautiful map and one of the most attractive we have seen in its genre - a slightly different issue is illustrated in the National Geographic Historical Atlas of the United States, page 199. Mounted on sticks.

Rand, McNally & Co's New Township Map Of Montana. Entered ... 1884 by Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago.
Chicago: Rand McNally & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 57x89 Scale: 1: 1,013,760 Reference: None found.
A very attractive and detailed map of the state, probably produced by lithography, which is unusual for Rand McNally, because they normally used wax engraving for their maps. The coloring is also by hand, again not the norm for this firm. Rand McNally did a large scale map of California and Nevada (see our 1888 copy) which was wax engraved. Some uncredited, skillful cartographer produced this map of Montana for Rand McNally. Covers are dark brown cloth 17.5x11 with "Rand, McNally & Co's New Indexed Large Scale County And Township Map Of Montana." embossed in gold.

Chicago: Rand McNally. Type: Case Map Size: 142x199 Scale: 1:380,160 Reference: Modelski North America p. xx.
Copyright 1882. Inset map of the United States. 1 of six sections. Very large map of the northeast and middle coastal areas, which, although complete by itself, was also part of a twelve sheet map in six parts (two sheets to each part) that extended west to the 105th parallel and south to Florida and measured 10x15 feet (see Modelski). All the existing railroads are shown in great detail at a scale of six miles to one inch. Because of it great size, the map was hand colored. Dissected into 49 sections and backed with linen. See our #4743 for a related map. Folds into dark blue cloth covered boards 31x23.

Chicago: Rand McNally & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 420x656 Scale: 1:506,880 (8) Reference: Modelski p 12.
This a huge 13 part map of the United States railroads from the east coast to the 105th meridian. When all 13 parts are joined, they form a map more than 12 feet high by 20 feet wide. Railroads are shown in great detail at a scale of 8 miles to 1 inch, making this one of the largest scale railroad maps of the late 19th century. 2 additional maps show the U.S. from the west coast east to the 93rd meridian, at a smaller scale. Each one of the parts is dissected and folded into covers with "President's Office, I.C.R.R. CO." stamped in gold, along with the major cities that form the boundaries of the section. The I.C.R.R. was the Illinois Central Railroad and Stuyvesant Fish was its president from 1887 to 1906, so these maps were most likely his personal copies. Also included in the set are two additional maps of the US west to the pacific, at a smaller scale.

Rand, McNally & Co's. New Eighteen Inch Terrestrial Globe ... Copyright, 1894, by Rand, McNally & Co.
Chicago: Rand McNally. Type: Globe Size: 18 inches
Scale: 1:28,000,000 Reference: cf Warner p121; cf Dekker p139-41.
Rand McNally's first globe was a 12 inch terrestrial produced in 1887 (Warner). This 18 inch floor globe appeared seven years later and is an impressive production. The graphic elements are very clearly rendered, in the best fashion of wax engraving. A horizon ring is still employed, with a metal stand that is unique and unusual, apparently of the "Aesthetic Revival" school of design that flourished at the end of the 19th century. Isothermal lines are shown for January and July, as are submarine telegraph cables. The gores show a water mark "& Sons" with a "96" below, so this globe had been issued in 1896. The political geography is pre 1898 and the Spanish American War (see Cuba, etc.). Total height from base to top of globe is 48 inches.

RANSOM, LEANDER; DOOLITTLE, A.J.; HOLT, A.J. 1868
A New Map Of The States Of California And Nevada Exhibiting the Rivers, Lakes, Bays and Islands, with the principal Towns, Roads, Railroads and Transit Routes to the Silver Mining Districts of Nevada Territory ... Carefully compiled from United States and other Reliable Surveys by Leander Ransom. And A.J. Doolittle, 1868. W. Holt, 411 Kearney St. S.F. Entered ... 1863 by Warren Holt ... California.
San Francisco: Warren Holt. Type: Pocket Map Size: 68x54 Scale: 1: 1,520,640 Reference: Wheat 1071 (1863 edition); Streeter 2880 (1863 edition).
The first edition appeared in 1863 and was called by Wheat "A Nevada map of first importance" (see our copy). This second edition is unrecorded by Wheat and Vogdes, and has many additions in both California and Nevada to the 1863 issue. With a table of distances, and a listing of U.S. Land Districts. Notwithstanding Wheat's praise for this as a Nevada map, it is also a wonderful California map as well. However, when this edition of the map is compared to the Frey and Nell map of California and Nevada of 1868, it is clearly not as detailed, especially in Nevada. Full color by county, map is folded into dark brown cloth covers 17x11 with "Holt's Map Of California And Nevada." stamped in gilt.

Geneva: J.L. Pellet. Type: World Atlas Size: 27x22 (atlas) Maps: 50 Reference: P5992 (atlas); Sabin 68081(text) and 68082 (atlas).
Text is first edition; Atlas is 1820 revised edition. The atlas was first issued in 1780 with maps engraved by Andre, then reissued in 1783-4 (P5995) without Andre or Bonne on the maps, finally reissued in 1820 with the maps reengraved by Dien (Tooley Dictionary)(our copy of atlas). WH has copies of the 1780 and 1783-4 atlases. It is strange that map #2, the World map, in our copy is an earlier map than the first and second editions of the atlas. Sabin shows many reissues of the 1780 edition of the atlas, so there may be more editions and states than these three. The earlier editions of the atlas were accompanied by twenty three tables in the back. Our copy of the text is 12 mo. and was given as a student prize. Maps are uncolored. Atlas bound in quarter leather with "Raynal. Atlas." in gold on spine.

An important early guide to the Colorado Gold Region, with three Colton maps on two sheets: "Kansas and Nebraska...1859," which is taken from the 1858 General Atlas, minus the upper half of Nebraska - shows eastern Kansas and Nebraska; "Nebraska and Kanzas, Showing Pikes Peak And The Gold Region...1859," which is the lower half of the 1857 General Atlas map of the same title (without the reference to the Gold Region); and "Military Map of Parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Dakota by Lieut. G.K. Warren Top. Engrs. from the Explorations made by him in 1855, 56 & 57... J.H. Colton... New York," which is derived from the lower half of Warren's 1858/1859 "Military Map of Nebraska and Dakota" (see our #2932). The "Nebraska and Kanzas, Showing Pikes Peak..." map appeared as the only map in J.W. Reed's 1859 "Map of and Guide to the Kansas Gold Region" (WC343a), also published by J.H. Colton. Bound in brown linen 15x10, with "Guide to Kansas, The Pike's Peak Gold Region &c. &c. J.H. Colton New York" in gold on the cover.

REED AND BARBER. 1849
Map Of The United States Of America With Its Territories & Districts. Including also a part of Upper & Lower Canada And Mexico. Published By Reed & Barber, Hartford. 1849.

Hartford: Reed and Barber. Type: Wall Map Size: 71x108 Scale: 1:4,118,400 Reference: Wheat Gold 114; Karrow 1-1564.
2nd edition by Reed and Barber, 1st to show the Gold Region. See 1835 edition by Barber and Willard. This edition shows the Gold Region in California, hastily drawn in around the table of distances that covers the Great Basin. View of the President's House and the Capital. Texas and New Mexico are in unusual configurations. Reed and Barber's first issue was 1848. As Wheat points out, it is difficult to understand why Reed and Barber's issues of this map were so crudely drawn in the west, since the eastern parts are fairly well delineated. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

Hartford: Reed and Barber. Type: Wall Map Size: 71x108 Scale: 1:4,118,400 Reference: Karrow 1-1570.
The distance table that covered most of the far west in the 1849 edition has been removed, to better show the emerging states and Territories and the gold region in California. Utah is called "Deseret," which is unusual to see on a wall map, and its configuration is also unusual, taking most of western New Mexico. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by state or territory.

REICHSAMT FUR LANDESAUFNAHME 1893
Karte des Deutschen Reiches.
Reichsamt fur Landesaufnahme Type: National Atlas Size: 30x39 Scale: 1:100,000
Date estimated based on the apparent library acquisition date usually stamped on the back of the map sheet. Mounted on linen in 4 panels. Includes Sheet 1. Publishing bookstore and distributor: R. Eisenschmidt, Verlags-Buchhandlung. Haupt-Vertrieb der Karten der Konigl. Landes-Aufnahme. Armee- und Marine-Haus. Berlin N.W., 7. Comparing our sheets to those at the Library of Congress shows that most of our sheets were published 5 to 10 years before the stamped acquisition date.

A few sheets are duplicated and placed under similar list numbers.This map series is remarkable for the level of fine detail. As a consequence, it was scanned at 800 PPI providing four times the resolution of the typical detailed map scan of 400 PPI. At least ten separate symbols for special buildings were utilized, a method enhanced by placing an abbreviation next to the symbol. Structures with special symbols include: churches, chapels, monuments, windmills, water mills, stamp mills, forester's lodges, watchtowers, ruins, forts, quarries, clay pits, lime kilns, and coke-ovens. Factories, brick works, powder magazines electric power plants, and many other important buildings are differentiated by means of abbreviation. Houses appear as black blocks, either rectangular or shaped like the ground plan of the building. Many other features are differentiated, for example there are four different qualities of roads plus bridle paths and footpaths.Vegetation is minutely classified including separate symbols for broadleaf trees, evergreens, underbrush, heather, dry meadows, wet meadows, swamps, orchards, gardens, vineyards, and parks. Relief is shown by hachures. Spot elevations are given in meters above sea level In an agreement dated March 4, 1878, the states of Prussia, Saxony, Bavaria, and Wurttemberg (the areas of modern day Germany, Luxembourg, Poland, and Kaliningrad, and part of Lithuania) agreed to map their areas on a 1:100,000 scale in a common topographic grid survey consisting of 674 sheets. Each sheet covers about 30 minutes in longitude and 15 minutes in latitude. One centimeter on a map is equivalent to 1 kilometer on the ground. Average sheet size is about 35 cm x 28 cm. Each sheet covers about 1000 square kilometers and was engraved on copper. A polyhedral projection was used. Prime meridian was Ferro, later switched to Greenwich. The series is known as the KDR-100 (German General Staff map) and was surveyed beginning in 1878, although many sheets were simply drawn from pre-existing military maps, often of larger (more detailed) scale. The mapping continued until 1945, so most sheets were revised at least once. This collection strongly trends toward the earliest editions. They were published for the General Staffs of Bavaria, Prussia, Saxony and Wurttemberg by "R. Eisenschmidt, Verlags-Buchhandlung" (publishing bookstore). (Berlin). Key organizations indicated on the maps include (1) Topographic Bureau of Royal Saxony, abbreviated in German as "topogr. bureau des konigl. sachs." And (2) Royal Prussian General Staff, abbreviated in German as "Kgl. Preuss. Generalstab." Most sheets stamped with "The Library of Massachusetts, State House, Boston," and the apparent date of acquisition. Almost all of the sheets are trimmed to the neatline to allow for closer alignment of multiple sheets when viewing, apparently a common practice by publishers of the sheets. Therefore the printed publishing date has been removed and we are estimating the date based on the acquisition stamp date.

REID, JOHN 1795
Plan of the City of Washington in the Territory of Columbia ceded by the States of Virginia And Maryland to the United States of America and by them established as the Seat of their Government, after the Year 1800. Rollinson sculp. N. York. Published by J. Reid L. Wayland and C. Smith 1795.
New York: J. Reid, L. Wayland and C. Smith Type: Separate Map Size: 40x52 Scale: 1:10,500 Reference: Wheat and Brun 537; Stauffer 2-2724.
State 1 of this map (State 2 lists only J. Reid as publisher). This map is taken from the first official plan of Washington published by Andrew Ellicott in 1792 (see Wheat & Brun 531). The Reid map is not an exact copy, with the title moved from the upper right to the lower left, several notes not included, and other elements moved. An exact copy of Reid's map appears in the London edition of Winterbotham's "View of the United States of America" (see our #3885). Howes gives precedence to the London edition, so it is not clear if Reid or Russell copied the Ellicott first. The Reid American Atlas index does not call for the Washington map, leading to the assumption that it was added to some copies afterwards, and speculation that it may have been sold as a separate. Scarce.

New York: John Reid. Type: National Atlas Size: 42x27 Maps: 20 Reference: P1216, 1366.
Accompanies Winterbotham's Historical..View (see our #2805). The second American Atlas published in the United States. Five of the maps (North America, South America, West Indies, U.S., Kentucky, and Washington) were direct copies of the maps in the London edition of Winterbotham, 1795, by J. Russell. The other fifteen state maps were original, although some think they were derived from Carey's American Atlas of 1795. A limited number of copies included the map of Washington, D.C., present in this copy in the first state (with J. Reid, L. Wayland and C. Smith listed as publishers), but separate from the atlas, backed (see our #5160). Covers are half leather, marbled paper covered boards with "U.S. Atlas. Reid. 1796" stamped in gilt.

10 12mo text volumes, plus quarto atlas (24 x 19 cm.). Atlas contains 13 folded maps, hand col. in outline. First ed. A very rare work, especially when complete with the atlas. As a complete set (10 v. plus atlas) it has appeared by once in the auction records (1978). "A classic work -- dry, factual, authoritative -- by an author who was active in different stages of the revolution and served as Secretary of the Interior of Gran Colombia. Mainly political-military emphasis; written from the viewpoint of New Granada but with good information on Venezuela and Ecuador" (Griffin). "Obra estimada y rara" (Palau). "Basic to the study of the independence in Colombia" (Watson). "The various volumes include prose by S. Bolivar (Venezuela), A. Narino, and C. Torres" (Luquiens). Printer address in atlas is no. 6, not no. 1 as in text vols. Rumsey Collection copy uniformly bound in contemporary full tree calf, gilt extras. Atlas in original boards, newly backed with calf spine. Bindings of text volumes worn (4 volumes repaired), internally very good. Lacking only 2 preliminary leaves in vol. 4, but with 2 leaves of ads at the end of vol. 10 not noted by the bibliographies.

Early Dakota territory map. cf Karrow 11-0559; Wheat 1236 (1872 ed.). This is a later edition of a very scarce map. The first edition appears to be 1872 and is mentioned by Wheat as "perhaps the first major commercial map of that area." This edition says entered in 1875. It features very good detail on the Black Hills, railroad routes and surveys, and the ever expanding counties, towns and township and range surveys (all progressed much further than the description of the 1872 edition by Wheat). The owner of this copy, Mr. C.W. Irish (signed Flandreau, Dakota Terr, Feb 4th, 1879), has added in ms a wonderful assortment of lines indicating rainfall amounts in summer, winter, and for the year. Karrow lists editions of 1872, 1874, 1875, and 1879. He also lists an 1878 "Rice's Township Map of Dakota and the Black Hills." Map is full color by county and folded into dark brown cloth covers 14.5x9.5 stamped with "Rice's Sectional Map Of Dakota" in gold.

Copyright 1864. The first separate map of West Virginia listed in Phillips. No other references found - precedes the two West Virginia oil maps listed in Streeter (3919, 3924). Folded originally, now flat. Virginia is shown as East Virginia. Shows Oil Works, Iron Mines, Coal Mines, as well as several manuscript notions on the location of coal and oil deposits. An attractive map with ornate decorative border, and most likely the first separately published map of this new state. Outline color showing state borders. Not in Stephenson. Tooley lists an (1862) edition (although West Virginia was created in 1863) and the 1864. Tooley also lists a map of Texas by this same Richardson, 1860 - we believe this is incorrect - the Texas map was by Willard Richardson (see Day, Maps of Texas). Scarce.

ROBBINS, SAFFORD & CO. 1857

Map Of The Fort Dodge Land District, Iowa. Compiled from Government Surveys and Personal Reconnoissance By Robbins, Safford & Co. Civil Engineers. 1857. S.M Robbins. W.C. Safford. Egbert Bagg. Robbins, Safford & Co. Land Agents and Surveyors. Fort Dodge, Iowa.
Fort Dodge, Iowa: Robbins, Safford & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 77x86 Scale: 1:190,080 Reference: Karrow 8-1203.
This is a highly detailed, large scale map used by land agents to locate parcels for sale to settlers. The area covered is a portion of north central Iowa, at a time when settlement and railroad building was getting underway. Some of the lands shown on the map were probably railroad grant lands for sale by agents, several of whom are listed on the map. The balance of the lands shown were available by grant from the U.S. General Land Office, which opened a regional office in Fort Dodge in 1856. Privately published land surveys such as this have rarely survived. A comparison of the same area shown in the 1875 Andreas Historical Atlas of Iowa reveals that many of the towns shown on this map did not survive, or were moved, and other towns sprang up that are not shown on this map. Folded into dark brown cloth covers 18x11 with "Robbins Safford & Co's Map Of The Fort Dodge Land District Iowa." stamped in gilt.

Paris: Les Auteurs; Boudet. Type: World Atlas Size: 56x40 Maps: 108 Reference: P619 (1757/1758); Pedley p227; Fordham, Studies in Cartobibligraphy p.165.
1st edition, with five postal maps added, as issued. With the list of subscribers and the extra postal maps of England, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. The French postal map is dated 1758. All five were added after the printed list of maps was printed, but are mentioned by Vaugondy in the preface, so they may have been an afterthought. An owner has added their titles to the printed list of maps, in ms. Engraved title page, Advertisement, and Geographical essay giving the sources of the maps. This atlas was reissued until 1799 (Phillips), with later issues having a map of the United States. In original half leather patterned paper covered boards with spine reading "Nouvel Atlas De Mrs. Robert." One of the first atlases based on scientific surveys, in the tradition of D'Anville and De L'Isle. Outline color.

Holland, and other Officers, Employed in His Majesty's Fleets and Armies. London. Printed for R. Sayer and J. Bennet, Map and Print-Sellers (No. 53) Fleet-street.
London: Sayer and Bennet. Type: National Atlas Size: 22x14 Maps: 6 Reference: P1206; Streeter 73; Nebenzahl Atlas of the American Revolution p.11-17.
This small hand atlas has six early maps, three of which are particularly important to the mapping of the American Revolution: The Seat of War in the Northern Colonies and The seat of War in the Middle British Colonies (both derived from the Evans/Pownall maps), and the Seat of War in the Southern Colonies (by Bernard Romans). Nicknamed the "Holster Atlas" because it was made for the used of British army officers. All maps in outline color, folded and bound into book with paper covered boards and quarter leather with "American Pocket Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Philadelphia: Watson's Lith. Type: Case Map Size: 33x167 Scale: 1:80,000 Reference: cf Tooley Dictionary (Roberts' 1849 Anthracite Regions Penn.); cf Ristow p295; cf P-Maps 682; cf Schwartz & Ehrenberg p279 (1849 map).
The date is estimated by comparison to the larger Samuel Fisher map cover much of the same region, dated 1836 (see our copy). This is a very early map of the coal fields. It came to us with the Fisher map. There is a printed note on the map regarding Roberts' other coal maps. Roberts' 1849 Map of the Anthracite Coal Fields of Pennsylvania is an important and well documented map, but his earlier efforts are not well known. Full color map bordered with tan linen; dissected into 24 sections. Folds into a new black speckled cardboard slip case 18.5x15 with a portion of the Pidgeon. Civil Engineers. Published By E. Robinson. 82 & 84 Nassau St. New York. 1885. Engraved by A.H. Mueller, 328 & 530 Lucust St. Philada. Printed by F. Bourquin, 31 So. Sixth St. Philada. Entered ... 1885 by E. Robinson ... Washington D.C.

New York: E. Robinson. Type: City Atlas Size: 49x39
Maps: 43 Scale: 1:2,400 Reference: P2304.
This was the first single volume atlas of New York City done by Robinson and Pidgeon. Pidgeon did his first New York City Atlas in 1880-1881, published by Robinson, in four volumes (P15991 lists volumes 2-4 in the LOC), followed by the Robinson/Pidgeon second edition of 1883-87 (P2302 lists volumes 1, 3-6), followed by the 1890 third edition (see our copy). The scale of the maps is one inch to 200 feet, compared to the 1879 one volume Bromley Atlas of New York City at one inch to 150 feet, and the four volume Robinson/Pidgeon of 1890, one inch to 100 feet. Bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Robinson's Atlas Of The City Of New York" stamped in gilt on the spine. Full color.

Mueller, Lith., Philada.
New York: E. Robinson. Type: City Atlas Size: 56x45
Maps: 28 Reference: P2308.
It is unclear from Phillips when the first edition was published, but it was probably in 1883. Ristow refers to the Robinson/Pidgeon and Bromley City Atlases as "Real Estate" Atlases. However they are essentially the same as the Sanborn "Insurance" Atlases, the only difference being that they were only issued for large cities or parts thereof. This copy is very bright in coloring and the detail is impressive. Robinson made county atlases of New Jersey counties in the 1880's, and in partnership with Pidgeon he made city atlases into the 1920's. He was Bromley's partner in the publishing of Bromley's first New York City Atlas in 1879. Full color maps. Atlas is bound in half leather black cloth covered boards with "Atlas Of The City of New York. Volume 1. 19th And 22nd Wards. Third Edition. E. Robinson." stamped in gilt.

ROBINSON, LEWIS 1833
Map of the United States. Compiled From The Latest Authorities. Published By Lewis Robinson. Reading Vt. 1833. Engraved by J.G. Darby.
Reading, Vermont: Lewis Robinson. Type: Wall Map Size: 101x121 Scale: 1:2,407,680 Reference: Ristow p271; cf Karrow 1-1490 (1835 ed.).
The first edition. This differs from the later editions in not having any inset maps of cities and the Florida peninsula. There are far fewer towns and counties in the mid west and west. The Statistical Table is present under the title, but the two tables of towns are not present on the left side of the map. All in all, this has the look of a preliminary edition, with much information left out that appears in edition immediately following this one. Nonetheless, it is still a marvelous map, given its origins in Reading, Vermont. With black top and bottom rollers and outline color by state.

ROBINSON, LEWIS 1836
Map of the United States. Compiled From The Latest Authorities. Published By Lewis Robinson. Reading Vt. 1836. Engraved by J.G. Darby. (with 8 inset maps).
Reading, Vermont: Lewis Robinson. Type: Wall Map Size: 101x121 Scale: 1:2,407,680 Reference: Ristow p271; cf Karrow 1-1490 (1835 ed.).
1st edition was 1833. 8 inset maps, 3 tables. Engraved by John G. Darby. Editions (between Ristow and Karrow) of 1833, 1835, 1836, 1839, 1842, & 1845. Robinson never copyrighted his maps (Ristow) so the LOC does not have all issues. An attractive and slightly primitive map that was widely distributed but is scarce today. Robinson also published from Akron, Ohio, after 1836 with his brothers in law, Samuel and Levi Manning (Ristow). Manning has separate maps of the U.S. listed in Karrow. Inset maps include: New York City, the Falls of Niagara, Boston, South Part of Florida, Baltimore and Washington, Philadelphia, Albany, and Cincinnati. With black top and bottom rollers. Outline color with full color wash by state or territory.

Map of the United States. Compiled From The Latest Authorities. Published By Lewis Robinson & Co. Akron Ohio 1837. Engraved by J.G. Darby. (with 8 inset maps).
Akron, Ohio: Lewis Robinson & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 101x121 Scale: 1:2,407,680 Reference: Ristow p271; cf Karrow 1-1490 (1835 ed.).
This is the rare Akron, Ohio imprint of Robinson's Map of the United States. The first issue in Akron was 1836, with the date clearly changed to 1837 on the plate in this copy. Robinson's brothers in law, Levi and Samuel Manning, resided in Akron and ran a branch of his map business there. Compared to the Reading, Vermont, 1836 issue, there are many additions in Texas, reflecting increased interest in events there of the previous two years. Inset maps show: New York City, the Falls of Niagara, Boston, South Part of Florida, Baltimore and Washington, Philadelphia, Albany, and Cincinnati. Without rollers. Outline color with full color wash by state.

Folded into brown cloth covers 13x8.5 which are gold stamped “Map Of The Thousand Islands." In the lower right is an "Index to Summer Cottages & Owners" which gives the name of various islands, their owner's name and winter residence. Property owners are shown directly on the map for the larger islands. Many of the owners are society figures from New York City, but also include George Pullman (inventor of the Pullman Sleeping Car) of Chicago and W.E. Story, a noted mathematician. The map was probably produced in a small edition for local use.

ROLLANDET, EDWARD; THAYER, H. L. 1880
Thayer's New Map Of The State of Colorado Compiled From Official Surveys And Explorations. Published by H.L. Thayer, Denver Col. 1880. Established in 1871. Drawn By Edward Rollandet. Entered ... 1878 by H.L Thayer ... Washington.
Denver: H.L. Thayer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 64x80 Scale: 1:887,040 Reference: Ellis 84.
This is the third and last issue of this map, published in early 1880. Later in the year, Thayer changed to his version of the Bien / Roeser GLO map (see our #2810). It was first issued in 1878, with a second edition in 1879. Ellis is not fond of this map ("Too much general hachures to show mountains, very few mountain names, towns not too generously supplied, roads not clearly shown, etc.") We find it a very attractive map, however the high degree of hachuring does somewhat limit its clarity. Map is folded into brown cloth covers 15x9 with purple label reading "Thayer's New Map Of The State Of Colorado. One Dollar."

ROOT, R.C., ANTHONY & CO. 1864
Map Of The Oil District Venango, Crawford & Warren Counties, Pennsylvania. 1864. Published by R.C. Root, Anthony & Co. 16 Nassau St. N.Y.
New York: R.C. Root, Anthony & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 32x94, 28x18 (flap) Scale: 1:27,600 Reference: None found.
This is the earliest map of the Pennsylvania Oil District that we have seen. It predates the 1865 maps by Beers, Colton and Plumb, Townsend and Dale, Hunt, and Howe (1866). It is large scale and shows excellent detail. Individual wells are shown, and operating wells are distinguished from wells being drilled. An extension flap is attached to the upper left corner of the map showing the East Branch of Oil Creek. Folded into dark green textured cloth covers 18.5x10 with "Map Of The Oil District" in gilt. Not in Streeter (unusual because Streeter has all the other important Oil maps) or any references. Scarce.

RYKER, HARRISON 1938
San Francisco Aerial Views. 1937-1938.
Oakland: Harrison Ryker Type: Aerial Photographs Size: 50x60 Maps: 164
A set of 164 spectacular, large format, sharp, black and white vertical aerial photography partially overlapping images covering San Francisco north of a line approximately between Merced Lake and Candlestick Point. Resolution generally better than one foot and much higher with high contrast features, for example the paint striping on a basketball court. Relative heights frequently discernible based on shadow cast of objects and structures. Handwritten date on index map indicates photographs taken in August, 1938. Owned by the San Francisco Public Library.(Authorship almost certainly incorrectly spelled in handwriting on index sheet as Harrison-Rikker). He married Charlotte Seward in the mid-1920s; after divorcing, he married Esther Miriam Munson in 1936 Aerial Photographer Harrison Clay (Chesley) Ryker (1898-1981) was born in Oakdale, CA. . He served in the U.S. Army for several years in Germany with the post-World War I occupational forces, and partook of educational opportunities at the University of California, Berkeley.Expanding on his hobby in photography, Mr. Ryker teamed with various pilots beginning aerial photography services out of the Oakland Airport and throughout the West. Colleagues included Lage Wernstedt of the U.S. Forest Service. He also worked with the Fairchild Aerial Camera Company (including an aerial survey of Puerto Rico) and Clyde Sunderland of Pacific Aerial Surveys. As well, he took photographs of the devastating 1923 Berkeley Fire, archived in The Bancroft Library.By 1938 Mr. Ryker was listed in business as a map publisher (see Polk's Oakland 1938 Street and Avenue Guide) based at 1924 Franklin St., Oakland. At that time, he had at least one patent pending for a stereoscope used for aerial photograph interpretation. Shortly after 1938 Ryker established his company address as Harrison C. Ryker, Inc., at 1000 Ashby Avenue, Berkeley, California (relocating to east Oakland in the 1950s). He subsequently manufactured pocket and desktop stereoscopes and a vertical Sketchmaster, instruments that were extensively used by educational institutions and the military, especially during World War II. His experience in aerial photography led to further involvement in photo interpretation and cartography. An article in the journal The Timberman (1933) describes means of distinguishing individual species of forest trees on aerial photos; later applications were terrain analysis for petroleum geology and unmasking of ground camouflage during wartime. His largest product was the Wernstedt Mahan map plotter, patented in 1954, which was a standard cartographic device for its time. His instruments are in use today in libraries, air photo collections, and earth sciences departments throughout America; they are in the instrument collections of the Archives of the History of American Psychology, and the Institute of Geographical Exploration at Harvard University has the Ryker M-11 Reflecting Stereoscope. Among his patents were the (1) the adjustable pocket stereoscope filed with the United States Patent Office: Patented December 1940. Patent No. 2,225,602, and the (2) the stereoscope filed with the United States Patent Office: Filed September 1, 1937, Serial No. 161,973; Patented January 21, 1941, Patent No. 2,229,309.Harrison Ryker pioneered research in aerial photo interpretation. His work has been noted by A. Everett Wieslander, an early (1930s – 1950s) leader in the mapping of California vegetation and soils, in his Oral History produced by The Bancroft Library, and in a letter by Robert Colwell, Forestry Professor at the University of California, Berkeley.

Philadelphia: Sanford & Everts. Type: County Atlas Size: 43x36 Maps: 23 Reference: P2139.
E.F. Sanford formed a partnership with W.P. Everts and produced three atlases of Maine and New Hampshire counties, as well as a number of county and city wall maps. E.F. Sanford should not be confused with G.P. Sanford, who worked for and with F.W. Beers, D.J. Lake, and others. They may have been related. This atlas is very much in the style of the Beers atlases. Maps have full color. Atlas is bound in quarter leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "Atlas Of Strafford Co. N.H. Sanford & Everts." stamped in gold.

SANFORD, E.F.; EVERTS, W.P. 1873
Map of the Village of Claremont, New Hampshire. By Sanford & Everts, 31 South Sixth St. Philad'a. Scale 200 Feet To The Inch. 1873. Engd. by Worley & Bracher, 31 South 6th St. Philad'a. Printed by F. Bourquin, 31 South 6th St. Philad'a.
Phila.: Sanford & Everts. Type: Wall Map Size: 96x95 Scale: 1:2,400 Reference: Cobb 317.
This firm made only 3 atlases. Phillips lists only three titles for Sanford and Everts; Cobb lists five New Hampshire city maps by them and one New Hampshire atlas (and one city map by Sanford and Goodhue). This is one of their city wall maps, a modest production without views, in the style of Walling (see Walling map of Claremont Town, 1851). We assume Claremont was chosen because of its expanding manufacturing sector due to the water power available from the Sugar River running through town. Cemeteries, schools, parks and other properties are in full blue color. With black top and bottom rollers.

SAVORY, WILLIAM; SUMNER, WILLIAM; TAYLOR, ALLEN 1833
Map Of The Western Reserve Including the Fire Lands In Ohio. Published By Allen Taylor, Nelson-Portage County, Ohio. Revised & Corrected March 1, 1833. Copyright Secured ... Engraved by Savory, Pitt.
Nelson, Ohio: Allen Taylor. Type: Separate Map Size: 41x50 Scale: 1: 410,000 Reference: Streeter 1371, 1364 (first edition); HRB Cat. 15, #37.
Second edition (first edition 1826) of one of the earliest locally produced maps of Northeastern Ohio. Streeter on the first edition: "the finest map produced by an Ohio engraver and pioneer printer." Streeter incorrectly names the mapmaker as "Savery Pitt." Actually, in the lower right corner of the map the engraver is listed as "Savery, Pitt." HRB located a William Savery in Pittsburgh working as an engraver during this period, so we assume he engraved this map. The publisher of the 1826 edition was William Sumner. There is text and population statistics under the map, regarding the history of the area. Harris' Pittsburgh business directory for the year 1837, and the Standard history of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania give name as William Savory (see "Map of the Western Reserve including the Fire Lands in Ohio" at http://web.ulib.csuohio.edu/SpecColl/maps/SavoryPitt.html .

(title sheet illustration) T. Haselwander fec. F. Bruckl sculp.
Wien: Expeditions-Bureau. Type: Case Map Size: 198x281 Scale: 1:576,000 Reference: Tooley Dictionary.
Militarisch Geografischen Inst.; Austria 20 sheets each dissected into 6 sections. Incredible detail throughout the map. A triumph of Austrian/German engraving. The 20 sheets cover most of middle and southern Europe. With an index map titled "Ubersicht zur Zusammenstellung der Blaetter fur die General Karte des oesterreichischen Kaiserstaates." Scheda did a 25 sheet map of Europe. Scheda lived from 1815-1888 (Phillips) and did a Hand Atlas in 1879 with A. Steinhauser (Phillips 6201) which we gather was largely a Physical Atlas. Outline color. Map sheets fold each with a paste down label on the end sheet showing its corresponding portion of the map and roman numeral as shown in the index map. The sheets are then folded into a maroon cloth covered folding board and outer quarter leather maroon cloth slip case 26x21 with "General-Karte Der Oesterreichischen Monarchie von J. Scheda" and a decorative design with an illustration of a globe stamped in gilt on the spine.

SCHONBERG & CO. 1861
Schonberg's Western Atlas: Embracing Railways And Stations; Counties, Townships, Cities, Villages, and Post Offices, (With Directions And Distances) And The Last Census; Also, Descriptions Geographical, Statistical, and Historical By Captain Thomas Dalton. (at head of title) Peoples's Series.
New York: Schonberg & Co. Type: Regional Atlas Size: 22x16 Maps: 5 Reference: None found.
This is a scarce ephemeral atlas with printed paper covers and maps and text on the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The maps are about one quarter the size of the Schonberg Standard Atlas of the World maps. The Publisher's Notice says it all: "The 'Western Atlas'... embodies a mass of information never before collected in a form so compact and cheap... the publishers have in preparation the remaining States of the Union, upon the same plan... at a price within easy reach of the million, to whom they submit this first of their People's Series." There are many interesting advertisements, including one for Schonberg's World Map: "Now Ready, A Gigantic Map Of The World... The size of the Map is twelve feet long, and seven feet high." It is not clear if any other numbers in the People's Series were issued.

SCHONBERG & CO. 1864
Schonberg's Standard Atlas Of The World. New York, Schonberg And Company. 1864. Boston: Benj. B. Russell, 515 Washington St. Chicago: R.R. Landon, Agent, 88 Lake St. (on verso) ... Entered ... 1863, by Schonberg & Co. ... New York.
New York: Schonberg & Co.; Boston: Benj. B. Russell; Chicago: R.R. Landon. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x31 Maps: 56 Reference: Not in Phillips; cf Wheat 1147 (1867 edition).
Late 1864 issue, with the flag plate, and Benj. Russell of Boston added as publisher along with Schonberg and Landon. This is probably the first edition, although the copyright date on the title page is 1863, suggesting that there may have been an 1863 edition. The only difference between this and the 1865 edition is the appearance of Montana on the U.S. map and on the Western States map in the 1865, and not in the 1864. The page order of the statistical data at the rear of the books is slightly different as well. Full color. Bound in quarter leather rusty brown cloth covered boards with "Schonberg's Standard Atlas of the World" stamped in gilt.

SCHONBERG & CO. 1865
Schonberg's Standard Atlas Of The World. New York, Schonberg And Company. 1865. Boston: Benj. B. Russell, 515 Washington St. Chicago: R.R. Landon, Agent, 88 Lake St. (on verso) ... Entered ... 1863, by Schonberg & Co. ... New York.
New York: Schonberg & Co. Type: World Atlas Size: 39x32 Maps: 56 Reference: Not in Phillips; cf Wheat 1147 (1867 edition).
The second edition. The title page is different from the 1867 edition, using the same vignette of five women, various cherubs, globes, etc.. that appears on the Chapin U.S. Map and the Tunison atlases. Many of the U.S. maps differ also, being perhaps cut from a different wall map than that used in the 1867 edition. The Map of "California and the Western Territories" is totally different from the map of different title covering about the same area in the 1867 atlas. Wheat cited the 1867 issue of this map, but not this 1865 issue - it is far simpler and more schematic in style, and it shows a huge Idaho taking up all of present day Idaho and Wyoming. All the borders are interlocking "L" with circles at the corners, except for Texas and Illinois, which have the later 1867 border of leaves and squares with initial "S" at the corners. See the 1867 edition for sources of the maps. At the end is an untitled double page map of the area from Washington south to Richmond, Virginia, showing the seat of war - this must be the same map as Stephenson 498, with the title trimmed off to fit in the atlas.

New York: Schonberg & Co.; San Francisco: H.H. Bancroft & Co.; Chicago: Goodspeed & Co. Type: National Atlas Size: 38x32 Maps: 30 Reference: None found.
Not in Phillips or LeGear. This is similar to Schonberg's 1867 Atlas of the World, but includes only the maps pertaining to the U.S., Mexico, Canada and the West Indies, and with a different title page. The North America map is very up to date, showing Alaska as "New U.S. Territory, formerly Russian" (this is absent on the World Atlas version). Bound in quarter leather dark brown cloth covered boards, gilt stamped title (same as above) on front cover, with three pages of population statistics on the world and the United States. Full color.

New York: Schonberg & Co.; San Francisco: Bancroft & Co.; Chicago: Goodspeed & Co. Type: World Atlas Maps: 51 Reference: Not in Phillips;Wheat 1147.
Third edition. Uses 1836 David Burr plates transferred to litho and updated for the N. American, Maine, Vermont & New Hampshire, Mass etc., and most of the non- American maps. The other maps appear to come from a wall map; Schonberg issued a wall map of the U.S. and Canada in 1866 (Phillips p915). Some southern cities are marked with red - we assume that indicates civil war battles. See the 1865 edition. Full color. Bound in quarter leather brown cloth covered boards with "Schonberg's Standard Atlas of the World" stamped in gilt.

SCHOYER, SOLOMON. 1826
Map Of The United States Drawn from the most approved Surveys. Published by Solomon Schoyer. New York. Engraved by G.W. Merchant Albany.
New York: Solomon Schoyer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 42x52 Scale: 1:7,600,00 Reference: cf Karpinski 84 (with 1825 date).
This appears to be a direct (but slightly reduced) copy of Finley's Map of the United States that was published in pocket form and in his American Atlas of 1826. See also the 1825 edition of this map that we have attributed to Schoyer. In outline color, with a large eagle cartouche in Mexico, folded into red textured card board covers 15.5x10 with "U. States" in gilt.
Pub List No. 2201.000

(SCHOYER, SOLOMON). 1825
Map Of The United States Drawn from the most approved Surveys. 1825.
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Pocket Map Size: 42x52 Scale: 1:7,600,00 Reference: cf Karpinski 84 (with Schoyer and Merchant in title).
We have attributed this to Schoyer (no maker or publisher or engraver is on the map) because it is exactly the same as Schoyer's 1826 map of the same title, except that the Schoyer 1826 map has a large eagle cartouche in Mexico which is not present on this edition. Karpinski lists under 1825 a Schoyer map that may be the same as our 1826, but dated 1825. Folded into dark blue leather covers 14.5x9 with "U. States" in gilt. This is a Finley derivative, Finley's United States first appearing in 1825. In full color.

SCOTT, C.A.; STICKNEY, J.W.; POLLARD, J.A.; HAGER, ALBERT D. 1859
Map Of The Town Of Plymouth, Windsor County, Vermont. Published under the Direction of C.A. Scott, J.W. Stickney & J.A. Pollard. Geologically Colored by Albert D. Hager. (with 1 inset profile).
No publisher. Type: Wall Map Size: 58x53 Scale: 1:25,340 Reference: cf Cobb 319 (not colored Geologically).
Scarce Geological map of small Vermont town noted for its geology. Hager also did a geological map of Vermont as in inset in the State map by Walling, 1860. We believe this wall map is the only geological map of one of Vermont's towns. See the two volume Report on the Geology of Vermont where Hager (vol 2, p731-2) states the reason: "it will be seen that few, if any, towns in the state possess such a variety of mineral wealth, or abound in objects so replete with instruction, or so full of interest as those in Plymouth...To the Geologist there is here afforded ample opportunities for study, and the lover of the beautiful in Nature meets upon every side with objects of interest and admiration." Plate XVIII of vol 2 is the same map of Plymouth as this one, but reduced greatly in size. In addition to other minerals, Plymouth had large quantities of gold. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color.

SHELL OIL COMPANY 1956
Shell Atlas.
San Jose: Shell Oil Company Type: National Atlas Size: Various Scale: Variable
This atlas was originally bound for use by the staff of the San Francisco Examiner newspaper. It has been professionally unbound and boxed, preserving the original appearance and covers, which snap shut over the box portion. Each map was originally published as a separate roadmap distributed at Shell gas (filling) stations. Every map bears the Shell logo and a complete legend and sometimes the statement, "Current at date of publication, but subject to change." Copyright and lithography by H.M. Gousha Company, Chicago-San Jose. Map borders and covers (to the typical 23x10 cm folded edition) make liberal use of the distinctive Shell gold and red colors. The colorful maps in this atlas have often never been folded except as necessary for putting them into this atlas. All maps printed on both sides. Relief depicted by shading or hypsometric tints or sketches. Each map sheet may include such useful information as mileage charts (distances between cities), speed limits, a national highway map, highway safety pointers, state traffic rules, reminders for travelers, a list of available Shell maps, legend, and National Park fees and season. Regional and national maps include mileages and driving times between destinations. State maps include a gazetteer with population and is keyed to map location. Maps generally drawn in a polyconic projection.

SHELTON, W.; KENSETT, T. 1813
An Improved Map of the United States By Shelton & Kensett. Copy right secured & entered according to Act of Congress July 6th 1813. Engraved by A. Doolittle New Haven & T. Kensett Cheshire.

Cheshire: Shelton & Kensett. Type: Separate Map Size: 47x55 Scale: 1:6,000,000 Reference: P-Maps 878; Ristow p271; Karpinski 24.
Scarce War of 1812 map. Seven vignettes show important sea battles of the War of 1812. Information on the Post roads, other routes, population of states and territories is given in the borders. A curious note regarding fishing and grapes appears in northern Illinois - seems to be unique to this map. A later reissue of this map was put out in 1825 by Lewis Robinson (see Ristow 271). The map is not very up to date regarding political changes - it does not show Missouri Territory or Louisiana (both 1812). The copyright appears at the top of the map - July 6, 1813. It is engraved by A. Doolittle of New Haven and Kensett of Cheshire. Karpinski 13 is an 1812 Map of the United States and Canada by Kensett and Doolittle, based on surveys by Tardieu, and somewhat smaller in size. Outline color by state.

Entered According ... October 1st, 1816 ... Connecticut. Projected by Thomas Kensett. A. Doolittle Sc.
N.P.: Shelton & Kensett. Type: Case Map Size: 119x138 Scale: 1:1,838,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1422; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p. 235; Karpinski 38.
Large map of the United States based on the Arrowsmith/Tardieu maps of the same period, with a similar "Falls of Niagara" cartouche. Engraved by Amos Doolittle. Interestingly, credit for the cartouche is given to Tardieu, who copied it from Arrowsmith (perhaps evidence of a prejudice against the British from the War of 1812?). This map is far superior to either the Arrowsmith or Tardieu maps: in the west it incorporates both of Pike's maps of the Upper Mississippi and the western tributaries of the Mississippi and the Missouri; east of the Mississippi, it uses much from the Bradley "Postal" map of the United States of 1804/1812, including public survey lines, county formations, township boundaries, roads, etc. There are two very interesting inset maps and a commentary on ancient fortifications along the Ohio River. This highly detailed and accurate map must be one of the best of its period. Outline color by states. Maps is dissected into 35 sections and folds into marbled paper end sheet, then into a new gray cloth folding case 28x23 with "United States Shelton And Kensett 1816" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Philadelphia: Robert P. Smith. Type: Pocket Map Size: 54x53 Scale: 1:63,360 Reference: Ristow p. 344-345 (illustrated); P-Maps 705.
Smith considered this to be "the most successful of our maps" and it is indeed a beautiful map and a fine example of early lithography printed by P.S. Duval. Although copyrighted by Robert Pearsal Smith, Ristow states that this map was considered by Smith father, John Jay Smith, to be his own work. There is a view of Girard College and another of Laurel Hill Cemetery in the lower corners of the map engraved by A. Kollner, one of Philadelphia earliest lithographic artists. This copy is from the Kollner collection of Nicholas Biddle Wainwright, who wrote the standard book on Philadelphia lithography and also the authoritative book on Kollner. Map is folded into burgandy leather covers 14x8.5 with "Sidney's Map Of Ten Miles Around Philadelphia" in gilt.

To which is added Notes of Survey and Exploration in 1850 and 1857, by Col. J. Williamson, Engineer-in-Chief of Survey. New-York: William A. Wheeler, Stationer, No. 197 Broadway. 1865.
New York: William Wheeler Type: Survey Book Size: 23x15 Maps: 1 Reference: Streeter 2904.
Map by J.H. Colton. One of the earliest reports on Calif. oil. Streeter lists his 2903, "Description of the Recently Discovered Petroleum Region in California" as published earlier in 1865, with a map. This report would then be the second California oil report and the first with a map of the San Luis Obispo region. 2903 was also published in 1864 without a map. A third report, Streeter 2905, on the "Oil Property of the Philadelphia and California Petroleum Company" was published later in 1865. Also included in this report is a report by J. Williamson on his surveys in California in 1850 and 1857, as they might pertain to oil exploration. Bound with paper covers, the title printed on the front cover.

SINCLAIR, THOMAS (1846)
Map of Mexico Showing the Seat of War. Lith. of T. Sinclair, 79 So. 3rd St. Philadelphia.
Philadelphia: Thomas Sinclair Type: Pocket Map Size: 49x47 Scale: 1:5,400,000 Reference: None found.
Very rare map with no reference to it found in any of the normal bibliographies. The date is estimated. Proposed railway lines are shown to and from San Francisco to New Orleans and Napolian (sic). The map has been distorted severely with San Francisco much too far east. Napoleon, Arkansas, now defunct (why?), according to Baldwin and Thomas' Gazetteer of 1854, was the capital of Desha County. It was situated on the Mississippi at the mouth of the Arkansas. The population was about 1,000 people, and steamboats ran three times a week to Little Rock. Why it was placed so prominently on the map is unknown. Perhaps it was vying to be a terminus for the railroad. Texas is shown at a highly detailed level. The map is in color and folds into brown cloth covers 16x10 with "Map of Mexico Showing The Seat Of War" on the front cover in gilt.

SMITH, CHARLES, FL. 1800-1822 1816
Comparative View Of The Heights Of The Principal Mountains &c. In The World. Western Hemisphere. Eastern Hemisphere. London, Published by C. Smith, Mapseller No. 172 Strand, Augt. 1st 1816. Gardner Sculpt.
London: C. Smith. Type: Wall Map Size: 49x64 Scale: 1:18,460 (altitude) Reference: British Museum World p 718; cf Wolter, The Heights of Mountains and The Lengths of Rivers.
Shows the comparative heights of mountains in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres, as well as the comparative heights of important places. A list of Authorities is given to the left of the title, and an Explanation shows how the system of numbering mountains and places works. A former owner has added "6225....White Mountains, N.H." to the table. This chart may be one of the earliest of its genre; it is not listed in Wolter's "Heights of Mountains..." (he lists the Thomson 1817 similar chart as the first of this type). The British Museum lists this Smith as the first chart of this kind. Interestingly, Smith's chart does not show the Himalayan Mountains; Thomson adds the Himalayan Mountains to his chart with a note about the recent publication of data on their heights. With black top and bottom sticks, and green silk edging. Full hand painted color.

New York: Sherman and Smith. Type: Wall Map Size: 164x204 Scale: 1:1,500,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1544.
2nd edition;1st edition was 1843. This is probably the largest map of the United States made during the 1840's and 1850's. It went through many editions and was taken over by Colton in 1852. It has an inset map of North America in the lower right corner. Many of the Johnson Family Atlas maps were taken from the plates of this map. It shows the U.S. west to the eastern portions of Nebraska Territory - similar in scope to its competitor, Mitchell's Reference and Distance Map of the United States, first issued in 1834. After the Mexican cessions, a whole new group of maps were issued that showed the U.S. coast to coast (Colton, Monk, Mitchell New National Map, etc.), but Colton continued to issue this map at least through 1857 (see Karrow). With an elaborate ornamental border of views, etc. Full color by county with states outlined. With black top and bottom rollers.

A New Map For Travelers Through the United States of America Showing the Railroads, Canals & Stage Roads, With The Distances, by J. Calvin Smith. Published by Sherman & Smith New-York. MDCCCLII. Entered ... 1846, by J. Calvin Smith ... New York. (inset) Map Of Oregon Northern California Santa Fe &c. (4 additional inset maps).
New York: Sherman & Smith. Type: Pocket Map Size: 54x68 Scale: 1:4,300,000 Reference: cf Howes S614.
A separate issue of the map usually found in the Illustrated Hand Book (see our 1847, 1849, and 1856 editions). Changes from the 1850 edition are in the inset map of the west - California, Utah, and New Mexico appear in place of one large California in the 1850 map. With a nice paste down double hemisphere advertising book plate of J. Disturnell. Outline color. Folded into green patterned covers 14x9 with "Smith's New Guide For Travelers Through The United States Of America" stamped in gilt and blind stamped.

SMITH, J. CALVIN 1852
Map Of North America. By J. Calvin Smith. Published by J. Disturnell. New York, 1852. (inset) Map Of The Gold Region California.
New York: J. Disturnell. Type: Pocket Map Size: 57x49 Scale: 1:15,000,000 Reference: Wheat Gold 232; Wheat 735.
4th issue (and last) - 1st issue was 1849, then 1850, 1851 and 1852. The North America map (without the Gold Region inset and the overland and sea routes shown and listed) appeared first as an inset in Smith's huge "Map of the United States of America" in 1843. This copy is lacking the covers. Full and outline color.

SMITH, J. CALVIN (1852)
Special-Karte Der Vereinicten Staaten Von Nord-Amerika. von J. Calvin Smith. Zweite verbesserte Auflage. Map Of The United States of America By J. Calvin Smith. Cassel, Druck und Verlag von Theodor Fischer.
Cassel: Theodor Fischer. Type: National Atlas Size: 42x27 Maps: 16 Reference: Karrow 1-1626,1-1663; Karpinski 177.
2nd revised German edition of Smith's large map, here bound as an atlas. The inset map of North America is titled "Uebersichts-Karte von Nord Amerika von J. Calvin Smith..." (Karpinski lists this incorrectly as the title of the entire map, also incorrectly says 12 sheets instead of 16). The map has been redrawn onto lithographic plates with a very slight change of scale (smaller). The only German used is in the titles and the references. The map is undated - 1852 is estimated from the lack of Washington Territory (1853) and the presence of California, Utah and New Mexico. Karrow 1-1663 is the fourth edition. This German edition is rarer than the American editions by Smith and Colton. The first German edition of this atlas map (W.H.'s copy) has no title page and no obvious changes from the second edition. Full color. Bound in marbled paper covered boards, with untitled oval label on the front.

New York: Sherman & Smith. Type: Pocket Map Size: 54x68 Scale: 1:4,300,000 Reference: cf Howes S614.
Another separate issue of the map without the text - compared to the 1852 issue, many railroads are added in the mid west, and Oregon is split into Oregon and Washington in the inset map of the west. Outline color. Folded into dark brown patterned cloth covers 14x9, with "Smith's New Guide For Travelers Through The United States Of America" stamped in gilt and blind stamped.

SMITH, J. CALVIN; SMITH, ROBERT P. 1862
The New Naval And Military Map Of The United States. By J. Calvin Smith, Author Of Harper's Gazetteer, Colton's County Map Of The U.S. Travellers' Guide &c. 1862. J. Baker & Co. Publishers. J.M. Atwood, Map Engraver 517 Minor St. Philadelphia, Pa. Entered ... 1862 by Robert P. Smith ... Pennsylvania. (with 5 inset maps and 3 profiles).
Phila: J. Baker. Type: Wall Map Size: 170x170 Scale: 1:3,300,000 Reference: P-Maps, p911; Karrow 1-1643,2; Stevenson 32.5.
1st ed. Stevenson identifies 3 issues. Very beautiful and elaborate map showing the hand of Robert Pearsal Smith (has similarities graphically to his N.Y. State Map of 1860). The map is drawn by J.M. Atwood, but is credited to J.C. Smith, "Author of Harper's Gazetteer, Colton's County Map of the U.S., Traveler's Guide, &c." R.P. Smith is obviously competing with J.H. Colton by using J.C. Smith's name. Also, the population statistics for the 1860 census are listed, "in advance of official publication" (see Colton letter dated 1861 on this subject). Many inset views relating to the civil war, portraits of Union Generals, and thematic map insets. The U.S. map bears a striking resemblance to Colton's U.S. map of the same period (We suspect intentional on Smith's part) but it is different. H.H. Lloyd did a similar map in 1866 (High Ridge #18-165), probably by obtaining Smith's map copyright for this map and the New York State Map in 1865 when Smith left the map publishing business (Ristow p 377). With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county.

Philadelphia: J.L. Smith. Type: Pocket Map Size: 79x108 Scale: 1:4,500,000 Reference: None found.
An example of J.L. Smith issuing Rand McNally maps. On the map is a red rubber stamp with Smith's name and logo. The map is classic Rand McNally for the period, showing railroads only in the eastern half of the U.S. and railroads and roads in the less settled western half. This is a later, enlarged (into Mexico) issue of the 1883 Rand/Dripps U.S. (our #3259). Eight small insets are titled: Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Buffalo & Niagara Falls, and Washington. Outline color by state, map folded into black cloth covers 16x11 with label reading "Map Of The United States And Territories J.L. Smith."

Topographical Map Of Madison County, New York. From Actual Surveys (And Records) By Gurdon Evans. Anthony D. Byles, Publisher, 15 Minor St. Philadelphia 1853. (with 7 inset maps).
Phila.: A.D. Byles. Type: Wall Map Size: 97x128 Scale: 1:71,280 Reference: Tooley Dict.;Ristow on R.P. Smith, p388.

Early county map copyright by Smith. Unusual borders. This county was later remapped by J.H. French in 1859 for the French-Smith N.Y. State Map project. Apparently several of the early county maps like this one had to be redone for greater accuracy (Ristow). Inset maps include: Eaton Village, Oneida, Chittenango, Canastota, Cazenovia, Hamilton, and Morrisville. With black top and bottom rollers. Edged in green silk. Full color.

SMITH, ROBERT P.; TAINTOR, S. & CO. 1861
The Washington Map Of The United States. By the Superintendent U.S. National Observatory, Washington D.C. 1861. S. Taintor & Co. Publisher, W.H. Holmes, Engraver. 334 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington D.C. F. Mahler, C.E. Head Draughtsman. Entered ... 1861 by Robert P. Smith ... Pennsylvania. (with 6 inset maps and 3 profiles).
New York: H.G. Bond Type: Wall Map Size: 169x169 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: cfPhillips Maps p909; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p. 287-
See notes to other issues of this map. This is earlier than our other 1861 edition (3270) and has an unusual boundary for Utah, extending east in Nebraska in the northeast corner. Other changes from the later 1861 edition include H.G. Bond as publisher, no County formation date in the Explanation list, different map in the Zoological Distribution inset, and some changes to topography. An earlier edition, 1860, is listed by Phillips as done by M.F. Maury (Maury's name was dropped after the Civil War began because of his support for the Confederacy); also, a late edition, 1868, by H.H. Lloyd. This the first edition copyrighted by Smith. See our two 1862 editions. With black top and bottom rollers. The United States is panted in full color by county; Mexico by state.

SMITH, ROBERT P.; TAINTOR, S. & CO. 1861
The Washington Map Of The United States. By the Superintendent U.S. National Observatory, Washington D.C. 1861. S. Taintor & Co. Publisher, W.H. Holmes, Engraver. 334 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington D.C. F. Mahler, C.E. Head Draughtsman. Entered ... 1861 by Robert P. Smith ... Pennsylvania. (with 6 inset maps and 3 profiles).
New York: S. Taintor & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 169x169 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: cfPhillips Maps p911; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p. 287-88.
Huge wall map similar in style and scale to Smith's New Naval and Military Map of the United States done in 1862. However, the Washington Map is a completely different engraving of the U.S., done by W.H. Holmes, who probably is not the same Holmes who worked with Hayden (that Holmes was born in 1846) but is most likely the Holmes mentioned in Tooley's Dictionary as the engraver for Chamber's Encyclopedia and Mitchell's Mexico (perhaps the father of the later Holmes?) The LOC copy (P-Maps 911) is dated 1862 and has in addition to Taintor, the Holmes, Harrison & Co., London, as publishers. Many inset views, portraits of the Presidents in the border, and thematic inset maps. Shows Colorado (created that year) and has an interesting, clear and stark rendition of the western topography. Another elaborate Smith production. An earlier edition, 1860, is listed by Phillips as done by M.F. Maury (Maury's name was dropped after the Civil War began because of his support for the Confederacy); also, a late edition, 1868, by H.H. Lloyd. This the first edition copyrighted by Smith. See our two 1862 editions. With black top and bottom rollers. The United States is painted in full color by county; Mexico by state.

SMITH, ROBERT P.; TAINTOR, S. & CO. 1862
The Washington Map of the United States By the Superintendent U.S. National Observatory, Washington D.C. 1862. S. Taintor & Co. 517, 519 & 521 Minor St. Philadelphia. Publishers. Holmes, Harrison & Co. London. Entered ... 1861 by Robert P. Smith ... Pennsylvania. (with) Five inset maps: The World and four thematic maps of the US showing Plants and Trees, Zoological Distribution, Temperature and Rainfall, and Geology.
Philadelphia: S. Taintor & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 169x169 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p911.
Also published by Holmes Harrison & Co., London. Earlier than the other 1862 in that it is basically the same as the 1861 edition, with two counties added in Kansas, elimination of the list of forts in the upper left corner, adds the London publisher, adds the list of seceding states, and adds the list of ports of entry. Second Smith edition.

SMITH, ROBERT P.; TAINTOR, S. & CO. 1862
The Washington Map Of The United States. By the Superintendent U.S. National Observatory, Washington D.C. 1862. S. Taintor & Co. Rochester, New York & Philadelphia, Pa. Publishers. Holmes, Harrison & Co. London. Entered ... 1861 by Robert P. Smith ... Pennsylvania. Printed by T.S. Wagner, 38 Hudson St. Phila. (with 6 inset maps and 3 profiles).
New York: S. Taintor & Co.; London: Holmes, Harrison & Co. Type: Wall Map Size: 169x169 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p911.
Also published by Holmes Harrison & Co., London. Many changes from the 1861 edition in the west indicate that the 1861 edition was hurriedly put out without filling in all the topography. Under the title is a listing of the Slave States with the Note: "The States Marked thus * Claim to have seceded from the United States." Loss in the top four inches of the map, rebacked. Printed by T.P. Wagner, Philadelphia, who may have added the topographical information. This is the third Smith edition, after the 1861 and the early 1862. With black top and bottom rollers. The United States is panted in full color by county; Mexico by state.

SMITH, WILLIAM RUDOLPH. 1838
Observations On The Wisconsin Territory; Chiefly On That Part Called The "Wisconsin Land District." With A Map, Exhibiting The Settled Parts of the Territory, as laid off in Counties by Act of the Legislature in 1837. Philadelphia: E.L. Carey & A. Hart. 1838.
Phila: Carey, E.L. & A. Hart Type: Exploration Book Size: 19x12 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes S721; Streeter 1931.
Important Map by J.H. Young. The "Map of the Settled Part of Wisconsin Territory" is by Young and published by Hinman & Dutton of Philadelphia (Hinman also published with Mitchell). It is one of the earliest Wisconsin Territory maps listed by Phillips (1075/1076) other than Farmer's map, Burr's (Claussen & Friis 145/6) and Bradford's atlas map. This issue is dated 1838, the same date as Smith's Observations. There was an earlier issue of the map in 1837 (see Phillips maps 1075). Howes calls Smith's book "aside from Lea's 'Notes,' (the) earliest extensive description of Wisconsin. The Ten pages on 'Iowa Territory' is the first account of it under that designation." Young's map is very well done and should be compared to Boynton's map for Bradford's Illustrated Atlas of 1838. Bound in linen embossed with flowers and leaves with a small label "Wisconsin" on the spine.

SMYTH, DAVID WILLIAM 1799
A Short Topographical Description of His Majesty's Province of Upper Canada, In North America. To Which Is Annexed A Provincial Gazetteer. London: Published by W. Faden ... 1799. Printed by W. Bulmer and Co. Russell-court, Cleveland Row, St. James's.
London: William Faden Type: Geography Book Size: 24x15 Reference: Sabin 85205; Lande 2207.
First edition, second issue with postscript. This is the first published topographical description of Upper Canada. The first part of the book is a topographical description of the Province, with the second part being a gazetteer of place-names in the Province. Smyth came to Upper Canada in 1792 and was selected by Simcoe (Lieut. Governor) to be the first surveyor general. He returned to England in 1799. This text and the accompanying map were both produced by Smyth at the request of Simcoe "on the Plan of those of the late Capt. Hutchins, for the River Ohio and Countries adjacent." A second edition was published in London, 1813, and a second edition of the Gazetteer only was published in New York in 1813 (Sabin 85204), some copies with a "Map of the Straights of Niagara" by J.H. Eddy and other copies with what appears to be the Smyth "Map of Upper Canada" improved and engraved by J.D. Stout, New York, 1813 (Karpinski 17 and 22). Rebound in full leather with "Topographical Description of Upper Canada, Smith, 1799" on the spine in gold.

First edition. Smyth was the first Surveyor General of Canada and in 1799 wrote "A Short Topographical Description of His Majesty's Province of Upper Canada, In North America" which was sold with the map. This map is the first edition of the "Smyth Series" which went through 13 separate editions to 1858 (see Farrell, Explorations in the History of Canadian Mapping, pp152-154). Smyth's name was dropped from all editions after 1835. Faden published the map until 1818; Wyld published it after 1831. Longest publishing history of any map of the region (Farrell). See our 1818 and the Wyld 1838 for later versions. See Sabin 85205 for more on Smyth and the map. Map has outline color, is dissected into 16 sections and mounted on linen. Folds into a new gray cloth folding case 23.5x16 with "Upper Canada D.W. Smyth 1800" stamped in gold on the spine.

SNYDER, VAN VECHTEN & CO. 1878
Historical Atlas Of Wisconsin Embracing Complete State and County Maps City & Village Plats, Together With Separate State and County Histories; Also Special Articles On The Geology, Education, Agriculture, And Other Important Interests Of The State. Illustrated. Compiled And Published By Snyder, Van Vechten & Co. Milwaukee. 1878. (on verso) Entered ... 1878, By Snyder, Van Vechten & Co. ... Washington.
Milwaukee: Snyder, Van Vechten & Co. Type: State Atlas Size: 46x39 Maps: 108 Reference: P2634; Ristow p. 443.
This was clearly inspired by the Andreas Atlases of Iowa and Minnesota - it has much the same format, and is equally well executed. Ristow describes the sad fate of this atlas - Walling and Tackabury published their Atlas of the State of Wisconsin in 1876 (P2633) which greatly reduced the market and thus fewer than 5000 copies of this 1878 atlas were sold, resulting in heavy financial loss and the exhaustion and ultimate demise of Mr. Snyder. H.R. Page acquired the plates and published another expanded edition in 1881 called the Illustrated Historical Atlas of Wisconsin (P5079). Atlas is bound in half leather black cloth covered boards with "Illustrated Historical Atlas Of Wisconsin" stamped in gold on the front cover and blind stamped on the back; the spine reads "Historical Atlas Of Wisconsin. Illustrated. 1878." With printed and hand painted color.

SOHR, KARL; FLEMMING, CARL. 1847
Vollstandiger Hand - Atlas der neueren Erdbeschreibung uber alle Theile der Erde in 80 Blattern herausgegben von Dr. K. Sohr. Glogau und Leipzig 1847. Druck u. Verlag von C. Flemming.
Glogau and Leipzig: C. Flemming. Type: World Atlas Size: 38x46 Maps: 71 Reference: Espenhorst 4.1.1.; not in Phillips.
This is probably the first edition of Sohr's Hand - Atlas, although Espenhorst shows a slightly earlier date for that edition. The map of Mexico shows Texas as independent, the North America map shows Texas as part of the U.S., while the U.S. map shows Texas as part of Mexico. All three conditions of Texas shown in the same atlas indicate that this was a period of transition, to say the least. The maps are lithographed with outline color. Bound in half leather brown marbled paper covered boards with "Sohr's Atlas" stamped in gilt on the new leather spine.

SOTZMANN, DANIEL FRIEDRICH 1796
Connecticut entworfen von D.F. Sotzmann. Hamburg bey Carl Ernst Bohn 1796 ... P. Schmidt Sc. zu Berlin. zu Ebelings Erdbeschreibung von Amerika.
Hamburg: Carl Ernst Bohn. Type: Separate Map Size: 36x44 Scale: 1:380,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p247; Ristow 169-177.
From the Ebeling-Sotzmann Atlas Von Nordamerika. The Atlas was to accompany Ebeling's seven volume Erdbeschreibung und Geschichte von Amerika, die vereinten Staaten Von Amerika. Sotzmann completed only 10 maps of an intended 18 - Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts in 1796; Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Maryland & Delaware (1 sheet) in 1797; Maine in 1798; and New York in 1799. Sotzmann made use of the American maps of the period by Carey, Blodget, Belknap, Howell, Carleton, De Witt, Griffith, and others. Sotzmann's maps are highly detailed with symbols for churches, roads, court houses, distilleries, iron works, mills, academies, county lines, town lines, and more. They are also very rare - only a few institutions have all ten maps that were published. Sotzmann used Blodget and Carey (and two other maps published in Holland - Ristow) as sources for the Connecticut map. Full color by county.

General Geography and Rudiments of Useful Knowledge in Nine Sections ... Illustrated with an Elegant Improved Plate of the Solar System ... A Map of the World ... of the United States ... and several Engravings on Wood. Digested on a New Plan, and Designed for the Use of Schools. By H.G. Spafford. Hudson: Printed by Croswell & Frary. 1809. (on verso) ... on the tenth day of February ... (1809) ... Harry Croswell ... hath deposited ... a book ... New York.
Hudson: Croswell & Frary. Type: School Atlas Size: 19x13 Maps: 2 Reference: cf Howes S803,804; cf Wheat 393(Crutchley).
Has map of "United States or Fredon." Hudson 69, Walsh 128. Uses the term Fredon or Fredonia, the Country of the Fredes or Fredonians, for the United States, "...the one which we most approve is neither the better or worse, for having come from an honorable senator of the United States, although a partisan" (p.151). Senator Samuel Mitchill (DAB) coined the term in 1801, and it was used on a succession of British maps starting in 1830 by Crutchley, later Laurie, of the United States (see Wheat 393 and see our Laurie, 1849). We believe this map by Spafford, dated 1808, is the earliest appearance of Fredon on any map. Maps uncolored and bound in full leather with title on spine.

STANFORD, EDWARD 1875
Stanford's Map Of The United States And Part Of The Dominion Of Canada. London: Published by Edward Stanford, 55 Charing Cross, September 1st 1875. (inset) Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Cape Breton & Prince Edward Is.
London: Edward Stanford. Type: Case Map Size: 92x148
Scale: 1:3,453,120 Reference: None found.
Large hand colored and very detailed map of the United States and part of Canada. Up to date in the west, showing an extraordinary number of towns in California and Nevada. Topography is clearly delineated and Railroads are shown are far as they had been developed. Even Colorado is shown as a State (which occurred in 1876). Inset map of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. There is a quote from Stansbury regarding the desert outside of Salt Lake City (a bit out of date, but shows attention to detail). The map makers certainly used the most current U.S. government maps as sources. On the verso is the label of Lanee, successor of Longuet, a Paris map seller, with Etats Unis in pen. Full color by state. Map is dissected into 40 sections, and edged and backed with linen. Folds into a new blue cloth folding case 25x17 with "United States Stanford 1875" stamped in gilt on the spine.

STANFORD, EDWARD 1901
Stanford's London Atlas Of Universal Geography Exhibiting The Physical And Political Divisions Of The Various Countries Of The World. Folio Edition. One Hundred Maps, With A List Of Latitudes And Longitudes. Second Edition, Revised And Enlarged. London, Edward Stanford, Geographer To Her Majesty, 12,13, & 14, Long Acre, W.C. 1901.
London: Edward Stanford. Type: World Atlas Size: 58x42 Maps: 100 Reference: cf P1029 (1898 edition); Herbert, F. Imago Mundi 41 (1989), p. (98)-123.
First issued in 1887, this atlas is the successor to John Arrowsmith's London Atlas of 1858 (Stanford acquired Arrowsmith's plates upon his death). The first issue of the second edition appeared in 1893, with updated second editions of 1896, 1898, and this 1901. The third edition was issued in 1904 (see our #949) and Phillips (mistakenly) shows the next and last edition as (1928 -- acually 1931?). This is a magnificent atlas, in full color lithography, certainly the premier atlas of its day. With the bookplate of Andrew Carnegie. Bound in full blue leather covered boards with titled stamped in gold reading "London Atlas Of Universal Geography" on the front cover, and "Atlas. Stanford London 1901" on the spine.

STANFORD, EDWARD; W. & A.K. JOHNSTON LIMITED (1861)
United States. W. & A.K. Johnston, Edinburgh. (inset) Plan Of Charleston, Vicinity And Harbour.
Edinburgh: W. & A.K. Johnston. Type: Case Map Size: 50x64 Scale: 1:5,400,000 Reference: None found.
Separate issue of Johnston's National Atlas Map of the United States. Rare variant issue of this map: it has an inset of Charleston Vicinity and Harbor that does not appear on any other issues of the maps, and most importantly, the southern slave states and northern free states are color coded (solid red for slave and outline red for free). Two printed notes relate to the boundaries of the slave states and the cotton growing regions. The three forts at the entrance to Charleston Harbor are underlined in red. Although the presence of Minnesota Territory would indicate a date no later than 1858 (when it became a state), this map has much Civil War information and, in typical British fashion, it is probably a bit out of date as to political information, so we date it at the beginning of the war, 1861. Not in Stephenson. Map is dissected into 18 sections and mounted on linen with dark purple cloth covers 18.5x12 of Edward Stanford's map establishment, labeled with "Map Of The United States. London: Edward Stanford, 6, Charing Cross, S.W."

STANSBURY, HOWARD; GUNNISON, J.W.; PREUSS, C. 1852
Map of a Reconnoissance between Fort Leavenworth on the Missouri River, and the Great Salt Lake in the Territory Of Utah, made in 1849 and 1850 under the orders of Col. J.J. Abert ... By Capt. Howard Stansbury ... aided by Lieut. J.W. Gunnison ... and Albert Carrington. The adjacent country laid down from the latest and most authentic data. Drawn by Lieut. Gunnison and Charles Preuss. Ackerman Lith. 379 Broadway N.Y.
New York: Ackerman Lith. Type: Exploration Book Size: 73x171 Scale: 1:1,000,000 Reference: Wheat 764.
This is the Fremont/Preuss map of 1845, updated and enlarged, but only going west to the Great Salt Lake. Wheat: "the Stansbury expedition map (is) one of the most important of its decade." Wheat devotes seven pages to this map. It is a major production and is the culmination of the Fremont maps of 1843 and 1845, and the Abert map of 1846. Issued in a folder with the large Stansbury "Map of The Great Salt Lake and Adjacent Country.." Removed from the folder and flattened. With outline color.

Map of the Great Salt Lake And Adjacent Country in the Territory Of Utah. Surveyed in 1849 and 1850, under the orders of Col. J.J. Abert ... by Capt. Howard Stansbury ... aided by Lieut. J.W. Gunnison ... and Albert Carrington. Drawn By Lieut. Gunnison And Charles Preuss. Ackerman Lith. 379 Broadway N.Y.
New York: Ackerman Lith. Type: Exploration Book Size: 110x76 Scale: 1:240,000 Reference: Wheat 765.
One of the earliest, and most important government maps of the Great Salt Lake area. Wheat calls this map "a major production...for the Great Salt Lake itself the map was definitive...Scientific cartography for the Territory of Utah may be said to date from the appearance of this map." It is a stunning map, large in scope, and clearly shows the genius of Charles Preuss as a cartographer. Issued in a folder with the large Stansbury "Map of a Reconnoissance between Fort Leavenworth..." Bodies of water have light blue outline color. Removed from the folder and flattened.

Family Cabinet Atlas Designed and Engraved by Thomas Starling. Specially Patronized by Their Most gracious Majesties William IV and Adelaide. London. Published for the Proprietors by Mr. Bull. Holles Street, Cavendish Square, March 31st, 1831.
London: Mr. Bull Type: World Atlas Size: 17x12 Maps: 50 Reference: cf P6071 (1832 edition).
Phillips says the first edition was published in parts in 1830 under the title Family Cabinet Atlas and the second edition was published in 1832 under title of Geographical Annual or Family Cabinet Atlas. This copy was probably issued in parts and bound up by the owner, as the maps are dated 1830 and 1831, and are bound alphabetically in the order listed on the contents page, and not in numerical order, something the publisher would never have done. This atlas was reengraved and published in an American Edition in Philadelphia by Carey, Lea and Blanchard in 1832. Bound in full blue leather with "Cabinet Atlas" in gold on the spine.

Maps: 99 Reference: cfP6167.
A composite atlas with title page, no index. A strange collection in original binding, indicating it was made up for a customer who seemed to want several maps of the same area, but with different publication dates. Maps are dated from early 1860's to 1873. According to the title page, 1817 was the first edition of Stieler's Atlas; Title page is dated 1867. Some of the multi sheet map sets are incomplete, as in the United States with three sheets of six. Maps are both hand painted and printed in full and outline color. Covers are half leather brown marbled paper covered boards with "Stieler, Hand-Atlas." stamped in gilt on the spine.

Maps: 88 Reference: cf Espenhorst 2.1.1.6; not in Phillips.
This is actually an unrecorded edition in Espenhorst and Phillips - it is the 90 map 6th edition listed by Espenhorst, but he shows the last date of that edition as 1879 (this copy missing map No. 47). All of this copy's maps are dated 1880, except for two dated 1879. The United States six sheet map is dated 1880 and there are some small changes on the Texas sheet from the 1881 revised maps that appear in the 95 map 7th edition of 1881. With full and outline hand painted color. Bound in untitled half leather marbled paper covered boards.

STUCCHI, ACHILLE; BORDIGA, F. 1856
America Settentrionale E Meridionale Nuovamente corretta ed accresciuta. 1856. F. Bordiga inc. Milano presso Achille Stucchi Piazza di S. Gio. in Era No. 412. Casa Picinini. (with two inset maps).
Milano: Stucchi. Type: Separate Map Size: 52x75 Scale: 1:31,680,000 Reference: cf Tooley Dictionary p.603.

Shows North and South America, with two inset maps of Isola Di St. Domingo and Isola Della Martinica. A pretty map, and very out of date - the western U.S. portions look like they were copied from an 1815 map. Tooley lists several members of the Stucchi family as engravers in Milan, but not Achille. This map was probably issued in the 1820's or 30's, and them reissued with minimal updating in 1856. With outline color.

STURGES, DANIEL; EARLY, ELEAZER. 1818
Map Of The State of Georgia Prepared from actual Surveys and other Documents for Eleazer Early By Daniel Sturges. Entered According to Act of Congress by Eleazer Early Proprietor. Engraved by Saml. Harrison 1818. Published & Sold By Eleazer Early Savannah Georgia and By John Melish & Samuel Harrison Philadelphia.
Savannah: Eleazer Early. Type: Wall Map Size: 113x141 Scale: 1:506,880 Reference: P-Maps 297; Ristow p. 128-131(part illustrated); Streeter 1162.
Ristow mentions two editions with the same title, date and imprint, and with the later edition having "a number of changes and additions... in the southern Alabama portion of the map." We believe this copy is the first edition as we can detect no plate changes in the areas mentioned. This is the first large scale map of Georgia and it ranks in importance with the other large Southern State and Territory maps of the period: Wilson's South Carolina of 1822, Madison's Virginia of 1807 and 1818, Price and Strothers' North Carolina of 1808, and Vignoles' Florida of 1823. While it was undoubtedly the most accurate Georgia map when published, it quickly came under criticism by Tanner in his Geographical Memoir of 1823 for his American Atlas - he found the delineation of the Savannah River to be more correct in the Wilson 1822 Map of South Carolina. It has a lovely cartouche vignette, a table of distances, a statistical table, and "Remarks, Statistical and Geological." Streeter: "All in all an important and elaborate map of Georgia in the first part of the nineteenth century." Full color by county, without rollers.

New York: G.W. & C.B. Colton & Co. Type: Pocket Map
Size: 146x140 Scale: 1:96,000 Reference: P-Maps 302.
Huge, large scale map of one of the early and important coal regions of West Virginia. Land owners' holdings are shown in color with dates of original patents (George Washington had large holdings here). Six sections show the amount and kinds of coal found at different parts of the valley. An inset map of West Virginia shows the current and future water and rail connections between the Kanawha Valley and Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Several columns of text describe the geography, climate, and types of coal to be found. The sheer amount of information is impressive. This must be one of the best coal mining maps of its time, if not the largest. Map folds into embossed dark brown cloth covers 22x15 with "Title Map Of The Great Kanawha Coal Field. John S. Swann." in gilt.

TANNER, HENRY S. 1823
A New American Atlas Containing Maps Of The Several States of the North American Union, Projected and drawn on a Uniform Scale from Documents found in the public Offices of the United States and State Governments, and other Original and Authentic Information, By Henry S. Tanner ... Philadelphia: Published By H.S. Tanner. 1823. (title page only) Writing Drawn and Engraved by Joseph Perkins.
Philadelphia: Henry Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 59x42 Maps: 18 Reference: P4463/P4462.
The first edition. One of the finest American atlases. Original parts bound together, but without the original paper wraps. Part 1 is P4463 (copy 3); Part 2,3,4,&5 is P4462 (copy 2). The various parts have been colored differently, indicating that they were bound together as an atlas after being issued separately. Many of the maps have been trimmed close by the original binder. Tanner updated the maps frequently over the next decade, and issued several editions or compilations of the atlas with the title pages dated 1823 or 1825, but with some of the maps dated as late as 1833. The collation of our five issues shows that no two copies are alike and that the maps were being constantly updated; however the choice of maps for each edition reveals a somewhat haphazard approach with some of the earliest states of a particular map appearing the one of the later atlas editions. A completely revised edition was issued in 1839, with the title page and most of the maps dated 1839 (see P1382). Atlas is bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Tanner's American Atlas" stamped in gilt on a front leather label.

TANNER, HENRY S. (1824)
A New American Atlas Containing Maps Of The Several States of the North American Union, Projected and drawn on a Uniform Scale from Documents found in the public Offices of the United States and State Governments, and other Original and Authentic Information, By Henry S. Tanner ... Philadelphia: Published By H.S. Tanner. 1823. (title page only) Writing Drawn and Engraved by Joseph Perkins. Barralet del. Humphrys sc.
Philadelphia: Henry Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 61x44 Maps: 18 Reference: cf P4463/P4462; DAB (David Paul Brown).
This edition does not collate to any of the Phillips editions. The title page is dated 1823, as is the memoir. Nine of the maps are first issues (the same as the 1823 atlas), seven are intermediate states between the 1823 and 1825 atlas editions, and two are the same as the 1825 edition maps. Of the seven intermediate state maps, four are unique to this issue ("Kentucky, Tennessee and Part of Illinois" - the only issue with "Part of Illinois" added to the title, New York - treaty line is in Lake Ontario but not in Lake Erie, America and World maps both show New Georgian Island discoveries in the Arctic but not "Hearn's Archipelago"). 1824 is our best guess on the date of atlas publication - the Ohio and Illinois map is dated 1825, but probably prospectively; the large number of intermediate state maps places this between the 1823 and 1825 edition. The name of David Paul Brown is stamped on the front cover and his signature is on the title page presenting this copy to Rev. Samuel Clason. Brown (1795-1872) was a prominent and wealthy Philadelphia lawyer, poet and playwright who "lived on a most lavish scale in accord with his father's theory that a prosperous man should spend his income freely to avoid the evils of indolence" (DAB). Certainly the binding of this atlas reflects that attitude - it is in full red morocco, stamped in gold on all edges and "American Atlas. Tanner" on the spine, and probably made by Davis of Philadelphia who produced the most elegant of the Tanner atlas bindings (see our 1825 edition). Maps are hand painted in full color.

TANNER, HENRY S. 1825
A New American Atlas Containing Maps Of The Several States of the North American Union, Projected and drawn on a Uniform Scale from Documents found in the public Offices of the United States and State Governments, and other Original and Authentic Information, By Henry S. Tanner ... Philadelphia: Published By H.S. Tanner. 1825. (title page only) Writing Drawn and Engraved by Joseph Perkins. Barralet del. Humphrys sc.
Philadelphia: Henry Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 62x43 Maps: 18 Reference: cfP3669.
2nd edition, maps and title page dated 1825, except S.A. 1823. Like P3669, except S.A. dated 1823 and N.A. dated 1825. Fine copy with extra large sheets bound in full tree calf edged in gilt - the most beautiful and elegant binding we have seen of an American Atlas, stamped "Davis, Binder - Philada." The spine is titled "American Atlas" on a red leather label in gilt. Memoir dated 1825, with slight changes from the 1823 memoir. The index sheet is numbered 1-22 in two columns, vs in one column in the 1823 edition and in two columns numbered 1-17 in the 1833 editions. The maps of the World and America have arctic discoveries not shown in earlier editions, as does the N.A. map which also shows the Russian Alaska boundary of 1824. The state maps have various updates from the earlier issues (mostly adding counties) although three (Maine etc., Penn., N. & S.Carolina) have 1825 dates with no obvious changes from the earlier issues. See our table comparing all five editions map by map. According to Wolter (Mountains & Rivers article) the 1825 S.A. map has a more elaborate mountains and rivers diagram than any earlier issues. This issue of the atlas can be truly called an edition - all the maps have 1825 dates and the geography is current; the 1823 parts issue is also an edition. Later editions were compilations - some maps were updated, others were not or were taken from out of date issues. Full color.

The Traveller's Guide. A Map Of The Roads, Canals And Steam Boat Routes Of The United States ... Designed for the use of Travellers, By H.S. Tanner. Published by H.S. Tanner, 177 Chestnut St. Philadelphia. Entered ... 21st day of May 1825, by H.S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania.
Phila: H.S. Tanner. Type: Guide Book Size: 47x56 Maps: 1 Scale: 1:4,118,400 Reference: Phillips Maps 884.
First edition of Tanner's guide. In pocket map form, with the map and no text, as issued. Ristow says the first edition was 1834, and while that was the first issue of the enlarged guide with text, this 1825 map is from the same plate as the 1834 map and thus should be seen as the first edition of the guide. The entire lower right corner of the map is taken up with lists of "Steam Boat Routes Throughout the United States," which are keyed to letters in the map margins. In the 1834 and later editions, these lists are replaced with inset maps of U.S. cities, and the lists are given, along with added stage and railroad routes, in the body of the text. Outline color by state. In red leather covers, 13x8, gilt stamped "Traveller's Guide Through The U. States."

A Map Of Philadelphia And Adjacent Country. Published by H.S. Tanner, Philadelphia, 1826.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 28x37 Scale: 1:130,000 Reference: Phillips Philadelphia 83 (Troost);Marcou 271 (Troost); Tanner Catalogue.
The non geological version of the Troost map in pocket form. Tanner published this map in two forms: colored geologically to accompany Tanner's publication of Gerard Troost's Geological Survey of the Environs of Philadelphia, 1826, and, (eliminating "designed to illustrate the geological survey made by G. Troost" from the title and the geological coloring), as a map of Philadelphia and the adjacent country. Marcou says the Troost book and map are rare. This pocket map version is not in Phillips and is quite scarce. See Tanner 1829 Memoir catalogue, No. 50 and 51 for a listing of this map in both forms. Covers are a red leather and stamped with "Philadelphia." in gilt.

Tanner. 1826. Entered ... 10th day of June 1825, by H.S. Tanner ... (inset) Map Of The Roads &c. From Vera Cruz & Alvarado To Mexico.
Philadelphia: H. S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 58x72 Scale: 1:5,195,520 Reference: Martin/Ristow p207-8 (A la Carte); Wheat 364 ; Streeter 3824.
This is the second edition and the source of the White Gallaher and White map of Mexico issued in 1828, which was reissued by Disturnell in 1846. See our 1846 and 1847 issues of this Tanner map. This copy, although having several areas of loss, is significant in being the personal copy of Anthony Dey, one of the three principals of the Galveston Bay and Texas Land Company. It is not signed by Dey, but was found with many of his personal papers including documents relating to the Company (see our #5177). On the map, the lands owned by the Company are outlined in manuscript. The Company controled a vast area of land in southeastern Texas and was one of the earliest to offer lands for sale to colonists - several of its promotional materials are listed in Streeter Texas. Outline color by state. Map is folded into red leather covers 15x8.5 stamped with "Mexico." in gold.

Phila: Henry Tanner. Type: Case Map Size: 110x146 Scale: 1:6,000,000 Reference: cfPhillips Maps p599.
Map is folding, dissected into 16 sections, and backed with linen. This was probably removed from the American Atlas 1825 or later edition. This is state 4 of our four copies: State 1 is in the 1823 atlas and lacks Franklin's Gulf in the arctic and does not show the 1824 Russian Boundary; State 2 is in the 1833 (early) atlas and is the same as State 1 except it shows Franklin's Gulf; State 3 is in the 1825 atlas, is the same as State 2 except it shows the 1824 Russian boundary and says Improved to 1825; State 4 adds the 1825 Russian boundary in the far northwest and also says Improved to 1825, but we have dated it (1826). Map Of Pennsylvania And New Jersey. By H.S. Tanner. 1827. Published by H.S. Tanner, Philadelphia. Entered ... 1823, by H.S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania. Engraved by H.S. Tanner & Assistants.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 50x68
Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: None found.
This is the American Atlas map of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, in transition to becoming the later more full blown canal map of 1830 (see our #3061). Several new canals are shown that do not appear on the atlas map of 1825: the Ohio Canal, Pennsylvania Canal, Union Canal, Hudson & Delaware Canal; completed and contemplated canals are shown in the Explanation, for the first time. Tanner was very interested in showing the growth of "internal improvements" in the states and the expansion of the canals of Pennsylvania in the period from 1825 to 1845 was shown progressively on a series of his maps (see also our #3942, 4551, and 4862 (1833 issue of the American Atlas with the Pennsylvania Canal map dated 1833). Map has outline color by county, and is folded into untitled red leather covers 15x8.5 with a border pattern stamped in gilt.

To accompany his "United States of America: by H.S. Tanner, 1829." This book is a valuable listing of most of the sources for the map, as well as recent improvements and surveys throughout the United States. Subsequent editions of the map were accompanied by updated editions of this book. Has a catalog called "A List of Maps, Charts and Geographical Works" by Tanner. With half leather bindings and "Tanner's Memoirs" printed on the spine.

United States of America: by H.S. Tanner, 1829. Entered ... the 10th day of June, 1829, by H.S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania. Engraved by H.S. Tanner, assisted by E.B. Dawson, W. Allen & J. Knight.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Case Map Size: 117x155 Scale: 1:1,960,000 Reference: Phillips Maps p885; Howes T28; Ristow p.198.
The first edition. With inset maps of fourteen cities, South Florida, Oregon and the Mandan Districts (with a chart of the Outlet of Oregon River), two Statistical tables, and fourteen profiles of portages, canals and railroads. With Tanner's "Memoir...Intended to Accompany His New Map of the United States." This was one of the most popular general maps of the eastern United States and went through several editions (Phillips, Karrow, Yale, and Howes show editions of 1829, 1830, 1832, 1834, 1836, 1838, 1839, 1841, 1843, and 1850). Distances on all major roads are shown between towns, an effort that Tanner states in the Memoir caused the map to take twice as long to produce. Latitude is measured from Washington, D.C., making this a truly "American" map. Although Tanner states that "The new map of the United States is founded on, and embraces generally, the valuable and original information, contained in my American Atlas," the general form of the map bears a striking resemblance to J.&A. Walker's Map of the United States published in London in 1827, a fact that Tanner does not mention. Howes (T23) shows "An Alphabetical Index to the four sheet map of the United States," also to accompany editions of the map. This is one of best early large maps of the United States and the premier map for its period, without equal until Mitchell produced the first edition of his Reference and Distance Map of the United States in 1834. Kept in a half leather case with ties to keep it closed. Measuring 23x18, it has "Tanner's United States" embossed on the red leather spine.

Map Of Pennsylvania And New Jersey. By H.S. Tanner. 1830. Published by H.S. Tanner, Philadelphia. Entered ... 20th day of August 1823, by H.S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania. Engraved by H.S. Tanner & Assistants.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 50x68 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: cf P-Maps 681 (Book on Penn. Canals).
Early edition of Canal map of 1834, on the 1823 base map. See No. 19 in Tanner's Memoir catalogue of 1829 - this is a listing of this map (we assume) published in 1829 or earlier. Later, it became the map used in Tanner's book of 1834 on Pennsylvania and New Jersey Canals and Railroads. This map is the same as the atlas map of 1823, except the existing and proposed canals and railroads are shown in color and many are delineated that do not appear on the atlas map. Outline color by state. Map is folded into red leather covers 15x8.5 with "Pennsylvania Canals" stamped in gilt.

TANNER, HENRY S. (1833)
A New American Atlas Containing Maps Of The Several States of the North American Union, Projected and drawn on a Uniform Scale from Documents found in the public Offices of the United States and State Governments, and other Original and Authentic Information, By Henry S. Tanner ... Philadelphia: Published By H.S. Tanner. 1825. (title page only) Writing Drawn and Engraved by Joseph Perkins, Philadelphia.
Philadelphia: Henry Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 60x43 Maps: 18 Reference: cfP1376.
3rd edition, 1833 (early), maps dated variously, title page dated 1825. Like P1376, except only Illinois & Missouri is dated 1833. Florida is later than the 1825 edition, but is dated 1823. Louisiana & Mississippi and Georgia & Alabama are dated 1825. Compared to the 1825 edition, 2 maps are later, 8 maps are the same, and 8 maps are earlier; compared to the 1823 edition, 8 maps are later, 8 maps are the same, and 2 maps are earlier! This leads one to conclude that when Tanner assembled this atlas in 1833 his stock of maps was depleted and he had to use some earlier maps to complete the book. Ohio is earlier than the 1823 edition (no counties in northwest part - the counties were formed after 1820 when the land was purchased from the Indians) and South America is dated 1818 vs 1821 in the 1823 edition (P1376 also has S.A. dated 1818). Three maps (N.A., Virginia, Kentucky & Tenn) fall between the 1823 and 1825 editions. The memoir is identical to the 1825, but the index sheet is unusual - it lists only the American maps 1-17 in two columns and does not list the World, America, Europe, Asia and Africa (which appear in that order before the other maps in the book). Covers are half leather, marbled paper covered boards with "American Atlas" stamped in gold on a leather label.

Tanner ... Philadelphia: Published By Henry S. Tanner. 1825. (title page only) Writing Drawn and Engraved by Joseph Perkins, Philadelphia. Barralet del. Humphrys sc.
Philadelphia: Henry Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 61x43 Maps: 22 Reference: cf P1376.
18 maps on 22 sheets. 4th edition, 1833 (late), title page dated 1825. It is difficult to call either this or the 1833 (early) an edition - they are really compilations of maps that Tanner had on hand in 1833 or 1834 when he issued the atlases. This copy has eight maps that have dates or contents that are later than the 1833 (early) issue, three maps that are earlier, and seven maps than are the same. As with the 1833 (early) issue, this copy has eight maps that are earlier than the 1825 edition maps (although these eight are not the same eight that are in the 1833 (early) issue. The title page, index and memoir are the same as 1833 (early). Pennsylvania and New Jersey are now titled "A Map of The Canals & Railroads Of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the Adjoining States... 1833." Maps of North and South Carolina and of Kentucky and Tennessee are dated 1827; maps of Africa and of Asia are dated 1828; South America is a mixed edition, the top dated 1823, the bottom 1818; the four sheet North America map is dated 1825 and includes the 1825 dated boundary between Russian and British America, making it the latest of the four states in our four copies of the atlas; the Illinois and Missouri map is dated 1833; Ohio and Indiana is between the 1823 and 1825 issues, making a fourth state of the map. Phillips 1376 is similar to this copy, except that Virginia is dated 1833 and North America 1829. One possible reason for Tanner's inconsistent assembly of these 1833 atlases is his production at the same time of the parts (1832-35) for his New Universal Atlas which eventually replaced the New American Atlas (Ristow p. 200). Full color. Covers are half leather marbled paper covered boards with "Tanner's American Atlas" stamped in gilt on the spine.

Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Guide Book Size: 16x10 Maps: 6 Reference: Howes T24.
The first edition. The large map in outline color is titled "The Traveller's Guide Or Map Of The Roads, Canals & Rail Roads of the United States With the distances from place to place. By H.S. Tanner 1834." This is the only edition of the map to have a date on it; we can find no other changes to the maps in the 1836 and 1837 editions. In the 1842 edition many of the upper left inset maps are dropped to allow better coverage of Iowa. There is an extra map of Pennsylvania tipped in that is the Anthony Finley 1834 double page atlas map of Pennsylvania, but with Tanner's name as publisher and printed on thin folding paper. Included are four small maps of Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. With a catalogue of Tanner's works. Phila: H.S. Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 41x36 Maps: 69 Reference: P774; cfP4320.
The non American maps may be partly derived from the Dower/Teesdale General Atlas of 1831 - see P3549 & P772. North America map has states in different colors and has the following differences from the 1843 Atlas copy: San Felipe de Austin (as opposed to San Felipe in the 1843), and Sioux and Wisconsin Dists (not in the 1843 edition). Wheat mistakenly uses a post 1836 issue as an illustration in Trans Miss and calls it 1836. The Mexico map has differences from 1843 issue: Houston appears in 1843 and not in 1836, and San Felipe de Austin in 1836 is San Felipe in 1843. The Michigan map changes substantially between the 1836, the 1842, and the 1843 editions, especially the shoreline. See notes to the (1838) edition which also has a title page dated 1836. Bound in half leather, marbled paper covered boards, with "Tanner's Universal Atlas. 1836." stamped in gilt along the spine. Full color.

Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 70x56 Scale: 1:1,172,160 Reference: Karrow 4-1459.
This is a very late edition of this map. The latest American Atlas edition we have seen is 1839. In the upper right corner, the map has been extended beyond the neat line to show the developing areas of southern Wisconsin, around Mineral Point. Many new counties have been added in Missouri and Illinois. The copyright date has been changed to 1836. The southwestern shore of Lake Michigan has been completely redrawn. Proposed railroads are prominently displayed crisscrossing Illinois - the first such depictions on any editions of this map. Full color by county, folded into black leather covers 15x8.5 with "Illinois & Missouri." stamped in gold.

The seventh edition. Michigan peninsula has been substantially redrawn, the profiles in the lower left corner of the map have been eliminated to reveal a good bit of Republican Texas, Wisconsin and Iowa are shown, Missouri is enlarged in the northwestern corner, and new counties are added in most of the settling states. This is a major revision of the map. There is added a new key index system of numbers (and letters for Texas) to go with an attached "Alphabetical Index to the Four Sheet Map of The United States" (see our #4846). The index is bound in patterned tan cloth covered boards 18.5x11 with a label reading "Index Of Places, Contained On Tanner's Map Of The United States." Most copies of this map are either colored in outline or in full color by state; this copy is in full color by county - the only such example we have seen. Streeter Texas 1232 is the 1836 edition of this map, which apparently shows Texas in much the same form and includes the separate index volume. Map is edged in green cloth, dissected into 60 sections and mounted on linen. Folds with marbled end sheets into the original half leather red cloth covers 22x17 with ties; title on the spine is stamped in gold and reads "Map Of The United States With Index 1839."

Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 71x57 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Karrow 4-1459.
This is a very late edition of this map. The latest American Atlas edition we have seen is 1839. State one of the map is from 1823; state two is dated 1825 below the title, with an 1823 copyright statement at bottom left; state three has an 1833 date on both the map and the copyright; and this, state four, has an 1840 date on the map with an 1839 copyright statement at the bottom. In the upper right corner, the map has been extended beyond the neat line to show the developing areas of southern Wisconsin, around Mineral Point. Many new counties have been added in Missouri and Illinois. Proposed railroads are prominently displayed crisscrossing Illinois. Full color by county with the pocket map covers missing.

Map Of North & South Carolina. By H.S. Tanner. 1840. Published by H.S. Tanner, Philadelphia. Engraved by H.S. Tanner & Assistants. (above the neat line) American Atlas.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 55x74 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: None found for this issue.
On the cover: Tanner's Travelling Map of N. & S. Carolina With The Roads, Canals, Railroads, Counties, &c. 1840. First issued with the American Atlas of 1823. Changes from the 1827 issue in the American Atlas of (1833) include the appearance of two new counties in western North Carolina (Macon and Yancy) and the addition of several railroads in North and South Carolina. The copyright notice has been removed from the lower left corner. Full color by county, map is folded into dark brown cloth covers 15x9.5 titled "Tanner's Travelling Map Of N.&S. Carolina With The Roads. Canals. Railroads. Counties.&c 1840" stamped in gold.

The American Traveller; Or Guide Through the United States. Containing Brief Notices of the Several States, Cities, Principal Towns ... Sixth Edition. By H.S. Tanner. Philadelphia: Published by the Author, No. 309 Market Street. 1840. (on verso) Entered ... 1839, by H.S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania.
Phila: H.S. Tanner. Type: Guide Book Size: 17x11 Maps: 5 Reference: Howes T24.
This sixth edition book is larger in size than the 1837 third edition, with the large outline color map (146x55) undated, and changed considerably from the 1837 edition - the insets of city maps on the left border have been eliminated to reveal more of the settling up of Missouri and Iowa. Title of large map is, "The Travellers Guide or Map of the Roads, Canals & Rail Roads of the United States, With the distances from place to place by H.S. Tanner." In dark cloth covers, gilt stamped "Tanner's American Traveller Or Guide Through The United States With Maps Plans &c 1840," 144 pages, 4 plans - Baltimore, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and large folding map.

2 maps from Universal Atlas, 2 from Finley's, all uncolored. The use of Finley's maps from his General Atlas, 1834, for Pennsylvania and Virginia is interesting. The maps have been updated, especially in the case of Virginia. Tanner used Finley material (see Tanner's Africa Map) in the 1840's. Cloth covered boards with the title on the spine.

A New Universal Atlas Containing Maps of the various Empires, Kingdoms, States and Republics Of The World. With a special map of each of the United States, Plans of Cities &c. Comprehended in seventy sheets and forming a series of One Hundred And Seventeen Maps, Plans And Sections, By H.S. Tanner ... Philadelphia, Published By The Author. 1842. (title page by) J. Knight Sc.
Phila: H.S. Tanner. Type: World Atlas Size: 46x37 Maps: 72 Reference: not in Phillips.
Last edition published by Tanner. First edition to have the Bradford map of Texas. See Michigan map in this and the 1836 and 1843 editions for interesting changes in the shoreline of the peninsula. Disturnell's name appears on the map publishing credits along with Tanner's, as Tanner and Disturnell, 124 Broadway, New York (which is the same address used by Colton until 1840 - it appears there may have been a link between Tanner, Colton, Smith and Disturnell at this time). Because the name T.R. Tanner also appears on the map credits, we assume the Tanner of Tanner and Disturnell is T.R. Tanner, son of H.S. and Disturnell's junior partner in N.Y.C. (Ristow p318). This edition also includes a unique map of New York City by J. Calvin Smith and published by Tanner and Disturnell, that does not appear in any other editions. Full color. Bound in half leather, brown cloth covered boards, with "Tanner's New Universal Atlas." stamped in gilt on the front cover.

Plans And Sections, By H.S. Tanner ... Philadelphia, Published By Carey & Hart. 1843. (title page by) J. Knight Sc.
Phila: Carey and Hart. Type: World Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 72 Reference: P6099.
Engraved; has Bradford Texas '38. Tanner transferred copyrights to Carey and Hart in 1842 (on title page of 42/43 edition, and see Ristow). The Carey and Hart 1843 edition is engraved; it appears that the 1844 edition was also engraved (Phillips lists engravers); our 1845 edition is lithographed and has green borders used in the 1846 and later Mitchell editions (scroll border is different though). Thus Carey and Hart did the first litho edition and then sold the plates to Mitchell; Mitchell did not do the first litho ed as Ristow says. The sequence of the 36-43-45 editions shows constant changes of shoreline, counties, lakes, railroads, color, and graphic emphasis. In the 1843 edition, Texas by Bradford appears after Mexico - indicating its status as a separate country. This map is identical to Bradford's Texas map in the Universal Illustrated Atlas of1842. Bound in half leather, dark green cloth covered boards, with "Tanner's Universal Atlas. 1843." stamped in gilt on a black cloth label on the front cover. Maps in full color.

Entered ... 1844, by Carey & Hart ... Pennsylvania. (title page by) J. Knight Sc.
Phila: Carey and Hart. Type: World Atlas Size: 45x38 Maps: 72 Reference: P4324.
Last engraved edition; Bradford Texas '38. This is the engraved edition that Cary and Hart transferred to lithographic plates to make the 1845 edition. There are only minor changes on a few maps (mostly additions to the key to Towns, Capitals, etc.) between the 1844 and the 1845 editions; however, there are many changes between the 1843 and the 1844 editions - the extra index page is dropped, the City maps are placed next to their appropriate state maps, and numerous changes to the individual state maps. All the maps now say published by Cary and Hart, Philadelphia (only a few in the 1843 edition had this) and the copyright notice for Cary and Hart is on the Title. Also, the Bradford Texas makes its last appearance as a fully engraved map in the 1844 edition; in the early 1845 it has a lithographed border and in the late 1845 it is replaced with a map by C.S. Williams. Maps in full color. Bound in half leather, brown cloth covered boards, with "Tanner's Universal Atlas. 1844." stamped in gilt on the front cover.

Late 1845 edition. Not in Phillips. 1st Lithographed edition, with the plates having been transferred to stone from the original copper plates by Carey and Hart, using the 1844 edition. Ristow is incorrect in saying that Mitchell did the transfer to lithography - Carey and Hart did the transfer in 1845 and Mitchell bought the entire product from them and published a new edition in 1846. Mitchell states in various advertisements in his 1846 publications (see "Accompaniment to Mitchell's New Map of Texas, Oregon and California...") that he purchased the copyrights to the atlas from Carey and Hart in May of 1845 (see Ristow p. 310 also) but if that is so, then Carey and Hart had already done the lithographic transfers as evidenced by their early and late 1845 editions - unless Mitchell put both 1845 editions out under Carey and Hart's name - which we view as very unlikely. Tanner. Third Edition, 1846. Published by H.S. Tanner. Entered ... 1846, by H.S. Tanner ... New York. (inset) Map Of The Roads &c. From Vera Cruz & Alvarado To Mexico.
New York: H. S. Tanner. Type: Pocket Map Size: 58x72 Scale: 1:5,195,520 Reference: Martin/Ristow p207-8 (A la Carte).
3rd edition. Martin shows 10 issues 1825-47. 1st edition was 1825 (see W.H. copy). The 1826 edition of this map (see our copy) was the base for the White, Gallaher & White "Mapa de los Estados Unidos de Mejico" of 1828, which was then copied by Disturnell in 1846 (see our copy). Originally, Tanner copied this map from the southwestern portion of his Map of North America. This 1846 edition has updated the western cartography to include Fremont's route and topography in California and the Rocky Mountains. Interestingly, Lake Tahoe is labeled Flag Lake, a name we have never seen before. The 1826 edition of this map established the more northerly boundary of New Mexico and Mexico that White Gallaher & White copied and was ultimately used by Disturnell in his map, and affected the treaty negotiations (see Martin). See our 1847, fifth edition, #5158. Full color map, folded into dark brown cloth covers 15x9.5 with "Tanner's Travelling Map Of Mexico" stamped in gilt.

Map of California New Mexico Texas &c. Published by H.S. Tanner No. 156 Fulton St. New York 1849. (with) United States, Mexico &c. Shewing the Routes from N. York to St. Francisco by Land & Water.
New York: H.S. Tanner Type: Pocket Map Size: 42x56 Scale: 1: 5,130,000 Reference: Wheat 647; Wheat Gold 128.
This is taken from Tanner's Map of the United States of Mexico, with the addition of the California Gold Regions colored in yellow, and an added inset map of "United States, Mexico &c. Shewing the Routes from N. York to St. Francisco by Land & Water." The map has been updated to show Fremont's route across the Great Basin and the "Boundary of 1848" with Mexico. The 14x9 cover entitled "Tanner's Travelling Map of California & c" has on the inside front a "Table of Routes from New-York to California, with the Modes of Conveyance, Distances, Time and Fares." This is a very late map for Tanner, still printed from engraved plates (although the impression looks a bit tired), in the next to last year of his publishing career. He died in Brooklyn in 1858.

TANNER, HENRY S. JUN'R. 1840
A New Guide To The Public Buildings ... Of The City of Philadelphia, And Adjoining Districts: With A Brief Description And A Plan Of The City And Environs. Philadelphia: H. Tanner, Jun'r. No. 32 South Sixth Street. 1840. (on verso) Entered ... 1840, By H. Tanner, Jr. ... Pennsylvania. (with map) Philadelphia 1840. Published by H.S. Tanner, Phiadelphia. Entered .. 1836 by Henry S. Tanner ... Pennsylvania. (above neat line) Tanner's Universal Atlas.
Philadelphia: H. Tanner, Jun'r. Type: Guide Book Size: 13x8.5; 38x30 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:17,400 (map) Reference: Ristow p202 (re: H. Tanner, Jun'r.).
By Tanner's son. Uses Universal Atlas map of Philadelphia. Publications by Tanner's son Henry Jr. are not common. He is listed as publisher of several of H.S. Tanner's works in the early 1840's (see 1842 Traveler's Guide and 1841 "Central States") but this is the only work we have seen where he is the author as well. Excellent 36 page catalogue of "Maps and Geographical Works for sale by H. Tanner, Jun'r. Philadelphia." The works listed are all the H.S. Tanner publications. It appears that Tanner's sons, T.R. Tanner and H. Tanner, Jun'r. divided the business between New York and Philadelphia respectively and took over responsibility for selling H.S. Tanner's products , and others, from 1840 until around 1850. T.R. was in partnership with John Disturnell for a time in the early 1840's (see Tanner and Disturnell). Map and guide are in brown cloth covers 13x8.5 with "Philadelphia City Guide. 1841" stamped in gold.

TANNER, HENRY S.; ARMROYD, GEORGE 1830
A Connected View of The Whole Internal Navigation of the United States; ... Corrected and Improved From the Edition of 1826, And Much Enlarged, ... With A Sheet Map, ... The Map Has Been Engraved For the Purpose ... On A Reduced Scale, From Tanner's Excellent Four Sheet Map of the United States, Recently Published. ... By a Citizen of the United States. Philadelphia: Published by the Author ... Printed by Lydia R. Bailey. 1830. (on verso) ...on the seventeenth day of April ... 1830, George Armroyd ... hath deposited ... a Book ... Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia: George Armroyd. Type: Geography Book Size: 43x57 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes A317; cf Modelski #1; Buck 189.
2nd (and best) edition, first with Tanner's Map of the Canals and Railroads of the United States. The map is copyright 1830. The book lists over 150 canals and navigation improvements in great detail. The map shows the most important canals and two railroads in operation, and one proposed railroad (the Great Western Railroad, from New York to the Mississippi River)plus two others. The canals and railroad lines are in color. The first edition appeared in 1826 with 10 maps but without the Tanner map (see our copy #4214). Tanner in 1834 and 1840 (see our copies, #2655 and #979) published a book on Canals and Railroads that uses the same map, updated. Modelski lists the 1834 Tanner map as "one of the earliest general maps of the eastern United States showing railroads in operation." Since this 1830 copy is an earlier state of the same map, it probably qualifies as the true "first." Two folding plates of profiles of canals and railroads at the back. Not in Streeter, Eberstadt, or Graff. Bound in half leather boards with "A Connected View" on the spine.

TANNER, HENRY S.; WILSON, JOHN 1822
A Map Of South Carolina, Constructed and Drawn from the District Surveys, ordered by the Legislature: by John Wilson, late Civil & Military Engineer of So: Cara. The Astronomical Observations by Professor Geo: Blackburn & I.M. Elford. Engraved by H.S. Tanner Philadelphia.
Philadelphia: H.S. Tanner. Type: Separate Map Size: 112x147 Scale: 1:380,160 Reference: P-Maps 822; Ristow 127-128.
The first large scale map of South Carolina made after independence. With an inset map of Charleston Harbor. Wilson was the State Civil and Military Engineer and the creation of an accurate state map reflecting all the new internal improvements was one his responsibilities. Tanner refers to the resulting map as "one of our best and most scientific maps..." It was made using district surveys commissioned by the state, which later became the source of the district maps in Mills' Atlas of South Carolina of 1825. This copy is one of twenty discovered by the University of South Carolina, in the four original sheets, in superb condition.

TARDIEU, AMBROISE; VUILLEMIN, A. 1863
Atlas Universel De Geographie Ancienne Et Moderne Dresse Par Ambroise Tardieu Revu Et Corrige Par A. Vuillemin Pour L'Intelligence De La Geographie Universelle De Malte-Brun Lavallee. Paris Furne Et Cie, Libraires-Editeurs, Rue Saint-Andre-Des-Arts, 45. MDCCCLXIII. (opposite page) ... Paris. Typographie De Henri Plon, Imprimeur De L'Empereur, Rue Garanciere, 8.
Paris: Furne Et Cie. Type: World Atlas Size: 43x29 Maps: 31 Reference: cf P6144 (1861 edition).
This is a beautifully engraved and colored atlas that has hopelessly out of date maps of the United States in the west. California, Nevada, Utah and most of New Mexico are still called "Nouvelle Californie." If one regards this as a late 1840's atlas, it is impressive. Bound in dark green marbled paper covered boards with a black label reading "Atlas Universel De Geographie Ancienne Et Moderne Dresse Par Ambroise Tardieu Revue Et Corrige Par A. Vuillemin. Furne Et Cie, Editeurs." in gold print; spine has paste down label reading "A. Tardieu. A. Vuillemin. Atlas..." with some loss making most of it unreadable. Full color.

Two sheets. Sources noted by author: "This Map is executed according to the astronomical observations of Baron de Humboldt, and Don Joaquin de Ferrer. For Upper Louisiana, we have profited of the maps and travels of Pike, and those of Lewis and Clark; for Lower Louisiana, of the map and description of this State by M. Darby; for the Territory of Arkansas and the Province of Texas, of the map of the United States by M. Melish; and for Mexico, of the map of New Spain by Baron de Humboldt, and that of this country by M. Arrowsmith...." Prime meridian is Washington D.C. As implied in this note, the Tardieu family of cartographers were well connected in the mapping world and did excellent quality cartography for several generations, see Tooley's Dictionary of Map Makers.

TARDIEU, P.F. 1802
United States of Nth. America. Carte des Etats-Unis de L'Amerique Septentrionale Copiee et Gravee sur celle d'Arrowsmith Corigee...
Paris: P.F. Tardieu. Type: Case Map Size: 122x139 Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1385; cf P-Maps 876&873.
First edition. This map is entirely a copy of Arrowsmith's Map of the United States (see our 1796 issue) except for certain parts (mentioned by Tardieu in his "Note" above the title) that Tardieu has altered and improved, based on other sources. A Plan of Washington, D.C. is also added. Later editions depart more radically from Arrowsmith and this actually becomes a better map in many respects (certainly more up to date regarding new States and Territories) than the Arrowsmith editions, although Arrowsmith remains better in the areas west of the Mississippi. G. Gibbs name on label- a famous scientist, see DAB. Map folds into a new brown cloth folding case 32x26 with "United States P.F. Tardieu 1802" stamped in gilt on the spine.

The second edition, with major additions and corrections in the Southwestern portions of the map and around the Ohio River, Maine, etc. This edition is more current than the 1808-1811 Arrowsmith edition. Printed on four sheets of blue paper, and originally folded once in the middle of each sheet - indicating that it was bound in an atlas. Inset titled: "Plan De La Ville De Washington situee sur le Territoire de Columbia cede par les Etats de Virginie et Maryland Aux Etats Unis D'Amerique ...1800." With outline color by state. Scale: 1:1,584,000 Reference: Karrow 1-1412; cf P-Maps 876 & 873 (1808 and 1820 editions).

The date is estimated, the only date on the map being 1812. Compared to the 1812 edition, Alabama Territory is added (1817) and Mississippi is a state (1817). Indiana Territory has been divided into Illinois and Indiana Territories, Missouri Territory appears with Louisiana as a state (1812), and there are many additions of towns and roads in the Midwest and Southeast. Chicago appears. The only major topographical changes we can find are in the Florida/Georgia border and coast line. The next issue of this map was the 1820 dated issue. Comparing this map to the Arrowsmith "additions to 1819" issue of the Map of the United States, one is impressed that Tardieu's map is far more up to date. Even though Tardieu began by copying the Arrowsmith map, his editions are consistently more current with the political and topographical changes of the times. Map is in four sheets, each dissected into 15 sections, and backed and edged in linen. Outline color by state. Sheets folds into original brown marbled slip case 22x15 embossed in gold with "Metz. Ecole Royale D'Artillerie" on the front and "Tardieu. Etats-Unis D'Amerique" on the spine.

The map is dated 1820. Compared to the 18128 edition, Alabama is now a state (1819) as is Illinois (1819). Much new information is added in the area west of the Mississippi, as well as a new fifth sheet that adds all of Florida. Even though Tardieu began by copying the Arrowsmith map, his editions are consistently more current with the political and topographical changes of the times. Map is in five sheets. TAYLOR, DAVID 1834
New Travelling and Commercial Map of the Canadas, From the Sault of St. Marie to the River Saguenay, And A Large Section Of The United States Of America; Compiled from the latest Surveys & most approved Authorities. Dedicated By Permission To Commodore Robert Barrie, C.B. &c. &c. &c. By his Obliged Obedient Humble Servant, David Taylor, R.N. March 1834. Engraved By S. Stiles & Co. New York.
New York: S. Stiles & Co. Type: Case Map Size: 81x124 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: Winearls 103; Streeter 3848.
Scarce map of Upper Canada and the Northeastern United States west to eastern Illinois. This is, for its period, one of the most detailed maps of the U.S. and Canadian border area that we have seen. Taylor lists his sources carefully, and, mysteriously, it appears that this map was his only production, other than an obscure map of the Ottawa river country (Winearls 584). We believe that this is the first large Canadian map drawn by Canadians that was engraved in America - all of its predecessors, including the early maps by Smyth, Holland, and the Bouchettes, were engraved and printed in London. Uncolored. Map is in two sheets, each dissected into 30 sections. Folds into half leather marbled paper covered boards 17x12.

London: Henry Teesdale. Type: Chart MapCase Map Size: 127x198 Scale: 1:15,000,000 Reference: World p552.
1st edition 1841. Shows independent Texas. Similar to Mitchell's World which was first published in 1837. Although it looks like the Mitchell, particularly in the title and overall size, they are clearly different maps. Map is in two sheets, each dissected into 16 sections and edged in green cloth. Sheets have beautiful marbled paper end sheets, and fold in an elegant full red leather folio 39x27 embossed in gold with "Teesdale's Map Of The World" and a decorative border. No mention of the U.S. Exploring Expedition track (which the Mitchell shows). Full color by country.

Chicago: R.A Tenney. Type: Separate Map Size: 69x53 Scale: 1:1,190,000 Reference: cf Karrow 4-1731.
Dated is estimated from Karrow. The same map appeared in Cram's Standard American Atlas (see our 1887 issue). The map is surrounded by large type hype for R.A. Tenney's map establishment. Tenney worked for Gaylord Watson in Chicago as Manager of Watson's Western Map Depot in 1874 (see Watson's 1874 County and Railroad Map of the United States). Map has both hand and printed color; full color by county.

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY 1878
The Texas And Pacific Railway. The Shortest Line To The Great Cotton Grain And Stock Regions Of Texas ... Woodward, Tiernan & Hale, Printers, St. Louis. (map on verso) A Geographically Correct Map Of The State Of Texas. Published By The Texas & Pacific Railway Company. Compiled from Actual Surveys and Containing all changes in Lines of Counties up to Sept. 1st, 1876.
Marshall, Texas: The Texas & Pacific Railway Company. Type: Timetable Map Size: 46x50 Scale: 1:2,600,000 Reference: None found.
Shows the line of the railroad through Texas and its land grants. Colton did a similar map for the Texas & Pacific in 1873 (Modelski 578). This issue seems simpler and more of a land promotion. Advice to settlers appears on the verso, along with railroad time tables. On the map is the stamp of Henry H. Hannan, "Texas and Arkansas Maps, Guides, Land Circulars." Folding, self wrappers 19.5x9. Full printed color. Timetables "in effect June 1st, 1878."

THAYER, BRIDGMAN & FANNING. 1853
Map Of The United States, Canada, Mexico And The West Indies with Central America, Showing all the routes to California with a table of Distances. New York, Thayer, Bridgman & Fanning, 156, William St. cor. of Ann St. 1853. D. McLellan, Lithogr. 26 Spruce St. N.Y.
New York: Thayer, Bridgman & Fanning. Type: Pocket Map Size: 54x64 Scale: 1:12,500,000 Reference: Wheat Gold 258 (1854 edition).
Reissue, without his name, of Atwood's 1851 map of similar title (#2365). The table of distances is expanded and the map includes more of South America but less of Canada than the 1851 edition. Both this map and the 1851 map probably come from an earlier edition of the 1854 "North America and Europe..." by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning, engraved by J.M. Atwood (#2878). Wheat Gold 258 is the 1854 edition of this map, published by Ensign, Bridgman & Fanning. Map has outline color, and is folded into embossed dark green cloth covers 14x9 with title "Map Of The United-States Canada Mexico Central America And The West India Islands" stamped in gold.

THAYER, H.L. 1873
Thayer's Map Of Colorado. Published by Richards & Co. Denver, Colorado. 1873. Third Edition. Rufus Blanchard Engraver.
Denver: Richards & Co. Type: Pocket Map Size: 35x46 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Ellis 55.
This is the first year of publication of the smaller version of Thayer's Colorado map; although this copy says third edition, there do not seem to be any changes between it and the map illustrated in Ellis (55) as the first 1873 edition. This edition does not have the red overprinting showing the land districts, which appears in the 1875 edition. Map is full color by county and folded into beige card board covers 14x9 printed with "Thayer's New Map Of Colorado. 1873. Published by Richards & Co., 372 Larimer Street, Denver. Price 50 Cents."

Denver: H.L. Thayer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 35x46 Scale: 1:1,520,640 Reference: Ellis 63 (5th edition).
1st issued in 1873, this is one of Thayer's smaller maps with 24 miles to an inch as the scale. Thayer issued his first Colorado map in 1871(see W.H.'s copy), called "Thayer's Sectional Map of Colorado" with a scale of 12 miles to the inch; next came this map in 1873 with eight editions to 1877; then in 1878 he published "Thayer's New Map of the State of Colorado" by Edward Rollandet with a scale of 14 miles to the inch; and finally in 1880 he published "Thayer's Map of Colorado" by Julius Bien (see our copy) with editions to 1882. Inside the front cover is a catalogue of Thayer's maps. On the map, red overprinting is used to show the land districts of the state and the mineral belt. Full color by county, map is folded into beige card board covers 14.5x9 printed with "Thayer's Map of Colorado 1875. ... Published By H.L Thayer and Co. Denver, Colorado. Established in 1871. Denver: H.L. Thayer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 61x69 Scale: 1:950,400 Reference: cf Ellis 84,88,91(1882 ed.).
Ellis only shows the 1882 issue of this map - Ellis' 1880 dated Thayer map is the last issue of Thayer's 1877 map by Rollandet which is very different from this 1880 Thayer map (see our copy); prior to 1877 Thayer's Colorado map was by Thayer as draftsman and Blanchard as Publisher. This 1880 map must have been issued later in the year, drawn by Bien and based on an earlier version of the the Bien / Roeser GLO map of Colorado published in 1881 (Ellis 88 - see our copy). Actually, it is almost a copy of the GLO map. Outline color by county, folded into teal green cloth covers 15.5x10 with "Thayer's Map Of Colorado. One Dollar." printed on paste down label.

Leadville: H.L. Thayer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 68x99 Scale: 1: 9,600 Reference: None found.
Highly detailed map showing a hurricane of claims with owner's names, all tumbled over each other in classic mining frenzy. Uncolored, with a catalog of Thayer's maps in the lower right corner of the map and the inside front cover; also on the inside front cover: "We cheerfully endorse 'Thayer's Map of the Leadville Mines' as the best published for completeness and accuracy" (followed by a long list of Mineral Surveyors). Map is folded into brown cloth covers 16x10.5 with "Thayer's Map Of The Leadville Mines. Price $1.50." stamped in gilt. Not in Streeter or Phillips. The scarcest of the Leadville claim maps.

Denver: H.L. Thayer. Type: Pocket Map Size: 74x61 Scale: 1: 1,013,760 Reference: Streeter 3946 (1880 edition).
This is from the same plate used by Bien for the General Land Office "Map of The Territory of New Mexico" first issued in 1879. Comparing this with the 1882 GLO edition we can find absolutely no changes, notwithstanding Thayer's claims in the title. The only difference is the use of hand color by Thayer versus printed color by the GLO. Undated, with the date estimated by comparison with the GLO map of 1882. The Streeter copy is dated 1880. Scarce. Map is folded into dark green cloth covers 15x10 with "Thayer's Map Of New Mexico. One Dollar." stamped in gilt.

THOMAS BROS. 1938
Thomas Bro. Recreational and Statistical Atlas, California.
Oakland: Thomas Bros. Type: State Atlas Size: 48x31 Maps: 67 Reference: U.S. Atlases L3915.
Title is from the cover. There is no title page. 1st "road" atlas of California. According to Tom Lennon of Thomas Brothers Map Co. in Los Angeles (800-899-6277), this atlas is rare; they have five copies of it in their L.A. office, and he has never seen any other copies. He thinks the original issue was very small. Bancroft has no copies, but does have a copy of Thomas Bros. Atlas of Western Cities and Towns (no date but library note says acquired in 1937) which duplicates some of this atlas's material (smaller S.F. map, larger color Pasadena map) and adds more on cities in adjoining western states. Lennon said this atlas was "a put together thing by George Thomas." He also said there was an Atlas of the San Francisco Bay Area by the company, produced for the World's Fair of 1936. Maps are printed with and without color, and bound in illustrated orange cloth covered boards with the above title stamped in black ink.

Philadelphia: Thomas, Cowperthwait & Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 14x9; 20x26 (map) Maps: 1 Scale: 1:12,482,000 (map) Reference: None found.
A scarce descriptive guide to Mexico issued on the eve of the Mexican War. Not listed in any references. On the brown leather cover is gilt stamped "Mexico and Yucatan." The small full color map is, according to the publisher's statement, based on the SDUK map of Mexico. The map has an interesting note: "The road represented on the map from Matamoras to Mexico, is the one which Gen. Taylor will most probably take, should he be directed to march on the capital." The note goes on to say that Upper California has been omitted from the map because it is “improbable that the region in question will ever again be attached to Mexico." Geneva, Illinois: Thompson and Everts. Type: County Atlas Size: 44x38 Maps: 21 Reference: P1569; Ristow p415-416.
Thompson's second map business was a partnership with Louis Everts formed in 1867. It lasted until 1872, producing county wall maps and then county atlases. This atlas of Stephenson County is typical of the best of the period: history, maps, and views, all arranged in a most pleasing format. At the end of the book are two blank pages with printed columns for "Real Estate Transfers" to be listed. Full color maps. Bound in half leather brown cloth covered boards stamped with "Thompson & Evert's Map Of Stephenson County Illinois. 1871." in gilt.

Combination Atlas Map Of Will County Illinois. Compiled, Drawn and Published From Personal Examinations and Surveys By Thompson Bro's & Burr. Elgin, Ills. 1873. Duval & Hunter Pr. Phila. N. Friend, Engr. Philad. C.L. Smith, Del.
Elgin, Illinois: Thompson Bro's & Burr. Type: County Atlas Size: 46x38 Maps: 32 Reference: P12555; Ristow p. 415.
This may be the largest of the county atlases produced in the 1870's. It has more views than any county atlas we have seen, indicating that the county was prosperous enough for a large number of subscribers to pay for views. In the "How 'Tis Done" book, the Will County Atlas is listed as the largest income producer ($38,000) if any of the fifteen Illinois county atlases surveyed. The Thompson Bro's & Burr firm published only one other county atlas, of Du Page County, Illinois, in 1874. With the large (109x84) folding map of Joliet not found in all copies. Full color. Bound in half leather dark brown cloth covered boards with "New Combination Atlas Will County, Ill. 1873. Thompson Bro's & Burr." stamped in gilt.

THOMPSON, G. 1798
A New Map of the World, with all the New Discoveries by Capt. Cook & other Navigators. Including the Trade Winds, Monsoons and Variation of the Compass, Illustrated with a Coelestial Planisphere, the Various Systems of Ptolomy, Copernicus & Tycho Bray. Together with the Appearance of the Planets, etc. London. Publish'd Jany. 1st. 1798 by G. Thompson No. 43 Long Lane W. Smithfield.
London: G. Thompson. Type: Separate Map Size: 64x95 Scale: 1:70,000,000 Reference: cf Tooley Dictionary (not this map).
Scarce, not in any references. The only mention of this map appears in ABPC 1987 Sotheby's sale to Quaritch for 1600 pounds. This copy came out of a 1730 house in Fairfield Connecticut, where it may have been since it was published. This copy is very browned with some losses at the edges restored. The map is very elaborate, showing all kinds of terrestrial and celestial information. Thompson also did a map of America in 1799 and a later edition of this map in 1817 (Tooley Dict.). Uncolored.

THOMPSON, GEORGE ALEXANDER; ALCEDO, ANTONIO DE, 1735-1812. 1812
The Geographical and Historical Dictionary of America and The West Indies ... An Entire Translation of the Spanish Work ... With Large Additions and Compilations from Modern Voyages and Travels, and from Original and Authentic Information. By G.A. Thompson, Esq. In Five Volumes. London: Printed for James Carpenter, Old Bond Street ... 1812.
London: James Carpenter Type: Gazetteer Book Size: 28x22 Reference: Sabin 683.
5 vols. Bookplate of A. Baring, Baron Ashburton. From Thompson's advertisement: "in order to render these volumes as perfect as possible, the position of every place has been carefully revised, and corrected according to Mr. Arrowsmith's several maps of North America, of the United States, of the West India Islands, of Mexico, and of South America, the last of which has been recently constructed form original materials, which till lately remained inaccessible at Madrid and at Lisbon; whilst, at the same time, all the places not heretofore found in his maps have been inserted from the Dictionary, as it issued sheet by sheet from the press. The above maps of Mr. Arrowsmith...will consequently be ready to be delivered at a somewhat reduced price to the subscribers to this book, about the time of the publication of the last volume, and will form a complete ATLAS to Alcedo, who had no means of improving and illustrating his dictionary by so important a supplement." The last volume and the Atlas were published in 1815. There are 175 Subscribers listed - perhaps that is the number of atlases issued. Five volumes rebound with new backs, half-leather and marbled covers with "Thompson's Alcedo" and the volume number on the spine. Another ed. of atlas issued 1819 (see our 5699)

THOMSON, JOHN 1817
A New General Atlas, Consisting Of A Series Of Geographical Designs, On Various Projections, Exhibiting The Form And Component Parts Of The Globe; And A Collection Of Maps And Charts, Delineating The Natural And Political Divisions Of The Empires, Kingdoms, And States In The World. Constructed From The Best Systematic Works, And The Most Authentic Voyages And Travels ... Edinburgh: Printed By George Ramsay And Company, For John Thomson And Company, Edinburgh; Baldwin, Cradock, And Joy, London; And John Cumming, Dublin. 1817.
Edinburgh: John Thomson; London: Baldwin, Cradock, And Joy; Dublin: John Cumming. Type: World Atlas Size: 55x45 Maps: 84 Reference: P731.
The first edition, with later editions in 1821 and 1827. This magnificent atlas was probably inspired in part by Pinkerton's Modern Atlas of 1815, which it resembles. Pinkerton began publishing his atlas maps in parts as early as 1809, while Thomson started in 1814. Thomson used engravers of Edinburgh, including Kirkwood, Menzies, and Moffat, as well as the London engravers Hewitt and Neele (Neele also engraved all the maps for Pinkerton's Modern Atlas). Thomson adds about twenty maps not found in Pinkerton, eight of which are of islands in the West Indies that served as the source for Fielding Lucas' maps of those islands. This copy has later Thomson maps added by the original owner, including "A Chart of the Discoveries of Captains Ross, Parry & Franklin, in the Arctic Regions..." and "A Chart Of New South Wales, Van Dieman's Land, &c." Bound in half leather marbled paper covered boards with "New General Atlas. Edinburgh 1817" stamped in gilt on the new leather spine. Maps are hand painted in full and outline color.

Edinburgh: Printed for John Thomson & Co., Edinburgh; Baldwin & Cradock, London; and John Cumming, Dublin. 1832. (contents) Edinburgh: Printed by James Clarke & Co.
Edinburgh: John Thomson & Co.; London: Baldwin & Cradock; Dublin: John Cumming. Type: National Atlas Size: 55x42 Maps: 58 Scale: Variable Reference: P8208.
2nd issue. "The publication of this splendid atlas, begun in 1818 and finished only in 1831, apparently was disastrous to its originator, for the first issue was published by 'The Trustees,' but the 1832 title has Thomson's own imprint. ... The plates were in 1838 sold to W. and A.K. Johnston, who produced the maps by lithography with their own name instead of Thomson's, and with W. Blackwood and Sons as publishers ..." --Royal Scottish Geographical Society's Early maps of Scotland, 2d. ed., 1936, p. 50 (as quoted in Phillips). 29 (i.e. 30) maps on 119 leaves. Hartford: Willis Thrall. Type: Wall Map Size: 48x56 Scale: 1:350,000 Reference: Thompson 85.
2nd edition; 1st edition by Dagget, 1827. According to Thompson, this map had a long publishing history, starting with Dagget in 1827, Thrall 1831, Huntington 1836, Brown & Parsons 1847-54, and 1858 Brown & Gross. Thompson thinks there may be an earlier edition than 1827. Engraved by Dagget and Ely, New Haven. Thompson notes that the only other map of Connecticut with as long a publishing history is the Tanner map of 1834, published up to 1857 by Mitchell, then Cowperthwait, and finally DeSilver. See our Brown & Parsons 1854, and Brown & Gross, 1858. With black top and bottom rollers. Full color by county.

TOWNSEND, DENNIS 1870
Townsend's Patent Folding Globe ... Publishers: George M. Smith & Co., 129 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. Dennis Townsend, Felchville, Windsor County Vt. Edward E. Rice & Co., Steam Job Printers, 5 Hawley Street, Boston, Mass. (On the cover of the folder holding the collapsed globe; on the globe itself: "Patented by Dennis Townsend Feb. 16, 1869").
Boston: George M. Smith; Felchville, Vermont: Dennis Townsend. Type: Globe Size: 6 inches Reference: Warner p132; Welsh sale catalogue (Sotheby's New York) #405.
Townsend's second collapsible globe with an internal mechanism for holding it open. The first collapsible Townsend globe was held open by an external stand - apparently no examples exist. Townsend was a school teacher in Vermont and later in California. His interest in globes was to produce a cheap globe that could be owned and used by students instead of a flat “map which, without explanation, is a false illustration, and can be understood only by a process of reasoning entirely beyond the mind of the child" (from Townsend's "Folding Globe Lessons"). This copy is presumed to be the second issue of this globe - an earlier issue has a somewhat different folder with only Townsend listed as publisher. However, it is not certain that both examples were not produced simultaneously in different cities. Both Globes are dated the same. Originally from the Welsh Collection. With a photocopy of Townsend's Folding-Globe Lessons, and an original advertising flyer for the globe.

Worcester: Spooner & Howland. Type: History Book Size: 24x15 Maps: 26 Reference: cf Woodward, All American Map, p16.
4 Cerographic Maps by Morse. These may be the first Cerographic maps issued in a book, although they are not mentioned by Woodward. The preface states that "several of the maps are struck from cerographic plates, prepared by Mr. Morse, the inventor of cerography." The Preface is dated Nov. 1, 1839. The four maps appear at the end of the book with the following: "Additional Maps. Owing to unforeseen and unavoidable hindrances, the artist was unable to furnish the four cerographic maps which follow, in season for insertion in their proper places." The maps are of portions of the Upper Mississippi, Indian Territory, Oregon, and the Gulf of Siam. These maps appear in a later report of the American Missions, 1845, W.H. copy. Morse issued the Map of Connecticut in the New York Observer in June of 1839, the first Cerographic map published in a newspaper. Uncolored maps with cloth covers and title on spine.

TRAUBEL, M.H.; (DULUTH, MINNESOTA). (1876)
Map Illustrating The Position Of Duluth In The United States. M.H. Traubel's Lithographic Establishment 409 Chestnut St. Phila.
Philadelphia: M.H. Traubel. Type: Separate Map Size: 54x74 Scale: 1:6,336,000 Reference: None found.
The date is estimated from a similar, smaller map, also printed by Traubel, which is part of a report on the Harbor of Duluth issued in 1876 (see our 3394). A huge area encompassing the Western States and Canada is shaded in pale yellow indicating the "Area Tributary To The Harbor Of Duluth Over 2,000,000 Of Square Miles." This larger map is clearly a separate, unfolded issue on thin paper. It promotes Duluth as the trade center of a vast area of the northwestern U.S. and southwestern Canada ("2,000,000 of Square miles"). It is quite a wonderful map, full of interesting information on climate, mining, railroads, land grants - all with the unlikely slant of emphasizing Duluth. Karrow lists several related Duluth maps by Traubel (Karrow 7-0191, 7-0193, 7-0198, 7-0793). Full color by state.

TUNISON, H.C. 1885
Tunison's Peerless Universal Atlas of the World. H.C. Tunison, Publisher. Jacksonville, Ill. New York City, N.Y. London, Canada. Oakland, Cal. Atlanta, Ga. 1885.
Jacksonville, Illinois: H.C. Tunison. Type: World Atlas Size: 37x31 Maps: 75
Very bright colors. Vignette on title page is taken from Chapin's Ornamental Map of the United States (our copy is 1846). Maps all appear to be taken from large wall maps of different scales. All maps are lithographed and hand colored. The images, charts and organization show influences of Rand McNally and George Cram; however, wax engraving is not used. The maps, especially Pennsylvania, are crammed with names, hence the dense "American map" look - but all drawn by hand, without the use of type common to the cerographic method. Bound with brown linen covered boards with "Tunison's Peerless Universal Atlas of the World" on the cover in gold.

Tunisian's Peerless Universal Atlas of the World. H.C. Tunison, Publisher. Jacksonville, Ill. New York City, N.Y. London, Canada. San Francisco, Cal. Atlanta, Ga.
Jacksonville, Illinois: H.C. Tunison. Type: World Atlas Size: 37x31 Maps: 75 Reference: None found.
Very bright colors. Similar to our other 1885. We presume this one is 1885, although the date has been erased on the title page, except that there are extra New York and Pennsylvania maps, and the U.S. map does not label Yellowstone National Park. This also has two pages missing from the other atlas, pages 207 and 208, the last of which lists Tunison's map products. Bound in brown linen with "Tunisian's Peerless Universal Atlas of the World" on the cover.

TURNER, REVEREND RICHARD. 1786
A New And Easy Introduction To Universal Geography In A Series Of Letters To A Youth At School...The Third Edition, considerably enlarged.
London: S. Crowder. Type: School Atlas Size: 16x9 Maps: 24 Reference: Tooley Dictionary; McCorkle 388.
Third edition; the first edition was 1780. The fourth edition adds a Geographical Clock. An unusual format - the text is in the style of letters written to "My Dear Boy." Each map is accompanied by a diagram (which the author calls "a little scheme") giving the only the names of countries or parts of countries without any drawing, but in the correct spatial relationship - a feature to aid in memorizing the maps. The maps are similar to the miniature maps produced by Bowen and Gibson (Atlas Minimus 1756) and used in several school texts in the 18th century. Jedidiah Morse copied the World map and the diagram maps in his first edition of Geography Made Easy, 1784, but discontinued them in subsequent editions.

Washington: U.S. Type: Chart Size: 69x56 Maps: 1
Reference: Guthorn p 61, p18.
1st Coast Survey Chart published. In: Report From the Secretary of the Navy, In Compliance with a Resolution of the Senate, transmitting a chart of the topographical survey and soundings of Bridgeport Harbor. February 29, 1836. 24th Congress, 1st Session, Doc 210. According to Guthorn (p18) the Bridgeport, New Haven, and Newark Bay Charts were all published in 1839 "probably in response to criticism" that the survey had not published useful charts. Thus these three rank as the first three charts published, with Bridgeport the earliest date. No maps were published in Hassler's Annual Reports; Bache began that practice with his first Annual Report in 1844.

Under the Direction of the Hon. S.S. Burdett, Commissioner. 1874. Department of the Interior, General Land Office August 15th 1874, S.S. Burdett, Commissioner. The Land Surveys of the Public Domain compiled from the official Plats of the General Land Office by C. Roeser, Chief Draughtsman G.L.O. Photolith. and Printed by Julius Bien, N.Y. (inset) Territory Of Alaska ... (inset) Continuation of Aleutian Islands.
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Wall Map Size: 122x197 Scale: 1:2,534,400 Reference: Kelsay p. 149; Schwartz & Ehrenberg p. 301.
The second edition, the first being 1873. Shows the public surveys in the west still largely unconnected. The detail in Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Dakota is sparse, to be filled in later in the decade by the military surveys. Later editions in the mid 1880's expanded the map north and south to include more of Canada and Mexico, and the West Indies (and added these names to the title). Editions of this map published in the 1870's are scarce. Relief is shown by hachures in the older style of army mapping. Full color. With brown top and bottom rollers.

New York: Julius Bien. Type: Separate Map Size: 73x62 Scale: 1:1,140,480 Reference: Kelsay p. 159.

This is the colored edition of same map that appears in the 1876 Annual Report of the General Land Office (see our #4591). The GLO issued colored versions of the eighteen 1876 Annual Report maps in the very scarce "Geographical and Political Atlas of the States and Territories of the United States...," where, we presume, they were folded. This copy is not folded and thus was probably issued as a separate, not noted by Kelsay in her Dakota list. Compared to the black and white issue, this colored version is far more readable, especially regarding the Indian Reservations, the Military Reservations, and the railroad grants.

The National Atlas Of The United States Of America.
Washington: U.S. Geological Survey. Type: National Atlas Size: 49x36 Maps: 765 Reference: cf Schwartz & Ehrenberg pp 311-314.
This is the first (and we believe only) U.S. Government sponsored atlas of the entire U.S. The project was begun in the early 1950's and took almost twenty years to complete. The scope is impressive and includes maps of topography, physical geography, history, economics, sociology and culture, and administration. The USGS attempted a National Atlas of sorts starting in the mid 1890's but only completed a group of 227 Geological Atlas folios that did not cover the entire country; a Topographic Atlas project, also by the USGS, has produced maps of differing scales of the entire country, but not bound in a single comprehensive atlas; individual states did have bound volumes of USGS maps, such as Connecticut (1893) and Rhode Island (1891). Other states initiated their own mapping projects, such as New Jersey (1888).

Photo-Lithographic Copy Of The Detailed Maps Of The North West Boundary From Points Roberts To The Rocky Mountains Between The United States And The British Possessions Under the Treaty of June 15th 1846 Showing Monuments, Cuts and other Marks. Archibald Campbell U.S. Com'r N.W. Boundary Survey. Photolith. by New York Lithog. Engrg. & Printg. Co. Julius Bien Supt. ...
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Separate Map Size: 70x178 (each sheet) Maps: 7 Scale: 1:60,000 Reference: cf Wheat 1144-45; Goetzmann "Army" 427-9.
7 very large and detailed maps of the boundary. The maps are undated and not listed specifically in any sources we can locate. The final report on the Northern Boundary Survey was never published (Wheat) and these maps may be the only published evidence. The two maps cited and reproduced by Wheat are manuscript general maps by J. Parke. The seven maps here are two times enlargements of the seven detailed maps that accompanied the two general maps (The title map sheet (#7) says the maps are "enlarged to twice the scale of original drawings;" Wheat, vol five, page 163, says "the two general maps (Wheat 1144-45)...are backed up by seven detailed sheets exhibiting the land boundary..."). Wheat also mentions studies by Baker and Deutsch that might definitively answer this question. Theses maps are unusual in appearance because of the photolithographic enlargement - a great deal of detail is apparent. When put together end to end the seven sheets are about forty feet long. Map is without color.

Washington: Post Office Department. Type: Case Map Size: 104x72 Scale: 1:506,880
This is the western sheet only of the two sheet Postal Map. The date is estimated from the railroad development as the title and date appear only on the eastern sheet. Folds into large half leather brown cloth covered boards 38x41 with "Indiana. H.S. Buffington" stamped in gilt. Map is hand colored in outline color and dissected into 6 sections. On the verso, pasted onto the linen backing is a printed sheet: "Get Your Schemes and Maps Mounted... E.M. Larmour & Co., Battle Creek, Michigan." We presume a Mr. Buffington took his western sheet of the postal map to Larmour Co. for mounting and made his own "Indiana" map..

Engineer Bureau, War Department. Map Of The States Of Kansas And Texas And Indian Territory, With Parts Of The Territories Of Colorado And New Mexico. From the most recent official surveys and explorations and other authentic information. 1867. J. Bien, Lith. 24 Vesey St. N.Y.
New York: J. Bien. Type: Case Map Size: 118x86 Scale: 1:1,500,000 Reference: Graff 4306.
1st edition. Not in Streeter, Phillips, Wheat. Map shows routes of important reconnaissances, Indian trails, roads, railroads in operation, projected railroads, army routes, Indian lands and reservations. One of the earliest detailed Army surveys of the area. The map was printed in two sheets, a north sheet and a south sheet. The north sheet appears in the Atlas to Accompany the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies as Plate CXIX, with the same title as this map, but with the title placed in the upper right corner of the north sheet. We also have the North sheet without title, dated c1875, with much additional information on new routes, railroads, etc. This map is signed by William E. Merrill, Maj. Engrs., and dated August 10, 1867. Merrill also signed our copy of the Warren Map of the U.S., 1867, with a signature date of August 26, 1867 Merrill later made maps of Kansas (See Karrow). Graff misspells Merrill's name, as does Streeter (his signature is hard to read). Dissected into 48 sections and mounted on linen. Map folds into two dark green cloth end boards 22.5x13.5 with paper label reading "Kansas, Texas, And Indian Territory, With Parts Of Colorado And New Mexico. Engineer Bureau, W.D. Prepared for Issue in Engineer Office, M.D. Mo. All Person Into Whose Hands The Map Falls Are Particularly Requested To Send All Corrections And Additions To The Chief Engineer, Mil. Div. Map of Texas And Part Of New Mexico compiled in the Bureau of Topgraphl. Eng'rs. chiefly for military purposes, 1857 ... Lith. of Ritchie & Dunnovant. Printed at H.F. Walling's Map Establishment 90 Fulton St New York.
New York: H.F. Walling. Type: Separate Map Size: 85x93 Scale: 1:1,500,000 Reference: Day p.63,64; P-Maps p.845; Martin and Martin 45(later issue).
Probably the best and most detailed military map of Texas issued before the Civil War - rivers, roads, explorer's routes, water holes, forts and towns are shown. The Warren map of 1857 (see our #4013) incorporates much of this information, with even more information from this map appearing on the Warren map of 1858 (see our #2750). A later version of this map appeared in the Atlas To Accompany The Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies (see our #1780) as plate 54. Martin and Martin incorrectly state that the map was not published until it appeared in the "Atlas to Accompany..." This is the only government map published by H.F. Walling that we know of. This copy came from a group of about ten copies found with the J.D. Graham papers. Without color. Scarce.

Cover sheet of a series of 17 maps (see our #3880, #5343-5357). First edition series on heavy paper with printed color background and light browns printed on the rivers, unbound with title page. The maps are the same as the second edition (see our copy dated 1872) but the South Mountain map is not present (it was added in 1872 to the second edition). The addition of printed color makes the maps much more readable than the second edition maps.

Southwestern New Mexico. Published by the Office Of The Chief Of Engineers, U.S.A., 1883. Drawn by W. Kilp, Top. Asst. Office of the Chief Engineer; Department of the Missouri, 1883. Official Copy, O.M. Caiter ...
N.P.: U.S. Army. Type: Separate Map Size: 77x71 Scale: 1: 475,200 Reference: Graff 4312; Fitch 44-201.
A wonderfully detailed Army Engineers map of southwestern New Mexico, listed in Graff with no explanation for the fact that this map was clearly meant to be the lower left corner of a four sheet map of New Mexico. If all the other sheets were printed (and the fact that Graff only lists this sheet is indication that they may not have been) the resulting map would be huge - about 140 cm square. El Paso is shown, as is a small part of Arizona and Mexico. Given its large scale, one suspects that this was the most detailed map of New Mexico published at the time. Fitch 44-201 lists this map and the sheet that would join it above, titled Northwestern New Mexico, and dated 1885. Map is without color.

Omaha: Land Department, Union Pacific Railroad Building Type: Pamphlet Size: 22x15 Maps: 3 Reference: Graff 4238 (1872).
1st edition 1870 (Graff). Three maps: Map of the Land Grant & Connections of the Union Pacific Railroad, 1037 Miles of Road, 12000000 acres of Land, 1871 (full color); Map of the Union Pacific Railroad Land in Nebraska east of Range 42 West of the 6th P.M. 1871 (without color); and Map of the Union Pacific Railroad and its Connections (on back cover, without color). These maps have different imprints than Graff 4238 and are dated 1871 instead of 1872. The two larger maps say Lith by Chas. Shober, Chicago, Ill. The pagination is different than Graff also (25 vs 48). Sheet on "Soldiers' Homesteads" inserted. The introduction refers to "new and improved maps" and a revision of the text with foreign settlers in mind. The maps are very good and the text describes all aspects of settling in the wild west on cheap railroad land. Bound in paper with title on front cover.

De reis van New-York na San-francisco op de Pacific-ijzerbaan van de vereenigte Staaten. Le voyage de New-york a San Francisco sur le chemin de fer pacific des etats unis.
N.P.: No publisher. Type: Game Size: 30x40 (game board) Reference: None found.
An unusual board game based on the "new Union Pacific Railroad." The game board shows forty five beautifully executed views of places along the Union Pacific route, starting with "Rail road depot in New York" and ending in "San Francisco, the metropolis of California." Along the way, we have, among others, views of Pittsburgh, Omaha, "surprise by savage Indians," "wild heard of buffalloes," "railroad bridge over the Platte river," Cheyenne, Green River, Humboldt Valley, Trukee Valley, Sierra Nevada and Sacramento. The text is titled "Trip from New-York to San Francisco by the Union Pacific Rail Road. A new illustrated Travel-game with 45 stations, 1 dy, 12 cars and 12 numbers charts." It is written in German and English and explains the game and the views. The cover of the game box (19x24) has a lovely colored litho view of two women joining hands across the American Continent, one representing America and the other Asia. Not in any of the standard game references - rare.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD; DODGE, G.M. 1868
Union Pacific Railroad. Report of G.M. Dodge, Chief Engineer, To the Board of Directors, On A Branch Line From the Union Pacific Railroad to Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Puget's Sound. Washington, D.C.: Philp & Solomons. 1868.
Washington: Philp & Solomons Type: Pamphlet Size: 62x74 (map) Maps: 1 Reference: Graff 4244.
Uses the northwest portion of Keeler's 1867 National Map, without attribution. This map was missed by Wheat. It is the Keeler map, updated along the path of the Transcontinental Railroad to show the more accurate surveys done by the railroad engineers. Otherwise, it is an exact copy at full size of the Keeler map. Keeler had a close relationship with the Union Pacific (see Wheat) so it is reasonable to assume that he provided his map to Dodge for this report. Various routes proposed by Dodge run from the main line north and west to Montana (one branch) and all the way to Seattle (the other branch). This was intended as competition for Jay Cooke's Northern Pacific Railroad which was getting under way at that time. The routes were not built. The colored map is titled "U.P.R.R. Map Showing Line of Branches From U.P.R.R. to Portland Oregon, Puget Sound Wash Terr, and Montana. To Accompany Report of G.M. Dodge. Chief Engr. 1868."

N.P.: Union Pacific Railroad. Type: Separate Map Size: 52x164 Scale: 1:1,267,200 Reference: Wheat 1209
Wheat devotes three pages to this map and states "Altogether, this is a fascinating map, particularly to one who has read the annual reports of the Union Pacific engineers, almost always published without illustrative maps." The map shows the route of the railroad from the Missouri river to Humboldt Wells in Nevada (the Central Pacific beat them to this point) and provides great topographic detail on both sides of the route, for distances varying from 40 to 100 miles. A profile of the route appears below the main map. Separately published by the Union Pacific, this is a scarce map. Without color.

Vogdes shows this as the first edition. Vogdes says that the survey was completed in April, 1852, and that the interior topography was taken from Eddy's official map of the city. We have a reproduction of an earlier state of the chart which has no soundings and is dated 1852; it says the plan of the city was taken from the map by Cooke and Le Count; there are differences in the piers and the buildings along the piers. We can find no reference for this earlier state. In the Annual Report of the Survey for 1853, another issue of the chart was published (litho) with the addition of more notes regarding tides in the upper left - this same chart was also issued (engraved on thin paper) in the collection of charts published by the survey in 1854. The Middle Tennessee And Chattanooga Campaigns of June, July, August and September 1863.
New York: Julius Bien and Company. Type: Military Atlas Size: 62x53 Maps: 8 Reference: P10671; Stephenson 396.
All eight maps are derived and enlarged from an 1865 "Military Map of Middle Tennessee and parts of East Tennessee..." by C.S. Mergell (Stephenson 393) which was published in 1874. Each map says "Positions of the Troops located in 1891." Covers are half leather, red cloth covered boards with label reading "The Middle Tennessee And Chattanooga Campaign Of 1863 Including The Battle of Chickamauga." These maps are of great interest to historians of these battles because the level of detail regarding troop positions, etc. is very good. With printed color.

USSR (UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS). 1967
The World Atlas. Second Edition. Chief Administration of Geodesy and Cartography under the Council of Ministers of the USSR. Moscow. 1967.
Moscow: USSR. Type: World Atlas Size: 51x34
This second edition of the Atlas of the World (1st edition in 1954) has fewer maps of the USSR on account of the interim publication of the "Atlas of the USSR", three fewer historical maps due to then impending publication of the "Historical Atlas of the World", and many new maps and revisions. The Atlas was considered accurate in terms of contemporary knowledge of the ocean floors. This edition also uses both the Russian and the Roman alphabets - making it comprehensible to a much broader range of readers. "The second edition of the World Atlas is issued at a time when all progressive people of the globe are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Great October socialist revolution." Mapped in attractive full color with tints for elevation and sea depth values. Relief shading is sometimes used to contribute to realism. Scales generally in regular increments (two or multiples of two); urban vicinity maps typically at 1:250,000 facilitating the comparison of the sizes of major cities around the world.

Bruxelles: Vandermaelen. Type: World Atlas Size: 55x76 Maps: 79 Scale: 1:1,641,836 Reference: P749.
Uncut, unfolded, and unbound as issued. Scarce in this form. Issued in six volumes, this was the first world atlas undertaken on the same scale. It is also one of the earliest examples of a lithographed atlas. Vandermaelen issued sets unbound for those who desired to make a globe 7.75 meters in diameter. According to Broekema, there is such an assembled globe in the Museum of Natural History in Brussels. We have seen slight variations in the plates between different issues, all dated 1827: two versions of the Florida plate (62), one lacking the small circles for population and land area; some plates have dated imprints below the neat line while others do not. Probably the maps were updated or reengraved for issues after 1827, without changing the title date.

Bruxelles: Ph. Vandermaelen. Type: World Atlas Size: 55x38 Maps: 389 Scale: 1:1,641,836 Reference: P749; Koeman Vdm 1.
A complete set of the six volume Atlas Universel in original bindings of half red leather teal cloth covered boards with title "Vandermaelen. Atlas Universel..." embossed in gold on the spine. This monumental work was the first atlas of the world with all maps on the same scale (and a large scale at that - about one inch to 26 miles) and the first lithographed world atlas. If all the maps were joined together they would form a globe of 7.75 meters in diameter (such a globe was made in Brussels). The maps were published originally in parts of ten maps each, beginning in 1825 and ending in 1827. Vandermaelen's maps are frequently misunderstood because each map is usually best comprehended in the context of its neighboring maps - the maps do not function well on their own, since they were all meant to be joined. Koeman states that "His atlases, although unique in concept and size did not possess that fine touch of cartographic style which make them attractive for a collector..." We strongly disagree - the graphic art of the maps must be appreciated in the context of lithography, a developing art at the time; as lithographs, they are very well done. For many of the areas depicted, these maps are the largest scale maps made at the time, and the most detailed (particularly in the American West). Maps are hand painted in outline color.

Philadelphia: Charles Varle. Type: Separate Map Size: 45x62 Scale: 1:18,000 Reference: Phillips Philadelphia Maps 177; Ristow p. 251-252; Wheat Brun 465 State II.
A beautiful, early map of Philadelphia in full period color. The scale is given at 75 Perches to 1 inch. The city is shown from the Delaware River to the Schuylkil River with the environs on the north and south. 24 lettered references and 28 numbered references to important places and buildings are below the title and 24 wards are keyed in Roman numbers above the title. Many of the country houses and farms around the city are named, including Penn, Dr. Wistar, and other notable early residents. Three inset views show City Hall, the State House, Court House, Library, and Bank of the United States. The tile is surrounded by a decorative cartouche. The quality of the engraving is superb. Ristow mentions an undated edition that was possibly issued in the year Varle made the surveys, 1796, but more likely in 1802. Wheat and Brun list a c.1794 State 1 that has one less numbered building reference, no Roman numbered ward references, and "R. Scott Sculp. Philadelphia." This was Varle's first map published in the United States. Until 1807, Varle was known as Peter C. Varle; after 1807 he is known as Charles P. Varle.

VIELE, EGBERT L. 1864
Sanitary & Topographical Map of the City and Island of New York Prepared for the Council of Hygiene and Public Health of the Citizens Association. Under the direction of Egbert L. Viele, Topographical Engineer. Entered ... 1865 by Egbert L. Viele ... New York. Ferd. Mayer & Co. Lithographers, 96 Fulton St. N.Y. (with 1 inset map and 3 profiles).
New York: Ferd. Mayer & Co. Lithographers. Type: Separate Map Size: 47x160 Scale: 1:12,000 Reference: Haskell1132; Stokes vol 3, p.777-778.
For some reason Haskell and Stokes date this map 1864 although it was copyrighted by Viele in 1865. Removed from the Report of the Council of Hygiene (see our copy). The map shows all the original water courses of Manhattan Island, with the street grid superimposed on top. Also, three different kinds of land are shown: Marsh, Made Land, and Meadow. Sewer lines are indicated. A very beautiful full color map occasioned by a not so beautiful subject. In 1874 Viele reissued the map in larger format as the Topographical Atlas of the City of New York (see our copy). This map was also published as a separate pocket map, in covers.

Vivien de St Martin, L. Type: World Atlas Size: 61x44 Maps: 48 Reference: P4315; Wheat 363; Tooley Australia and Antarctica 1302.
First edition, with a second edition in 1834 listed by Phillips. The maps are well done, slightly smaller than the contemporary Brue and Lapie maps (except in the case of the double sheet maps), and with the North American maps perhaps not quite as detailed as the Brue and Lapie maps. Nonetheless, the entire atlas achieves a beautiful overall effect. This copy with the maps bound on long edges, unfolded with large margins. Twelve of the maps are double sheets. The maps are dated 1824 to 1826. Vivien was born in 1802 and died in 1897. This was his first atlas published. Outline color. Atlas is bound in half leather red paper covered boards with "Atlas De Vivien" stamped in gilt on the red leather spine.

VOLNEY, C.F. 1803

Tableau du Climat et du Sol des Etas-Unis d'Amerique. ... Par C.F. Volney ... Tome Premier. A Paris, Coucier, Imprimeur-Libraire ... Dentu, Imprimeur-Libraire ... An XII. - 1803.
Paris: Courcier and Dentu. Type: Geology Book Size: 26x21 Maps: 2 Reference: Clark II:69; Howes V141; Buck 49; Sabin 100692.
Large paper copy with both maps colored -rare. George W. White (William Maclure's maps of the geology of the United States) says "a few rare copies of the 1803 Volney map are known that are partially geologically colored (Wells, 1959)." This map was the base map, unchanged, for Maclure's 1811 map published in Paris. The fact that this 1803 map is geologically colored makes it the second geological map of the United States, after the mineralogical Map of Louisiana by Guettard, published in 1752, and puts Maclure's 1809 map in third position. Maps tipped into the back of the leather-bound volume with the title on spine.

New York: Johnson & Browning. Type: Wall Map Size: 161x158 Scale: 1:160,000 Reference: Cobb 322 (although this copy does not say "Drawn...at Walling's Map Establishment."

given in the computations and tables contained in the Reports of the U.S. Coast Survey. The Northern Boundary of the State is copied from the Survey of the United States and Canada Boundary Commission of 1848, and the southern Boundary from the Trigonometrical Survey of Massachusetts, by Simeon Borden, in 1844. The details are from various local surveys, made principally under the direction of H.F. Walling." The 2nd edition was published in 1860, and rearranged the insets, subscriber list, and state map (see our copy). Top and bottom rollers are black wood. Full color by township.

WALLING, H.F. 1860
Map Of The City Of New - York And It's Environs From Actual Survey under the direction of H.F. Walling. Published By S.D. Tilden. 356, 358 & 360, Pearl Street, New York 1860.
New York: S.D. Tilden. Type: Case Map Size: 160x160 Scale: 1:30,000 Reference: Haskell 1096.
1st edition, shows all of Staten Island. This edition extends further south than the 1863 issue of "New-York and Its Vicinity" that we have (although Haskell lists an 1863 edition that is the same coverage as this edition - #1121) but it does not extend as far north (it extends 19 miles north and 15 miles south, shown with circles). Walling seems to have published two variants of this map to meet the demands of two markets - similar to Beers' "Philadelphia and Vicinity" map of the same period. Much land ownership information is shown outside of Manhattan Island. Full color by county; dissected into 36 sections. Map has cloth edging and folds with marbled end sheets into embossed brown cloth covers 29x28 with "S.D. Tilden's Map Of New-York And It's Environs" in gold.

Walling's Map Establishment, Nos. 356, 358 & 360 Pearl Street, New York. (inset) Geological Map Of The State Of Vermont. Compiled by Albert D. Hager. 1859. (with 43 additional inset maps).
New York: H.F. Walling's Map Establishment. Type: Wall Map Size: 162x156 Scale: 1:160,000 Reference: cf Cobb 322 (1859 edition).
1st edition 1859; this copy is the second issue. Large map of the state with numerous inset plans of towns, an inset Geological Map of the State of Vermont by Albert D. Hager, 1859, population statistics from the 1850 census, lists of subscriber's names (extensive), and views of the National and State capital buildings. This seems to be the same as the 1859 issue other than the date and the number of insets - 43 vs 31, and the arrangement of the insets, state map and subscribers list. Cobb 329 is another edition also by Walling but published by Hager in 1860, with population statistics from the 1850 and 1860 census. This is a beautifully drawn and highly detailed state map. Insets of 43 town and city maps.

WALSH, ROBERT; MCHENRY, DR. JAMES 1829
The Jackson Wreath, Or National Souvenir ... A National Tribute, Commemorative of the Great Civil Victory Achieved by the People, Through the Hero of New Orleans. ... By Robert Walsh, Mr. Esqr. ... By Dr. James McHenry. Philadelphia: Published by Jacob Maas, Franklin Engraving Office, 65 Arcade. William W. Weeks, Printer. 1829.
Philadelphia: Jacob Maas. Type: Geography Book Size: 22x14 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes W68.

The interest here is the full color map, "United States of North America. Published for the Jackson Wreath." It is a copy of Melish's small United States of America that appeared in the two Carey and Lea Atlases and was used by Melish in his Traveler's Guide, 1822 edition. However, it has been completely reengraved, an extra decorative border added, and the word "North" added to the title. Curiously, what is normally called the Missouri Territory on maps of this period is here labeled Oregon Territory. A later state of this map is used to illustrate Maclure's Geographical Memoir, 1828 edition. Bound with half leather boards, with "Jackson Wreath" in gilt on the spine.

With a geological map of the state, maps of all the counties, and H.H. Lloyd's maps of the States and Cuba from his

Atlas of the United States (which is certain to be from a large wall map of the United States, since all the maps are on the same scale - probably "The Excelsior Map of the Untied States" listed in Karrow 1-1680, not seen by us). Warner, Higgins & Beers and Warner & Beers published many Illinois County Atlases combined in the same volume with this State Atlas from 1869 to 1875, although the State Atlas was only published separately in 1871 and 1872. In 1876 they made a complete revision of the State Atlas (see our #1159). Maps are hand painted in full color. WARREN, GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE, 1830-1882 1855
Map Of The Territory Of The United States From The Mississippi To The Pacific Ocean Ordered by the Hon. Jeff'n Davis, Secretary Of War To accompany the Reports of the Explorations For A Railroad Route ... Compiled from authorized explorations and other reliable data by Lieut. G.K. Warren, Topl. Engrs. In the Office of Pacific R.R. Surveys, War Dep. under the direction of Bvt. Maj. W.H. Emory and Capt. A.A. Humphreys, Topl. Engrs. 1855. Engr. by Selmar Siebert.
Washington: U.S. Type: Separate Map Size: 106x116 Scale: 1:3,000,000 Reference: None found.
Very early issue of Warren's Pacific Railroad general map of the U.S. When the Pacific Railway Survey reports were published in 1855, the large Warren map of the U.S. was not completed and a smaller map was issued with a note by Warren that the larger map would soon be ready for publication. This issue of the map is dated 1855 only, unlike the final issue which was dated 1854-5-6-7. Also, the list of authorities here is shorter than the later issue and has no dates later than 1855. Most importantly, this issue has major areas blank that are filled in the final issue. Various routes are drawn in ms on the map, in red and blue lines, all proceeding from points in the Midwest to the west coast, as well as some north - south routes. Also, a red line is drawn from east to west next to the 38th parallel. We think these are the trails used by travelers, perhaps a few years later, but we can't be sure. There is another early issue of this map that is between this 1855 issue and the version published with the final reports - it is dated 1857, has fewer "blank" areas that this and has more and later dated authorities (see WH copy).

Washington: U.S. Type: Separate Map Size: 106x116 Scale: 1:3,000,000
The general map published with the Pacific Railroad Survey Reports. This map had earlier issues and later issues. A preliminary listed of those would be: 1855 (our #2289); 1857 (WH and AH's copies)- blank areas in eastern Oregon, fewer authorities; 1857 published with the reports; 1858 early (see Schubert);1858 late (our #2750); 1867 (our #2594). We suspect there are other states and issues, particularly in the period of 1859 to 1866. This is one of the most important maps of the West in the 1850's and 1860's and a study of its different states shows the rapid growth of topographical information from government exploration and mapping. Without color.

Military Map of Nebraska and Dakota...From the Explorations made by him in 1855, 6...and in 1857...
Washington: U.S., Senate 35th, 1st. Type: Separate Map Size: 110x80 Reference: P-Maps p460;Karrow,12-0359.5&.6,12-0372.5; Wheat 1005; Mapping the North American Plains, p.202, v.5.
Best regional map of its area for the period; shows the Black Hills. Karrow lists three states of this map, the earliest dated 1858?, lithographed by J. Bien; the second state, same date, no Bien credit, hand colored, with "Engraving carefully revised" note; the third state, same as the second, except for an engraving credit to N. Peters, Washington, no color, and the date Karrow gives of 1859? Our copy is the third state. Karrow states that it is to accompany an unnamed Senate Ex. Document of the 35th Congress, 1st session, 1857-58. Wheat calls this map "a landmark of the period of 1859." Shows "Gold Field" in Colorado, around Auraria, which may make this one of the earliest maps to show the Colorado gold rush of 1859. The lower part of this map was reprinted in 1859 by J.H. Colton and included in his printing of Redpath's and Hinton's "Hand-Book to Kansas Territory and the Rocky Mountain's Gold Region," see our #4872. See our 1867 later edition of the same map.

Preliminary Report of Explorations in Nebraska and Dakota, in the Years 1855-'56-'57 By Lieut. G.K. Warren, Topographical Engineers, U.S. Army, [Now Major of Engineers, and Bvt. Major General, U.S.A.] Reprint. Washington: Government Printing Office. 1875. Engineer Department, United States Army.
Washington: Government Printing Office. Type: Exploration Book Size: 23x15 Maps: 1 Reference: Howes W120; cf Wheat 1005.
Reprint of 1858/9 Report and of the large 1859 separate map, titled, "Military Map of Nebraska and Dakota...". This report was originally printed in the Report of the Secretary of War, President's Message and Documents, December, 1858. We believe the large map included here was not included in the original report (WC 314 shows no map), however in 1859 the report was printed separately and may have included the large map. In any event, the report was reissued in 1875 because "Recent developments in the Black Hills Country have awakened a great interest in that region, and there are constant inquiries for the report." The large map is Warren's "Military Map of Nebraska and Dakota..." with no changes from the original separate issue in 1859 (see our copy). According to Howes, not all copies of the reprint included the map.

Map Of The Military Dep't Of Oregon. Office Explns. And Surveys. War Dep't. Being a Section of the Map of the Territory of the U.S. from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, compiled from all the reliable data. By Lt. G.K. Warren, T.E. under the direction of Capt. A.A. Humphreys, T.E. 1858.
Washington: U.S. Type: Separate Map Size: 34.5x52 Scale: 1:3,041,280 Reference: cf Eberstadt 114:820.
Has Elwood Evans' manuscript notations on Gold Regions with the active mining areas colored in yellow. This is a very early delineation of the Gold discoveries on the Clearwater River and other areas of the Northwest. Evans dates his notations April 1, 1861. Eberstadt: "Evans went out to Puget Sound in 1853 as secretary to Governor Stevens, took and active interest in the political affairs of the Territory, and in 1865 became Acting Governor. His writings on the early history of the region are recognized as among the best of the contemporary accounts." See vol 12 of Pacific R.R. Survey for Stevens' mention of Evans.

WARREN, GOUVERNEUR KEMBLE, 1830-1882; FREYHOLD, EDWARD 1867
Engineer Bureau, War Department. Map Of The Territory Of The United States From The Mississippi River To The Pacific Ocean; Originally prepared to accompany the Reports of the Explorations For A Pacific Railroad Route ... Compiled from authorized explorations and other reliable data by Lieut. G.K. Warren, Top'l. Eng'rs. In the Office of Pacific R.R. Surveys, War Dept. under the direction of Bvt. Maj. W.H. Emory, Top'l. Eng'rs. in 1854. Capt. A.A. Humphreys, Top'l. Eng'rs. in 1854-58. And partly recompiled and redrawn under the direction of the Engineer Bureau in 1865-66-67. Engraved on stone by Julius Bien, New York.
New York: Julius Bien. Type: Case Map Size: 109x117 Scale: 1:3,041,280 Reference: Karrow 1-1713, Phillips P.917; Graff 4308; Buttery "Warren Map of 1867."
Reissue, with new discoveries, of 1857 Warren "Map of the Territory of the United States..." Although Freyhold's name is not on the title, he clearly redrew this map from his earlier 1858 edition (where his name does appear on the title). This is earlier than the 1868 Warren/Freyhold editions (Streeter 3080 and 3081), and should be distinguished from them in having the title still in the lower left corner (not in the lower center as in the 1868 Warren/Freyhold editions), and because it does not have the Alaska inset, has 47 authorities vs. 48, and is dated Aug 26, 1867 in Ms. next to the same inscription mentioned by Streeter on his later copy (Wm. E. Merrill, etc., which Streeter mistakes for E. Hamill). Mail routes in red ink (original?)(Streeter says they were dropped from the second 1868 ed.) plus many interesting Ms. additions of names of forts, and extension of pacific railroad. Cf. Wheat 1185. Wheat does not mention this edition and was not aware of it (see his "correction" of Wheeler's mention of the map in the note, p. 244). See a very informative article by Lewis Buttery on a slightly earlier state of this map (early 1867) found at West Point - "Warren Map of 1867." Outline color. Map is dissected into 24 sections, edged in blue silk, and folded into a new burgundy cloth folding case 30x22 with "Warren & Freyhold. Map of Exploratations (sic) for Pacific R.R. 1865-67" stamped in gilt.

WARREN, MOSES; GILLET, GEORGE 1813
Connecticut, From Actual Survey, Made in 1811; By and under the Direction of, Moses Warren and George Gillet; And by them Compiled. Published under the Authority of The General Assembly, By Hudson & Goodwin. Engraved By Abner Reed, E. Windsor. Entered ... 29th day of May, 1813 - By Hudson & Goodwin ... Connecticut. To His Excellency Roger Griswold, Esq. And to The Honourable, The Legislature of The State of Connecticut, This Map is Respectfully Inscribed By the Publishers. Hartford, February 1812.
Hartford: Hudson & Goodwin. Type: Wall Map Size: 90x109 Scale: 1:162,500 Reference: Thompson 52 (second state), Ristow p.97-98.
First detailed 19th century survey. Has Humphrysville "Woolen Manufactory..." notation, thus 1st edition, 2nd state (Thompson). Foundation map of state, first to show turnpikes. Extensive listing of manufactories, mills, churches, etc. Later published in smaller size, editions from 1820 to 1847. Engraved by Abner Reed, East Winsor. Thompson lists this same map as 1812, but it is entered in 1813, and the current Governor is listed as 1813-, leading one to believe an 1813 date would be more accurate. Outline color. With black top and bottom rollers.

Boston: Perry & Spaulding. Type: National Atlas Size: 57x38 Maps: 7 Reference: P11034; Ristow p. 473.
The full color maps are vintage Watson (all dated 1875), taken from his New County and Railroad Map of the United States and the Dominion of Canada and his New County and Railroad Map of the Western States and Territories, except for the two sheet Map of New England which was published as a separate. The text provides much interesting information on shipping, tariff regulations, post offices, statistics, property values, etc. Scarce. Watson also published in 1875 the New commercial county and Railroad Atlas of the United States and Territories and British Provinces, with 28 maps, folio, Phillips 1392. We assume these maps are taken from the same Watson large maps from above, but grouped in smaller configurations. NUC lists an 1877 edition, dated 1878 on the cover. Atlas is bound in quarter leather dark brown cloth covered boards stamped with "Perry & Spaulding's New Commercial County & Railroad Atlas Of The United States And Dominion Of Canada." in gold.

This is one of Watson's most elaborate U.S. maps, here issued under E.E. Murray's imprint. The first edition was 1876 with later editions to 1888. The map has many vignettes, which vary somewhat between editions. At the top is a beautiful view of New York City with the Brooklyn Bridge in the center (other editions substitute a Panorama of the Country between New York and San Francisco). There are also views of Niagara Falls,the Washington Monument, the Capital, Mt. Vernon, Yosemite Valley, Big Trees, View in Florida, North American Indian, Farm Scene, Deer, and Bison. Some of these views are taken from The Naval and Military Map (1862) and the Washington Map (1861). The map is brightly colored by county, with great density of railroad towns shown in the eastern and mid western states. On the verso is the "Illustrated Historical Map of the World" also by Watson, dated 1883. J. Morrison Murray issued a competing map that is similar in the same year (see our #4605). With black top and bottom sticks.

Travellers Guide and Statistical View of the United States. Published by J.W. Webster, New York. Entered ... 1834, by J.W. Webster ... New-York. (with) Map of the United States Published by J. Webster, New York, 1836. Entered ... the 26th day of March 1833 by James Webster ... New York.
New York: James Webster. Type: Guide Book Size: 14x10 Maps: 1 Reference: None found.
The map, in outline color and measuring 40x50, is from a discarded plate of H. Phelps' U.S. (see our #2442) The index is largely stolen from Mitchell's Travellers Guide index sheet for 1832, however the information on roads and distances is taken from someone else. Phelps' name can be seen through the erasure on the map plate. The map has the characteristic oval portrait of Washington, reengraved (clumsily) from the Phelps issue. Webster put this together from Phelps, Mitchell and (?) and it is very scarce - we can find no references to it. It was probably a one shot issue. Map and guide fold into a green quarter leather booklet, which slips into a green cloth covered case. Title on front and back of booklet.

Manuscript. Type: Historical Atlas Size: 16x22 Reference: None.
Date is estimated. A manuscript map that was probably drawn for publication in an historical atlas. See the American Tract Society Bible Atlas for a group of six maps drawn by "J. Wells, N.Y." We am sure that Wells also produced maps for an Historical Atlas, and that this map was one of those. Phillips lists a Jacob Wells as author of A Series of Globular Maps of the World, New York, 1878 (P6198). Phillips also lists J.H. Colton's Historical Atlas of 1860 (P113) which might have this map by Wells (Colton published with D. Griffing Johnson).

1st map of Missouri published in Missouri. The map is titled "Keemle & Wetmore's Map of the State of Missouri With the Latest Additions and Surveys From the Office of the Surveyor General February 1837." The dimensions are 58x60. It is printed on thin tissue paper, without color, and with no engraver credit. It shows the township and range lines, counties, towns, important roads and trails, and river systems. The northwest and southeast corners are shown to scale in two insets. The scale is 12 miles to an inch. The text describes each county in detail, and gives practical information on the state as a whole. While published in St. Louis, the book was printed in New York by Harper & Brothers (title page) and it is likely that the map was as well. See WC for details of Wetmore's life.

WHEELER, G.M.; BELL, WILLIAM. 1872
Geographical and Geological Explorations and Surveys West of the 100th Meridian (A box of 39 Stereo Views from the Expedition of 1872 by William Bell).
Washington: War Department. Type: View Reference: Darrah p.93.
The views are in a black box with "Geographical and Geological Explorations and Surveys West of the 100th Meridian" stamped in gold on the top, with the War Department seal and the name Wheeler under the title. Each view has the War Department seal and the survey title, along with a description of the scene. The areas covered include Utah and the Grand Canyon. Bell was the survey photographer only for 1872 (O'Sullivan did the other years) so his views are scarcer than O'Sullivan's. Wheeler distributed these boxes of views to Congressmen and officers in the War Department to build interest and support for his survey. Approximately 700 views were produced by the survey, with an additional 100 views produced commercially by Jarvis and Anthony. All the views date between 1871 and 1876.

Hartford, Vermont: Ebenezer Hutchinson. Type: Wall Map Size: 112x75 Scale: 1:237,600 Reference: P-Maps 973; Cobb 188 & pp viii-ix.
3rd ed. 1st ed. 1796,1810,1821,1824,1827,1838/51. Doolittle engraved the 1796 edition, James Wilson the 1810, and Hutchinson the 1821, 1824, 1827 and 1838. This 3rd edition changes the rural cartouche scene and adds a view of Montpelier (according to Ristow the Montpelier view is added in the 1821 ed. but Cobb shows it in the 1810 ed. -Cobb 171), as well as updating the map itself. Whitelaw was Surveyor General of Vermont from 1787 to 1804 and the map had state support. The 1796 edition was the first official map of Vermont and probably the first map published in the state (Cobb). Much detail concerning roads, churches, post towns, mills, population, etc. Sotzmann derived his 1796 Vermont map in part from the 1796 Whitelaw Vermont. Outline color by county. With black top and bottom rollers.

WILKINSON, ROBERT 1804
North America, Published the 12th of August 1804. By R. Wilkinson, No.58, Cornhill, London. E. Bourne Sculp.
London: Robert Wilkinson. Type: Separate Map Size: 52x61 Scale: 1:8,870,400 Reference: Stevens & Tree 62(a); Wheat 357 (1824 edition); Streeter 3793.
First edition. Full color. This beautiful, rare map is the first to show the entire Louisiana Territory as part of the United States, both in the delineated boundaries on the map and in the table showing the possessions of the United States: "Province, Ceded by France 30 Apr. 1803, Louisiana." The Bradley "Map of The United States..." of June 2nd, 1804, is the first map to mention the event: “The French call the country West of Conecuh River Louisiana & have ceded it to the United States," but the Bradley map shows only a small portion of Louisiana Territory just west of the Mississippi River. Wilkinson follows Arrowsmith's geography (from his "New Discoveries..." map of 1802) in the Rocky Mountain and the Oregon River areas, but adds new settlements and place names not on Arrowsmith's map along the northwest coast. Franklinia is shown between Tennessee and North Carolina. Wheat trashes the 1824 issue (which is unchanged from the 1804) as hopelessly out of date, but this 1804 issue was not seen by Wheat and is very accurate and forward looking for its period. The large folio General Atlas that this map appeared in is elusive: it is not listed in any references (Phillips lists only Wilkinson's smaller General Atlas issues, even though he refers to one or two issues as folio in size). Wilkinson mentions publishing it in parts, with eleven maps completed by 1808 and thirty five completed by 1823 (noted on the index pages of his quarto General and Classical Atlases of those dates). It seems to be as scarce as this North America map.

WILKINSON, ROBERT 1808
A General Atlas, being A Collection of Maps of the World And Quarters, the Principal Empires, Kingdoms &c. with their several Provinces & other Subdivisions, Correctly Delineated. London: Published Feby. 1st 1800, by Robert Wilkinson, No. 58, Cornhill. (on table of contents page) ... London: Printed For Robert Wilkinson, No. 58, Cornhill. 1808.
London: Robert Wilkinson. Type: World Atlas Size: 36x30 Maps: 48 Reference: P3542a.
This atlas was used by Lucas, Morse (S.E.), and Cummings & Hilliard (and Worcester) as a source of non American maps. Tooley says the last edition was 1809 (there appear to be no differences other than the title page between the 1808 and 1809 editions); Phillips has 1807; Moreland mentions 1816 as a re-issue - this also was probably used by the Americans. We have seen an 1816 edition cut up by a dealer to sell the maps individually. Maps are hand painted in full color and bound in half leather brown marbled paper covered boards with a red leather label on the spine reading "Wilkinson's General Atlas."

WILKINSON, ROBERT 1826
North America, Published the 12th of August 1824. By R. Wilkinson, No.125, Fenchurch Street, London. Republished, by William Darton; 58, Holborn Hill, 3. Jany. 1826. E. Bourne, Sculp.
London: William Darton. Type: Separate Map Size: 52x61 Scale: 1:8,870,400 Reference: Stevens & Tree 62(c); Wheat 357 (1824 edition); Streeter 3793 (1804 edition).
This copy has been removed from an atlas and is numbered 39 on the verso (We can find no record of this atlas in any collections - the only notice of it appears on the index page of Wilkinson's smaller General Atlas). This map was also published separately. Originally published in 1804 (see our #5156), it was reissued by Wilkinson in 1824 and by Darton in 1826. No changes have been made from the 1804 edition, making the map hopelessly out of date politically and topographically (the American West is pre Lewis and Clark). Wheat pounces on the 1824 edition (which he incorrectly dates 1823) calling it "perhaps the strangest, most atavistic map of North America." Thought of as an 1804 map, however, it is a very good production. See the copy on linen by R. Gray, Glasgow, 1811. Map has full and outline color.

Hartford: Oliver D. Cooke & Co. Type: School Atlas Size: 23x15 Maps: 6 Reference: P334.
Fine condition, wraps. See text volume. Rare. Willard also put out an Ancient Atlas in 1827 to accompany the Universal Geography she did with Woodbridge (for which Woodbridge did the Modern Atlas - see our copies) and a later version in 1836 called the Atlas to Accompany a System of Universal History. The 1836 version has clouds in the manner of Quin's History (1830), while the 1827 version has similar maps without the clouds. Willard probably saw Quin's book and adapted her own to reflect his approach (all from CW).

Phila: John M. Atwood. Type: Case Map Size: 161x159 Scale: 1:3,380,000 Reference: Phillips Maps 928.
Related to Williams' New Nat. Map for Mitchell. Compare to 1857 and 1860 Mitchell New National Map exhibiting the United States... We assume that this Williams is the son of Wellington Williams and that he took over his father's map and reissued it. It is interesting to see that John M. Atwood published this map - it appears that he not only published maps, but also drew them for others, i.e. Colton and Ensign & Thayer. Inset maps include: Island Of Newfoundland; Massachusetts, Rhode Island & Connecticut; The Atlantic Ocean Showing The Communications By Cable And Steam Between Europe And The United States; Is. Of Porto Rico; Virgin Is. And S. Cruz; Islands Of Japan ...; Map Of The Great Pacific Ocean With It's Shores And Islands; Alaska; and The Sandwich Islands Or Hawaiian Group. Full color by state. Map is dissected into 36 sections and folds into a new green cloth folding case 29x29 with "United States, Canada, Mexico &c. G.W. Williams 1876" stamped in gilt on the spine.

By W. Williams. Philadelphia: Lippincott, Grambo & Co. MDCCCLII. (on verso) Entered ... 1851, by W. Williams ... Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia: Lippincott, Grambo & Co. Type: Guide Book Size: 62x75 Maps: 1 Reference: Modelski 21; P-Maps 902; Wheat 769; Wheat Gold 235.
1st edition. The map is titled "A New Map of the United States Upon Which Are Delineated Its Vast Works Of Internal Communication, Routes Across The Continent &c Showing Also Canada and the Island of Cuba." This is the second edition of the map. The inset map of the west gives sources - Fremont, etc. Map copyright 1851. This map also appears in Lippincott's New and Complete Gazetteer of the United States in 1854 with the map dated 1853 and showing several changes from this 1852 edition, viz. Washington Territory is formed and Nebraska is shown. The text lists a large number of routes, including several to California and Oregon. Williams later did many of the maps for Mitchell's General Atlas of 1860, and this large map has the same "look." The map and the guide are much scarcer than the map and Gazetteer. Book bound in full leather with title in gilt on front.

WILSON, JAMES 1811
A New American Terrestrial Globe on which the Principal Places of the Known World are Accurately laid down with the traced attempts of Captain Cook to discover a Southern Continent by James Wilson 1811.
N.P.: James Wilson. Type: Globe Size: 13 inches Scale: 1:39,000,000 Reference: Yonge p 65-66; Warner p. 135; Kimball p22; Ristow p 278-279.
Wilson first dated globe, issued one year after his undated 1810 globe, also 13 inches. This is the first dated globe issued in the United States. In 1812 Wilson issued his first Celestial Globe. This thirteen inch Terrestrial Globe is on a four leg table stand that is a copy of the original stand. Total height from base to tip is 18 inches.
Pub List No. 4994.000

WILSON, JAMES (1822)
A Celestial Globe, With all the Stars of the 1st. 2d. & 3d. Magnitudes. By Wilson & Son's Alby.
Albany: Wilson & Son's. Type: Globe Size: 3 inches Scale: None shown Reference: Yonge p 69; Warner 136; Kimball p22.
With a Three inch Terrestrial Globe. See notes for the Three Inch Terrestrial Globe. All of the terrestrial and celestial three inch pairs listed by Yonge, Kimball and Warner have Wilson's & Co. on the terrestrial and Wilson & Son's on the celestial except for two celestials which are Wilson's & Co. All are dated in the period 1820-22 except for one pair that is "before 1837" and one terrestrial that is dated 1830-40. It may be that these globes were not updated from the 1820's to the 1830's because of their small size.
Pub List No. 3123.000

WILSON, JAMES (1822)
A three inch Terrestrial Globe by Wilson's & Co. Alby.
Albany: James Wilson. Type: Globe Size: 3 inches Scale: 1:110,000,000 Reference: Yonge p69; Warner p136; Kimball p22.
Date is estimated. Paired with a three inch celestial globe. On a turned wooden stand with four black ball feet. Warner says that Wilson changed the business name from Wilson & Co. to Wilson & Sons in 1822. The celestial globe this is paired with is by Wilson & Sons, so we assume 1822 as the only year globes were made with both business names. The globe is very well engraved, showing much detail in the continents for its small size. Longitude is given from both Washington and London. Kimball notes that David Wilson, James' son, did the engraving for a new edition of the three inch globes in the early 1820's, which we assume are these globes. David later had brief success as a miniature painter, utilizing the same delicate engraving skills which he applied to these extremely well engraved globes. The three inch globe was also sold in pocket form with the celestial sphere on the inside of the case and on a stand with horizon ring and brass meridian. On this turned wooden stand version, the globe is mounted horizontally, an unusual presentation. Wilson made the first globes in the United States, with 1810 his first year of production and 1850 (by Cyrus Lancaster) his last.

A New American Thirteen Inch Terrestrial Globe, Exhibiting with the Greatest Possible Accuracy, The Positions of the Principal Known Places of the Earth; with the Tracks of Various Circumnavigators, Together with New Discoveries and Political Alterations Down to the present Period: 1834. By J. Wilson & Sons, Albany St. N.Y. S. Wood & Sons Agents N. York.
Albany: J. Wilson & Sons. Type: Globe Size: 13 inches
Scale: 1:39,000,000 Reference: Warner p.137; Yonge p.76-77; Dekker/van der Krogt p. 131-33; Kimball p.21.
The last year this globe was produced by Wilson & Sons. Both of Wilson's sons died in 1833, and this event necessitated a change in the company's management. In 1835 Cyrus Lancaster took over the business and signed his name to all the globes produced after that date. Four legged desk stand. Height from base to top is 18 inches.

WOODBRIDGE, W.C. (1821)

Woodbridge's Larger Atlas. Atlas On A New Plan, Exhibiting The Prevailing Religions, Forms Of Government, Degrees Of Civilization, And The Comparative Size Of Towns, Rivers And Mountains. By William C. Woodbridge, A.M. ... Hartford: Published by Samuel G. Goodrich ... District Of Connecticut, ss. Be It Remembered, That on the twentieth day of April, in the forty-sixth year of the Independence of the United States of America, William C. Woodbridge ... and Emma Willard ... deposited in this Office the title of a Book ... Chas. A. Ingersoll, Clerk of the District of Connecticut.
Hartford: Samuel G. Goodrich. Type: School Atlas Size: 25x16 Maps: 8 Reference: P336.
Maps say "Engraved for Woodbridge's Rudiments of Geography." Earliest Woodbridge atlas we have seen. The World in Hemispheres map does not show Palmer's land off South America. The title says "Larger Atlas" while the maps mention "Rudiments" so the use of this book is transitional - it has the same group of maps as Rudiments of Geography, which was published first in 1821. The advertisement in the back of the book clarifies things: "The following atlas was originally prepared to accompany the 'Rudiments of Geography'...The whole have been revised, and some additions made, to adapt them to a work on the same general plan with the "Rudiments," which is now preparing for the higher classes of schools." Thus this book is the first edition of Woodbridge's Modern Atlas, which did not come out in final form until late 1824 (that is when the text is copyrighted)-and this book may have served as Woodbridge's more "advanced" atlas until late 1824 when the Modern Atlas was first issued. Maps are hand painted with outline color or are without color. Covers are marbled paper covered cardboard 25x16 with a paper label printed with the above title in black.

The first edition. Woodbridge's section on Modern Geography was accompanied by his Modern Atlas (first edition was 1824, P337 - see our later editions). Willard did not yet have an atlas to accompany her Ancient Geography - she first issued that atlas in 1827. Woodbridge and Willard discovered that they shared similar approaches to teaching geography and so decided to collaborate on this book. Maps uncolored and integrated with the text. Book bound with quarter leather with the remainder paper covered with title printed on front.

Has an illustration of Woodford's house in Avon. This map is unusually well designed, far more elaborate than the 1852 map of Plymouth; perhaps he was motivated by this county being his own. The picture of his house is prominently placed at the top of the map, and he is styled County Surveyor in the picture, and styled Surveyor of Hartford County Map next to his residence on the map. Several of his relative's houses are shown next to his on the map. Full color by township. With black top and bottom rollers and tan silk edging.

WORKMAN, BENJAMIN. 1814
Elements of Geography, Designed for Young Students in that Science...The Fifteenth Edition.
Phila: W. McCulloch. Type: School Atlas Maps: 8
Reference: Walsh p 172;Tooley Dict.;cf Wheat&Brun.
Maps are copied from Gibson's Atlas Minimus. 1st edition was 1790. He used the same title as Morse. The maps are the same as those used by Charles Smith in his "Universal Geography Made Easy", 1795, except for the United States map which is larger and folds out. (See Wheat & Brun for a listing of the Workman maps of editions prior to 1800). For some reason, Nietz does not list Workman's Geographies, only one of his Arithmetics. He should have listed Workman, because the book was published in sixteen editions from 1790 to 1816. W.H. has a copy of Workman's "Epitome of Workman's Geography" published in 1816, not listed in Walsh, and a charming book.

WRIGLEY, HENRY E. 1871

Map of the Centre Oil Region From Oil City To Parkers Landing by Henry E. Wrigley. Publishing Rooms, Titusville, Pa., June 27th, 1871 ... Henry E. Wrigley, Civil Engineer, Office, 21 Spring Street, Publishing Rooms, 7 And 12 Smith & Wood Block, Titusville, Pa. Entered ... 1871 by Henry E. Wrigley ... Washington, D.C.
Titusville: Henry E. Wrigley. Type: Case Map Size: 232x101 Scale: 1:20,000 Reference: cf P-Maps 689.
An unusual very large scale map of the center oil region (the largest scale we have seen) made by the photographic process. Henry Wrigley was a civil engineer active in the oil region who self published a series of five oil region maps by the photographic process; on the map he states "By this means (photography) every one can be kept constantly advised of the progress of all developments and possess the information desired at the time he most needs it." Wrigley goes on to say that the most active sections of the map will be updated every three months with "fresh plates." Subscribers will receive the updated sections as they are issued. "As the expense of publishing the work by photographing is very great, and as the work is local, the cost of the maps will be necessarily much greater than heretofore." Each of the large scale maps was $100, and $150 if the buyer wanted the updates - a huge amount in those times, but then this was probably only purchased by those who gambled in the high stakes game of oil development. Photography was used in the Civil War for maps (see our examples) but this is the only instance of its use in the commercial map trade that we have seen. Phillips lists three later Wrigley maps that were lithographed, indicated that this unusual scheme was not long lived. Map is without color. Dissected in 28 sections. Folds into brown leather end sheets 34x26 with "Centre Oil Region From Oil City To Parker's Landing, By Henry E. Wrigley, Civil Engineer, Titusville, Pa."; map lies in a new brown cloth folding case with "Map Of The Centre Oil Region Henry E. Wrigley 1871" stamped in gold on the spine.

WYLD, JAMES, 1812-1887 1823
Map of North America from 20 to 80 Degrees North Latitude Exhibiting The recent Discoveries, Geographical and Nautical; Drawn chiefly from the Authorities of M. De Humboldt, Lieutt. Pike, Messrs. Lewis and Clarke, Sir Alexr. MacKenzie, Mr. Hearne, Coll. Bouchette, Captns. Vancouver, Ross, Parry & Franklin, also describing the Boundary Lines between the Territories of Great Britain & Spain with the United States. London, Published by Jas. Wyld, (successor to W. Faden) No. 5, Charing Cross. Geographer to His Majesty; and to H.R.H. the Duke Of York. June 1st 1823.

London: James Wyld. Type: Case Map Size: 146x166
Scale: 1:4,000,000 Reference: P-Maps, p883; Wheat 366 (1825 edition); Stevens and Tree 63 a (1824 edition).
The first edition, listed in Phillips but not by Stevens and Tree or Wheat (both list 1824/25 as the first edition). A large impressive map showing with great accuracy the recent discoveries in the north west passage, but wildly off in the American southwest - Wheat: "a large and beautiful map, excellent in all respects save for its southwestern geography." In the southwest, Wyld adds many mountain ranges that were purely speculative - probably just to fill in blank spaces in the map (unlike Arrowsmith). In northwestern Texas is a curious note on the topography of the area attributed to "Mellish" which is copied from a pre-1822 edition of his large map of the United States. Comparing this edition to the derived map of 1846, "Mexico, the British Possessions...," one sees many changes in the northern areas and few in the southwest. Stevens and Tree list editions of 1824, 1827/8, 1838, and 1851/56. The 1824/25 edition adds a fold out flap of Mexico and Central America (WH copy). With outline color. Map is dissected into 24 sections and mounted on linen. Map folds into a brown marbled paper covered slip case with black leather spine with "Map Of North America" stamped in gilt.

Wyld's Sketch of the Country Around Montreal, Shewing the Villages & Military Positions. London, Published by James Wyld, Geographer to the Queen, Charing Cross East, Der. 28th 1837 ... Day & Haghe Lithrs to The Queen, Gate St.
London: James Wyld. Type: Separate Map Size: 49x76
Scale: 1:175,000 Reference: Woodward, ed., Five Centuries of Map Printing, p.101.
This map was issued after the 1837 rebellion against British rule. It shows transportation systems, militia locations, "Irish Settlements," towns, and "Disaffected Villages burnt by the Queen's troops" (including St. Denis and St. Charles). Water is handpainted in blue, otherwise map is without color. The map was lithographed by Day & Haghe, "Lithors to The Queen, Gate St." and as such is an early example of map lithography in the English map trade. Ristow points out that maps in Parliamentary papers were lithographed due to the need for quick reproductions, and the urgency of the 1837 Rebellion probably is the reason this map was lithographed. It is the only map published by Wyld that we have seen that was lithographed. This map did not have a wide circulation and is scarce.

A New Map Of The Province Of Lower Canada, Describing all the Seigneuries, Townships, Grants of Land, &c. Compiled from Plans deposited in the Patent Office Quebec; By Samuel Holland, Esq. Surveyor General ... London. James Wyld Geographer to Her Majesty. 5 Charing Cross, Jany. 1, 1838 (Second Edition).
London: James Wyld. Type: Separate Map Size: 58x87
Scale: 1:790,000 Reference: Tooley Mapping of America p. 67, 28(d).
The first edition was 1802, with later editions in 1813, 1829, 1838, 1840 and 1843. Shows Canada from just west of Montreal east to St. John in New Brunswick. The 1802 edition was based on surveys made by Samuel Holland before his death in 1801. This was a companion map (although on a larger scale) to the David Smyth/Faden/Wyld map of Upper Canada, first issued in 1800 (see our copies). With outline color.

London: James Wyld. Type: World Atlas Size: 35x27
Maps: 47 Reference: None found.
The first edition we have seen of James Wyld's (the younger) small atlas, not listed in Phillips or the other references. This is a fine small atlas, very good for its time, although later editions were not up dated as much as they should have been (see our 1864 edition). This atlas is not to be confused with the elder Wyld's "General Atlas..." of 1819, published by John Thomson. Two unbound maps in back, both of India. Boards covered by green fabric with red half-leather. Title embossed in gold on cover.

Scale: 1:4,200,000 Reference: cf Wheat 366(1825) & 658(1849).
Dissected in north and south sheets, each in 30 sections. This map is a reduction and reissue of Wyld's famous 1824 Map of North America (Stevens and Tree 63 - four editions from 1824 to 1856) - it does not have the top sheet showing the Arctic, it moves the title from the lower left to middle right (and changes title of course), and it updates some of the western geography, showing the Tule Lakes in California, Fremont's or South Pass, Fts Hall and Boise and the Oregon Trail. However, it keeps the outdated topography of the Great Basin and California used in the 1824 edition - the two large rivers running from the interior of the basin to the Pacific, and the mountain ranges running almost east to west instead of north to south in the basin.

Nonetheless, it is a very beautiful map in the best of Wyld's cartographic style. Two insets in the lower right and left, of North America and Islands in the Pacific Ocean (both of which appear in the small General Atlas). Map comes from the family of Kit Carson's clerk. Has paste down catalogue. Wheat 658 (1849) is listed in our copy of Radford's Catalogue, 1975. Though smaller, it is likely derived from this map. With outline color. Sheets fold with marbled end sheets into original brown cloth slip case 25x15.5 with labe reading "Canada Mexico &c. United States" (ms) and "James Wyld, Geographer To Her Majesty. Charing Cross, East ..."

A New Atlas Or a Compleat (sic) Set of Maps Representing the different Empires, Kingdoms & States of the Known World Including all the Modern Discoveries, By J. Young, A.M.
(Edinburgh: John Ainslie; London: William Faden). Type: School Atlas Size: 32x25 Maps: 23 Reference: Brit. Museum Sup. p1372.
No publisher or date on title page - Brit. Mus. entry says Ainslie and Faden. An unusual atlas of keyed outline maps for students, very elegantly drawn. It may be related to Faden's Geographical Exercises of 1777. The Brit. Mus. copy is dated 1782, with the maps dated 1st Jan. 1782, which is four years later than this copy. This atlas is dated by the maps, which each read "Published as the Act directs 1st July 1778." It would be interesting to know how the Museum knew that Ainslie and Faden published this. Outline color. Bound in quarter leather reddish marbled paper covered boards with the title on the spine reading "Young's Atlas."
